Local Board Plans for Trustees Meet

The local Executive Committee met in the board room at the First National bank in York on Tuesday, March 11, to consider matters pertaining to the future of the College, and the development of a program to reach the major objectives before the school at the present time.

Dr. Paul B. Porter presided over the meeting in the absence of Bishop C. H. Stauffacher. The discussion was more in the nature of a preparation for the next meeting of the College Board of Trustees which is called for April 23, following another meeting of the Executive Committee on April 22nd.

Meetings are quite the order of the day just now, the magnitude of the task before the trustees and officers requiring the most careful thought since decisions made now will affect the future of the school is the most vital way. There was an air of optimism, tempered by the size of the task, but it was generally felt that after the machinery gets rolling again it will result in a larger and better college at York.

B. Miller, J. Peters Chosen As Representative Man-Woman; Spring Banquet to Honor Pair

Presentation will be made Friday evening, at 6:30 p. m. at the annual spring banquet of Justina Peters, senior, Henderson and Bob Miller, Cheyenne, Wyoming, as Representative Man and Woman.

Miss Peters, an English major, finds time for various extra-curricular activities. She was president of the Y. W. C. A. for the past year. Active in L. W. R., W. A. A. and Mrs. Boone's choir, "Justy," as she is called, was also a candidate for Homecoming Queen. She plans to teach after graduation.

Religious Emphasis Week Headed by J. Allan Ranck

Religious Emphasis Week, sponsored by the E. U. B. Church, is being held each evening from March 12-20 in the College Church. Rev. J. Allan Ranck, Dayton, Ohio, has been chosen to lead these services. Rev. Ranck will also lead the College Chapel services during the week of March 17-21.

Rev. Ranck, Director of Young People's Work for the Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, studied for three years in the Bonebrake Theological Seminary from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Divinity in 1937.

For nine years he served as the pastor of the Zion United Brethren congregation in Allentown, Pennsylvania, his birth place and early home having been in the town of New Holland in that state. During the time of his pastorate in Allentown, Rev. Ranck studied at Princeton Theological Seminary, receiving the degree of Master of Theology, and did further post-graduate study in Union Theological Seminary, New York City, in the field of philosophy of religion. In 1949, the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Westminster College, LeMars, Iowa.

Dr. J. Allan Ranck directs Religious Emphasis week which is held at the College Church, Mar. 12-20.

In November, 1945, he was elected Youth Director by the Board of Christian Education of the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, and at the uniting General Conference in Johnstown, Pennsylvania, became the Youth Director for the Evangelical United Brethren Church, in which capacity he has served since Nov. 1946. As Director of Young People's Work he is in charge of the organization and program of the Youth Fellowship of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, the work of which extends through the churches in the United States and Canada and in the mission fields of the church.

In addition to his denominational responsibilities, Rev. Ranck carries a number of interdenominational duties. He is chairman of the Committee on Youth Work of the Division of Christian Education of the National Council of Churches.

Mary Mutch Cain Award To Miss Evelyn Thomas

Recipient of the Mary Mutch Cain Award for 1952 was Miss

Evelyn Thomas

Evelyn Thomas, senior, Topeka, Kansas. This annual recognition which was presented to Miss Thomas at Senior Recognition Day activities, stands as a memorial to the memory of Mary Mutch Cain who, as a missionary of the E. U. B. Church, gave her life on the mission field many years ago.

Qualification for receiving this award depend upon how closely the recipient resembles Mrs. Cain in character and ambition. Miss Thomas' intention is to enter missionary work upon completion of her education.

A music major, Evelyn is also outstanding in campus activity and is head of the Student Council. She is active in Life Work Recruits, YWCA, Touring Choir, and does much work as an accompanist.

Representative Man . . . Robert Miller

Representative Woman Justina Peters

Bob Miller who is working on a major in history is from the West. Bob is a member of O. B. N., L. W. R., and the Choraliers. "Prospect" has lettered in football and is a member of the track team. He is a student pastor and plans to attend seminary in Oregon.

Other candidates were Barbara Bergland, senior, Robinson, Kansas, and John Bergland, senior, Great Falls, Montana.

Selection of Representative Man and Woman are made from the senior class by vote of the student body. Candidates are chosen on the basis of leadership, popularity and representation from the students.

REPRESENTATIVE MAN AND WOMAN ARE REVEALED AMID FLOWERS

"Spring" is the theme of the annual spring banquet Friday evening, March 21, 6:30 P. M. in the dining room of Middlebrook Hall. Master of ceremonies will be Jim Potter, senior, Grover, Colorado.

