Enrollments Top 200; Frosh, Natives Lead

The halls of Old Main are buzzing again with the conversations and footsteps of the 207 students who are enrolled at York College for the first semester of 1950-51. Of these, 60 are freshmen while the sophomore class has an enrollment of 44. The junior class tops the sophomore class by 4, making their total enrollment 48. The senior class with 43 has an enrollment which exceeds last year's record-breaking graduating class. There are 5 special students enrolled this semester.

Nebraska heads the list of the 14 states represented in our student body, claiming 96 Nebraskans. Kansas runs second with 43 Kansans on record. New Mexico, Colorado, California deserve honorable mention with 13, 12, and 9 students respectively.

There are 44 married students registered for classes this semester.

According to statistics there are 1.85 boys to every girl on York College Campus. Unlucky .85!

York Church Extends Welcome to Y. C. Folk

The York college faculty and student body were received Wednesday evening by the E. U. B. Church here. The host, the Rev. Vaughn Leaming, introduced Mr. A. L. Speece, teacher in York high school, who welcomed the students and teachers.

Little Judy Leaming, aged 8, began the evening's entertainment by singing "A Prayer for Mother and Dad." Following the tradition of the church receptions for the past several years, Wilma and Hildred Karre, both of whom teach in York elementary schools, presented a part of their puppet show series. They showed Bozo the clown, the ice skater, the Gypsy, and Dry Bones. All four were excellently costumed and well portrayed.

The Rev. Mr. Leaming introduced his family and members of the church, especially those in official capacities, to the guests.

Punch and cookies were served.

Sweet Bells

Around York College, wedding bells don't ring—they jangle.

Although this list is probably incomplete (apologies, but Mr. Cupid moves too fast to be interviewed), at last count there were ten couples married this summer.

Only one engagement took place—Vernon Phelps and Mary Woelfle.

Frank Medsker and Carol Mead, Jim Bergland and June Keener, and Paul Deever and Scotty Meeker were married this summer and are attending school out of state.

These "married's" are still at Y. C.: Bob Embree and Valda Franz, Gene Weaver and Helen Holbrook, Fred Winter and Darlene Groen (the surprise of the summer?), Dean Strong and Leta Kurtz, Ted Gordan and Lucy Maestas (another surprise) and Bob Patenaude and Rosy Carpenter.

To all of you—the very best of penter, Cecil Walker and Becky Romero.

Cheer Leaders Are Chosen

The election of A squad and B squad cheerleaders was held in chapel, Friday. The A squad chosen are these following five: Jim Potter, junior, Peetz, Colorado; Janice Coleman, freshman,

DR. LORRAINE CASBY

Dr. Lorraine Casby Heads Department

York welcomes to its staff two new members this year, Dr. Lorraine Casby of the social science department and Mr. John Roberts coach and head of physical education.

Doctor Casby took her undergraduate work in Minnesota and her Ph.D. at the University of Nebraska. She has taught in both states. After her teaching stint here, Doctor Casby plans to tour Europe and to do research work in France and England.

When asked how she liked York, she replied, "One of the finest things of York is team cooperation, not only in athletics, but in all campus activities."

Formal Chapels Shift To Thursday

Instead of the usual Wednesday morning service, formal chapel will now be held on Thursday mornings. YMCA & YWCA will meet on Wednesday mornings.

Actually this is not a new schedule, but an old one which will be familiar to many of the alumni. Until a few years ago, this was followed.

"Nuts" Attend Jolly Up At Middlebrook Hall

"Nuts" was the theme of the annual "Jolly Up," sponsored by the Y. M. and the Y. W. C. A., held September 16, 1950 at the dining room in Middlebrook Hall.

The program was interesting and varied. The students were divided into four groups and competed against each other in various games and activities throughout the evening.

Teams were named according to the four letters of the word "York" and the points were given to the various teams according to the scoring of individual competition. The team representing "K" were the winners of the activity of the evening.

As the usual custom and tradition, the freshmen sang the college song, led by the president of the class.

A nutty time was had by all.

Student Council Meets Recently

The Student Council held a meeting of its members Tuesday, September 19, during Chapel period. Frances Porter was appointed secretary pro tem.

Many items of importance were brought up for discussion and action was taken on several important issues. Clair Marvel was elected chairman of the Chapel Committee which will provide a program for Chapel every other Friday. A committee consisting of Lois Miller, Charles Emerick, Naomi White, and Paul Woelfle was chosen to work with the faculty to prepare for Homecoming.

