The Glee Club Makes Con- cert Tour

Gives Concerts in Several Towns

The Glee Club this year, under the direction of Dean Charles H. Amadon, has been well organized and has given a number of concerts. The Glee Club is composed of thirty-four of the best musical talent that the College affords. These young people have worked diligently and spent hours of hard labor in preparing for their public appearance. Of course there is always more or less fun in such a program and the Glee Club has its share of good times.

One of these was at the Amadon home, where, after a final rehearsal we were pleasantly entertained by Mrs. Amadon with the assistance of Pauline and Dorothy.

The program contains a variety of numbers. The girls numbers are given in costume, both Japanese and Colonial costumes being used. It was difficult to find a platform in every church which was adapted to the plan of the Glee Club, but in spite of this handicap the concerts were a success.

The first concert was given at Aurora, April 18. The trip was made in cars furnished by some of the York business men. Dorothy Reid accompanied the Glee Club and gave a reading in her usual entertaining way. The Glee Club was greatly encouraged by the appreciation shown by the large audience. After the concert the club was served a bountiful lunch and with the assistance of Rev. Heberly, they entertained themselves very nicely. Everyone was home at a reasonable hour.

The next trip was scheduled for Hampton but on account of the rain it had to be postponed.

Then for a week, all that could be heard was "Omaha!" That was a magic word to bring a smile to the face of any member of the troupe. It had been planned to make this trip in cars but the condition of the roads made this impossible. There was a great bustle and excitement on Thursday, but at last all were off on No. 40, even Paul Riggs and his kodak.

At Lincoln, the White Bus was secured to make the drive to Pickrell. Now, that bus would hold eighteen people very nicely, but it was necessary to put thirty-three inside. The baggage was piled high on the outside. The bus rode easily and there was nothing eventful until we came to that last big hill at the top of which was the town. But it began to appear that we would never get to the top. At last, in desperation, the boys stepped down into the red clay and by applying a little push, we were able to reach the top.

The top was made at the church where the ladies had prepared supper for which we were all ready. We were then assigned to homes for entertainment. After the concert, the whole Glee Club was delightfully entertained by Gladys Harding whom many of the students know.

Bright and early next morning you could have seen Joe pumping water at the hotel. We were all ready to start at an early hour, but Dean could not be found. At last, however, he appeared, and the long ride began.

We drove back to Lincoln, where a short stop was made for gas and water. Then we went out on the O. L. D. toward Omaha. Some of us remember that ride with horror! Ask Bart! About two o'clock we got to Omaha, tired, sick and hungry. We

AN ORPHEUM PROGRAM

Great was the sorrow among the members of York College when it was learned that three of our promising young ministers in the Glee Club had attended an Orpheum Show while in Omaha. Still greater was our sorrow, however, when we learned that, so great was their interest in the show, that they failed to arrive at the depot in time to accompany the rest of the Glee Club to the next town.

The Athletic Board, feeling that these primary instincts of the said preacher ought not to be suppressed, and, at the same time, feeling the need for some money, decided to stage a box supper and high class orpheum show for the benefit of the said preachers and all their friends and fellow students of York College. Accordingly, the affair was staged last Friday night in the college chapel, before a large and appreciative audience. Too much credit cannot be given the management for securing and presenting such an attractive and varied program as we were privileged to attend. The scenery, stage appointments, and lighting were beautifully arranged for and added greatly to the effectiveness of each act.

The evening program opened with a most realistic scene from the new drama entitled "Bringing Up Father," with the original characters themselves, playing the leading role.

Following this, Coach Miller introduced the Senores Hermanes, from Mexico. The Senor announced to the audience that a Senora would answer any questions they might ask without either seeing or hearing the question. It was indeed marvelous that the Senora was able to answer so many questions and gratifying to those who asked to have many of their difficulties and worries dispensed with.

The next number was one that was unusually artistic and appealing in its setting, costumes and presentation. A group of five lassies direct from Scotland entertained with Scotch songs, dances, and pantomime—all very cleverly given.

The fourth act was something ex-

Seniors Entertained at

Breakfast

The college Seniors were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Bisset and Dean and Mrs. Ashcraft at the home of the latter, last Saturday morning at nine o'clock breakfast. Places were laid for nineteen, at tables beautifully decorated in ophelia and lavender, Senior colors.

