Preliminary Debates

Debating Team Is Selected From Among Ten Contestants

While the information comes to us that several of the colleges of the state, for some reason or other, have been forced to withdraw from forensic relations with other institutions, the forensic department of York College is busy training into shape the two teams which were selected to represent the school from the preliminary contest which was held in the chapel Thursday night, January 19.

Ten people entered this contest. They were Frances Harbert, James Brooks, Edna Thompson, Dean Moomey, Earle Malder, Ralph Sawyer, Myrvan Canon, Harvey Wimmer, Edward Saylor and Grace Croft. In estimating contestants of this kind it is customary and often courteous for judges to consult over their difficulties in rendering their decisions because of the close approach each to each of the several contestants grades. But in this year's contest it was not merely kindness but a case of undisputed necessity in which Judge Wildman, speaking for the committee, announced to the audience after the exercises the several places awarded and that they had encountered real difficulties in making the grades because of the obvious nearness in mark of the ten people.

Prof. Wood indicated to the club that he has never before found six leading contestants whose final average grades in place fell between 92 and 95 1/2 per cent. But such is the caliber of the personnel of York College's Debate teams.

Those winning places have been finally organized into two teams as follows: the affirmative of the question will be supported by Myrvan Canon, Dean Moomey and Earle Malder, while the opposition forces are to be led by Harvey Wimmer, Ralph Sawyer and Edna Thompson.

The contest itself was interesting and full of the modern term "pep." Mr. Harbert led the way with a good argument which unfortunately was designed to extend farther than the allotted time and he was forced to close without completing. Mr. Brooks followed with a few issues which his opponents said they felt would be exceedingly difficult to refute. The audience fully anticipated that Mr. Brooks would make the team. Edna Thompson, in a pleasing manner followed with a negative argument and was in turn followed by Mr. Malder. Everybody seemed to sense that if the latter made the team that the defense would at least be in possession of an orator. Mr. Saylor then presented one of the most scholarly discussions heard on the subject. Myrvan Canon, who was one York's most efficient defenders in debate last year, then gave his views on the affirmative side and was in turn followed by Mr. Moomey who also with calmness and great deliberation held to the same persuasion. Mr. Sawyer was also a member of last year's team and easily won a place again this year. Mr. Wimmer in his talk which followed rivalled Mr. Canon for first honors. Grace Croft was the last speaker. Her clear voice is her strong point in public utterance.

Several members of the student body were unable to attend the contest but we have the promise that we will see them out supporting their teams when the intercollegiate contests begin.

Italy is represented in the Arms Conference by Senator Carlo Schanzer, a college professor, who is a native of Austria, Italy's traditional enemy. He was born in Vienna and grew up in Trieste.

JUNIORS HAVE CHICKEN-PIE DINNER

Who says that Friday the 13th is an unlucky day? Well the Juniors don't. You wouldn't either if you could have done as the Juniors did. What did they do? In the first place who could ask for a nicer day than that day was? But the best of it was what the Juniors had. It was a chicken pie dinner at the home of the class president, Fae Culbertson. Some of the girls of the class disappeared from around the college that morning and could not be found any place. If you could have looked in at a certain house you would have seen them busily preparing one of the best dinners imaginable. Bob Steven must have known where to get the good eats for he was one of the Juniors who found their way to Fae's home by alleys and streets from all directions.

Upon entering the dining room there stretched before them two big tables with places laid for twenty-two. Very unique center pieces were found on each table, a square of white paper with "Fri. 13" printed on it. As the dinner hour would soon go, all immediately found their places at the tables. Then came the eats. You never saw such good things. They didn't stay in sight very long and still more was brought in. Say but Paul is some smasher, not only on hearts but on potatoes too. And when you want some good biscuits just call on Fae.

Well after all had done their full duty and some seemed to feel as tho they had done even more, Dean Moomey stood up and we all wondered what was coming. After giving "several" remarks he told the real purpose of having this dinner. It was in honor of Florine Townsend who will cease to be a Junior at the end of this semester. She has always been one of the most loyal boosters for our class and will be greatly missed.

U. F. R. OF GRAND ISLAND VISITS Y. W. C. A.

The York College Y. W. C. A. was very fortunate in having as their leader last Monday night Miss Lena Bryan. Miss Bryan is the undergraduate field representative of Central City, Grand Island, Hastings, and York Colleges.