Carol Denton will head the staff of the "Sandburr" as editor and Forrest Hergert as business manager. Names of possible candidates for Council President were submitted to the faculty for approval. Names of two of these candidates will be given to the upperclassmen and the election will be held in the near future.

The Student Council is the student's voice on the campus. Its duties consist of working with the faculty and representing the students on any issues involving the student body.

ROBERTS HEADS YORK COLLEGE COACHING STAFF THIS SEASON

OSCAR SWANSON WILL ASSIST IN ATHLETICS

John Roberts, new athletic director at York College, is no amateur in the field of athletic direction. Coming to Y. C. from Albany, Oregon, he brings with him a long record of experience. This record includes, positions at Cotner College, Nebr., Wesleyan, Chadron, and the University of Nebraska, besides his services at Eugene, Ore.

Realizing the necessary changes in the athletic set-up it is his plan, along with Assistant Coach Oscar Swanson, former York merchant and coach, to cooperate with the administration in developing both inter-collegiate and intramural activities.

He is a graduate of the University of Omaha and received his masters degree in physical education in 1939 from the University of Iowa.

Other than coaching all major sports, he is credited with the development of the first extensive intramural program in Nebraska. He lettered in football, basketball, track and baseball while in college and he has coached six championship tennis teams in nine years.

Knowing York to be the smallest school in its athletic conference Coach Roberts states that "there is good spirit among the football players. We have a tough schedule, but the general school spirit is good."

Gas Heating System To Replace Coal

The new heating plant, consisting of a complete changeover from coal to gas, is scheduled to be in operation by the time this paper goes to press. The move, costing an estimated $3000, will be of great value to the school.

Equipment is of the latest nature, including such items as an electronic control system by Minneapolis-Honeywell. In addition, a 4000 gallon oil tank will be installed in the system for emergency use. This tank holds a ten-day supply of fuel. The gas company has run a special high pressure main to furnish the big furnace with a sufficient gas supply.

One of the biggest advantages of the changeover will be the elimination of soot and smoke which have plagued the library building, where the furnace is located, and surrounding buildings on the campus. Greater economy may also be expected from the new system.

NEWS BRIEFS

One of the dorm girls, Reta Kilpatrick, was taken to the hospital last Saturday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. Her condition was reported to be good.

Newcomer At York College

An addition to the family of organizations is expected on the campus this month. The newcomer is to be a men's pep club which is so desperately needed at York College. The godfathers, Prof. Auchard, Prof. Huebert, Jim Potter, and Clair Marvel are anxiously awaiting the momentous occasion. All men who have an interest in school spirit and good fellowship should watch the 'Burr, chapel announcement and bulletin boards for further development.

Not Enough Courses?

Of it has been stated that Y. C. was a little bit lax in regard to the size of the curriculum. Well, here are the facts.

If a student at Y. C. were to attempt to take all the courses listed in the first semester schedule (exclusive of private lessons), he would require 13 semesters to complete the task. The schedule lists 211 hours, which, at the rate of 16 per semester, would compose the work of 13 semesters.

We Want A Touchdown!

It is a football game. The pigskin is snapped and the teams go into action. The carrier receives the ball. He fades to the left, then, he reverses his field and runs 30, 50, 70, and finally 90 yards for a touchdown. The crowd cheers wildly. Suddenly, the long fingers of silence grip the carrier's heart. He had failed! He had run the wrong direction! He had come to the wrong goal!

We are glad that football history records only a few such mistakes, but, when it comes to the game of human endeavor, we see daily those who have gone to the wrong goal because they reversed their field of thinking and lost their sense of direction.

College education is an opportunity to pick our right goals and the proper direction to attain the same. This is never easy. In daily living, as in football, there is always plenty of opposition to right goals. The secret of making a winning play is to keep the eye on the ball. In living, our eyes must be upon the ball of truth.

There is a goal that we all should have. That goal is growth. There is an old proverb which says, "the law of the universe is grow or die." This proverb takes the view that life is dynamic and we either advance or deteriorate. There is no middle ground. Also, growth must be complete. It must include the physical, mental, and spiritual aspects of life. No football player wants a lop-sided ball and none of us want a lop-sided life by leaving out one phase.

