

WESELVAN PRESIDENT ADDRESSES STUDENTS REGARDING IDEALISM

Chancellor Cutshall Advises Group to Construct Higher Spiritual Standards

"Bring your spiritual thinking up to a par with your interest in material things," advised Elmer G. Gutshall, Chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan, in a chapel address given Monday, Nov. 18.

Chancellor Cutshall proceeded to draw a visual picture on either side of him, one side representing nature on the inside of us and the other nature on the outside of us. He listed many things pertaining to the nature inside of us such as, capacity to believe, to thirst, to recline; mathematics, movement of the mind and body; and religion, justice, education, libraries, societies etc. On our outward side he named mountains, rivers, minerals, fertility of the soil; mining, horticulture, agriculture, transportation, machinery, and inventions. "During the last one hundred years," continued Mr. Cutshall, "the outside natural forces have been going 120 miles per hour and the inside (spiritual) only 20 miles per hour. Western civilization should make a chapter in history."

"When the moral and social forces break down, there is war, the whole order of people set the stage. Worship of the material and neglect of the spiritual is a basic cause of all wars. Jesus Christ can save the world by directing the tools of man in the right direction. This is a century of unbalanced culture and of mechanical emphasis."

In reference to prohibition, Chancellor Cutshall said, "If others become 'moist', we must remain 'dry' and there will be less competition."

In closing, Mr. Cutshall declared, "This nation stands for progress which is determined by the social standing of society."

NEBRASKA CONFERENCE LEADER GIVES ADDRESS

Dr. Vannice Speaks of Leadership to Chapel Group

"We must have faith, courage, and a keen vision in order to be successful today", was an outstanding statement made by Dr. A. P. Vannice, '15, Superintendent of the Nebraska Conference, in an address to the students in chapel, on Thursday, Dec. 8.

"Leadership" was the subject of Dr. Vannice's talk. "The world is in great need of leadership, which," he said, "must come from the colleges. We cannot get all of the qualities of leadership by studying books; much training comes through experiences in outside activities."

"The spiritual side of our lives needs strengthening. So far, we have been laying too much stress on the tangible and material things. We must be able to inspire confidence in others and to get down to basic things—to unseen reality," continued Dr. Vannice.

"We need leaders who will reach right conclusions and who will correct wrong by right. Let us not be overcome by wrong conclusions and crooked thinking. We must equip ourselves for the problems before us."

In conclusion, Dr. Vannice urged that we use these days to the best advantage that we may get the most out of life.

FORMER STUDENT IS CHOSEN COMMISSIONER

Harry Guy Taylor, of Washington, D. C., a former York College student, was recently chosen commissioner for western railroads by the Union Pacific railroad.

Taylor, a native of Wilber, Nebr., attended York College in 1898-99, being enrolled in the academy. Mr. Taylor is well known in Nebraska, formerly a member of the state legislature, railway commissioner, and was then promoted to a position as personal relations employee. His new work in the west will begin on Dec. 15.

METHODIST MINISTER IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Local Pastor Urges Students to "Clean Up Your Own Backyards"

"Clean up your back-yards" urged the Rev. Oliver Keve, pastor of the local Methodist church, in his address to the student group in Chapel, on Wednesday, Nov. 30.

The Rev. Keve first cited the example of a farmer near York, who keeps both his front-yard and his back-yard very clean and planted with beautiful shrubs and trees. He also said that we might take the territory around the University of Chicago to be Chicago's "front-yard" and the foreign section of the city (the Ghetto), not far away, to be the "back-yard." "The Ghetto," he said, "is a distinct picture of negligence and filth. In judging a place, we must consider the back-yard as well as the front-yard."

"Our personal 'back-yards' " he continued, "may be represented by personality." He gave an example of a bright industrious youth, who, because he lacked personality, could not mix with others. There was also another fellow whose "back-yard" had grown up with weeds of jealousy and who "just couldn't stand to see someone succeed where he had failed." This man's "front-yard", happened to be in fair condition.

"If we desire attractive property, we get out a hoe, matches, and rake and clean up our back-yard." In like manner, he urged his audience to clean up the "back-yard" of their personality. "Success lies in keeping our 'back-yard' in good condition."