The following delicious menu was served:

Strawberries on Leaves
Creamed Chicken	Whipped Potatoes
Creamed Asparagus in French Patties
Rolls	Jam	Radishes
	Salad
Tutti Frutti Ice Cream		Cake
		Coffee

Between courses, the guests diligently attempted to draw the seven stages of man. There is indeed a great deal of hidden talent in the class, or at least it must have been hidden for none of it showed.

Mr. Bisset showed unusual ability, however, especially in his drawing entitled "Going South," for in that the back of the head was turned and no features were needed.

All were glad to have M. F. Mulvaney and Earl Thom with the class to celebrate on this joyous occasion.

At one o'clock the guests suddenly realized that they had overstepped the time of departure usually considered proper and they made their departure heartily agreeing that the Ashcrafts and Bissets are royal entertainers.

MUSIC NOTES

The music students of the Hullitt Conservatory are giving a series of recitals this week.

The first occurs on Monday evening, May 14, when Lois Coitrell appears in a piano recital.

Tuesday evening, May 15, the High School and College students will give their piano recital.

The Senior recital will take place on Thursday evening, May 17. Bertha Bennett and Mercy Wiswell being the seniors who participate.

-ACADEMY-

Junior-Senior Banquet

Monday evening, April 7, proved to be a very enjoyable occasion, for the Juniors and Seniors of the Academy when the Juniors delightfully entertained in honor of the Seniors at the U. B. church basement. The room was beautifully decorated in the Senior class colors, crimson and Cream. The scheme of winding the May pole was carried out in the table decorations. The lights were shaded into a beautiful crimson color thus giving the room a unique appearance. Victrola music was furnished during the supper. The menu consisted of:

Chicken Souffle
Escalloped Potatoes	Peas and Carrots
Vegetable Salad
Olives	Rolls	Jelly
Angel Food Cake		Ice Cream
	Coffee
Nuts		Mints

The scheme for the toast program was the comparison of an ocean voyage to life. Miss Helen Meloy, President of the Junior class acted as toastmistress. The following toasts were given:

Dreams	Camille Pachner
Launched	Edith Wright
Convoy	Ivan Jenkins
Solo	Maude Barker
Rudder	Florence Watt
Waves	Marvin Vannice
Harbor	Prof. J. C. Morgan

The Seniors certainly appreciate the honor bestowed upon them by the Junior class in making possible this pleasant occasion. We will never forget the loyal class of '24.

—A Senior.

TENNIS

The College tennis team, composed of Myrvan Canon, Walt Snedeker and Ralph Frazier have officially met the Wesleyan aggregation. The first tournament was held at Wesleyan where York lost the singles but succeeded in winning the doubles. Last Tuesday Wesleyan won both the doubles and singles on the York courts.

The College Juniors En- tertain

Undoubtedly, traditions are worth while after all. At least when but a few weeks of college life are left to the Seniors they are exceedingly glad for the tradition of a Junior-Senior banquet. On the evening of May ninth, at the home of Myron Holm the class of 1923 were thus highly honored. Shortly after five-thirty P. M. thirty-eight Juniors and Seniors descended to the dining rooms where the Senior colors, Ophelia and lavender, were used very effectively in the decoration of the small tables where we soon found our places.

For some time we were busily engaged with the exquisitely prepared dinner for which much credit must be given to the Junior girls.

The class colors were carried out as fully as possible in the following menu which delighted the "physical man."

Pressed Chicken	Asparagus
Mashed Potatoes	Brown Gravy
Creamed Peas and Carrots
Rolls	Olives
	Salad
Grape Sherbet	Angle Food Cake
Nuts	Mints
	Coffee

Of course we were looking forward eagerly to the toasts and musical numbers and in these we were not disappointed. Miss Davidson, the Junior president, filled her place as toastmistress very admirably and in a very appropriate manner introduced the speakers.

Toasts

Opening	Evelyn Hunt
Notions	Dean Ashcraft
Willing	M. F. Mulvaney
Advantages	Myrvan Canon
Reading	Alice Gilbert
Daring or Doing	Prof. Bisset

In closing the Juniors joined in a song tribute to the class of '23 and their sponsor, Professor Bisset.

