11 New Students on Y. C. Campus

As usual, unfamiliar faces appear on the campus and in classrooms at the beginning of each new semester. Second semester 1952, exhibits nine new and two renewed students representing the states of California, Kansas, Minnesota, and Nebraska.

Upon arrival, Don Casmero, sophomore, Pacific Grove, California, said that York College had been recommended by so many of his buddies that he was not disappointed. "Even with all the wet and cold weather, it is a pretty good state. California is washing away!" Don spent his freshman year at Reedley College in California.

Imogene Hook, freshman, Independence, Kansas, attended Kansas State Teachers' College at Pittsburg, Kansas, before she came to York with her husband and 11 months old daughter. She plans on a degree, but she stated that that dream will have to wait a few years. "Tom wanted to study at our own church college because his dad is a E. U. B. minister, and of course, Jody and I came along."

Another freshman from Mullinville, Kansas, Reta Price, is beginning her work toward a two year teaching certificate. Reta's first introduction to the college was in April of last year and she found it friendly. Besides Walt, who is also enrolled at Y. C., Reta's family consists of twin sisters, one of whom is planning to come here next year, three brothers, and a little sister.

Benedict, Nebraska, is newly represented by freshman, Sterling Foster, who attended Peru State Teachers' first semester.

James "Jerry" McCrory and Larry Moores, both from Santa Anna, California, have enrolled as pre-theological students, while Elgin Nelson, freshman, transferred from Nebraska Central College, Central City, Nebraska, is a pre-law student. Other entrees are David Trott, Lamar, Kansas, and Kenneth Wills, Shelby, Nebraska.

Office records also indicate that Don Erfourth, senior, St. James, Minnesota, and Bill Watkins, senior, York, Nebraska, are renewed students for this semester.

Watch These Dates, Febr. 16-20?

The dePaur Infantry Chorus under the direction of Capt. Leonard dePaur makes its initial appearance in York under the sponsorship of the Community Concert Association.

Meeting Scheduled for Feb. 28-29

A report formulated by the Board of Christian Education of the Evangelical United Brethren Church on January 24 at Dayton, Ohio, following an extensive study of the situation at York College, was approved by the Executive Committee of the Council of Administration of the denomination at a meeting on January 29, according to information received from President Walter E. Bachman.

The report makes clear that the future of York College is the primary responsibility of the Board of Trustees and of the constituency of York College; however, it is also the responsibility of the Evangelical United Brethren Church. In view of this action representatives of the Board of Christian Education and the Council of Administration will meet with the Board of Trustees of York College who have already been notified of a special meeting called for February 28 and 29.

A central problem with which the Board is faced is this: Will the constituency of York College adequately support this college on a fully accredited basis in the years that lie ahead. Support of York College includes not only the building of a new building to replace the administration building destroyed by fire a year ago, but also the undergirding of this institution by the York College constituency with the necessary operating and endowment funds for the maintenance of the college in the form of gifts, bequests, and personal influences in winning friends and students for the college.

The Board of Trustees of York College is made up of representatives in the former U. B. Church from the nine conferences in the cooperating territory west of the Mississippi. These conferences are: Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Colorado-New Mexico, California, Oregon, and Montana. The Alumni Association composed of seven hundred seventy-five members is represented by three members on the College Board. York City and County are represented by five members. Three members at large represent the general denomination. While the church leaders representing the Board of Christian Education and the Council of Administration are not members of the Board of Trustees of York College, nevertheless, they will participate in the special called meeting of the Board.

Typhoid Vaccine Given Over 200

Precautionary Measure Taken February 1-5

Over two hundred students, faculty and staff members were inoculated for Typhoid fever during the week-end of February 1 to 5. This was done as a safety measure since one of the students had contracted the disease from an unknown source. Doctors thought that he may have come in contact with it while at home during Christmas vacation. However, they advised inoculation as a precautionary measure. Booster shots were recommended for those who had had Typhoid shots before within the year.

Friday evening, vaccine was given to 161 persons by Drs. Kilgore and Harry. Monday evening 25 more received their inoculations. The basketball team members and Coach Haight, because of games, had their shots postponed until February 6.