The text, which the speaker gave at the conclusion of his talk, was taken from Shakespeare's "Hamlet." "To thine own self be true, and it must follow, as the night the day, thou canst not then be false to any man."

RELATION OF STUDENTS TO CHURCH DISCUSSED

Prof. Doty Speaker at Y. M. C. A. Regular Meeting

"Speaking on the subject 'The Student's Relationship to the Church' at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Dec. 6, Prof. E. I. Doty stressed the need of cooperation between the college and the church in securing new students and establishing correct relationships between college folks and intermediates of the church.

"The church", stated Prof. Doty, "should not be considered just another campus organization. I think of the church as something of a social center."

According to Prof. Doty, the Christian college ought to place responsibilities upon students. The local church should and does furnish us with a place for work.

After group singing, Vernie Buttermore led the devotionals. Prof. Hill gave the closing prayer.

HOLIDAY SEASON TO FEATURE MEETING OF ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

W. B. Johns, H. G. Stout Are to Be Among Speakers Attending Mid-year Dinner

W. B. Jones '01, Supervisor of Mathematics in the Teachers' College High School at the University of Nebraska, and H. G. Stout '09, (B. Ed.), Professor of Psychology at Kearney Normal School, are expected to be among the speakers at the mid-year meeting of the York College Alumni Association, according to Miss Eleanor Allen '28 a member of the program committee. This meeting is to be held on the evening of December 27 at the United Brethren Church. Other interesting program numbers are being planned and a large attendance is anticipated.

The dinner hour will be 6:30 P. M. and the price per plate twenty-five cents. Alumni and friends planning to attend are urged to notify Mrs. Theodore Thompson (Reatha Feaster '27), 905 East Tenth Street, or Miss Hazel Bearss '30, 1102 East Tenth Street, (Telephone 894 w 1) by December 26, or earlier if possible.

Announcement of the meeting is being made entirely through the press without the aid of the usual printed invitation. So members of the Association are being urged to notify former students living in their vicinity who do not receive The Sandburr, according to Miss Edith Callender '15, vice-president of the Association, Prof. T. J. Vei Baller '23, Alumni president, now on leave of absence from York College is taking graduate work in the University of Minnesota, but is expected to be in York in time to attend the mid-year reunion. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Baller, '28 (Grace Evans).

HAROLD COLVIN SPEAKS AT Y. M. C. A. MEETING

Economic Order the Subject for Thought

The weakness of the present economic order as discussed by Harold Colvin, field secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for the Rocky Mountain Region, who spoke at the regular meeting of the association November 22.

After group singing, Russel Lewis led the devotionals. Frank Green sang "One Fleeting Hour" by Dorothy Lee.

The necessity of thorough preparation on the part of the young men of today in order to meet adequately the complex-problems of civilization was stressed by the speaker. According to Mr. Colvin it is plain to be seen that our economic order of things must either be readjusted or cast aside in favor of a new one.

"It is for us to decide which course will be the best to follow. However, we should retain the best features of our present system in creating a new one which will insure an adequate standard of living to more people than does the present system."

In trying to find a remedy, Mr. Colvin urged every young person to weigh and analyze very carefully any new Utopian plan for it might in practice prove to be worse than our present one.

HICE REPRESENTS COLLEGE IN CONTEST

William Hice represented York College Friday, Dec. 9th, in the State Old Line Oratorical Contest held at Dana Colege at Blair. The oration, given in the local contest recently, was entitled "The Fourteenth Point".

In connection with the contest a state meeting of college debaters was held, to decide the interpretation of the debate question for the year. Russel Lewis was the York delegate at this meeting. Debate Coach Prof. J. C. Morgan and Miss Alma Tress Lundman also attended.

COLLEGE BIOLOGIST SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Tells of History of Medicine and Progress in Recent Scientific Methods

"Barbers were the first anatomists", said Prof. Ray Hill when he spoke to the student body in Chapel on Thursday morning, Dec. 1. He defined anatomy as the science that "embraces the gross structure of plants and animals."