Miss Bryan gave us a resume of the general organization of the Y. W. C. A. and made us realize what a large organization we belong to. The national headquarters are in New York City. The president of the national work is Mrs. Robt. E. Spear. Miss Clara Stillman Reed is the chairman of the student committees. The United States are sub-divided into fields. Nebraska is in the North Central field with its headquarters at Minneapolis, Minn. May E. Dunbar is the executive officer of this field. All the various phases of Y. W. work are taken up under each field. The student secretaries of this field are Winnifred C. Wygle, Doris Curran Winifred Tunnell, and Frances Perry. Each student Y. W. C. A. has as its representative to the national work an undergraduate representative. This U. F. R. is to represent the national work to her association and her association to the national work. Then a few schools are grouped under one W. F. R. who is a member of the national student committee.

Miss Bryan pointed out that if our Y. W. C. A. is functioning as it should it will be (1) all inclusive, (2) democratic, (3) attractive, (4) should have varied programs (5) should do personal work, (6) should have a wide interpretation.

The prelude of the evening meeting was furnished by Alene and Edith Wright. The special music consisted of a duet by Miriam Emhoff and Dorothy Feaster. After the program tea and wafers were served. The tea was the Y. W. C. A.'s Christmas gift from Charlotte Neligh in China. Miss Neligh is the missionary that our association is helping to support.

BLUE AND WHITE VALIANTLY DEFENDED

York Loses in a Series of Three Hard-Fought Battles---Y. C. Meets Wesleyan in Opening Game of Season

YORK-MIDLAND

York basketeers journeyed to Fremont on Tuesday night and took another defeat in the second game of the season by a score of 33-12.

The team showed a much better and more successful defensive ability than in the Wesleyan game. The Midland defense was broken many times. Of our 12 points Bowman made 6 on free throws and 2 from the field, "Stu" Baller operating at forward dropped in two nice field goals for the other 4 points. The marked improvement of the team over Friday night promises well for the later season.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amadon,
York, Nebraska.

We, the faculty and student body of York College, having learned, with the deepest sorrow of the death, which has taken from us your little daughter, wish to express our sympathy for you in your loss.

May this expression of our sympathy make it possible for us to share with you the consolation that comes through the assurance that "Of such is the kingdom of God." As we have known this little one, we are better able to know the Way the Truth and the life.

Resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the home of Professor Amadon and that a copy be published in the College paper.
Signed by the Committee.

ACADEMY PEP

The Academy demonstrated its "pep" by giving a stunt at chapel Friday morning, January 13. The following evening the Y. C. quintet met the Wesleyan Coyotes on the College gym floor. The stunt was effectively carried out and showed the effects of "pep" and what occurs when it is lacking. The scene opened with a number of students preparing for a rally with Miss "Pep," (Myrtle Philson) as yell leader. Soon Indifference (Ernest Philson) made his appearance and led away Miss "Pep." The result was disastrous to the students. Nothing could be accomplished without Miss "Pep." They immediately saw what they had done by allowing indifference to come into their midst. After some time "Pep" was again restored to them and one grand rally resulted.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE DINNER

Perhaps not brought to public notice as often as some of the other college departments, nevertheless the domestic science department is taking its full share in the college activities.

On January 17, the members of the domestic science class invited a guest to a six o'clock dinner. The centerpiece consisted of carnations and ferns. The place cards were a unique feature, each being a humorous cartoon adapted to the guest, and explained by an appropriate couplet. The following menu was served:
Escalloped Potatoes Meat Loaf
Hot Rolls Butter Pickles
Jelly Coffee Cake with Whipped Cream

Dorothy Feaster acted as hostess and Harold Prentice as host. Following dinner a social hour was enjoyed by all.

YORK-DOANE

The Panther ring tossers, showing the best form so far this season, took the short end of a 24-14 score when they met Doane on the home floor Friday night.

Jimmie Johnston, star basketeer playing at center for Doane, opened the scoring with a free goal in the initial moments of the game. Almost immediately Dean Myers, our left forward, put in a free one.

After this break Doane's score piled up some by the field goals of the lengthy center, and with the addition of 6 points by Brown the shifty field man at right forward, their score had doubled ours at the end of the first half. Bowers' two field goals with Caldwell's two point score and Myers free throw totalled seven points in the first period.

Johnston kept his pace and Myers, increasing in skill as the game grew older laid up a free goal and 6 points from the field, and the game ended 34-14.

The development of field work and form in the past three weeks is very satisfying to the Panther supporters.

The game was perhaps on the whole delayed by the five man defense play. But there is a science in meeting this system of play which is as fascinating to the observer in many respects as the thrills of a fast open field game.