The highlight of the banquet appears when Representative Man and Woman are presented to the student body. Portions of the program include a variety of music and dramatic readings.

Clinton Carr Gives Recital Sunday

Clinton Carr, sophomore, Wakefield, Nebraska, will present a piano recital, Sunday, March 23.

He will play Bach's "Prelude and Fuga in C Minor" from "The Well-tempered Clavichord", and three movements of the "Sonata in E Minor" by Greig; plus three lighter numbers: a Schumann-

Warrum arrangement of "The Prophet Bird", Philipp's "Elf", and "Die Lorelei" by Liszt.

Mr. Carr will be assisted by Joyce King, freshman, Great Bend, Kansas, and Diane Blauch, freshman, York, Nebraska, on two pianos. They will play "Memories of Childhood" by Pelavia Pinto, "Harmonica Player" — David W. Guion, and Strauss' familiar "Blue Danube" arranged by Abram Chasins.

I See By The Papers

By Mary Ann Schneider

Spending my leisure (?) hours in the library with nothing to do, I found some pretty good "quotable quotes" in exchange papers.

Here are a few tips for test-takers from the La Vie Collegienne, Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pennsylvania:

Don't sleep during exams; the chairs are awfully hard and might give you a stiff neck.

Don't take off your shoes in class unless your mother has darned your socks recently.

Don't hold hands with your "true love" in class. It makes life difficult for the seven people sitting between you.

Don't take notes on a typewriter. This is terribly distracting to the students trying to sleep.

I doubt if it's wise to put this in but it's from Pebbles, Senior High School, Marshalltown, Iowa.

Joe—"Do you believe in clubs for women?"

Schmoe—"Yes, if kindness fails."

I rather like this wee bit of humor from The B. H. S. Life, Beloit, Kansas.

My mama told me not to smoke

Social Activities? What are they? I wouldn't know—I go to York College.

It isn't really quite that bad, but what social activities do we have? I mean really social activities! There are the Christian Associations or worship groups, the athletic associations, and the honorary fraternities but there is no organization which is of a nature that allows everyone to join since the dismantling of PALS and Zetas.

Although there is this lack of an organization suited to the need of every student, the blame for inadequate social facilities can not be pushed permanently into that pigeon hole. There can be activity without organization if there is anyone who is willing to rise from his seat of complacency and urge a program of increased sociability.

Except during the football and basketball seasons (about 20 out of the 36 weeks of school) most weekends are entirely up to the individual student to fill or kill as he sees fit — in the movie, playing rook or parked in some lonely place. College students need to study and to have some time to themselves, but there must be leisure time. Unless this leisure time is directed to an activity that fills a need in their lives it has been wasted.

Wasting time, like wasting money, becomes a habit which isn't easily broken. Some York College students are ready now for the W. T. A. (Waste Time Anonymous). So to him who finds himself idle, let us say: There is plenty to do for those who wish for occupation. Those who don't have anything to do usually won't do anything when asked.

The Phrase that Refreshes

By Bob Herrick

"The only miraculous thing about miracles is that they happen so seldom." — Pratt.

I might throw a quote from a local personality in this column. In fact, I think I will. This wise word comes from that wise looking old bird, commonly seen around the campus with a question on his face — Dan'l (Charles) Boone. He said, "The Lord provides food for the birds; but he doesn't throw it in the nest!" And he is right.

Short . . . and Sour!

Why is it:

The quickest way to get a compliment on your long hair is to cut it?

Other people are born with silver spoons in their mouths, but you have only a mouthful of gold teeth?

The sock with the full length run in it is always the last one you put on?

If she's late, you wait, but if you're late, she's gone?

A stitch in Time saves nine and not ten?

Other people's hot water faucets are always cold, and the cold hot?

"Little pitchers" not only have big ears, but bigger mouths?

Columns like this slip by the copy reader and you have the misfortune to read them?

Just because it is almost as long, don't get the name mixed up with the phrase on this one.

"The sense of 'I' in us is the greatest obstacle in the path of God-vision." — Ramakrishna.

Not too long a time back, I overheard one of the more successful of the young men warning his buddy, who was still a novice at the gentle art, that . . . "any boy who goes after a little honey takes a chance on being stung."

This is for the pure and simple purpose of showing "Limerick Rose", (see last issue), what her creations did to me.

Jane is a girl that is witty,
For a date, 'twould be grate,
Were she ready at ate,

College Professors: A Tribute?

A slightly different slant on college professors has been offered by the Graphic, George Pepperdine College, Calif. It remarks in an editorial:

"College teachers are a peculiar people. They are sometimes like gods, often like children.

