YORK COLLEGE BOARD OF TRUSTEES MEET FOR ANNUAL SESSION

Several Members of the Board of Christian Education Also Present.

The Board of Trustees met in their annual session on March 19, 1930, at the College Administration building with Mr. C. A. McCloud, president of the Board, presiding.

The opening session was held in chapel, where President Overmiller introduced the several members of the Board to the student body. The Rev. F. C. Scott, of Des Moines, Ia., gave the prayer of the morning, after which Mr. J. R. Engel, president of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College at Annville, Pa.; Mr. H. H. Balsh, also a member of the Board of Trustees of Lebanon Valley College, and Mr. C. A. McCloud, spoke briefly.

During the morning meeting, the following reports were presented to the Board: J. R. Overmiller, President; Anna J. Thompson, Treasurer; Auditing Committee, R. E. Townsend; Buildings and Grounds Committee, L. S. Loomer, Leroy Davis, C. N. Beaver; Library and Apparatus, Ray Hill, Miss Hunt, Miss Cone; Committee on Ways and Means, Dr. Maurice Nichols, S. C. Caldwell, Dr. S. S. Smick, and President J. R. Overmiller.

The afternoon session was opened by a prayer by Bishop Statton. Bishop G. D. Batdorf, of Harrisburg, Pa., presented greetings from the Board of Christian Education. Following this, Dr. O. T. Deever, General Secretary of Christian Education, Dayton, Ohio, greeted the board. Two addresses: "The Value of the Christian College to its Constituency," by Mr. H. H. Balsh, and "How to Make York College Function 100 per cent. in the Educational Program of the Southwest," by Dr. O. T. Deever, completed the afternoon session.

At 6:30 p. m. the York College Fellowship Dinner was served at the United Brethren Church. Bishop A. (Continued on page 3)

PALS SOCIETY REVISES FORMER CONSTITUTION

Plans More Stringent Rules For Members.

The Pals' program for March 11 was unusually well prepared and very interesting. The program was as follows:

Being a Married Man in College," Homer Crosby.

Prelude.....Ruby Killam
Reading.....Dorothea Hintz
Solo.....Julia Wilson
Chapter II of the continued story—Lawrence Caldwell and Theron Maxson.

At this meeting the new constitutions were given out to the members. The old constitution was recently revised by a committee consisting of Alice Gilbert, Ira Colson and Eleanor Zike. More stringent rules and a more elaborate initiation ceremony are features of the new constitution.

The Pals' roster has recently been subject to revision also. The secretary now has a complete roll of the names and addresses of all York College alumni who have been Pals and has partially completed a roll of former Pals who did not take their degrees from the college. The Pals are sending out a call for the names of all the old Philomatheans and Amphictyons whose names should be included on this roll.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT PRESENTED TO BOARD

Optimistic Facts Given Concerning Finances, Students and Faculty.

The annual report of President J. R. Overmiller presented at the meeting of the Board of Trustees of York College, March 19, showed an increase in enrollment of students and a reduction in liabilities of $2,062.38. The report pointed out other interesting and optimistic facts concerning finances, faculty and student body.

The college interests were represented in Iowa, Nebraska, and Colorado conferences during the summer of 1929 by President Overmiller, Ray Bryant, Lloyd Nichols, Prof. Muriel Thomas and two students. A part of the president's time during the school year was also spent in work as field agent.

The total enrollment for the year was 29 more than that of the previous year. The increases were in the department of expression, the Business College and the College department. The enrollment of the departments is as follows.

College students	221
Academy students	6
Business College	34
Music	204
Fine Arts	34
Expression	28
Specials	9

Grand Total.....531

Duplications.....93

Net Total.....438

Of these, 391 are from Nebraska, 21 from Colorado and New Mexico, 9 from Iowa, 5 from Kansas, 3 from Porto Rico, 2 each from Montana, Washington and Pennsylvania, and 1 each from Missouri, Indiana, and West Virginia. One half of the total number is from York county and 50 per cent. of the college enrollment are members of the United Brethren church.