ANNUAL EXTEMPORE CONTEST

The public speaking season has closed. The final contest took place in the College chapel Tuesday evening, May first. The following took part: Charles Prochaska, Glen Campbell, Wade Strater, Dorothy Feaster, Mildred Nelson, Alice Gilbert and Paul Goudy. Alice Gilbert received third place, Mildred Nelson second, and Paul Goudy was awarded the winner's medal and sent last Friday to the state contest which was held in Grand Island. Mr. Goudy was ranked fourth speaker in the state contest. The judges in the local contest were Supt. John Calvert, Atty's John Riddell and M. M. Wildman.

A state collegiate department of extempore speaking has been organized and will begin to function early in the school year of 1923-'24. It is directly under the supervision of the State Debate League and plans will be laid for the state contest much earlier next year which will greatly facilitate work in all local colleges. York will entertain the State Extempore contest next year.

A number of locals took good interest this year in the work and the speakers did well in the local contest.

BURNING THE MID-NIGHT OIL

Students who burn the mid-night oil are usually in danger of overdoing the thing. It takes time from ones resting period and usually causes more harm than good. Our bodies are so constructed that they have to have a certain amount of rest to maintain normal health. The burning of mid-night oil usually consumes a good deal of bodily energy at some time or other so one is really losing time. One cannot work or think as good at that time of night as well as in daytime. Good health and normal physical vigor are priceless and one loses both by burning the mid-night oil.

Any successful business man must have both these elements to be successful.

Many people think of rest only as the cessation of all activities but this is not the case at all. Comper once said: "Absence of occupation is not rest; a mind quite vacant is a mind distressed. Some people think of rest as changing from one work to another. This is a good plan as one does not overdo one thing and they are balanced so as to say. Rest is very essential and the burning of mid night oil is a wasteful process in the long run, both mentally and physically.

The Sandburr Staff wishes to take this opportunity of thanking all students and faculty members who have in any way aided in the publication of our college paper this year. Many of our staff realized for the first time that getting out a paper is real work and while we have not reached the height of efficiency that was our goal, we feel that we have gained a considerable amount of experience that may prove beneficial in the future. To next year's staff we wish the very best of luck and a prosperous year.

One of Nebraska's leading newspapers has been devoting some space to the nomination of Nebraskans prominent in music art, or literature for a place in Nebraska's Hall of Fame. It is evident that people are trying to give praise to these workers while they are here to appreciate it and derive inspiration from the recognition of their work. Too often in the past have we failed to see the true value of our fellowmen until suddenly there was a place left vacant that no one else could fill.

There are many persons who, because of this devotion to their work in their home towns, do not go to larger places seeking the higher positions that they could easily fill, yet they are as deserving of praise and honor. A word of appreciation to these faithful folks now and then will make them happier and this happiness will be reflected upon the giver.

Glee Club Makes Concert Tour

found the church and were given instructions as to what car to take to get back from town. Then we all went to the city. There we scattered, some to shop, some to go to the theatre, some to see the skyscrapers.

At five o'clock we were back at the church. The minister kindly allowed us open house, and the girls were able to renovate their costumes. The ladies served dinner and then the concert was given to an attentive audience. Assignments for entertainment were made, and we were scattered over all parts of the city.

It had been the plan to secure the White Bus to make all these trips, but after the experience of the day before, Dean decided that the train was better. Of course no one could leave until the last train and some couldn't leave then. Orpheum shows are highly educational!

At Lincoln, all were reunited and the party went on to Seward. The audience there was large and very appreciative. Altho everyone was tired, the concert was a success. Cars from York brought the weary songsters home.

The program for a few days was "rest." Then in spite of muddy roads, the Club went to Hampton on May 2. A break down occurred and some of the boys were not present to begin. But even this could not daunt our versatile group, for they began in the middle of the program with the girls' numbers and proceeded until the boys arrived.

On May 8, the Glee Club went to McCool. This engagement had also been postponed. The audience, while not large, seemed to enjoy the program.

The final concert was given in York, Thursday, May 10, at the Dean Theatre. The audience was good, and everything promised a fine entertainment. No one was disappointed for the Glee Club excelled even its former good work. The costumes and colored lights were very effective. This concert closed a very successful season.

It has always been the aim of the Glee Club to support itself, and it is probable that the College will have to stand only a small expense, due to the long trip which was taken this year.

The members of the Glee Club, collectively and individually, wish to express their thanks to the student body and faculty for the interest that has been shown and the support that has been given them. We wish especially to express our appreciation for the faithful, untiring leadership of Dean Amadon.