"They impose their unquestionable knowledge like Caesars, distribute impossible assignments, then pout like infants when their bleary-eyed students produce hastily prepared homework.

"... Who except teachers would despise tardiness and absenteeism and be frequently late or absent themselves? Who else would complain of students' irresponsible attitudes toward assignments, then neglect to return tests promptly?

"... Teachers seem to believe that students enjoy handing in late work. They often punish the unfortunate culprit by gently reminding him during class that 'Promptness is the backbone of democracy.' (Some other maxim could be substituted here just as effectively).

"The teacher raises his eyebrow at all excuses and seems to forget that other teachers also impose pressing obligations. He implies . . . that the student spent his past week in evil pursuits and deliberately snubbed his teacher's heart-

Question: Should Chapel Be Required?

PRO —

"When is Student council meeting?—What's going on this week?—How do you find out about anything?—How in the world can I get all of the students together for a special meeting?"

Yes, all of these questions and many more would be asked if we did not have a special time we were all to meet. If this were not required then a very small portion of the students would attend. If there were important announcements to be made it would take all day and maybe two days to spread the word. As it is now, every one knows that Monday, Thursday and Friday are required chapels and that the majority of the students will attend. At these times plans for the week can be put forth and nearly every one will know the week's activities.

The biggest kick comes against formal chapel. They say we should not have religion forced upon us. True, but it is so easy to cut things we know that are good for us if they are not required. This gives us that added push we need to come every week and be enlightened spiritually.

One last point, it is the formal chapel that unites us; it makes us a whole, not 180 parts flying around the campus.

In conclusion, "We do not always like what is good for us but that does not mean we should do away with it. . . ."
C. C.

CON —

Does the end justify the means? This is my reaction to compulsory chapel. The idea behind chapel is very good but when attendance is required it is like the statement that ice cream loses some of its taste when it is given as medicine.

If a law were passed compelling attendance of every one from 7 to 70 to certain state sponsored performances, how would you react? You would probably say, "It would be fine for the young folk, but I'm capable of selecting my own entertainment." Give me liberty or give me death, and if this liberty does not infringe upon the rights of others then college-age people should be allowed to use this freedom of choice. A tree is tall and straight by chance; but a man is tall and straight by choice. "Choose ye this day whom you will serve" and since the choice is yours, your service will mean more.

A farmer once got his team of horses and wagon stuck in a mudhole. He shouted instructions and even beat the team but nothing happened. He finally got off the wagon and tied up the reins. This time, by picking their own way, the horses got the wagon started and out. The reins were not thrown away but merely relaxed.

The Foundation of Life

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Truth came when Christ was born. Freedom comes when we accept this truth. It is impractical to believe that knowledge alone is sufficient to believe that by possessing gas and a car one can travel. The gas must be used and the truth must be practiced and lived.

Truth is the basis for life. Pilate asked of this man Jesus, "What is truth?" Today men ask each other this same question and many times like Pilate go along with the crowd for the answer. If truth is not the most necessary thing in our life then our life will not be true. If truth is the uppermost in our lives then the kind of truth becomes important.

When Christ said something was true it was true, not just because it responded positively to all tests. The reason the Christian's religion can command its place in the world is because it is positive. Any board can be thrown against an object but it becomes a foundation when it holds that object up. Truth is the foundation of all lasting law and must be the foundation of all lasting life.

We are each builders of our own careers, therefore the success of our future depends on the material we put into it. A life built on the rock of truth shall stand, but a life built on the sands of uncertainty shall fail.

rending pleas.

"I wish that I had known my teachers when they were students. They must have been a very wonderful bunch. Assuming, of course, that they practiced what they preach."

Genius . . . consists of an infinite capacity for catching trains.

Here's to you, as good as you are, and here's to me, as bad as I am. But as good as you are, and as bad as I am, I'm as good as you are, as bad as I am.

A Sport's Opinion

By the Editor

With only a few good bounces left in the old basketball let's look at track. The cinders will hold much interest in the eyes of amateur athletes for the next three months.

Track is one of the few sports in which the individual governs his success. In football and basketball some boys become bitter toward each other, the coach, or just life in general. "If it weren't for so and so I would have gotten to play." This is not true of track for in track desire and will to win are the determining factors in participation.

Each sport has its share of show-offs but track has probably produced less than what some would call its share. Even in a relay team individual performance is what wins races. The boy who goes along for the ride is usually the waterboy and the boy who wants to win usually finishes out in front no matter what color, size, nationality or religious belief.