The following facts as told by Prof. Hill were noteworthy: Galen (130-200 years) was one of the first anatomists. He erred very often in his work because he did not have the human body to dissect. Not until about 1300 years after the death of Galen was there any criticism of his work. This critic was Vesalius, who disregarded nearly all of Galen's beliefs. There were no drawings except for a few wood carvings.

About this time several important discoveries were made. The first that Prof. Hill mentioned was that the jaw bone is in one piece and not in two as had been previously supposed. William Harvey discovered that the blood flowed in a continuous circulatory system. It was also discovered that the thigh bones are straight and that man has an equal number of ribs on each side of his body.

Because scientists are becoming more learned as to the details of the human body, many more lives are being saved.

"The life of man, during a 45 year period ending in 1925, was increased 16.5 years", said Prof. Hill in conclusion.

DISCUSSION LED BY MRS. DOTY AT Y. W. C. A.

Working Philosophy of Life Considered by College Women

The idea that the philosophy exemplified in the life and teachings of Jesus will establish the basic fundamentals of character and lead the way to happiness was expressed by Mrs. E. I. Doty at the Y. W. C. A. meeting November 22.

Stressing the point that men and women do not drift into good character, Mrs. Doty used the eight beatitudes of Jesus' sermon on the mount as a basis for her address.

Dividing the beatitudes so that the first four were personal qualities, the speaker emphasized humility, open mindedness, self control, meekness and the desire for improvement.

The remaining beatitudes deal with the relationship between one person and another and must be presided over by the personal qualities. According to Mrs. Doty, there should be a sympathetic mercy, a deep reverence for the person of others, heroic service, and peace-making in the character to which Jesus calls.

Eleanor Maxson led the devotionals and Alma Walker played a piano solo "The Mount of the Holy Cross" by Sawyer.

PANTHER SQUAD IS HONORED AT ANNUAL FOOTBALL BANQUET

Herbert Burnham Is Elected Captain for Next Season by "Y" Men

One hundred twenty-five students, faculty members and friends attended the annual football banquet held at the Presbyterian church Dec. 2.

Contrary to the past custom of choosing game captains, Herbert Burnham was elected football captain for the coming year by the "Y" members.

Decorations for the banquet included the college colors in streamers, with the programs and place cards made in the shape of brown oak leaves. Milkweed pods served as mint cups, and the table centerpieces were white chrysanthemums.

The toast program was centered around the word "Squads." Floyd Merchant, Panther Club president, acted as toastmaster, welcoming the group who honored the football team. Joe M. Alden, a former York College football star, headed the program with two vocal solos, "Roadways" and "Golden Days". Mrs. Alden acted as accompanist.

Jack Graham gave the first toast of the evening, responding to the Word "Quarterback." After outlining the duties of this particular player, he advised the students to use the tactics of the quarterback; namely, to use strategy, and when in doubt to kick.

Walter Speece next spoke on the title which has been so often applied to the college team—"Under-Dogs." He outlined a play by play account of the students vs faculty game, with the students playing the part of the underdogs who finally won their grades. After remarking that to be an underdog was no disgrace if the student did his best, he closed with Shakespeare's quotation "the fault, dear Brutus, lies not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings."

THERON MAXSON CHOSEN CONFERENCE DELEGATE

President Speaks to Y. M. C. A. Of Social Life

At the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Nov. 29, Theron Maxson, '33, was elected to represent that organization at the annual student conference to be held at Dayton, Ohio, the 29th to the 31st of Dec., 1932.

The meeting opened with a song, after which Walter Speece led the devotionals. Carroll and Paul Myers gave two musical numbers in the form of a trumpet-trombone duet.

After the vote was taken and the elected representative announced, President Overmiller delivered a short message. His theme was, "Jesus as a Social Man". He stressed the fact that Jesus never complained or expressed sorrow for himself even when as a lamb he was led to the slaughter.

"Jesus had social contacts", continued Pres. Overmiller. "He talked to folk and mingled with them. He didn't lead a secluded life but went into the homes of people with a purpose, but also for the pleasure and sociability of the visit".