The following is the program, which was given with only slight variations, as circumstances made it necessary.

tremely unique and of a type seldom seen on the stage. Coach Miller announced that the things we would see were some of the things that those trying out for track had to cope with. He very emphatically stated that such contortions and convolutions as were to take place aided materially in developing the heart. We agree—at least it ought to. Thereupon Warren Baller and his team of fleet footed and agile sylphs proceeded to astound and delight the audience with the most unusual performance ever witnessed by the York College student body.

The last number was a group of solos by the foremost American singer, Madame Martin. Madam Martin also included in her act a reading. Madam Martin delighted her audience with her beautiful voice and her delightful rendering of her numbers. All await eagerly her reappearance in our midst.

The boys present took part in the next act which consisted of providing themselves with a box of lunch and finding their partners, and then eating. All agreed that the evening was one of great enjoyment and all present hope to witness another such performance in the near future.

Y. W. C. A. SONG SERVICE

We had an unusual and very unique Y. W. meeting last Monday evening. It was a leaderless meeting. A number of the girls gave the origin and sentiment of a song such as "Lead Kindly Light," "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me." When each had been given we all sang the song together. When we sang "Home, Sweet Home" we feel sure that many a dear memory must have filled each girls heart. After Miss Rogers had told us of the life of the author, and how dear his own America seemed to him, while in a foreign land, for it was home to him, each and all of us held the memory of our own homes more sacred. After this each girl present was given a chance to tell what her favorite song was. The two that received the highest votes were "Day is Dying in the West" and "Take Time to be Holy."

FRANKLIN S. HUNT

York College was indeed sorry to hear of the untimely death of one of our well-known alumni, Franklin S.
Hunt, which occurred on May 4th.

Mr. Hunt was born April 11, 1898 at Dean, Montana, and departed this life May 4, 1923, at Lincoln, Nebraska after a short illness following an operation.

His parents moved to near Merna, Nebraska when Franklin was a child and at which place was spent his childhood and youth.

The class of '19 of York College proudly numbered him among them and his instructors were grateful in the knowledge that they had had their portion in his life preparation.

He begun his active ministry on the Shiloh charge having received his appointment upon his return from army service in the late world war.
His service at Shiloh and Harmony is well and favorably recalled by those with whom he came in contact.
He served two years at Prairie Gem at which place his membership was held at the time of his passing. While attending the Seminary in Dayton, Ohio he served the Lockington, Ohio charge and upon his return to Nebraska was appointed to the Panama work where he had completed a year of fruitful and satisfactory service when his Maker called him. While pastor at Prairie Gem, he was united in marriage to Joyce Cushman of York, Nebraska, who has faithfully and consecratedly assisted him in his public ministry. While in the seminary a baby boy, George A. was born who God has spared to bring comfort to the bereaved wife. Franklin leaves besides the wife and little son and adopted daughter, a father, a mother, sisters and brothers and a host of friends who have been blessed by association with him. Burial and services were held at Merna, Nebraska, Tuesday, May 8. Rev. H. A. McKelvie conducting the services.

"An impressive memorial service was held in the Shiloh church Sunday, May 6, at 3:00 p. m., in which the churches and community who had known and esteemed Rev. Franklin Hunt joined in paying their respects to the departed former pastor.
The present pastor Rev. C. F. Wantz, delivering the message taking as his text, Psalms 116:15. He was assisted in the services by Rev. H. V. Price and Rev. Ivan Jenkins. A mixed double quartette rendered the music.

The community joins in extending to the bereaved ones its tender and heartfelt sympathy.

ACADEMY NOTES

The following Seniors have secured schools for next year:

Florence Watt, a country school near Charleston, Nebr.

Erval Hatton, a country school near his home in Kansas.

Margaret Woodruff will teach the first and second grades in Giltner, Hamilton Co.

The Misses Alene and Edith Wright have adjoining schools near Henderson.

The Academy themes are well on their way to completion. They are to be bound when all are finished, and preserved in the College Library.

Miss Camille Pachner, as well as some of her class mates were thoroughly surprised when one morning they came to their chemistry laboratory prepared to generate some disagreeable smells such as hydrogen sulphide, when on entering the room they discovered a table holding an appetizing spread. It was Miss Pachner's birthday and instead of working, the hour was passed away pleasantly in conversation. Miss Adams and Miss Pearson were hostesses on the occasion.

