TRUSTEES PLAN  TO RAISE FUNDS FOR DORMITORY

Plans to secure additional funds to cover the cost of the new dormitory now being constructed were York College at their annual meeting April 27 on the college campus. There has been a continuous rise in cost of building materials and labor since the time the original estimates for the new dormitory were made several years ago. The E. S. Clarke Lumber Company of York are under contract for the building. Thensiderably the conthe next bid, according to President Walter E. Bachman.
"We have an excellent group of students," stated Dr. Bachman, gether with that of the activities directed by the faculty was very gratifying to the board.

BLAUCH ATTENDS I. R. C. CONVENTION

Barbara Blauch, senior, York, represented York College at the Kansas-Missouri-Nebraska International Relations Club conference held on the campus at Warrensberg State College in Warrensberg, M recently. The following is her report of the meeting.-Ed. Note.

The assembly was organized so that each of five general topics were discussed by a six member panel. One of these served as modrator, and four read previously prepared papers on subtopics of the subject. Delegates, who attended any session, or part of a session on and World Peace, The Marshalll Plan and World Stability, Racial After panel members had discussed the subject for a period, it was hrown open to students in attendance.

Since the Carnegie Endowment for Universal Peace, which sponors irc, prefers that we do not, as a group, take sides with an issue, no definite, conclusive statements were made. Opinions, summarized at the last general assembly, were along this line: The first step toward peace is an improvement of our own democracy; the U. S. is endangered by the vagueness of our foreign policy and our refusal to accept our responsibility; we are greatly responsible for the failure of the U . N., by our desire to act apart from it; in other words, we are our own worst threat to peace. Revival of military training was favored, although reasons for the stand differed.

The Panthers of Y. C. bowed to superior numbers as the Antelopes of Kearney romped to an easy $1231 / 2-461 / 2$ victory. The Kearney cindermen won all but two events as Bob Hauver, Antelope in the true sense of the word, pointed the way as the only double winner of the day's victories in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

York's best performance was turned in by Frank Medsker, middle distance runner, as he chased Stroud across the finish of the 440 and then returned strong in the 880 yard run to outstrip three Kearney men with a blistering stretch sprint. Another York victor of the day was Don Watson, distance ace, as he outdistanced all opposition in the two-mile run after having been edged earlier in the mile run by Schrweid of Kearney. Floyd Gifford, York, vaulter, secured a tie for first in the pole vault as Osborn of Kearney refused to be shaken.