Prof. Morgan dismissed the meeting with a prayer.

York College—York College!

"I THINK"

In a recent class, composed of juniors and seniors, all but two students began their recitations with "I think". A cynic, listening to the recitation, might have laughed. For the answers given, the observations made, followed the ideas of the man who wrote the text, or of some of his contemporaries.

College students are supposed to think, to evaluate ideas advanced by others, and, from the experiences of others, to form ideals and ideas which we call our own. But how many of us are really telling the truth when we begin our recitations with the accepted formula?

The next time a professor asks you a question, hesitate a moment and ponder on what you intend to say. Are you advancing a truth which you have made your own, or are you glibly repeating something heard before? Perhaps college students might accomplish more if they thought more and said less often "I think".

HERE'S LUCK!

As the final whistle of the Cotner game blew, three York College men finished their football careers, checked in their outfit, and remarked—"Well! After all, their conversation has no place in the topic considered.

Football, according to those that play it, is not all fun. There are often casualties and occasionally serious injuries. And certainly football is no afternoon tea party. One or two years of "toting the pig skin" may be real fun, but it is apt to get a little tiresome before the four years are over.

This is no banquet, but the editor pauses to propose a toast. Here's to three seniors, three football men, three who will be missed next year—Maurice Brookhart, Wilbur Gard, and Marvin Heraey. Here's luck!

ADVICE

Christmas is just ahead, according to the calendar, the shop-windows, and the weather. The economists, the leaders of financial affairs, urge each of us to open our toy banks, count our pennies and then buy. The old warning, "Do your Christmas shopping early", might well be changed to "Do your shopping".

As you make out your shopping list, read the SANDBURR ads. As you wave a fond farewell to your kels, place them in the hands of the merchants who advertise in your paper.

Read the SANDBURR ads, remember the advertiser's names, and buy of them. They'll appreciate it, and so will we. And—Do your Christmas shopping!

President's Message

UNBROKEN RANKS

The man who falls from the ranks of an advancing army must be replaced. The replacement is costly. In the end the second man is doubly expensive to the organization and the first man is a total loss. Our student army is facing a strong foe. Will the ranks be unbroken on February first, second semester opening? Some say that the cart wheels (dollars) with which we win at registration time are getting scarce. It is time to make plans for next registration. During the holiday vacation, students have time to make plans, counsel with parents or friends and arrange for second semester finances. Let us hope that not a single student drops from our ranks.

New recruits should arrive for the next term. Who will help enlist them? It will be both effective and appreciated if all students of the present body will make earnest effort to bring in new recruits for our second semester army. No one can be as effective in boosting for new students as the person who has been on the campus and worked in the class rooms. Come on, students, let us pull together for an increased army. During vacation let us search out young people who should be in college and bring them in. Let no one of our present group fall by the way-side. No one can afford to mark time for the next six months.

Elite Column

"If manners made the man, manners are the woman herself; because with her they are the outward and visible token of her inward and spiritual grace, or disgrace, and flow instinctively, whether good or bad, from the instincts of her inner nature."—Charles Kingsley.

The questions answered below are among the outstanding ones which have come to the attention of the SANDBURR Elite Editor during the past week.

Question 1:

If a young man or a young lady is entertaining a caller, and father or mother comes in, what procedure should follow?

Answer:

When mother enters the living room while you have a caller, rise quickly and introduce your guest. "Mother, this is Blanche Brown, a classmate of mine. Blanche, this is my mother". The introduction would be the same in form if the caller is a young man. After the introduction, ask your mother if she will join you, offer her the most comfortable chair, and explain to her what you and your friend are doing or planning. If your mother feels she cannot take part in your occupation, she will not remain; but she will be pleased to know that you want her. Always give her the opportunity to decide whether or not she will join you. Your men friends can judge quickly by your manners to your mother whether you are a safe person to cultivate.

Your father entering the room should receive the same courtesy as your mother. "Father, you remember James Blair, don't you? James, you've met my father before".

In all introductions, it is a safe rule to follow that you present young people to older people; less distinguished people to more distinguished ones. A man is presented to a woman, and a boy to a girl.

