Other details for the trip are being planned and cared for by the choir officers recently elected. Martin Smith, senior, Salina, Kansas, was elected president, and will conduct any business that may come before the group while traveling. Other officers are Janice Watkins, senior, York, secretary; Joan Heidrick, sophomore, Virgil, Kansas, and Ramona Burgett, sophomore, Beverly, Kentucky, robe chairmen, and Myron Fessler, senior, Clarinda, Iowa, crew chairman.

Several radio programs will also be on the schedule as further arrangements can be made with the home town radio stations in the towns where the choir will appear. Last year the choir appeared on television over station WOW in Omaha and will make another appearance after returning from the tour.

Attention Students

A Marine Corps recruiting team will be on the York College campus April 3, from 9:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Its purpose will be to discuss their program with all interested students and to enlist those who are interested.

The team will consist of a Navy Doctor, a Navy Pharmacist's Mate, and a Marine Sergeant besides the Procurement Officer, Captain Tom L. Gibson, who was here earlier in the year.

Students remember this date!

Miss Irene Meirhenry, a senior student from Stanton, Nebraska, was named recipient of the Mary Mutch Cain Award for 1953. The award was presented by President Walter E. Bachman at the Senior Recognition Program.

Miss Mary Mutch Cain, in whose memory the award is presented, served in the mission field as an EUB representative and gave her life to the work. The award is granted to the senior woman who most closely resembles Mary Mutch Cain in service, character, and ambition. Selection is made by the faculty members.

Irene is majoring in the field of history. She is active in LWR, YW, WAA, and touring choir. She serves the senior class as treasurer and played in the pep band last semester.

Middlebrook Host To Art Exhibit

"We are doing this for the promotion of art in Nebraska," said Mrs. Raymond Fenster, art chairman of the 4th district of Nebraska's Federated Woman's Club, "and if you are interested in this work, please contact me."

The 4th district art exhibit was held in the reception room of Middlebrook Hall, Thursday, March 19. Mrs. Earl Dean was the entry from York.

There were 75 entries from 10 different towns. These were in water color, oil, free hand sketching, and soap sculpture. Also, there was a display of all six district winners which will com-

Annual Choir Tour Begins Fri., Apr. 3

Friday afternoon, April 3, the York College Choir will leave on its annual tour. This year the fifty choir members will travel through and give concerts in Nebraska, Kansas, New Mexico, Wyoming, and Colorado.

For several months Dr. G. T. Savery, business manager, and Prof. James Koontz, choir director, have been planning when and where the choir will go and now they are trying to arrange for a diesel bus to carry the choir. In addition to the bus, there will be two cars accompanying the group.

Interesting sidelights of the tour make the trip more interesting and enjoyable for the choir. On last year's tour the choir was able to see some art museums in Omaha and Des Moines, Swope Park in Kansas City, Mo., and a state park in Louisiana. This year the choir is planning on visiting Carlsbad Caverns and the atomic bomb plant at Los Alamos, New Mexico, in addition to seeing the beautiful mountain scenery in Colorado.

"Ghosts" Goal of Modern Drama

Mrs. Irene Bachman will sponsor her modern drama class when they drive to Lincoln tomorrow, March 26, to see Henrik Ibsen's play "Ghosts."

It is being shown at the University theater March 25-28. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

Coleman, Amon Present Joint Dramatic Recital

Janice Coleman and Frances Amon will present a joint junior dramatic recital this Sunday afternoon, March 29, at the EUB Church at 2:00. These girls, coached by Mrs. Irene Bachman, will be assisted by Joyce Klingman, soloist, who will be accompanied by Diane Blauch.

Janice, who is from Riverdale, California, is the Junior Class president and this year's Homecoming Queen. Frances, who comes from Sunday the public is invited to be present at the joint recital of Janice Coleman (left) and Frances Amon.

Art Departments Stress Religion

In no better way can our Fine Arts Department be active than in the capacity in which it served this past week. This service was that of taking part in the Religious Emphasis Week meetings. Each evening the college was well represented by a choir which aided in the hymn singing. The group singing was very ably led by Myron Fessler.