With growth, there will come a product, and the product of our lives is important. The natural law of the universe is to produce. Animals and plants must produce their own kind. If they do not, there will be complete recession and their existence will become extinct. In life we must produce enough to eat we must produce minds that search wisely and spirits that have the strength to stand in the face of difficulty. There is no room in God's universe for men that will not produce with their bodies, minds, and spirits. Have we forgotten that Christ cursed the Fig tree because it would not produce? In college we hope to have direction and goals that will produce devotion to our homes, to our work, to our nation, and to our God. Our supreme goal is every phase of life is truth and righteousness. Abraham Lincoln once said, "I am not bound to win but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live by the light that I have. I must stand with anybody that stands right, stand with him while he is right and part with him when he is wrong." That is not only a goal in living, it is a TOUCHDOWN! !

—Forrest Hergert.

A Letter To Potential Greatness

Another year of Potential Greatness has rolled up to the door of good old York College in his chariot of opportunity. His banner is streaming forth proudly the colors of blue and white. Blue for loyalty and white for that Christ-like character he is able to bestow upon those who seek it here. Mr. Potential Greatness this year has his chariot filled with the finest freshmen you could find in the world anywhere. They are being eagerly received by the upper classmen on the campus.

"Old Man Potential Greatness, we of the upper class are indeed very proud of you. Our freshmen of this new year have won our hearts already. Help us to be loving, kind, and patient with their mistakes and faults, always holding Christ before them. For we know, Old Man, that you know what truly lies potentially within their hearts. May we hold these truths to be self-evident that all men are created equal and are endowed with a right to life, liberty, and pursuit of happiness. So Old Man, we want to thank you for your positive contributions to our campus. We want you to know that we feel proud of our freshmen and want to welcome them to old York College with open arms. For we know that they will prove themselves to us—everyday and when the year is over, Old Man, you will need to change your name." Looking forward to a new year with highest hopes and aspirations, we are

YOUR UPPER CLASSMEN

Wouldn't That Frost You?

Men have traveled the world to see the seven wonders. Ripley writes about hard-to-believe facts. Now York College cannot produce the eighth wonder of the world nor can we compete with Ripley, but we have in our school an almost unbelievable phenomenon. Did you know that in our college, there is a girl who is going to spend the rest of her life in the clutches of winter? and, at the very same time this same girl will be living away from the influence of frost? Hard to believe, isn't it? Maybe you would understand it if I told you that the person of whom I am speaking used to be called Darlene Groen. Recently she married Fred Winter and in doing so she leaves her room mate Miss Alberta Frost.

Note: After all when the business manager brings in the revenue, we print what he writes.

Insubordination

by a Freshman

Insubordination—favorite campus word, Just what it means, we have not yet heard. Insubordination! Senior classmen say. Insubordination! Day after day. It means murder, it means pain. It means TROUBLE down like rain. Ask the seniors, ask the frosh, Any will tell you it's no bosh! Yet when you ask, "What does it mean?" Everyone pauses . . . to scratch his bean, Every forehead begins to frown, Every eye starts looking down, I can tell the answer, by gosh— Insubordination means a frosh!

It Shouldn't Happen To The 'Burr

What do you know, here I am at last, writing for the Sandburr. Well, at least, for one issue. Ever since I first smuggled my name on the free literature list and started receiving this Y. C. paper, I have had a dream of being one of its feature writers. Of course, I'm no James Thurber, or Robert Benchley—yet, but maybe in a few years I may develop into another Rotten Robert. Say, who was that guy, anyway?

But I'd better get started or I'll miss the deadline (whatever that is) and if I don't finish this today, it won't be handed in on time, either. I had a speech teacher who once said, "In making first impressions, always be serious. This action will establish you as a person of depth; you can show your sense of humor later."

I've always made a practice of following my instructor's suggestions, so I should make this a feature of purpose, carrying a message as serious as all get-out. (Note to the editor: Whatever you cut, please print the part about following the teacher's orders,—for my sake!) I not only should, but I will make this a serious down-to-earth story.

I should like to tell you a little about football. I can't think of a more down-to-earth subject. . . many are the times I have rammed my nose into the ground because I missed an easy block or tackle. Yes, I once went out for football. I probably would be out for this wonderful sport this year if it hadn't been for a mangling experience in my childhood. My last year was the third year I had checked out a suit (the coach gave me a pair of shoulder-pads that year), and I had hopes of showing myself good enough to gain a free pass to some of the games. But that was a rough year; the tackling dummies fought back. I'll never forget the first time I attempted to do my duty in throwing the crazy thing. I can see myself now. I remember that as I lowered my head to charge, I whispered, "This is for dear Utica High." I guess I hit it pretty good, because everyone who came to visit me in the hospital asked me about it. Well, so much for football.