On February 11 and February 25 the second and third injections will be given. No quarantine was necessary.

Celebrated de Paur Chorus Appears At City Auditorium Friday Night; Last in Community Concert Series

The dePaur Infantry Chorus, which will be heard here in the City Auditorium on Friday, Feb. 15, under the auspices of the Community Concert Association may emphatically be called the most successful new attraction in the concert business. Since its civilian debut four seasons ago, after four years' service in the uniform of the United States Army, the dePaur Chorus has given more performances a year than any attraction on the lists of Columbia Artists' Management which brings them here.

Last season's tour broke all existing records in the concert business and their forthcoming tour is expected to exceed this signal accomplishment. The chorus will give more than 175 concerts before the tour concludes the latter part of May. The tuneful ex-GIs will have sung their concerts from the tidewater country to Virginia to the wheatfields of Manitoba.

The dePaur Chorus was the first important musical aggregation to spring from World War II. This unique group was organized in 1942 by men of the 372nd Infantry Regiment stationed at Fort Dix, N. J. A succession of notable appearances to stimulate War Bond sales led the Army to set up the chorus as a morale unit to entertain other troops and, during the next three years, the chorus sang for American armed forces all over the world.

When the war was over the singing infantry men decided to stay together under the direction of their leader, Captain Leonard de Paur, brilliant young conductor who had formerly been an assistant to Hall Johnson. Under his inspired leadership they have now become one of the most important professional choruses of the time with a matchless esprit de corps that can only come from Recent elections were held by the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. to elect officers for the year 1952 beginning the first of the second semester. Robert Herrick, junior, Concordia, Kansas, and Phyllis Harnden, sophomore, Attica, Kansas were chosen to head these two organizations.

Other new officers of the Y. M. are: Vice president, Charles Chipman, junior, Scyamore, Kansas; Program Chairman, Wayne Meeker, freshman, Chanute, Kansas; Publicity, Jack Atkinson, junior, Enid, Oklahoma; Secretary, Roy Brotton, sophomore, Salina, Kansas; Treasurer, David Miller, sophomore, Marquette; Chorister, Bill Woelfle, freshman, Loveland, Colorado; and Pianist, Bill McNeff, freshman, Palmer. Three committee chairmen were also elected. They are: World Affairs, Don Megill, freshman, Mankato, Kansas; Campus Affairs, David Woolery, freshman, Bucklin, Kansas; and WSSF, Robert DeVilbiss, freshman, Jennings, Louisiana. Sponsor is Professor Wampler.

Officers of the Y. W. other than the president are: Vice president, Ramona Watkins, freshman, York; Secretary, Delores Humphries, freshman, Salina, Kansas; Treasurer, Joan Heidrick, freshman, Virgil, Kansas; Student Council, Dorothy Johnson, freshman, Clyde, Kansas; District Representative, Ramona Burgett, freshman, Beverly, Kentucky; and Faculty Advisor, Miss Savery.

Robert Herrick, junior, Concordia, Kansas, heads YMCA in 1952.

Phyllis Harnden, sophomore, Attica, Kansas, will direct the YWCA.

Bergland Recital Sunday

Soprano Barbara Bergland

Barbara Bergland presented her senior voice recital Sunday afternoon, February 10.

She offered a well-rounded program. Her selections of "Skylark," by Moffat, "Après un reve," by Faure, two Italian songs; one art song and "Tales from Vienna Woods," by Strauss.

"If God Be For Us," from the "Messiah," "Elsas Dream," a German number by Wagner, "Alleluja," by Mozart, a Russian folk song and a Scottish cradle song completed the concert.

Her accompanist was Miss Joyce Klingman, Green, Kansas.

3,000 performances together. Their novel programs include music of the many lands they visited in their Army tours (much of it new to the concert stage), songs of World War II, modern arrangements of art songs, and music of different faiths and spirituals. Many of their numbers have been recorded by Columbia Masterworks and one recording "Sound Off" is high among current best sellers.

President Asks Prayer for Y. C.

"More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of."