Myron also took charge of acquiring special music for each service. These various special selections were: a male quartet, composed of Bill Woelfle, Myron Fessler, Bob Herrick, and Nor-Fessler, Bob Herrick, and Nor-the Lost" and "Climbing Up the Mountain Chilin," a duet by Helen Teter and Justine Wickham entitled "Let Him In"; the girls trio, Jo Heidrick, Joyce Klingman, and Diane Blauch, singing "Holy Lord God"; and Eva Jones singing the solo "Some Morning, Oh Some Morning."

Thursday evening the freshmen girl's trio, comprised of Marilyn Oak, Jari Davis, and Joyce Sears, Livingston, Montana, is very much interested in athletics and is an active WAA member.

THE PROGRAM

Lee Woelfle, and the pianists, Joyce Klingman and Virginia Goldsmith, furnished the special music. Friday, Darlene Lewis sang a solo for the final Religious Emphasis service.

It is certainly necessary to mention the four girls who provided the core of all the music, the organists, Marjorie Hall and Janna pete at the state contest at Grand Island with those chosen Thursday. Mr. James Koontz and Mr. Myron Holm were the judges of the 4th district art.

Honesty — the Best Policy

by Paul Edie

Are YOU honest? If your answer is yes, don't read any farther in this column. If you have answered "I don't know" or just plain "No", then what is written here may help you.

Let's think about honesty during our days in college. First of all, our teachers expect honesty; second, our employer for whom we are doing a specific job, expects honesty, and third, we ought to be honest with our parents even though we may not be living with them; and last but not least we must be honest with ourselves and God. If you are a member of the faculty or other adult, can you answer these questions now— all with a great big Yes and not feel guilty?

The matter at hand is this. Many of us can say yes to nearly all of them but where I fall down and where it is easy for us as human beings to stumble is Honesty with ourselves and God.

We are in the period of the year when a special time of emphasis is on religious beliefs. This is the time of the year when we should stop and consider if we have been giving God a square deal.

I can't really say too much here that will make you honest, for that is something you must take care of personally, but what I can say is that there will be a day when all will be honest and it will prove far better for ourselves and all concerned if we have been honest with ourselves and with God before we go to meet Him in person.

We can go clear through life and fool everybody but the One above. He is not fooled. Now is the time to decide to be honest. Now is the time to strive for that perfection that Christ was while here on earth.

If now you ask yourself again, Am I really Honest? and you can lift your head and smile and say, "Yes, God being my helper, I will give all I come into contact a taste of what true honesty really is," you are striving for honesty.

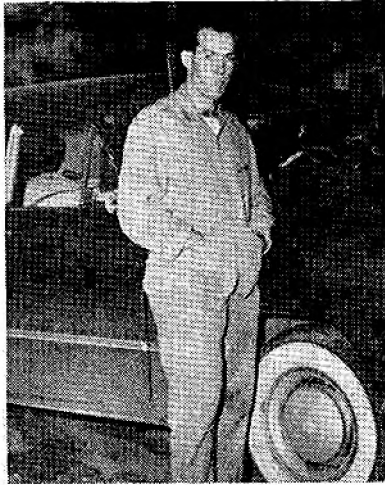

ARMY AND INDUSTRIAL BUSINESS CLAIM GRADUATES

After Martin Smith has completed his four years here at York, he is going to the army. "Marty" is an English major, but he hasn't decided on his occupation after his army career. Martin has been active in the a cappella choir and in football for three years. Other activities he has participated in are the Y Club and Panther Club. He was the class president during his sophomore year.

Randall Streeton spent his first year at Colorado State and Omaha University, but he has been in York for the last three years with English and psychology majors. Since he has already spent four years in the navy, he would like to get into some industrial business. Besides being in football one year, "Randy" wrestled in the National A.U. Wrestling Tournament.

"I just have to get some new nylon things for the choir tour!" Anywhere you wander around Middlebrook that is just what you will hear from girls planning for the tour.