Now I would like to say a few words about the subject of working your way through school. If you must work your way through school, then by all means, do so. I wouldn't for the world have you stop working just because of what I say here. I worked once. (I am, you will find, a man of considerable resource and ingenuity.)

My employer's establishment was a small restaurant on the edge of town. We had a very select clientele—all the kids too young for reform school used to go there to fill their water guns when the cops had taken their blackjacks away from them. If I complained about the way they splashed water all over the floor, they would salt it down with sugar—so no one would slip. If I felt courageous (as I did, on occasion) and refused to serve them, they would leave and not

Three Cheers For Conflicts

"I have a conflict!" Does that sound familiar? Conflicts are very popular at York with both students and teachers.

When the word "conflict" is mentioned on our campus, it is often greeted with the rapt expression of one smelling hydrogen sulfide for the first time.

Conflicts are not all green-eyed monsters. They are often desirable and highly necessary.

What does it mean to conflict? Webster says, "To come into collision; be antagonistic; be in mutual opposition; clash; oppose." The word, "conflict," is most often thought of in a negative light, calling to mind belligerence and war. Without positive opposing ideas there would be no advancement.

Were it not for a man named Columbus who dared oppose an idea centuries old and world professed true, America might yet be a powwow land.

Were it not for folk who held high the banner of conflict, our country might not have been settled for many more years.

Were it not for the antagonism of such muchrakers as Tarbell and Sinclair the U. S. might now resemble Soviet Russia.

Without conflict there would be no debating, for debate is conflict. Without debate there would be no statesmen, thus, no congress, no government, and finally no free America.

Here's a toast to conflicts. Long may they live, many and spirited, a symbol of democracy, for, while in unity there is strength, in conflict there is progress.

Romance Is KO'd In Psych Class

Friday 13, at 10:30 a. m. the death knell to romance rang out, loud and clear—nay 'it roared,' in the Psychology class room. Science reared its homely head! Recent research into the realm of psychology has revealed that only persons of an equal I. Q. should marry!

Nevermore will these rheumy eyes gaze on the soul-stirring sight of young couples strolling slowly across the campus hand in hand, dewy-eyes and oblivious to the world, aware only of each other. I shall paint a picture that will show vividly what is in store for the students of York College. Note: the paint was mixed with my tears to paint this canvas.

No more palpitating hearts as a winsome lass flutters those eyelashes, be she blonde, brunette, or redhead; no more mutual admiration or thrills of dates. Sobbing inwardly, dear reader, I will prove that all is lost. e.g., Notebook in hand, a young lad approaches a sweet young thing, "What is your I. Q.?" he asks briskly.

"Huh? uh I ah don't rightly know," she replies rather vaguely.

"All right, take this slip to Mr. Sears at once and get a Stamford-Binet. I think we might make sweet music together. Gee, I hope she has a ninety score," he murmurs wistfully as she ambles toward the Administration building.

return until they had filled the little H₂O pistols elsewhere, then they would come back and squirt water on the customers as they entered. (Psst, did you see that clever phrasing done on "H₂O pistols?" Pretty sharp, huh?)

In preparing my closing paragraph, I would like to sum up these profound truths we have explored together in this short resume of life in this troubled world. No matter where you work, whether it is on a football field or in a cafe, it is always nice to have a good night's sleep and Wheaties for breakfast. And in conclusion, let me say, whether you are rich or poor, it's always nice to have money.

Isn't It Wonderful

What school spirit we have? How some people never have to study?

The amount of justice prevailing during freshman court?

How quiet the dorm is in the evening?

To have an attractive, clean library?

That we have so many students in Greek class?

How green the grass and trees remain?

To have a bright new music room?

To see so many new faces on the campus?

To know that there are only eighty more school days until the semester ends?

CAMPUS CHOLLY

Some of you old students will remember me — I'm Campus Cholly.

I write about things and people—any thing and anyone. Right now I'm poor—very poor—so please (I implore you, please) send me some news. Me, to the Y. C. bookstore.

Did you hear what Don Ebaugh said about selling in the women's department at Penney's, "It doesn't embarrass me, but it sure embarrasses them."