CHEMISTRY OYSTER STEW

On the first Thursday after vacation the classes in Organic and Qualitative Chemistry gathered in the chem laboratory about six o'clock to enjoy an oyster stew. Various evaporating dishes, desiccators and kettles were diligently scoured in preparation. The oysters and sundry side dishes arrived from down town in due time and then operations began in deadly earnest. Upon inspection of the oysters it was found that there were extra large ones among them, so, in order to make the most of the occasion these were immediately dispatched to their last resting place, that is to say all except one that Miss Adams ate, (which it was rumored next morning refused to rest.)

The stew was soon ready, and, what with crackers and pickles, soon disappeared. But while everyone had been eating, some fudge had been cooling and was now ready. It was the finest fudge that ever was made without flavoring. Still another pan of fudge was made, to be enjoyed later. The happy party did not linger in the laboratory very long for literary meeting upstairs called most of them away. May we have many such happy parties in the future.

ALUMNI NOTES

Again it has been demonstrated that our graduates fully believe that "It is not good for man to live alone." Alice Kaliff and Frank Stowe of the class of 1920, joined their hearts and lives at Omaha on Saturday morning, January 14. Mrs. Stowe will continue her teaching work at Shelby, Iowa, until another teacher can be secured, after which time they will be temporarily at home at Holbrook, Nebr. Mr. Stowe has been engaged in journalistic work in South Dakota. The best wishes of their many friends will follow them to their new home.

YORK-WESLEYAN

The Panthers lost to Wesleyan in the first game of the season by a score of 26-6 on the local floor, Saturday night, January 14.

The Coyote aggregation proved a fast, well disciplined team. They showed the results of constant and consistent drill in their familiarity with each other's method of playing, and the regular aggressive system which they used.

The home team showed up at a disadvantage due to the lack of sufficient drill in team work and also to the absence of Dean Myers and Capt. Caldwell from the regular lineup.

Throughout the first half both teams played a five man defense. Our men were unable to penetrate to the goal for short shots, mostly attempting from midfield. Our defense was effective except for the tall Wesleyan forward, Smith, who caged six baskets during this period.

The first score of the evening came after the first three minutes of play when Bowman threw a free goal. Another free goal by Bowman gave York 2 points, while Hurbert dropped in a field goal for Wesleyan making the score 14-2.

In the last period Wesleyan got away from the five man defense and the game was decidedly faster. York showed up strong in this half. The most consistent team work of the local team showed up in the last quarter when after several successive passes, Snedeker passed to Baller from the opponent's corner to left midfield, from which point "Stu" made a successful dribble and shot from the side. Bowman also placed the sphere in the ring from the field.

The local boys put up a good fight and bid fair to have a formidable machine when duly disciplined.

The defeat by the Wesleyan team is considered no disgrace as similar victories had been made by them against two other conference teams during this same week. It is expected that Myers and Caldwell will be in the lineup soon.

During the past week one more burden has been added to our already over-crowded lives. We no longer walk down the streets nor even across the campus with our accustomed ease. We are forced to step carefully and even then our heads come in contact with the hard sidewalk too often for comfort. In attempting to maintain our equilibrium, "back-sliding" in the true sense of the word has to be resorted to. It is to be hoped that the excellent coasting and skating will not cause any of that other kind of "back-sliding," the kind that effects our classroom work.

The new semester is well started and now is the time to prove to yourself that you can keep up your work and refrain from "backsliding."

Under the heading of the regular Academy notes of this issue appear two splendid discussions of the advantages of the Academy. These should be of interest not only to the students of the Academy but also to the college students. The general tendency to keep the various departments of a school entirely separate and distinct divisions will always defeat the best interests of that school. There must be unity. One way of securing this necessary unity is by knowing the purpose of other departments and keeping posted on their activities. After you have done this, then be a booster for the SCHOOL, not just your own little part.

There has been considerable criticism of the chapel exercises, heard on every side. No doubt some of it is deserved, but much of it rebounds directly toward the student himself, and usually those who talk the most, get the hardest blows on the rebound. Unfortunately they remain unaware of this boomerang characteristic of their fault finding. The old adage that you get out of life only what you put into it, is uniquely applicable to the chapel hour. No wonder a few fail to find much of value!

If instead of demanding variety, we were willing to apply the best tho'ts we were capable of to the lessons of scripture and song, we would discover new values. Even the Lord's prayer would cease to be common place if interwoven with the personal and everchanging interpretations given by each individual.