'Course, we aren't excited about this trip! Did you know that we're going to visit the Carlsbad Caverns and the atomic bomb plant at Los Alamos? Mary Ann said she sure hopes that we won't try to sing in the Caverns 'cause she thinks the sopranos' vibrato will bring the earth down all over us. But the only thing I'm really worried about is that Wortman will mess around at the bomb plant and we'll all go up in a mushroom!

Last year's choir is still talking about all the delicious cheese sandwiches they had to eat . . . and I'm on a diet. Maybe this year our hosts will fix egg sandwiches or sompin' like that.

'Course it won't be too much fun on the bus watching all the couples and ducking behind seats from the little boys' water guns. But Mister Koontz gave us a long lecture in choir about being good and now I'm wondering if we have to sit around like angels. Well, I'm about to sit around like an angel!

Anyway, I'll tell you about all the things that happen after we get back.

Hustle and Grin

Smile and the world smiles with you;
"Knock," and you go it alone;
For the cheerful grin
Will let you in
Where the kicker is never known.

Growl, and the way looks dreary;
Laugh, and the path is bright;
For a welcome smile
Brings sunshine, while
A frown shuts out the light.

Sigh, and you "rake in" nothing.
Work and the prize is won;
For the nifty man
With the backbone can
By nothing be undone.

Hustle! and fortune awaits you;
Shirk and defeat is sure;
For there's no chance
Of deliverance
For the chap who can't endure.

Sing, and the world's harmonious
Grumble, and things go wrong,
And all the time
You are out of rhyme
With the busy, bustling throng.

Kick, and there's trouble brewing
Whistle, and life is gay
And the world's in tune
Like a day in June,
And the clouds all melt away.

Day Dreaming

I sleep
Through my years, in
The shadow of my puny
Cosmos, while I should be dust-

The stars."
—Kermit . . . Oswald.

Perhaps Simeon Stylites had something of the same idea applied to all mankind when he wrote in his column in the Christian Century: "We have learned to swim through the sea like fish and to fly through the air like birds; now all that is left is to learn to walk on the earth like men."

Cues of the Contemporary: Joyce Sears was overheard to say as she viewed her purse, "My daddy would rather give me change than money."

Then another reflection of our muddled today is the report that an escaped lunatic was captured. The significant catch is that the man who caught him, first noticed him giving a lady his seat in the subway.

Or, as the motto of Dr. James B. Conant has it, "Behold the turtle; he makes progress only when his neck is out."

Too often we forget that it is easier to swim in deep water than in shallow. We should also remember "When the soul goes forth to battle it goes forth alone."
—George Meredith.

Even so, we must look at faith honestly, and realize with Arthur Koestler, that "Faith is a wondrous thing; it is not only capable of moving mountains, but also of making you believe that a herring is a race horse."

"We can be so inoculated with small doses of Christianity that we can't catch the big thing."

I think this is the best definition of the word Love I have ever heard or read. "Love is the explosion of a Soul!"

I think Kagawa is a pretty good thinker. He believes that "Sleep is one of the most precious gifts from Heaven."

"I think that I shall partake of that gift right now."

Horse Sense

A horse can't pull while kicking
This fact I merely mention;
And he can't kick while pulling
Which is my chief contention.
Let's imitate the good old horse
And lead a life that's fitting;
Just pull an honest load, and then
There'll be no time for kicking.

Religious Emphasis Life

As you read this the Religious Emphasis Week for the spring of 1953 at York College has past. During this week the entire student body has heard challenging, soul-stirring messages each morning in chapel. Many of us again heard Dr. Ness at church each evening. Many dedications have been made and only God knows the far-reaching result that will come from these. This editorial, however, is not a report of Religious Emphasis Week. It is intended to reveal how the inspirations of this week can really count if we, individually, make every week of our lives a Religious Emphasis Week.

It is high time that we launch out boldly in our Christian lives. Too long we have been complacent and self-satisfied; too long our daily lives have been lived in our own strength and not with God's presence pervading our souls. Too long we have neglected to tap our spiritual resources and to practice our exercises. Too long we have held dreams and hopes in our hearts without actually doing anything to make them come true.