President Overmiller expressed a great deal of satisfaction with the faculty. It was stated that all of the heads of the departments carry Master's degrees. Most of them are continuing their preparation beyond their Master's. Professors Charles Bisset and H. C. Peemster were given leave of absence for the summer of 1929 and pursued courses of study at the Nebraska State University. Professor Warren Baller was granted leave of absence by the Executive Committee and early in February he began his study at Columbia University.

The importance of increasing the salaries of instructors was emphasized in the report. Speaking further in regard to finances President Overmiller stated that there is danger that the real purpose of York College will be forgotten on account of the emphasis on raising money. He pointed out that the college was doing a great work in character building.

DEAN BISSET GIVES ADDRESS IN CHAPEL

Gives Worthwhile Suggestions For Graduates Seeking Employment.

In a chapel address March 7 Dean Charles Bisset gave some worthwhile suggestions to prospective teachers and others who will be seeking employment after they leave college.

Questionnaires from teachers' agencies and school boards ask concerning the scholarship of the candidate, concerning his energy, persistence, personal appearance and habits, business integrity, and dependability. "We, of course," stated Dr. Bisset, "are expected to fill these out honestly and to the best of our knowledge. If a student does not pay his tuition or his class dues while in college," he continued, "can we expect that he will pay his bills in the community to which he is going?"

The student who stays out late at night and wastes his time here might be expected to waste his employer's time when he goes out into the world.

Some questionnaires include inquiry regarding the candidate's habits of Sabbath observation. If he spends his Sundays in a way that will better fit him for the work of the coming week he will be more favorably considered than if he squanders his time so that he is less fit for work on Monday morning than he was on Friday.

"Practically all high schools in Nebraska and Kansas," continued Dr. Bisset, "would refuse to employ a man who smokes, and of course if they would not hire a man, they would certainly not hire a woman who smokes."

The people who go out from York College are representing their school, and if they conduct themselves as they should, it will be a good recommendation for the institution, said Dr. Bisset in conclusion. So for this reason the College faculty must exercise great care in recommending students for positions.

FELLOWSHIP DINNER DRAWS LARGE NUMBER

Kirkpatrick, Batdorf and Statton Address Group of Constitutents.

The York College Fellowship Dinner, held in the basement of the United Brethren church, March 19, was attended by about 140 friends of the college. This number included members of the York College Board of Trustees, business men of York and others interested in the college.

After the dinner, Bishop A. B. Statton, Kansas City, Missouri; Bishop G. D. Batdorf, Harrisburg, Pa., and Attorney W. L. Kirkpatrick, York, spoke to the group on subjects connected with York College. Musical numbers were furnished by members of the varsity quartet.

The subject of Bishop Statton's address was "The Christian College in the Life of Today." He mentioned the fact that he was once an instructor at York College and then proceeded to point out the growth and development of the city since that time.

In regard to modern education, he said that self expression was being emphasized today, but that there was still some need for repression. He defined Christian Education as instruction in science, art, literature, philosophy, and the other branches of learning under the light of God.

Bishop Statton concluded by speaking of work and influence of some of those who have gone out from York College.

Mr. Kirkpatrick said that he had planned to use figures in speaking on, "York College as an Asset to the City of York and to York County," but the value of York College cannot be expressed by numbers.

He said that between twelve and fifteen hundred people lived in the East Ward of York. This is almost one-fourth of the total population of the city. Almost all of this number are here on account of York College. But the value of the school to the city and county of York is immeasurable. "York College is a part of us," he declared. It is the means of Christian culture to the territory.

The subject of the address of Bishop Batdorf was, "The Relation of the Educational Program of the Southwest District to the Denomination." He expressed appreciation for the privilege of witnessing the magnificent gift of C. A. McCloud to York College.