Announcements are vital to student life, or at any rate some are. But frequently there are the most trivial and petty announcements made, some of them only involving one or two persons, some of them given in so low a tone that even the ones for whom they are intended fail to hear. Occasionally some one calls for a meeting, reading so lengthly a list of names that we begin to suspect it to be a negative list including those who are NOT wanted. The one acceptable remedy for the misuse of this part of assembly, is the bulletin board in the lower hall. Use it.

Superintendent Gregory of Tecumseh, was a visitor at the college last Wednesday and spoke to the Sophomore class on practical school affairs, giving the graduates some hint of school life as they will probably find it when they leave to take up their duties in the various school systems of Nebraska. Mr. Gregory is a pleasing speaker and forcefully presented a subject in which his listeners were greatly interested. * * * Gregory is an old Y. From A Faint Blue Glow To Modern Miracles

EDISON saw it first—a mere shadow of blue light streaking across the terminals inside an imperfect electric lamp. This "leak" of electric current, an obstacle to lamp perfection, was soon banished by removing more air from the bulbs.

But the ghostly light, and its mysterious disappearance in a high vacuum remained unexplained for years.

Then J. J. Thomson established the electron theory on the transmission of electricity in a partial vacuum—and the blue light was understood. In a very high vacuum, however, the light and apparently the currents that caused it disappeared.

One day, however, a scientist in the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company proved that a current could be made to pass through the highest possible vacuum, and could be varied according to fixed laws. But the phantom light had vanished.

Here was a new and definite phenomenon—a basis for further research.

Immediately, scientists began a series of experiments with far reaching practical results. A new type of X-ray tube, known as the Coolidge tube, soon gave a great impetus to the art of surgery. The Kenotron and Pliotron, followed in quick succession by the Dynatron and Magnatron, made possible long distance radio telephony and revolutionized radio telegraphy. And the usefulness of the "tron" family has only begun.

The troublesome little blue glow was banished nearly forty years ago. But for scientific research, it would have been forgotten. Yet there is hardly a man, woman or child in the country today whose life has not been benefited, directly or indirectly, by the results of the scientific investigations that followed.

Thus it is that persistent organized research gives man new tools, makes available forces that otherwise might remain unknown for centuries.

Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Blake, a lady physician highly recommended, will visit York College about the first of April and give four lectures along the line of physical and mental health.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular meeting Monday afternoon at 4:15. There were about fifty girls assembled to hear the discussion on the topic "Property in Trust." Viola Stoddard and Mabel Meeker were the leaders.

Rebecca Graham opened the meeting with a beautiful piano solo. For special music Ruth Harrison sang "The Night Has a Thousand Eyes."

A few of the thoughts brought out were: Everything that we have we are holding in trust, our talents, our bodies, our homes, our privilege of school and our friendships. Can we be trusted as a friend with whom one may talk with confidence? In so far as we show ourselves worthy greater trusts will be given to us. The parable of the talents was appropriately used as scripture lesson.

A splendid Y. W. C. A. meeting was held on Monday evening, January 16, with Myrle and Ione Philson in charge. The topic was "Sparrows or Skylarks?" After a comprehensive development of the topic, questions were answered by the different girls to whom they had been given. A very interesting discussion followed in which many took part. The thoughts brought out seemed to touch the vital problems which face the Y. W. girl on this campus. Are we just like the common little sparrow lightly hopping about, indifferent to its surroundings, singing no inspiring notes, but content to chitter and chatter to its neighbor. Or are we like the skylark soaring high in the blue heavens, far above the petty things and seeing only the big things. If we are, then let us avoid idle gossip, slang, carelessness, and indifference to others. Let us, as Tennyson so beautifully expressed it. "Fly disengaged to sweep In ever-higher eagle-circles up To the great Sun of Glory And thence swoop down on all things base And dash them dead."

A meeting of the Amphytion Literary Society was held on the twelfth of January. The following program was given.
Vocal solo—Harvey Wimmer.
The Challenge of the Student—Ralph Leefver.
Vacation Recollections — Harold Prentice.

The first number was unique in that human instruments furnished the accompaniment. Mr. Prentice told of his pleasures while back on the farm. The amendment to change the time of meeting to Tuesday night was defeated, due chiefly to the fact that the hall is in use that night.

ZETA

Christmas vacation left no trace of dust or staleness on the working apparatus of the Zetas. The program for January 17, was interesting and instructive and everyone entered into the meeting with real Zeta pep. The following is the program as given.