—Tennyson

Included in the total program of the church is the work of our colleges, and we are asking that in the prayers of the people in the York College area, York College should be remembered. There is a deep feeling of the need of prayer for the student body, the faculty, the administrative officers, and the Board of Trustees that Divine Guidance may be granted in all that is being done in York College to provide our church with full-time leaders and Christian lay workers in the days that lie ahead.

York College has rendered useful and devout service in the over sixty years of its history, and our hope and prayer is that with the blessing of Almighty God the college may continue to be a useful Christian college moving forward in harmony with the ideals and rich traditions of our church.

—President W. E. Bachman.

The Phrase that Refreshes

By Bob Herrick

Three things return not, even for prayers and tears;
The arrow which the archer shoots at will;
The spoken word, keen-edged and sharp to sting;
The opportunity left unimproved.
If thou wouldst speak a word of loving cheer,
Oh, speak it now, this moment is thine own.

—Richardson.

Things are somewhat mixed up into a glouker (a new word, which doesn't quite mean the same as "mess." You know how it is on a vacation, you just kind of float around with only half a purpose in mind. These are some of the things I found over the Christmas vacation. Some from people, some from some books I was reading for pleasure, etc.

Some of you may remember who John Jay was, while others can remember him from this time forth as a man who spoke of the common citizen and government in this way, "Distrust naturally creates distrust."

—the "Federalist"

"The man who just does what he is supposed to do, is a slave; the man who does more than what is required of him is a free man."

—man in a cafe.

Here is an interesting bit of poetry (?) you might like (?) to read.

There was a young man named Hall
Who fell in a spring in the fall.
A terrible thing
To die in the spring,
But he didn't he died in the fall.

I think a lonely man wrote this.
"Loneliness is not in being alone,
for then ministering
Spirits come to soothe and bless—

Loneliness is to endure the presence of one who does not understand."

—Elbert Hubbard.

I'll close with this one this time—

"Never utter the truism, but live it among men."

—Emerson.

What York College Has Offered Me

By Evelyn Thomas

I go to York College; not complaining, just bragging. Why? There are many reasons; one of them because it is my church's college. During my four years in college I have become acquainted with many of the leaders of our church, some personally, while many of them just by name and sight. Yes, I know that you get to meet them also, but because of board meetings and special campus speakers we find them frequent visitors around York.

York is a small school, yet it offers the chance which most large schools do not offer—personal acquaintance with almost every student and faculty member. The classes are comparatively small, giving each student a chance to voice his opinion. Also the personal interest in each student, shown by the teacher is characteristic of York.

The association with Christian students and faculty members has been an important factor in my life, especially in the years when my decision for my life work was at stake.

Perhaps the musical side of York College, which appealed to me, was another reason that I came to York. However, I had not planned to claim that field as my major, but I found that I was increasingly pointing my interests and activities in that direction, hence I declared myself a music major.

Our a cappella choir is becoming well known throughout the college area. However that isn't the only part of our music department. The piano and vocal departments are headed by capable and enthusiastic teachers. Our band, while not big, is noisy and peppy. The baby of the music department is the orchestra just started a few months ago. This group consists of approximately 20 students who are learning to play the various string instruments. The plans are that more strings and other instruments will be added to make up a complete orchestra. It won't be a philharmonic orchestra but it will be good experience and lots of fun.

My major has offered more than I had expected when I went into the field of music. Perhaps one of the most thrilling experiences of my life occurred during the singing of one of the great chorales of the church. Through this experience I found that music was truly a way to find and worship God.

This is just one example of many experiences and a few of the reasons for the statement which I made at the first of this article. Maybe now you can see why I proudly say—I GO TO YORK COLLEGE! ! !

(Ed. Note: Evelyn Thomas is a senior from Topeka, Kansas. "Tommie" as she has been tagged, is president of the Student Council. Active in many campus affairs, she was chosen to write the first "What York College has Offered Me" editorial.)

Leap Year Advice

From One Who Knows

It's leap year, girls! And if you haven't, time has! You're four years older than you were last leap year and if you let this chance go by, you'll be eight years older next leap year.