The world is looking for leadership, and soon we will be those leaders; the kind of leadership we shall give will depend upon how we fulfill our smaller duties while in college. With Christ as our leader and example, let us follow Him completely as we "take up our cross daily." Let us press on to new spiritual heights for His glory.

Baseball or Track

This has been a much debated question at YC in the past. Track fans contend they have many good reasons to want track, while baseball fans find as many reasons why we should play their game. Since it is impossible to participate in both sports, which one should we choose?

It seems that one of the main arguments for track is that it is the sport which has been used in previous years. Another argument is the variety of abilities used in the entire sport such as throwing discus, javelin, or shot; running distances, dashes, relays, jumping, and vaulting.

Baseball fans hold the argument that we have more potential on the diamond than on the track; also, more team cooperation is shown in baseball. In a school the size of York, many of the spring athletes will be on the football team in the fall. York also has access to a much better baseball field than they do a track field.

The student body as a whole shows much greater interest in baseball than it does in track. Many more students as well as the general public will turn out to witness a ball game than to witness a track meet. It is too late to work up a baseball team this year, but what about the future? Let's work for it.

As I See It

By Paul Edie

The Indiana Hoosiers are the NCAA Champions by virtue of their defeat of the Kansas Jayhawkers. The master's touch of Phog Allen didn't come through in the final 30 seconds as planned to give the top-rated team in the nation the championship slot. The crystal ball once again proved true to its word as earlier it stated that it would be between Indiana and a Kansas team and I misinterpreted it to mean Kansas State, for no one gave the boys from Lawrence a ghost of a chance to come through this year. Well, basketball is nearly over—all but the finals in the state tournaments—and so we will pack away the round sphere that five guys throw through a hoop and wait 'til next year.

The grapefruit league is in full swing with all teams of the Major League either playing each other or some minor league team in preparation for the start of the season in April.

On paper, several of the teams look good, but the paper isn't what wins the ball games. So we won't be able to know who will be doing what 'til the rookies have been tried and selected. We can't know what or who the league contenders will be. The White Sox and the Red Sox look to give the Yankees trouble this year with Cleveland being the dark horse. The Indians from Ohio have the pitching. If they can come across with the offense, they might be hard to stop. Again I say the Yanks will be out on top even though they may get off to a slow start. They have several of their rookie pitchers getting into shape led by Whitey Ford and if he proves to be as sensational as he was before he went into the Army, then all that will be needed is for Mantle to keep the Yankee Spirit revived and the Bronx Bombers will roar to their fifth straight Worlds Championship.

York Sports View

I firmly feel that this year we have had adequate material and an excellent coach who was capable of bring out the best points in his players for both football and baseball. We didn't always win our games, but the fellows were always in there plugging for YC. Graduation and our long-whiskered Uncle Sam will claim a number of this year's players, but several of the freshmen gained a year's experience and should be ready to help plug up the gaps. I have no doubt but to believe that upon the settlement of the title question that York College will again have winning ball clubs in all sports in which they desire to enter.

As I said this is merely one writer's opinion and his ramblings may not be anyways near what the true picture will turn out to be; nevertheless it might prove interesting to keep this copy and refer to it next year and see how far wrong it happened to be.

Pick Your Major League

Well, fans, 'tis the end for the time being; so pick your favorites for the majors and come around next issue and see if you agree with me or not.

York College Thinclad Review

Last year's cinder squad graduated only one member—Bob Miller. Right to left they are YC's track material Lito Martinez, Norman Menzie, Cecil Walker, Bob Miller, and Bob Voris. This year's team will come from this group plus any freshmen or new students who are track-minded.

After a busy football and basketball season student spirits are usually cooled off. Track competition in its best is a little-read-about sport and few fans actually turn out to cheer on the participants as is done on the gridiron or hardwoods.

Here at YC the quantity is low, but because of past experience and hard practice the quality is excellent. As a basis for your competitive spirits a little recent track history would be advisable.