"You can become as good as you want to be," is many times the case. Glenn Cunningham was told he would never walk again and yet he went on to become one of the world's top milers.

Bill Wortman

Most track stars are men who have reached the top of the ladder through constant climbing. The fact that all the spikes on a track shoe are in the front of the shoe illustrates that only those who are on their toes need apply.

The next time you see a young man flash across the finish line, remember stars are made not born. You are given a certain amount of natural ability and you may use it as you will. If you like competition, and you are willing to work, this spring sport may be your dish.

Lettermen Miller, Menzie, Voris, Martinez Bolster Cinder Hopes

St. Joe Annexes 38-27

Donna Anderson, York College, and Betty Moravic of St. Joseph high school were top scorers in the girls' volleyball game held Tuesday, March 4, in the college gym.

After a close first half the score was tied 16 all; however, after play was resumed York pulled ahead 23-21 then lost their lead to find the score 38-27, St. Joseph, when the final whistle blew.

PANTHERS OUT TO SNATCH CONFERENCE LAURELS

Bob Miller, Norman Menzie, Lito Martinez, and Bob Voris are the returning lettermen heading the track hopefuls of Y. C. and Coach Haight. Miller and Menzie are distance runners while Martinez hurls the javelin. Bob Linderholm, freshman, York, and Elgin Nelson, sophomore, Central City both have good time in the quarter-mile. In the weights Dave Miller, sophomore, Marquette, Martin Smith, junior, Concordia, and Bob Paine, sophomore, of York head the list.

Frosh Turnout Good

Leon Frankamp, freshman, Scottsville, Kansas, and Bill Gardner, freshman, York, are busy working out in the high jump. Skimming the hurdles will be Dave Woolery, freshman, Bucklin, Kansas, Larry Thorson, junior, LaMesa, California, Bill Gardner, and Leon Frankamp. Bob Voris, sophomore, Riverdale, California, one of the lettermen will be out for the 440. The mile relay should be a strong point of the team.

York took second place in conference track events last season. But with the loss of Frank Wooters veteran cinderman, and loop record holder, the squad was weakened. However, most of the squad has returned and looks like a repeater, if not better.

Intramural All-Stars Chosen; Season Ends

Players from Diehl's Den dominated the All-Intramural quintet chosen by players. Dick Brooke and Jim Porter were the Diehl-men so honored.

The response of the players was good and voting very even. Each player was asked to vote for five first team players and five second team players. A first place ballot gave the player voted on two votes and a second team vote gave him one vote.

Diehl's had two first and one second, Hulitt Hall one first and three second, Kroyville one first and two second and Paine's Bulldogs one first. Thompson Hall failed to place any.

Happy, "enforced contribution to the public funds" and how are you? Another Webster statement concerning the word tax is, 'a burdensome charge,' what an understatement. As the fisherman says, "the only thing bigger than the fish I catch is my income tax."

For those who have trouble filling out their forms there are given two remedies—diets and jails. An old maxim (a rose by any other name would smell as sweet) is nearly proved false when you attempt to find out what you can and can't deduct. One man in Maine objected to not being able to deduct dog licenses. "My dogs are my transportation and those ding-busted southerners can deduct auto licenses." You can spend all you have on doctors and hospitals and all of this can be deducted, but if you die here is what you suffer. You lose deductions on funeral expenses, cemetery plot, premiums on life insurance, and you also lose your life.

Another subject peculiar to this season is professional mudslingers, the formal name is politicians. If you know of anyone who has a doubtful reputation get them to run for a public office. The only pile of bones that grows is the skeleton in the closet. Since there is much jumping at this time of year the synonym for vote is ballot not ballet.

Since this is 1952 this the year to get educated and vote. This education doesn't mean degrees (getting hot under the collar) but rather finding out something about the men. There was once a small funeral in a midwest town. The town character died and most of those who attended wanted to hear what good could be said about this bum. "Folks, I know what you all thought of the deceased and you wonder what good could be said about him. This is it; he had six brothers and compared to them he was a prince."

That's about all for this time and before you get too proud about being able to see all the bad things in life remember—it takes a crook to catch a crook because a crook knows what to look for.

They Tramped These Halls

by J. C. Morgan

A long time friend of the campus was lost recently in the passing of Mrs. Hattie Conway whose beautiful home stands across the street opposite Hulitt Hall. Having reached 91 years of age she had seen many generations of college students come and go. Her home with its well-kept lawn, its neatly trimmed hedge of spirea, its rock garden, and flowers, reflected a beauty upon the campus. Both students and faculty have appreciated the attractiveness her home has lent to the life of the college. Two sons James and Asa attended Y. C., the former being a member of the unscored football team of 1916. A grandson James Jr. graduated in '48, and a granddaughter JoAnn was a student 1949-51.