Question 2:

How should one introduce an individual to a group?

Answer:

You may say, "I want all of you to meet my friend, Blanche Brown. Blanche, this is Irma Jones; Harry Bolton; and so on, giving each one in order around the room a personal introduction.

If, however, a person arrives late at a gathering and the others are already engaged in some diversion, introduce the late comer only to such persons as are not disturbed thereby, waiting for a more convenient time to introduce others.

The person being introduced should recognize each in turn by a smile, and inclination of the head, and if possible, by a repetition of the name.

CAPTAIN ELECTED

Herbert Burnham, a sophomore and former York high school gridder, was chosen to captain the 1933 Panthers at the annual football banquet on, Dec. 2. After having been led by game captains for several years, the lettermen of this year's team voted for a single team captain. Burnham is a backfield performer, having played at quarter, half, and fullback. Due to an injury in practice before the Hastings game he was out of the lineup until late in the season but returned to the squad in time to see action in a couple of the later games.

By Mrs. Nothing

A few days ago, Mrs. Nothing was on her way home. She was walking on one of President Oyer Miller's "cownpaths" west of the Library Building. She heard steps behind her. The steps were coming fast; they came nearer—still nearer. Who was it? Surely it was not Maurice Brookhart, a misplaced senator on an investigation, with other of his key-hole sleuths, looking for Mrs. Nothing. She finally turned around and beheld her pursuers—two black-and-white cows.

Mrs. Nothing is trying to solve an important problem. Teddy and Mrs. Maxson always, come in to Social Education class a few minutes late. What we want to know is, what kind of a timepiece do they carry, a clock or a calender?

Have you met Lawrence Rogers, the "overall boy"? If you should get caught in a rainstorm, just take breeches to Rogers to have them dried. Recently he hung a pair of his over the stove. When he returned a few hours later he found a few brass buttons and several flaming fragments to greet him.

It has been reported to Mrs. Nothing that Nadine Robinson looketh foolish and bluseth if someone mentions "hat" to her.

Mrs. Nothing happened to peek out from one of the windows in the chapel in time to behold a battle royal on a certain Tuesday night. A short time later a tackle on a football team was heard inquiring about the decolorizing properties of beef steak at a local cafe. (Continued from page 1)

A girl's trio consisting of Evelyn McKain, Doris Stiverson, and Lucille Campbell furnished the "Aria" singing "Twelve by the Clock" and a special arrangement of "All American Girl." The piano accompaniment was played by Belva Blakely.

"Ditty" given by Bernice Johnson, consisted of the "did-he" of college life, of the freshmen, of scholarship, and of football. Her toast ended with a tribute to the cheer leaders and the faithful spectators.

Theron Maxson, student manager of the football team, closed the program with a "Spinner." He related various incidents of the football trips as seen by a student manager, and wished the 1933 team success.

After the program, Coach Howard Hill announced the names of the 1932 lettermen, and the name of the new captain. Football men earning letters by playing ten quarters of football are: Hersey, Gard, Brookhart, Hoffman, Conklin, Lewis, Moline, Burnham, Moore, Maurer, Seigel, Speece, Anderson, R. Graham, J. —wishes the faculty and students of York College a Very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Blakely entertained the group with musical numbers, and following the supper hour the group adjourned to Miss Lundman's studio in the college administration building. A number of games and stunts were enjoyed, the program being in charge of Lucille Dierdorff, freshmen class president.

Miss Alma Tress Lundman and Prof. J. G. Morgan are the sponsors of the freshman class.

SURVEY OF COLLEGE

The Board of Religious Education of the United Brethren church has called a conference of a limited number of young people from the denominational colleges and from the seminary to study college life and college problem*.

Students to represent York College have been chosen by the Y. W. C. A., the Life Work Recruits, and the Y. M. C. A., Melva Tack by the Life Work Recruits; Marlon Hill was elected by the Y. W. C. A. and Theron Maxson by the Y. M. C. A.

In order that the college might have some definite material to present to the conference a survey was given out at chapel Dec. 2 in which the students ranked the problem* which will be considered at the conference and checked the five most vital personal problems on the campus.