Bishop Batdorf stated that educational standards in the United Brethren church much be raised as a whole. The solidarity of the denomination is an essential of the educational program. In closing, he expressed earnest wishes for the victory of the York College program.

After the banquet the Board of Trustees met to hear the report of the Ways and Means Committee.

C. A. McCLOUD MAKES DONATIONS TO YORK COLLEGE OF $55,000

S. C. Caldwell and E. A. Levitt Contribute Large Amounts To Endowment Fund.

Mr. C. A. McCloud made a gift of $50,000 to the Endowment Fund and another of $5,000 on the debt of York College at the meeting of the Board of Trustees, the afternoon of March 19. This was in support of his proposal that the entire debt be paid within a year's time and that the Endowment Fund be increased to $500,000.

Mr. S. C. Caldwell gave a gift of $1,000 and Mr. E. A. Levitt gave $500. A group of business men of York, headed by Mr. McCloud, declared that they would meet the United Brethren constituency of York College outside of York County half way in paying off the entire debt within one year.

It is believed that the conferences of the United Brethren church co-operating with York College will accept this challenge. Plans are being formulated to provide an adequate endowment in response to the needs of the institution and the proposal of Mr. McCloud.

The present productive endowment of $100,224.00 is to be supplemented by an additional sum of $400,000.00. Mr. McCloud's splendid gift will be the first in securing the added endowment.

With expressions of very deep feeling, Mr. McCloud stated that he had spent much of his life making money and that he wanted to make a substantial investment in York College, where it would live for many years. He said that he believed the small Christian college to be of very great value in the education of young people and that the church, the city of York, and York county should establish York College by paying off the entire debt within a year.

DEBATING TEAMS HAVE SPLENDID SEASON

Win Six Out of Ten Debates Entered.

The debate season for which prospects looked so gloomy at the first of the season closed with York's record comparing favorably with her former records. The question for debate this year was the national Phi Kappa Delta question: "Resolved, That the nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except for such forces as are necessary for police purposes." Out of ten debates the debate teams have won six.

The affirmative team consisting of Ual Hanshaw, Henry Kiewer, and Homer Crosby, won three out of six debates. They won the Central, Cotner and Dana debates but lost to Kearney State Normal, Grand Island and Wesleyan.

The negative team which is composed of three seniors, Onita Stone, Nestor Shianta and Alice Gilbert, won three out of four debates. The negative won the Grand Island, Central City and Cotner debates but lost to Dana college.

The debates attribute much of their success to the splendid training and untiring efforts of their coach, Professor J. Clifford Morgan.

WATCH YOUR STEP

York College has a beautiful campus, one of which we may be justly proud. Students, why not make an attempt to keep it in this condition? It costs little effort to stay on the walks, but it makes a very noticeable difference in the campus beauty. Now is the time to take care of our campus; do not cut corners but give the blue grass a chance.

RECIPE FOR JOY

Do you need a new recipe for joy? Well, here is one anyway! Follow these instructions closely:

Take one dear old lady, who reminds you of your mother, add a prime minister, surround with two exquisite ladies of the court, a despicable prince from the adjoining kingdom and his right-hand bower. Flavor with an Irish cook and several drops of suspense and anxiety. Place carefully in a throne room of an ancient castle and let bake. For the filling, take a good-looking young man from the land of the free and the home of the brave, who is really a crown prince, add his chum and the King of Boozay, with his two beautiful daughters. Mix for half an hour, pour in a cup full of romance, two cups full of excitement and three cups full of comedy; sprinkle with sunshine, moonshine and roses, and you have;

"The Beloved Vagabond," which is to be presented by the Histrionic Club on Thursday evening, April 3, at the Sun Theatre.

LOUISVILLE SCHOOLS
Office of the Superintendent
Administration Bldg.
Louisville, Ky.

March 12, 1930

Dean Charles Bisset,
York College,
York, Nebraska.