Have you seen George—the one with the long ears, tail, and spots? The one that lives in the girls' dorm.

To Reta Kilpatrick—enjoy your "vacation (?)" — it won't last long.

Congratulations — to ALL of those lucky, lucky people who are now Mr. and Mrs.

PANTHER SPORTS

Y. C. PANTHERS DUMPED 31-0 AS POLISHED ANTELOPES ROLL

TEACHERS HELD SCORELESS AFTER EARLY OUTBURST

The Panthers of 1950, trying for a football victory, found the door slammed in their faces as they absorbed a 31-0 beating from Kearney's Antelopes. The only comfort the Panthers could salvage from the contest was that they held Kearney scoreless in the last 29 minutes of the ball game.

Added to the Panthers' woes was the fact that Johnny Mann, starting right tackle, injured a knee and will miss at least the next few games.

The game was only four minutes old when Staab hit Brestal with the first touchdown pass. The conversion attempt was missed, as were the next three.

Before the quarter ended, Kearney had made it 12-0 on Boggs' touchdown gallop. With Jamson masterminding the T, and the single wing, the Antelopes ran the score to 18-0 as Webb took a pass from Jamson. Varying the routine, Staab passed to Jamson who scored, giving Kearney a 24-0 lead.

If Panther fans hoped for a comeback in the second half, their hopes went aglimmering as Dick Elm, Antelope back, gathered in a York pass attempt and streaked thirty yards for the score. This time the Teachers made good the conversion.

Wooters and Larsen were the leading ground gainers for the Panthers, while most of the Kearney backs tore off great chunks of yardage. The Antelope backfield outweighed York's ball carriers by a good twenty pounds per man. In the line, however, the margin was not quite so large, Kearney maintaining perhaps a ten-pound advantage.

The second half showed that York held even in first downs, both teams managing 4 in the half. The Panthers twice halted Kearney drives within the twenty-yard line.

Panther Soft Ballers Take City Title

It's no dream; the Panthers have won a championship in 1950. The softball team representing Y. C. in the city league won the title in a playoff game with Towle Motors, 16-15.

The game had spectators dizzy as the result of a five-run uprising by the Towle club in the seventh, after Y. C. had scored 8 runs earlier to take a 10-8 lead. Going into the seventh, the Panthers led 16-10 and shut off the Towle rally just in time.

Those who played in the final game were Ebaugh, Yates, Brooke, Eason, Watkins, Watson, A. Friese, D. Noll, and Huebert. Regular members of the team during the season but unable to play because of teaching duties were Mark Fahrng and Harold Walker.

Guards: Patsios, Young, Kyros, Koepfen, Young, Arris, Dyer.

Panther's Lair

(by the Sports Editor)

If one went out and checked the records of good football clubs of the past to see what made them click to win games, it is possible that an outstanding characteristic would be "spirit" or "teamwork." It is the opinion of this writer that your Y. C. Panthers have just that. For when the coach, in order to accommodate the freshmen boys out for practice, asks his players to come out for practice at the early hours of the morning and gets 90% and over turnout, it is something to be admired.

Only the most pessimistic could see anything but a good season for the Panthers on the grid-iron this year. Not to mention the fact that even the coach gets out there to scrub and paint the locker room floor. If that is not co-operation, it certainly is meeting the hard-working lads halfway. Even at this late season there are a few checking out equipment "just to give a try" or because "He is a swell guy."

It is hard to predict what the outcome will be with the tough opposition. But this optimism does spell a threat to any over-confident foe in the conference.

The York College Panthers were tripped by the Midland Warriors Friday, September 15, 14-7 in the N. C. C. opener at Fremont. The Panthers had a break come their way on the second play of the game when Midland fumbled on their own 32 yard line. But the Panthers did not take advantage of the fumble. They gave up the ball on the 34 yard line.

The first score came when McWilliams, the Midland right end, scored on an end-around play from the York 25 yard line. The kick was good and the Warriors led 7-0 with five minutes left in the first quarter.

After receiving the kick-off, York could not move and had to punt, but the kick was blocked and Midland center, Schwanke, scooped up the ball and dashed 30 yards for the second touchdown. Once again the kick split the uprights and the score stood Midland 14, York, 0.

Neither team threatened in the second quarter and the half ended 14-0.

In the second half, York picked up and looked as though they were going somewhere. One drive to the six yard line was stopped by a fumble. The rest of the third quarter was played in the middle of the field.