In the CCCC yearly track meet last year at Omaha University, in which York ended fourth, Lito Martinez and Bob Miller received blue ribbons. Lito tossed the javelin 139' 8" and Bob covered the 440 in 54.75. Bob graduated, but Martinez is still practicing. Only these two blue ribbons were brought home, but Cecil Walker nabbed thirds in the mile and the two mile, and Larry Thorson placed second in high hurdles and third in low hurdles. Don Ellison got two fourths—one in the javelin and the other in discus. Norman Menzie took honors in several meets throughout the year but was unable to be at this meet.

With most of our team back, this can be a fine year for the Panthers. Our fellas who go out for track are human, too. Let's give them our support in home meets and those on other grounds.

Quality Replaces Quantity in Track

Track season is here once again, and with the coming of spring, many colleges have been getting their thinclads into shape. Such is the case at York College.

This year, however, tends to be a little lean by way of material as only four from last year are out for practice so far. Those returning from last year include Norm Menzie in the distance with his running mate Cecil Walker. The other two members back from last year are Don Ellison, who runs the mile, and Lito Martinez, who specializes in the javelin throw.

In the field events we have freshman, Gary Brachen, taking over in the shot and discus department. So far this season, the prospects have been few and far between, but with spring weather we hope to find more YC Panthers out on the track getting ready for the conference meet on May 8.

Don Megill Heads YM Intramural Program

The intramural program this year is under the sponsorship of the YMCA with Don Megill in charge of the program.

The main item on the agenda is to be intramural softball. This will run on the same order as last season. The games will be played on the college campus and on the practice football field. The games will start at 6:30 so that they will be over by dark.

Don reports that no teams have reported to him as yet and he would like to have the team managers report to him as soon as possible so that he can get the schedule set up. In this report he would also like to have the names of the players on each team so that he can make out the team list.

York College has an intramural program of which it is justly proud. Let's make the softball league a success.

In the Spotlight...

Norm Menzie is well known for his track ability from the past seasons here at YC. Norm runs the mile and two mile and has proved his worth to the team by being a letterman.

Norm hails from Aurora, Nebraska, and again will be carrying the YC colors in the distance runs.

WAA Team Travels To Tarkio, Mo.

Saturday, March 14, three cars driven by Jim Ekart, Tom Stone, and Walter Price took the WAA basketball team to Tarkio, Mo., where they tangled with the Tarkio girl's team in an evening game that ended 70-47, Tarkio on top.