In a recent survey published in a national magazine this question was asked: "Why did you marry your wife?" The few gallant souls who didn't make for a hole and pull it in after them, answered in, principally, these two ways: "Proximity—she was there and so was I," or "I could talk to her—she understood me." Amazingly, in this particular survey, not one mentioned love as a motive, perhaps because of shyness.

If we consider this survey a valid and reliable indication of a man's marrying motives, then we must discard such old ideas as "The way to a man's heart is through his tummy." This doesn't seem to be the case, at least before the altar. If so, why would he ever leave mamma at all, for everyone knows no cook ever surpasses a lad's mother. The appeal of the Dumb Dora also seems to have disappeared, except, perhaps to an equally dumb Dick. Now a man thinks twice before marrying a lassie whose dinner table conversation ends with "Pass the salt, punkie!"

So the good word seems to be "Be there; be alert." "Be nice," might be added, for though a man may want in his wife a masculine mind, he wants the rest all woman. A woman who shows that she likes him and life in a million little thoughtful ways.

We don't recommend your proposing, but if it's pride that's stopping you, don't let it, 'cause according to Prince Albert, Queen Victoria did.

Facultraits

Dr. W. C. Noll

"In my early days, I was a rolling stone; I never stayed put." These words came from Dr. W. C. Noll, head of the department of Biological Science. His first year of teaching was spent in a rural school near Ord, Nebraska. Following that, he taught in high schools in Dawson, Ord, Fairmont, and McCool.

Dr. Noll's first college instruction work was at Leander Clark College in Toledo, Iowa. He came to York College for ten years, then taught five years at the College of Emporia, Emporia, Kansas. He returned to Y. C. in 1936 and has since been on the Y. C. faculty.

Dr. Noll received a Bachelor of Science in Education degree at Peru State Teachers College, his M. A. and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Nebraska and his A. B. degree at York College.

Hunting parasites is Dr. Noll's oldest hobby. His present one is raising peonies, of which he has 95 different varieties.

Dr. Noll is sponsor of the Student Council.

Conflict or Challenge?

"I can't take that. I have a conflict!" These words still ring in our ears as memories of registration dim. But why do we avoid conflict.

We continuously try to eliminate conflict in our daily lives and in the lives of others. But should we? No progress was ever made without conflict either with the elements of nature, other people or things or with one's self! No idea has ever flourished until it had been challenged and defended. No discovery was ever made until the elements were encountered and controlled. Conflict serves to mold the raw material into a concrete pattern that defies anyone or anything to dispute its authenticity.

Conflict is an alloy to make the materials stronger and more durable. For after having undergone dispute, examination, and every feasible test, what contention is not stronger than it was in the beginning; it has not in the proving process, tumbled into the mammoth pile of discarded beliefs and plans.

Conflict, in reality, is merely a challenge of how big we are. It measures our maturity and depth of understanding by how it affects our lives and action. Is your conflict a challenge or merely a limitation? You can make it either, you know!

Naomi White.

Panthers Split Two League Games Cementing Second Place in C.C.C.

Boasting a 68 point game average the York College Panthers drew a split in their last two league games. The Panthers came out short on a 89-65 score with the league leading Tarkio Owls. The unfamiliar floor and the trip took its toll but the local lads bounced back the following Friday to move into second place at the expense of the Concordia Bulldogs, 79-70.

The Panthers started slow and were behind 11-6 at the quarter but had the situation in control by the half with a 40-30 score. The second half was spotty so with the Panthers holding a 20-point lead twice, the Coach cleared the bench. Jack Kiser picked up 44 points in the two contests while his running mate Leon Frankamp got 28.

Howdy do, everyone. With the end of the first half of this school year, it is nice to look back at your accomplishments. Now that you have done that, you should plan for the second semester. Before you do that, I would like to pass along this probable news flash.

"Good morning comrades, I have some very good news. The 'American Enterprise' has been sunk somewhere between the U. S. and England. It is now only a question of time until the Americans come to us for mercy. With their enterprise gone, revolt is brewing with one of their top generals admitting he would run if drafted."

Here in the U. S. A. we have a sports anniversary this month. Some years ago we started throwing a round ball at a peach basket. With the celebration of the sport a reminder that spring is on the way comes from the birds that squawk at the various games.