Dear Dean Bisset:

Well do I remember the first day I arrived at York College. I had completed my work in a country school and had never been inside a high school. I enrolled at York College for the purpose of taking the Business Course. This department was then housed on the second floor of the Administration Building and occupied the entire south half of that floor.

At the end of one year I had completed the Commercial Course and was ready for a position in a bank or real estate office or some similar clerkship. But I had during the year become dissatisfied with the program that I had laid out for myself. The close contact then existing between the Commercial and the Academy and College people was largely responsible, I am sure, for the inspiration I received in going on and furthering my education.

The next year I returned and enrolled in the Academy where I remained for four years. I then taught four years and returned to the College to complete the college course leading to the A. B. degree. The College was at that time under the able administration of the late President McLaughlin. I am sure I never enjoyed four years of my life more than I enjoyed those four years spent in York College under the direct leadership of President McLaughlin, you, Dean Ashcraft, Professor Morgan, and others of the staff at that time.

There was something about York College that satisfied and yet failed to satisfy. York College gave the impression that it had a contribution to give young people, but that it did not give all. When one has finished there, there remains the desire to go on. That was one of the great contributions York College made to me. As I think back over the years, it seems to me that the one thing more than all others that York College gave me was the desire to serve as best I can in any position I hold and to be not overly concerned with meticulously planning out the future. I feel there was something that York College as an undergraduate school did not give me but it did give me infinitely more than I have ever been able to repay.

Very sincerely yours,
L. R. Gregory.

BISHOP A. B. STATTON ADDRESSES Y. W. C. A.

Speaks to Girls on Attitude of Individuals.

Bishop A. B. Statton addressed the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday, March 18, with a very inspirational discussion of the importance of our inner lives.

Bishop Statton stated that it was the attitude of mind that an individual had that seems to govern things. Our views of life in general depend entirely upon the condition of our inner lives.

In spite of the fact that a great many people seem to consider the doctrine of the New Birth as a purely theological affair, we can only truly bear fruit as we are connected with a heavenly life. It is impossible to amount to anything intellectually unless one comes into contact with that heavenly life.

In conclusion, Bishop Statton suggested that as girls of the Y. W. C. A. we should strive and seek for higher things and the sublime inspi-

REV. M. B. LEACH GIVES ADDRESS TO STUDENTS

Speaks in Chapel on Topic of "Progress."

The Rev. M. B. Leach, Superintendent of the Illinois Conference of the United Brethren Church, addressed the chapel group the morning of March 20.

He emphasized four things which he said were important in the lives of young people: first, to know; second, to grow; third, to glow; and fourth, to go. In this age of transition and of changing ideas and ideals it is difficult to know just what to believe but there are some things in life about which we ought not to be uncertain, among which is a right conception of moral values.

He continued by exhorting his listeners to examine their lives to see if they were any bigger mentally and spiritually than they were a year ago. "When we are through changing, we are through," he quoted.

"Religion is caught rather than taught," stated Dr. Leach. It is a glorious thing to so live that people will say, "If it means that to be a Christian, I would like to be one." What we are, he added, speaks much louder than what we say.

Dr. Leach urged each one to pass on to others some of the worthwhile things which they have received. It is by this means that men's lives are made rich and strong and beautiful, and they are the recipients of wonderful blessings from God.

In The Library

By Miss Vera Herrick

More new books, this time for the history and social science classes. Europe Since 1870—Turner, The Crusades—Newhall, Culture and Social Progress—Polsom, The Modern Family—Reed, Poverty—Kelso, 500 Criminal Careers—Glueck.

If you will look through the indices of these books you will find valuable material for your study of social problems.

Let me call the attention of the music students to our two musical magazines, Musical America and The Etude. There is much that can be used in collateral reading in the study of History of Music, opera, etc. This is the opera season—you will find them described in these magazines.

Also we are fortunate in the addition of public school music material that has been added to the library this year.

Those who are writing papers on some phase of music will find valuable material in the set of books called The University Series.