The Academy Sophomores responded to the call of Spring in a body, especially in the form of hikes. They have been known to take several lately, which indicates their enjoyment of that form of recreation, and, incidentally, the necessity of finding botany specimens.

The Senior Class Day program will be given at the College Chapel on Monday afternoon, May 28, at two o'clock. They will endeavor to render the following program:
 Vocal Solo—Ivan Jenkins.
 Class Poem—Mildred Folts.
 Address—Alene Wright.
 Piano Solo—Margaret Woodruff.
 Reading—Bertha Hofstad.
 Class Prophecy—Frances Pachner, Florence Watt, Erval Hattan.
 Song—Edith Wright, Alene Wright, Alice Olson, Mildred Folts, Margaret Woodruff and Bertha Smith.
 Address—Paul Maring.
 Class Will—Alice Olson, Edith Wright, Bertha Smith.
 Address—Mildred Watt.
 Class Song—Class of '23.

CHAPEL NOTES

On Friday, the 3rd, Mr. Paul Goudy, our representative at the state Extempore contest, delivered a discussion on the subject, "Senatorial Check on Supreme Court." Mr. Goudy delivered his speech very well and showed considerable talent along this line.

Last Tuesday, we were favored by a real treat in having with us some members of the G. A. R. Post of the city. This was under the charge of Mr. John Lett, Commander of the Post. After several selections by fife and drum corps, two recitations were given by Mr. Lett and Mr. Moore. An invitation was then extended to college students to participate in the parade on Decoration day. This honor is highly appreciated by all students. The whole program was greatly enjoyed and we hope to have the old gentlemen with us again before school closes.

On Friday morning the devotional exercises were led by Dorothy Reid and Gervaichia Reamer.

Y. M. C. A.

Four good, interesting, and important Y. M. meetings have transpired since the Training Conference and no mention has as yet been made thru the columns of this paper. The first and most important as to its effects on the organization is the meeting following the supper on the 16th of April. Prof. Bisset presented the purpose of the Y. M. C. A., especially emphasizing the College organization. Space will not permit mention of the helpful that's thrown out to the twenty-five fellows seated about the table. After Professor's talk the President, Mr. Van Wagener passed out the pledge cards to the fellows and put it up to them as to whether they were willing to uphold the purpose of the Y. M. C. A. of York College. The results were very pleasing; twenty-four of the students present signed the pledge. Since then several others have pledged themselves to the good of the organization and themselves as well we hope.

Dr. Wegner of the city spoke to the fellows on the following Monday evening. His message was of the most inspiring and helpful nature. Among other things he mentioned incidents of his life as related to the work of the Y while he was in college. The that's were full of meaning for all.

April 30, at the regular hour found the fellows at the usual meeting place. College men spoke this time. The following talked upon different phases of the general topic, "Better Y. M. C. A.": Myrvan Canon, Warren Baller, Walter Henry and Floyd Laws. Some told of how they had been helped thru the influence of the men in College who had the betetr view of life.

Rev. Doleman of the Baptist church of this city was with the men Monday, May 7. He had not been at our meetings before but gave a message that showed his interest in the work. New men always bring new that's and ideas and such was the case this time. Every one enjoyed having the privilege of listening to him.

The Y. M. cabinet at present is planning for the Spring Retreat at which time plans will be made for the future. Everyone is interested and the success of the Association is assured for the coming year.

PALS

At the meeting of the Pals' Literary society, Tuesday evening, May ninth, the following program was given:

Extempo, "Politics", Avis Bellows.
 Extempo, "Spring Baseball," Lyle Valentine.

Paper, "Pals," Levi Loreman.
 Journal, Mildred Nelson, Harry Hart.

After making plans for the Pals' reunion banquet which is to take place Monday evening of Commencement week, the Pals elected officers for next year.

Election results were as follows:
 President—George Jenkins.
 Vice President—Ronald McDonald.
 Secretary—Lyle Valentine.
 Treasurer—Gervaichia Reamer.
 Critic—Harvey Wimmer.
 Chaplain—Bernice Wilson, Bart Blanc, tie.

On May 25 the Expression Department under the direction of Mrs.

A PRESENTATION WATCH

Useful and Beautiful is the comment we hear about our watches—we guarantee them to be dependable. The Famous Gruen watches have secured their reputation because they build the dependable kind and their artistic ideals would not permit them to put out a watch not beautiful and attractive. Buy the best—its cheaper and more satisfactory than the doubtful makes.