The Russians have gotten in their claim to another invention. No doubt every man who has just started a new job has been asked to produce it, but until recently it was impossible. The tool—a left-handed wrench.

During the month of January we also read of the year-end sales. Some guy named Clearance apparently is going out of business for all over the United States each year he attempts to let the public in on some real buys.

Speaking of buys and refunds Uncle Sam usually refunds some of the loot he borrowed earlier. This presents a real problem, for some people break all their new year's resolutions trying to get enough to live on until the next year to make more resolutions.

In Egypt, old in history and tradition, revolt is rearing its head. The old issue of "I'm against it" seems to be the answer as to why. The situation can be summed up in the words of one of their wonders of the world—it sphinx. See you later.

Bulldogs Hold Lead In Intramural League

Paine's Bulldogs stayed on top of the Intra-mural basketball league by beating Hulitt Hall 37-34. The Bulldogs led all the way but were pressed throughout by the small, but bustling Hulitt Cagers. The scores by quarters were 10-7, 22-18, 32-27 and the final 37-34. The two top scorers were Keith Megill with 13 for Hulitt and Ray Schultz with 18 for Paine's Bulldogs to pull them into a second place tie with Megill in the scoring derby.

Kroyville swamped Thompson 51-31. Although Keith Spahr dropped in his average, Art Ferguson dropped in 18 to lead the married men.

Larry Moores, of California, a new student, hit for 14 to lead the last place Thompson team. The Kroyville five led throughout by a suitable margin to win.

Notice To All Y Club Members

The Y Club is asking the co-operation of its graduate members in a project just getting underway. For some time members have received annual passes admitting them to all home Y. C. sports events. The club proposes to make these a semi-permanent type by issuing plastic-encased identity cards to all graduate Y club members.

The cooperation they ask is this: please send your name, year of graduation, and present address.

The club anticipates being able to mail the cards sometime in May if the response from those entitled to them is fairly prompt. Address replies to John Mann, Hulitt Hall, York College, York, Nebr.

Sterling Takes Close One After Panther Rally in 4th Quarter

The York College Panthers started a fourth quarter rally which looked like a win was in the making against a strong Sterling College team but failed to overcome a bad first half and fell in a thriller before the Kansas aggregation, 66-65.

Jack Kiser's basket in the last 30 seconds wasn't enough to balance the smooth basket eye of the Warrior quintet.

With fairly even play, the first quarter ended with the Panthers on the small end of a 17-13 score. In the second quarter the Sterling five hit the net for 23 points against the Panthers 15. The half ended, Sterling 40, York 28. Bad passes and poor rebounding spelled the first half failure by the York team.

Antelopes Trip Panthers 97-76

An evenly matched third quarter ended 60-46 and touched off a belated York rally of 19 points while Sterling got only 6. Some brilliant play off the boards in the last half by Bud Glahn and Leon Frankamp proved York had the punch but didn't use it soon enough.

Center Jack Kiser of York took scoring honors with 28 points while Charles Brown of Sterling netted 25. Watkins and Glahn got 8 and 7 respectively and Sterling's Frisbee and Mounger each polled 12 points.

Hastings Fells Panthers 89-74

A fighting band of York College Panthers fell before the powerful Hastings Broncos by a score of 89-74. A four way scoring parade developed between Ron Zook and Chuck Stickels of Hastings and Jack Kiser and Leon Frankamp of York. These four men carried the scoring load for each team. Stickels captured 27 points and Zook connected for 23.

The Broncos held a lead of 8-10 points throughout but the Panthers pressed them all the way. With Kiser and Glahn out via the foul route the NCC team pulled away to win by 89-74.

The first ten minutes period started slowly but the Panthers gained steam and trailed 27-16 at the sound of the buzzer. The scoring began to pick up and the Hastings team led 49-36 at the half. The Panthers pulled up within seven points 58-51 at the one time but there the Broncos pulled away again. The third quarter ended 72-60.