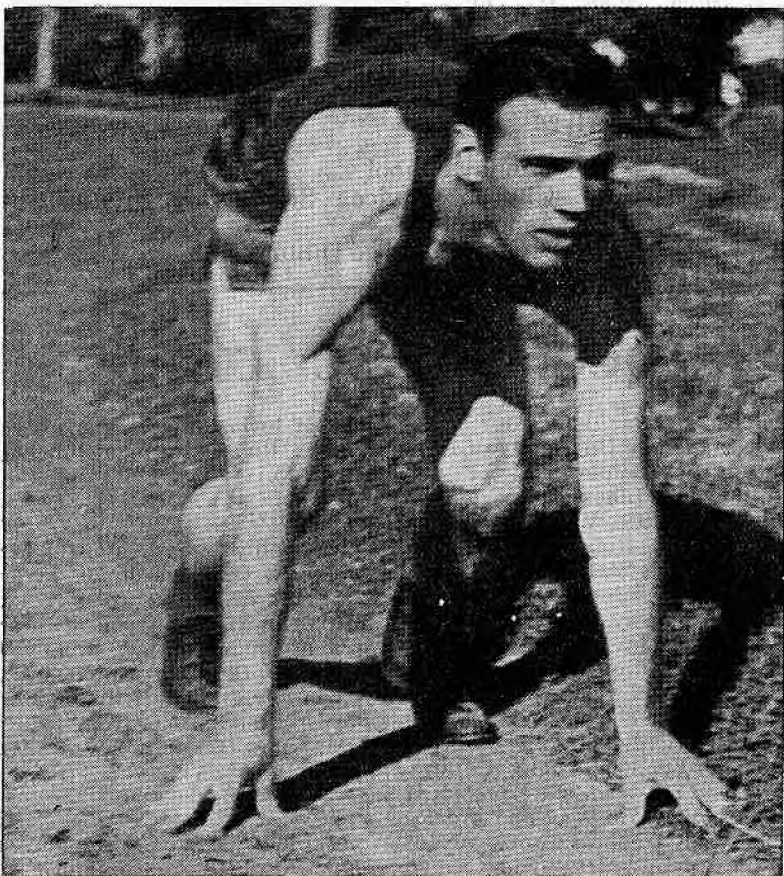

The spirits and hopes of the York College girls were high as they went into the game. Because of the distance, and therefore, the lack of a cheering section, the 14 girls who went, comprised both the team and the cheering section. As the game continued, it became evident that the excellent guarding, fast playing, accurate shooting Tarkio team was outplaying the York team. Even though hopes for the high score declined, spirits stayed on top to cheer the hard playing YC team through to the finish.

Social Society of Second I R C . . .

Overheard in room 209 . . .
 "What has been happening on second shouldn't happen to a dog," was the comment of Raggedy Andy, Shirley Hoff's rag doll. Many heads wagged in agreement and the meeting of the Social Society of Second began. Those present were the beloved animals and dolls of the YC girls who reside on second floor. At the roll call by Leafendorfer, the efficient secretary dog owned by Hope C., all were present but Jari D's skunk, Hermon. It was supposed by all that as usual, Hermon had become a little too odoriferous and was therefore placed in the hall until his presence was more desirable. Jari, you must be more careful with you perfume bottle. Butch, Dotty J's panda, aided the secretary by reading the minutes of the last meeting.

New business in regard to steadies and newly engaged persons was reported by various members. Ittybitty, the doll of Rita P. and Janna Lee W's "chawawa" dog, Hope, reported the sinking of their mistresses and of Jari D., in Hermon's absence. The custom of sinking is that of sitting every girl going steady into a sink of cold water. Phyllis L's dog, Rover, got double reporting duty since Phyllis was sunk and became engaged this past week. Not to be outdone, Anda, the panda of Francie A. announced the fact that her mistress was also engaged. Due congratulations are to be extended to both girls.

Mary A's cat, Rismor, and Porkev Jr., Layon H's pig remarked a duet by Pat and Mike, Joyce's frogs and next a dog quartet composed of Tony, Ooffer, Oscar, and Jethro, the pets of Betty B., Alta A., Darlene L., and Jan C., respectively. Dean and Larry, the clowns of Marge W. and Helen T. amused the group with their antics while Shirley H's doll, Horace, helped Ora Lee L's cat, Jerry, prepare refreshments which were served by Pinky, Ruth J's pig, and Snowball, Betty A's cat.

Herkurmur, Janna Lee W's racoon, remarked before the close of the meeting that everyone was certainly happy to have had Miss Springborn as a guest on second floor during the time she was at YC.

Lights out signal was given by Mary Lue W's scotty dog lamp and all was quiet on second.

All the girls in Middlebrook extend their sympathy to Mrs. Edith Regnos at this time when her father is very ill. Mrs. Regnos has spent about two weeks at Sundown, Texas, helping care for her father.

Emphasis On Startling Facts

by Chuck Chipman

Fifteen colleges representing three states, Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska, met at Cottey College, Nevada, Missouri, for the annual regional convention of the International Relations Clubs. Representing York were Eileen Teinert, York, and Charles Chipman, Sycamore, Kansas.

One of the high points of the convention was the speech "Passport to Asia" by Dr. Clarence Decker. He stated that bread and beliefs were more important than bullets yet our government spends 87 per cent of the foreign aid for guns and ammunition, while less than 13 per cent goes for non-military aid. In reference to the president's visit to Korea, he said that the president could have done untold good if he had visited other countries. As it was, his going only to Korea enhanced the belief of the Asians that all America is interested in is having them fight our battles.