EVANGELICAL PASTOR

SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

The Rev. J. C. Weston, pastor of the local Evangelical church, was the chapel speaker March 12. His subject was, "Some of the Moral Pitfalls in the Educational Process."

He gave four reasons why young people are here in college: First, they are seeking truth; second, they are eager to know how to use this truth when found; third, they want to discover their true position in relation to society of which they are a part; and, fourth, they wish to realize in their own experience the highest conceivable values which God's universe has to offer.

Education, he said, should make a definite contribution to the spiritual culture of the individual, but thru misuse, misapplication or mal-administration it sometimes fails in its purpose.

The danger of substituting explanation for appreciation is one of our moral pitfalls, Mr. Weston stated. By exclusive attention to the parts and ignoring that which is the inherent whole the more important values of the whole are sometimes overlooked. Modern education is in danger of robbing men of their capacity for appreciation values.

Another pitfall which is threatening education today, according to Mr. Weston, is that of substituting ideals for values. Ideals which do not enrich the moral quality or heighten the spiritual tone of the possessor do not warrant their possession, he said. Most modern educational systems, he continued, foster the habit of doubting by teaching the student to question and analyze everything in order to prove its soundness. This is all right from the school man's point of view but it is evident that such a procedure may become fatal to the higher values or the religion of the student.

Class consciousness, or a superiority complex, was another of the pitfalls which Mr. Weston sees in the educational process. This, he said, leads one to scorn the ranks of men and to lose interest in the masses of the people. It is for the good of all of us to discover the real place and significance of these cultural ideals and values in order to be of the greatest service to society.

Track Sports

PANTHER TRACKSTERS UNUSUALLY PROMISING

Spring Sport Outlook Exceptionally Bright With Several Veterans Returning.

Prospects for spring sports look exceptionally bright this year with but two members taken by graduation.

The Panther tracksters should rank among the best this year with several veterans and much promising material in evidence.

Ruppel, York's middle distance ace, will have to work with him, Marvin Creech, high jumper, who took second medal in the N. C. A. C. meet last spring; Verne Dierdorff, Brookhart, Marvin Hersey, Dewey man, Rollie Wildman, Ual Hanchew, Manuel Martinez and Gene Duncan, all of last year's squad.

The most promising of the freshmen are Robert Green, Lawrence Conklin, Wilbur Gard, Maurice Brookhart, Marvin Herse, Dewey Regier, Earl Sears and Edward Friesen.

In tennis Charles Davis, Marvin Hersey and Lee Knolle are among the ones who will strive to represent the College in this sport.

The golf situation is the brightest of all with Neal and Wayne Gallant, 1929 N. C. A. C. golf champions in their usual form.

The 1930 track captain will be elected as soon as the meets get under way.

REGIONAL TOURNAMENT SPONSORED BY Y CLUB

York High Defeated Geneva in Finals.

The Regional Tournament held in the York College gymnasium on Friday and Saturday, March 7th and 8th finally simmered down to a battle between the Geneva and York quintet in which the York team defeated the Geneva five by a score of 21 to 14.

Both teams defeated all the teams in their bracket and fought for the supremacy of this region. York had defeated Geneva earlier on the latter's floor by a score of 9 to 11. One section of the bleachers was filled with boosters from Geneva who hoped to cheer their team to avenge the early-season victory.

In the semi-finals York defeated the fast team from Ong by a score of 38 to 22, while Geneva defeated Fairbury 18 to 2.

The York high school squad and the Geneva squad journeyed to Lincoln Thursday, March 13, to compete in the class A group in the state high school tournament.

Conrad Jacobson, superintendent of the York high school was in charge of all arrangements for the tournament.

GALLANT AND CREECH ON STATE HONOR ROLL

The N. C. A. C. selection of outstanding players in the conference that appeared in the state papers on March 9 found Captain Neal Gallant and Marvin Creech upon the honor roll.