Prelude—Bertha Bennett.
Extemplos—"The Chinese in Y. C.," Myron Holm; "Girls Basketball," Grace Croft.

"Summary of the Disarmament Conference," June Bishop.
Reading—"A Baseball Story," Francis Harbert.

"The Advantage of a Business Education," Russell Mitchell.

Extemporaneous Music — Edna Thompson, Dean Mooney, Donald Tewell, Erwin Caldwell, Elroy Misner.

Zeta Herald—Grace Evans, James Brooks.

YOUR POINT OF VIEW

Learn also how to appraise criticism, to value enmity, to get the good of being blamed and evil spoken of. A soft social life is not likely to be very noble. You can hardly tell whether your faiths and feelings are real until they are attacked.

But take care that you defend them with an open mind and by right reason. You are entitled to a point of view, but not to announce it as the centre of the universe. —Van Dyke.

MUSIC NOTES

Funeral services for Virginia Amadon were held at the U. B. church Thursday morning. A quartet composed of Mrs. Jones, Miss Conaway, Wendell Froid and Mr. Caldwell sang two beautiful numbers. The entire music department extends sincerest sympathy to Mr. Amadon and family in their bereavement.

The piano students of Miss Sylvia Withers are working on a recital to be given in two or three weeks.

Miss Agnes Vantine did not return after Christmas to continue her piano work.

The chorus at Henderson is doing fine work under the direction of Miss Wythers, and now numbers forty-seven voices. Besides conducting the chorus, Miss Withers has a splendid class in piano in that town.

BENEVOLENT BUSTIFICATION

If you see a fellow's down,
Kick him.
If he has no friends in town,
Kick him.
When you see him, look askance;
If he struggles to advance
And fails, trying, there's your chance—
Kick him.

If he ever has done wrong,
Kick him.
If he tries to get along,
Kick him.
Tho his punishment has been
Ten times greater than his sin,
Hell's his portion—shove him in—
Kick him.

If he falls upon the street,
Kick him.
If he rises to his feet,
Kick him.
At the forge or at the plow,
If he seems a failure, now
Is your opening—anyhow—
Kick him.

"Haste makes waste" may be worth while considering by those who carry over eighteen hours without considering physical training.

NOTES

A number of new students have enrolled for second semester.

Mr. Otto Kaliff who has been attending school at Midland has taken up work for second semester.

Three new Geometry students have enrolled.

Esther McLaughlin who has been attending school at Washington will be here in a few days to take up her last semester's work in the Academy.

Dolla Doggett from Stromsburg has entered the Normal Reviews class. She is taking the twenty-four weeks Normal Course.

Tena Franz (York Academy '21) is teaching in the primary grades in Henderson. She and Miss Schlag have organized a Y. W. C. A. among the High school girls. At the pretty candle-lighting service, twenty-six girls, dressed in middy suits, marched in and lighted their little candles from the large candle of Y. W. C. A. Success to you, girls!

ACADEMY DEBATES

Some very interesting debates have been given in the Eleventh grade English class. The debaters showed an unusual amount of enthusiasm in selecting material. Miss Calendar, the efficient English teacher inspired the class to put forth good effort and the class appreciates her instruction.

The questions debated were:
Resolved, That the direct primary should be abolished.

Affirmative: Avis Bellows, Mildred Folts and Frances Packner.

Negative: Mrs. Miller, Bertha Hofstad and Anna Thompson.

Resolved, That every citizen should give allegiance to some organized political party.

Affirmative: Ivan Jenkins, Erval Hatten and Ruth Havener.

Negative: Florence Watt, Katherine Spore and Mildred Watt.

Resolved, That the elective system should be adopted in secondary schools.

Affirmative: Alne Wright, Alice Olson, Dorothy Yaw and Ruth Garwood.

Negatives: Francel Barr, Marie Oman, Edith Wright and Bertha Smith.

The first debate was won by the negative side, the last two by the affirmative.

Indian Troubles

M. H. Ghandi, the Indian agitator, has brought India, the All-Indian Congress, but this was not his aim. Two years ago when he became prominent in India he made the statement that in a year, India would have her independence if she followed his plans. The year is up and he has lost many of his followers. A large number have left him because he failed to bring about absolute independence and others have left him because they are satisfied with the All-Indian Congress. In reality the Indian troubles are on the decline altho there are some of the cities that are still in a ferment.

Prisoner's Wages

Governor Miller of New York is developing plans to make the state penitentiary pay for itself. His plan is to manufacture goods which will pay the running expenses of the prison and the wages of the inmate workers. Altho the wages would be small, the money thus earned would be sent to needy relatives of the inmate, or be kept to be given the prisoner when his sentence is up.