Diemer "People Are Alike"

The second speaker, Dr. George W. Diemer, stated that people of this world are more alike than different. There isn't much difference in appearance; they are much alike mentally, emotionally, in their wants and desires, their need of freedom from fear, desire to learn, and a belief in an after-life. He said that most people of the world are living in terrible conditions, over 50 per cent in teen age can neither read nor write. This night two-thirds of the people will go to bed hungry and thousands will starve before morning. Yet, he said, "there is danger in this session of congress that the United States will withdraw from UNESCO. Even now there are people fighting the United Nations, people in our own congress." Dr. Diemer said, "The same gang attacking UNESCO and UN are the ones who are attacking American schools, colleges, and universities."

Chipman Prepares NATO Paper

The rest of the convention was divided into four parts or discussion groups—The UN, NATO, Far East, and Middle East. Charles

Students in North and South Hit Racial Segregation . . .

(ACP) College students overwhelmingly disapprove of enrollment policies which discriminate against Negroes, according to the Associated Collegiate Press National Poll of Student Opinion.

Students from all sections of the country were asked: What is your opinion of college policies which discriminate against Negroes?

No opinion	4 per cent	7 per cent
Other	1 per cent	5 per cent

Students who approve of segregation often point to equal but separate school facilities. "Equivalent schooling can usually be provided elsewhere," says a freshman at Agnes Scott College, a girls' school in Atlanta, Ga.

"Negroes have their own colleges where whites may not enroll," says an engineering junior at The Citadel, Charleston, South Carolina.

A sophomore at Gustavus Adolphus College, Minn., comments, "The sooner we realize Negroes are human and will act human if treated in such a way, the better it will be for all."

A male education student at Southeastern Missouri State Teachers College thinks "mixing" would be "uncomfortable for both white and colored races." But he adds, "I don't mean Mexican and other dark races."

The two per cent who duck the question by choosing "other", usually say the decision "is up to the board of trustees."

There and Here

With spring in the air York College has stowed the basketballs away for another season. The Plainsman, however, are still boasting about their championship in the Nebraska College Conference. Congratulations, Wesleyan!

Royalty is the fad among many colleges. Concordia College, Seward, recently crowned their Ice Queen. May 9 is to be the date when Albright College, Reading, Pennsylvania, will honor their May Queen. YC will crown its Queen of May on May 15.

As might be expected, the all important event around York College is the impending choir tour. Other schools are also rejoicing in or planning for successful choir trips. The a cappella choir and the Woman's Glee Club of Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, will tour northern Ohio and Michigan and southern Ohio, respectively.

Concordia College Choir recently gave its home concert after returning from its tour.

Floyd Mann, '29, of McCool has been elected head of the Utica, Nebraska, schools for the year 1953-54. He has been superintendent of schools at McCool for the past two years.

Mrs. Lilly May Riggs, whose husband was the late Rev. Fred Riggs (Leander Clark, '10), has been named Iowa Mother of 1953. She was selected by a committee of the Iowa Chapter of the American Mothers Committee. The reasons given for her being chosen were these: her patient rearing of eight children, her work as the wife of a pastor, and her unselfish way of helping young people. Four of her children attended York College—Mrs. Beth Riggs Wiley, x'35, of Portland, Oregon, a graduate of Drake University; Max B. Riggs, x'37, who attended

YC three years and later graduated from the University of Iowa and is now supervisor of the United Air Lines cargo department in Seattle, Washington; The Rev. Carl B. Riggs, x'48, a graduate of Iowa State Teachers College and of Bonebrake Theological Seminary, and now EUB pastor at Merville, Iowa; Mrs. Mary Alice Riggs Allen, '49, pastor's wife, Cranston, Iowa. Three other of her children are college graduates. She herself is a graduate of Leander Clark College, '12. She has been state president of the Iowa W.S.W.S. and a delegate to the General Conference of the Church. Mrs. Riggs' own modest statement is, "My first concern has always been for my family and home, and then for the church." Gov. Wm. S. Beardsley of Iowa will present a scroll to Mrs. Riggs at a noon luncheon April 15.