The Panthers scored in the last 22 seconds of play after a long pass from Soukup to Larsen to the 7 yard line set up the score. Wooters plunged over the pay stripe from the 1 yard line after the third try.

Larsen, Soukup, and Wooters carried the offensive load, while Mann, Sukovaty, and Moran did a giant-sized job in the middle of the line. Emerick made many tackles in the secondary.

The York team looks as if they will be tough to handle in the games to come. The N. C. C. had better watch the Panthers.

A few of the statistics for the game look like this:

Midland York
11	8 first downs
158	77 Yards gained rushing
58	83 yards gained passing
50	15 yards lost penalties

Enrollments Drop

Over the nation this year, college enrollments have decreased an average of ten per cent. York's enrollment has undergone similar decrease, standing just above the two hundred mark with a freshman class of sixty.

Chadron State Teachers College suffered a like loss and the University of Nebraska has dropped twenty-one per cent. Behind the overall decline seems to be not the Korean situation, but the fact that elementary school enrollments were down during the Thirties.

The Korean war tends to have a negative effect, since men seem to prefer enrolling in college to joining one of the armed forces. However, a positive effect may be felt in another semester.

The only state not feeling the bump too badly was Kansas, which leads the United States in college freshman enrollment.

Mr. and Mrs.

Helen Embree

Since nobody knows the location of Kroyville anyhow, we are changing the column "Kroyville Kapsules" to "Mr. and Mrs." to include the entire married population of the college. And there are forty-two married couples. Further statistics reveal 29 children for future alumni members.

Newcomers to York include the Allen Friesens of Henderson, John Barretts of Concordia, Kansas, the Harold Sanchez' of Espanola, New Mexico, M. J. Brineys of York, the Robert Walters of Downs, Kansas, and Chuck and Betty Mitchell of Lincoln. Brandt and Marilyn Kennedy of Spangle, Washington, are among the newly-weds on the campus. They were married August 6.

Of importance to this group will be the organization of a "Wives'" club. The initial meeting is scheduled for September 26 in Middlebrook hall. Mrs. J. C. Morgan will sponsor the organization which will include both student and faculty wives.

News Brief

Several carloads of college students, student's wives, and faculty members migrated to the Midland football game, Saturday, September 16.

Miss Millicent Savery, who had planned to attend the University of Nebraska this fall to work on her graduate degree, has returned for another year to serve as matron of Middlebrook Hall.

After visiting the campus these first few days of school, Mrs. Fanny Luper left on Thursday, September 21, to act as field representative in Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma for another year. Mrs. Luper had made a picture album of various buildings, spots of interest, and this year's Life Work Recruit organization for her use in the field.

This summer a trip of approximately 3600 miles through the east and north of our country was enjoyed by Dr. W. C. Noll and family. Besides the journey which included Pennsylvania, New York, the Great Lake area and a portion of the middle west, the Nolls visited the Blue Mountain district where Prof. Noll grew up. The professor made special mention of his observation of the woods and other vegetation which was growing in the mountain area.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Rabuck of Coon Rapids, Iowa, were visitors in the Lee Huebert home September 7-17. They also visited Phyllis and Bruce Rabuck, sophomore and freshman, respectively.

A ninetieth birthday was recently celebrated by Mrs. Pearson, mother of Miss Gladys Pearson of the department of piano.

Repair of Buildings Major Budget Item

When figuring the annual expense account for any institution, a sizeable portion must be allowed for the everpresent deterioration and the inevitable repairs and improvements. During the summer York College came in for a good deal of this renovation, with almost every building on the campus being improved. Only the Ad building, which received its improvement last year, and Middlebrook Hall did not get major repairs.

The Library got a new paint job, new lighting, and a new librarian's office. The gym got a paint job for its shower and dressing rooms, and a completely re-finished floor. Several rooms in Thompson Hall were redecorated and the proctor apartment was completely renovated. In Hulitt Hall, the band room came in for the major part of the reconstruction done there but new drapes and curtains were placed in all hallways.

All in all about $5,150 were spent for campus improvements, with $1,100 going to the library, $600 for lights alone; $750 went to the gym; $300 was spent on Hulitt and Thompson Halls; and over $3,000 went for the new heating plant. Add these expenses to the regular expense of caring for the grounds, plus all the other items on the school budget, and it becomes evident that a respectable amount of capital is needed to maintain our educational facilities.