PAL LITERARY

The Pal spirit was present as usual at the regular meeting held January thirty-first.

The following program was given with Mr. Malder acting as critic.

Extempo, Examinations — Dolsy Connor.

Devotional Exercises—Mr. Connor.

Prelude—Rowena Steven.

Short Story with Literary Criticism—Avilla Labart.

Political Speech—Paul Riggs.

Quartet—Winifred Wimmer, Maude Barker, Max Van Wagenen, L. Harold DeWolf.

Modern Composers.—Henry Kolling

Pal Journal—Avis Bellows, Alice Jenkins, Frances Packner.

The program was very interesting. The Pal spirit seems to be reaching its highest ebb. If you wish this same spirit don't fail to see the Pal play which will be given in the near future. If you are not a member of any other literary the Pals extend to you a hearty welcome.

The Amphyction program for January 19th was cancelled owing to the election of officers and the limited time for holding the meeting. The officers of the society for the new semester are:

President—Harvey Wimmer.
Vice President—Lynn Dankle.
Secretary—Ralph Schroeder.
Corresponding Secretary — Earl Malder.

Treasurer—Ernest Philson
Censor—Max Van Wagenen.
Critic—Paul Riggs.

Musical Director—Harold DeWolf.
Sargeant—Charles Prochaska.
Chaplin—Ivan Jenkins.

While the ballots were being counted, Paul Riggs conducted parliamentary drill. The meeting adjourned early to attend the preliminary debate.

ADVANTAGES OF ATTENDING AN ACADEMY

A student attending an Academy has many more advantages than a student attending high school. One of the most important benefits is the Christian influence which dominates the institution. Every thing is run on a Christian basis. An academy student has the privilege of belonging to the Young Men's or Young Women's Christian association. In belonging to such organizations one has the opportunity to mingle with the students of the college department. This helps one to strengthen his moral life. The student also has the advantage of hearing messages given at the chapel period by Christian and educational workers, prepared especially for the benefit of the college students. Another advantage is the individual training received. Classes are not usually as large in the Academy as in the high school. Therefore each one is given a chance to recite daily and the teacher can devote more time to the needs of each student. Next the student is made more self reliant. Outside of class periods he has the privilege of studying where ever he desires instead of staying in a study hall all day and having the teacher watch him. When he is given freedom he knows he is being trusted by the teachers and this fact encourages him to do his best. Furthermore, the State Teacher's certificate received by the Academy Normal Trainer stands for a more complete Normal course than is usually given in a high school. One graduating from the Academy receives this certificate on the work he has completed before graduating while one graduating from a high school must go to the county seat and pass examinations before he may receive the second grade county certificate. These and many more are the advantages of attending an Academy rather than a high school.

H. M., Tenth Grade.

ACADEMY VS. HIGH SCHOOL

We frequently find people outside of our institution who do not realize the advantages that students have in attending a denominational academy rather than a high school. Students who are privileged to attend this school soon learn to appreciate the benefits derived from it. There are many advantages to be found here, but there is one underlying purpose which contributes to all of them. This purpose is readily seen if one understands that the aim of the school is to promote character building. This aim is upheld in several ways but first by the Christian faculty, the members of which are all conscientious in performing their duties. They take a great interest in the students. One teacher does not tear down and shatter the ideals which another tries to promote. The Christian Associations are the next means by which character building is promoted. We students receive the best ideals from these organizations, ideals which will always remain with us and inspire us to strive for the highest attainment possible, and as a result, very high ideals are held by the student body. The spirit of the associations also prevents the class distinction which occupies such a prominent place in some schools without such an aim as ours. Instead we have a good class of students, among whom a democratic spirit prevails. The general tendency is always for improvement. No one ever leaves school with lower standards than those with which he entered. Can this always be said of high schools? Students attending the academy here, especially those who remain for more than one year, come to feel at some period of the school term that there is a great work to be done. They become inspired to go thru College and prepare themselves to be leaders in the world's great work. So, in a denominational institution there is very likely to be a better class of students, higher ideals and greater tendencies toward improvement in character.

G. I. R., 10th Grade.

ART NOTES

The Art classes are being reorganized for the second semester. Ruth Harrison is taking china painting.

A good deal is being accomplished by the china painting class. Cake sets have been completed by Grace King, Olive Ball and Edna Thompson. Ruth Havener has just finished a lemonade pitcher. Ruth Havener