Kiser, Frankamp Share Honors. Jack Kiser again rang the bell to lead the scoring with 25 points. Big Frankamp played another bang-up game and dropped in 22 points. Bud Glahn was a demon on the backboard for the second straight game. The Panthers battled all the way but the Broncos just had too much class.

A Sport's Opinion

by The Editor

Basketball has become a national sport but how about its officials. Here in the mid-west we see perhaps the most evenly balanced calling of our maple sport, still we have discrepancies.

Basketball was started as a non-contact sport but its originator would perhaps not recognize it as such today. It is interpreted to mean not preparing for contact, like football, but expecting it as one might in the stolen base in baseball.

The referee like baseball's umpire, is given the toughest job on the floor. He is, however, reimbursed so unified calling and officiating should and must be expected. "We are with you referee, but where in the heck do you stand?"

One reason for this is the game has speeded up. The University of Kentucky has a game average of over 80 points; you cannot rate this by playing defense. The maxim, "git there fustest and fastest with the mostest," is a standing law on the maples today. Because of this we over look minor offenses unless some one makes a big fuss then everybody must pay.

Tonight the man with the ball is given the benefit of the doubt but tomorrow night—watch out!

Students Rate Chances for Peace In ACP Poll; Future Jobs Main Reason for Attending College

(ACP) Can the United States and Russia settle their differences peacefully? Three-fourths of the nation's college students feel "there is still a chance," but not a good one.

Students were asked: How do you feel about chances for a peaceful settlement of differences between Russia and the United States? The answers:

- |                     |             |
|---------------------|-------------|
| 1. Chances are good | 7 per cent  |
| 2. Chances are fair | 31 per cent |
| 3. Chances are poor | 45 per cent |
| 4. No chances       | 13 per cent |
| 5. No opinion       | 4 per cent  |

Students who foresee little chance of peace blame the situation on Russia, human nature and United States diplomacy. Says a senior in Alabama, "I don't think differences can be settled now because of the Russian government. I look for a revolt in Russia."

"If people want peace, they have it," says a business sophomore.

A girl taking business: "With two great nations one will have to give in."

A senior in liberal arts: "Chances are poor—At the present time we lack qualified international leaders who understand both political aspects."

A senior in education: "Chances are fair . . . with proper leadership . . ."

A freshman in medical school: "Chances are good—but for these chances to come about we need diplomats and not politicians."

Students Have Sights on Jobs

The prospect of a good job is the reason most students go to college, according to results of the ACP National Poll of Student Opinion.

The "desire for more knowledge" is another frequently stated reason, but only a few attribute this motive to other students.

College students from all parts of the country were asked to pick either one or two choices which came closest to their reasons for attending college. The results:

- |                              |     |
|------------------------------|-----|
| 1. A good job after college  | 53% |
| 2. Desire for more knowledge | 36% |
| 3. To find a mate            | 2%  |
| 4. It was "the thing to do"  | 3%  |
| 5. The parents wished it     | 4%  |
| 6. None of these             | 2%  |

In the same poll students were asked to rate the education they have received so far in college. Here are the results:

- |               |     |
|---------------|-----|
| 1. Excellent  | 17% |
| 2. Good       | 57% |
| 3. Fair       | 23% |
| 4. Poor       | 2%  |
| 5. No opinion | 1%  |

The women appear slightly more satisfied with their education than the men. Seventy-nine per cent of the women say their education has been either excellent or good, as opposed to 70 per cent of the men.

A feeling which seems rather widespread among students is summed up by a coed from a small school in the south: "It's all there to learn, I guess, but I don't study hard enough."

Vas Ist Das! You Say?

By Laura Taylor

One evening while studying, the progress in my history book was suddenly thrown into reverse by the appearance of a word which I believed the author must have coined. Did such a word exist in this English language of ours? Maybe it did. Could it be that many of the studious people in this institution used it every week? So, accosting some of the intellectual genuises, I asked them "What, by your own definition, is a tergiversator?" Here are the results.

Pat Taylor: I don't have any idea. Would he be fun?

Justina Peters: I don't know a bird. What's this for?

"Prospect" Miller: Sounds like something from Dr. Noll's lab.

Diane Blauch: Sorry. That's one word that's not included in my enormous vocabulary.