Behney, Specht on Campus Viewing Vocation Prospects

A vocational recruiting team from Dayton, Ohio, composed of Dr. J. Bruce Behney, Dean of Bonebrake Seminary and Miss Ruth Specht, a vacationing missionary nurse from Espanola Mission Hospital, New Mexico, was on the campus from March 12th to March 15th.

Their primary purpose was to interview students interested in full time church work. This includes pre-mission, field workers, and pre-ministerial students. They explained what fields were open and gave the students an idea of the preparation needed for each. The team made special effort to talk to all the pre-ministerial students with entry into the seminary in mind.

Juniors Honor '52 Seniors At Annual Recognition Day

O.B.N. Studies Church Discipline

Dr. Weidler lectured to the O. B. N. March 6, at the College Church concerning the discipline of the Evangelical United Brethren church. He touched upon the church history and government comparing it to the Federal government. Then he brought out the difference of the local conference and the local church council.

Someone wants to know where the population is most dense. Well, one answer might be—from the neck up.

At 10:00 Thursday morning, March 13, the Senior class of 1952 donned their caps and gowns for the first time. The occasion was the annual Senior Recognition Day held at the E. U. B. Church.

The program was arranged by the Junior class in coordination with the college administration. It was as follows:

Processional—Miss Eda Rankin Invocation—Dr. C. E. Ashcraft Presentation of Senior Class—Professor A. H. Bergen.

Senior Response—Harold W. French.

Presentation of Mary Mutch Cain Award — President W. E. Bachman.

Girls' Vocal Trio, "Green Pastures"—Sanderson. Joyce Klingman, Diane Blauch, Joan Heidrick, Joyce King, accompanist.

Address—Dr. J. Bruce Behney, Dean, Bonebrake Seminary, Dayton, Ohio.

Vocal solo: "I Heard You Singin'" — Coates — Rosemary French.

Benediction — Dr. J. Allan Ranck, General Youth Director, Dayton, Ohio.

Recessional—Miss Eda Rankin.

Dr. Behney spoke on the very timely subject of reaching and dealing with decisions that confront us through life.

"Unless a man be born again he cannot see the kingdom of God."

"What is the greatest thought that ever crossed your mind? What is the most challenging concept?"

" . . . Ask, seek, knock, and you will have it."

"May it be the experience of all of us to review again the duties we have to God."

Campus Beauty Depends on YOU

How would you like to be tramped on, crushed, kicked around? Well, we can't speak for ourselves because we are only grass roots you know, the kind they talk about when politicians say they are going to discuss something "at the grass roots."

Did you ever stop to think what a Campus would look like without any grass? And, did you ever stop to think how much YOU could do to keep Y. C. Campus looking beautiful. Really, you don't have to cut across lots to get to classes, because you do have time to get from one building to the other BY KEEPING TO THE WALKS—that's why they were placed there. And your shoes! Aren't they a mess when the grass is wet and the ground is muddy. Did you ever notice how messy the entrances in Middlebrook, Hulitt and the Library look after folks have picked up the muddy grass and carried it into the building? I wonder how many students do that in their home? Do they cut across their Dad's nice lawn?

And, further, have you noticed how nice and well-behaved the faculty members are lately. They are keeping to the walks.

By the way, do you know that the Campus is richer than either of the city parks in regard to the number of trees, etc., to be found on it. When you have a little time, walk over the Campus and see if you cannot discover 28 varieties of trees, 43 varieties of shrubs, 48 varieties of perennial flowers, 7 varieties of vines, and, in summer, about 20 varieties of annual flowers. There are flowers from earliest spring when the dwarf Iris and the Forsythia bushes bloom, to late fall when a wonderful display of 'mums and other fall flowers are at their best. We have a beautiful Campus, let us share in its care.

Atkinson to Guide Junior Class '52

Jack Atkinson, Enid, Oklahoma, was elected president of the junior class at a meeting held Tuesday. Other officers are—Bob Herrick, Concordia, Kansas, vice-president; Roszella Schrader, Sidney, Montana, secretary; and Irene Meierhenry, Stanton, treasurer.

During the meeting Charles Chipman, Independence, Kansas, was appointed chairman of a committee to make arrangements for the Junior-Senior banquet. Assisting him are Betty Creech, Polk, and Irene Meierhenry of Stanton.

Plans were also completed for Senior Recognition day which was March 13.