Gallant has scored 92 points during the past season while Creech has scored 83 points. They were seventh and ninth respectively among the high scorers of the conference. Despite the fact that the Panthers experienced a rather stormy season it is interesting to know that two of the Panthers were among the best of conference athletes.

Y CLUB MEMBERS HOLD MID-YEAR INITIATION

Seven New Members Furnish Evening's Entertainment for Group.

The mid-year initiation of Y Club members took place at the College gymnasium on the evening of March 18. Seven new members, Lawrence Conklin, Floyd Peterson, Maurice Brookhart, Earl Sears, Vincent Dimig, Wilbur Gard and Manuel Martinez furnished the entertainment.

At the beginning of Act I, the principal characters were relieved of all unnecessary garments in exchange for the customary grey uniform. Each character was then blindfolded and at a given signal was asked to climb the golden stairway and descend on the swift toboggan. None refused.

At this time, Coach McCandless administered the Y Club tonic to each new member, explaining its relation to vigorous and active careers. The officers then conducted a special intelligence test, followed by the usual egg shampoo. The intelligence test was merely a precaution, as the I. Q. of the club had to be kept at its present high level.

In Act III, the apparent motive was fifteen wooden paddles which accompanied the contestants during the channel swim.

The play ended with three, 3-round boxing exhibitions. In closing, the losers chose between a second channel swim or a delicious dish of Annelida Lumbricus.

All reported a very enjoyable evening and with few exceptions attended school as usual the following morning.

NEW OTTERBEIN GUILD OFFICERS ELECTED

Anna Thompson Re-elected as President.

The Otterbein Guild girls held their annual spring election banquet at the United Brethren church, the evening of March 10.

The program of the evening was as follows:

Devotions ----- Lois Overmiller
Piano Solo ----- Agnes White
Talk ----- Anna Thompson
Vocal Solo ----- Lucile Campbell

The talk of the evening by Miss Thompson stressed "Walking With God", which suggests comradeship, and friendship for there is an intimacy about walking which will allow only of the companionship of friends.

The new officers elected for the year were:

President ----- Anna Thompson
Vice president -- Margaurite Stone
Secretary ----- Ethel Ashmore
Treasurer ----- Lucile Campbell

NEBRASKA'S PIONEER ELM

During the Y. W. C. A. retreat held in the Seward park last fall, a group of the girls noticed and commented on the unusual beauty of a knotted and weather worn old elm on the banks of the Blue river. This same tree located on the John Conroy estate just at the southwest edge of Seward on the S. Y. A. highway, has gained a nation-wide reputation for its beauty. The trunk is fifteen feet in circumference, rising sixty feet in the air and it casts a shadow more than one hundred feet in diameter. The outline of the tree against the sky is almost perfect.

What a story this elm could tell were it able to talk. Campers, emigrants, Indians and travelers on their way to homesteads in new lands have been sheltered beneath its branches. Covered wagons were arranged in a circle around the tree as a defensive fort. Only one battle is recorded in which the Indians swept down upon the Whites at this point and after a night of fighting the former were forced to retreat across the river just at dawn.

The elm stood as a sentinel to guide the traveler to a safe ford about one mile north of it but during the first one hundred years of its life, it has received no artificial care. Hunters have used it for a target; high waters have flooded it and scarred its bark with debris and ice. Mr. J. G. Alden, editor of The York Republican, who spoke to us last week on the subject, "Nebraska," contributed the first dollar spent in preserving the century old elm.

For two days six men sawed off its dead limbs, pruned its branches and cleaned the cavity which had eaten into the heart of the trunk. The repair was somewhat like building up a decayed tooth. The cavity was thoroughly disinfested and filled with concrete. It is hoped that in a few years the growth of the tree will cover the artificial repair.

Plans for planting flowers and shrubs to beautify the surroundings of "Nebraska's Memorial Elm" are under way. While this "American Elm" stands, it remains a tribute to Mother Nature and Nebraska pioneers.