Bruce Rabuck: Treatment of cancer.

Keith Spahr: The word for the machine that's used to install inverted bathtubs.

Frank Wooters: A person that drinks too much.

Dan'l Boone: Drop dead!

Chapel Notes

By Bob Herrick

A story of an immigrant who had a passion for learning and by persuing that passion became a master of learning, was told by Miss Millicent Savery, in her chapel talk about "Master Learners". The traits of this immigrant included certain characteristics which must be present in all who would become 'Master Learners', she said. Some of these attributes were, the three most inclusive, as follows: an awareness of the vastness to be explored, the desire to learn, and a devotion to purpose. "Fidelity to tasks is one of the earmarks of noble living."

Greatness, as a philosophy, was considered by President Bachman in the first convocation of the 2nd semester. Dr. Bachman defined greatness as "the achievement of one's maximum powers." He then stated that "Greatness comes with building by adding a little each day." Many virtues were quoted from the Book of Proverbs and listed as vital factors to achieving greatness. Dr. Bachman then closed with the idea that ". . . the teachable aspect of an individual will help to make him great."

I See By The Papers

By Jack Atkinson

Something foolish, something true is what I bring to you. Please, don't tell me I'm a poet and don't know it, because that is exactly what I bring to you. For instance, from the Nautilus at Bartlesville, Oklahoma:

"A turtle never makes progress until he sticks his neck out."

The Tulsa School Life, Tulsa, Oklahoma, declared that "Someone said the other day, "Seven days of school would make one weak."

Say, that would make one feel like the Wyoming Branding Iron must feel when it stated:

"I've noticed this an awful lot; The day is done, my work is not."

The North Central News, Spokane, Washington thinks that

"It's a great life if you don't week-end."

In closing may I urge you to drive carefully, especially you fellows with gals, for as one of the exchange papers put it:

CAR-CARESS-CARELESS-CARLESS.

Joyce Klingman: Things given in large quantities.

Jack Atkinson: It's a form of cabbage head we grow in Oklahoma.

Nyla Epp: Sounds like an intellectual person.

Jan Coleman: Must be a bug.

Donna Anderson: Second cousin to an Indiangiversator.

Finally after being thoroughly confused and beginning to doubt that these people really knew about what they were talking, I decided to take the hard way out and consult Webster's wellknown book. He said: "a tergiversator is one who is fickle, and turns his back on or evades the issue."

DORMDITTIES

Joan LeRue of Chanute, Kansas was a Middlebrook Hall guest for several days recently. During her stay here, her engagement to Kenneth Wilson, junior, was announced.

Only Slight Drop In Enrollment

The total amount of students enrolling second semester fell slightly from first semester. There are now 168 students attending York College. The drop was due mostly to two things. First, several had to drop out a semester to work so that they would be able to re-enter next fall while some left at the insistence of Uncle Sam. Mid-year graduation was also a factor.

Frosh Turn Dogpatch; Entertain Upperclassmen Mountain Style

Because the freshmen lost the Homecoming olympics they were hosts to the upperclassmen at a Sadie Hawkins party held recently in the gym.

Sandpaper, a mousetrap, vegetables, sucker and candy hearts constituted the prize-winning sorrage. Pat Taylor fashioned it for Art Speece. Dean Hollinger, garbed in overalls and a polka-dot shirt walked away with honors in the costume division.

Evening entertainment consisted of several games and relays. All upperclassmen were required to sing the College song, without mistakes, for their refreshments of cider and doughnuts. While all Daisy Mae's and L'il Abners were eating, a hill-billy band entertained. This group consisted of Andy Peterson, Scotia; Bill Woelfle, Loveland, Colorado; Bill McNeff, Palmer; and Charles Hadley, Wichita, Kansas.

Don Megill, Mankato, Kansas, headed the following freshman committee: Pat Chaney, Whittier, California; Ramona Burgett, Beverly, Kentucky; Bill Herrick, Concordia, Kansas; Andy Peterson, Scotia; Ruth Wortman, Woodland, Washington; David Woolery, Bucklin, Kansas; and Glen Direen, Hoisington, Kansas.