According to this survey, disinterest in the church, is the most vital personal problem, a narrow religious interest ranked second and smoking came next. Cribbing in exams, group rivalries, and student-faculty relationship, followed in the order named.

One of York's representatives will present the problem of how to prepare students for post graduate work in the church. Among the speakers at the conference, which will meet Dec. 29 to January 1, are the Rev. Roy Burkhardt, Dean G. E. Ashcraft, former Dean of York College, and O. T. Deever, secretary of the Board of Education.

MARION HILL DELEGATE

The customary plan of having only women address the Y.W.C.A. was set aside at the meeting Nov. 29 when Ray Hill spoke on the subject, "A Scientist Looks at Religion".

"There can be no conflict between one truth and another truth," stated Prof. Hill, "and there has been no conflict between science and religion although there have been conflicts between science and theology." The speaker continued by giving examples of facts which are now generally accepted but which were disputed by theologians when the facts were first presented by science.

"After all," concluded Prof Hill, "God should mean something personal to each one who will look for God in Jesus. And love is the thing we should look for in religion—love as exemplified by Him who died for us."

The devotions were led by Melva Tack who emphasized the necessity for faith looking unto Jesus. Evelyn McKain sang, "The Prayer Perfect" by Riley.

WRESTLING CLASSES FORMED

Wrestling and boxing will form a part of the athletic activities of York College. Sixteen men answered the first call issued by Coach Howard Hill on Dec. 8.

Coach Hill explained that the classes will meet on Wednesday and Friday afternoons at the college gymnasium. He stated that a tournament will be staged as soon as the boys acquire some of the technique relative to their particular sport.

Those who enlisted for boxing and wrestling are: Bernabe Herrera, Vernie Buttermore, Calvin Feemster, David Ender, Wilbur Gard, Harold Leib, Jim Speece, Maurice Wilson, Willard Walker, Paul Mohler, Raymond Miller, Russell Lewis, Lyndle Moore, Russell Smith, Bernard Mohler and Charles Lenihan.

ZETAS MEET

Nine new members were voted into the Zeta society Tuesday, Nov. 29. They were Melva Tack, Vernie Buttermore, Frank Green, Dorothy Sittler, Eva Johnson, Willard Walker, Viola Wimmer, Warren Witham, and Carol Harrah.

It was decided at this meeting that a Christmas party be the feature of the next meeting to be held Dec. 13. In addition to a Christmas program, games and refreshments, and a formal and informal initiation were planned.

The program for November 29 consisted of a piano solo "In an Old Fashioned Garden", by Poole played by Doris Stiverson; "The Zeta Herald", compiled by Odessa Green, Cora Mae Hayhurst, and Edward Medina, read by Cora Mae Hayhurst; and "Picture Ahead", a talk given by Carroll Myers.

Hersey At Center On Reek's All- Conference Team

Moline on Second Team; Gard and Lewis Get Mention

W. Emerson Reck, Professor of Journalism at Midland and recognized N. C. A. C. statistician, placed Marvin Hersey of the York Panthers at center on his mythical All-Conference selection.

Robert Moline was awarded a halfback post on the second team while Wilbur Gard and Russel Lewis received honorable mention.

The first team selections were: Kobes, Doans and Harbaugh, Hastings, ends; Bosserman, Hastings and Johnson, Wesleyan, tackles; Biffar, Midland, and Chamberlain, Hastings, guards; HERSEY, YORK, center; Carlton, Midland, quarterback; Dutton and Mercier, Hastings, halfbacks; Gibb, Wesleyan, fullback. Rounds, Hastings, line replacement, and Gardner, Cotner, backfield replacement.

The second team selections were: Smith, Wesleyan and Don Shuman, Cotner, ends; Oberg, Midland and Rasmussen, Cotner, tackles; Bridges, Wesleyan and Yant, Doane, guards; Consbruck, Hastings, center; C. Stone, Doane, quarterback; MOLINE, YORK, and Chase, Hastings, halfbacks; Lyman, Midland, fullback. March, Midland, line replacement; Weyand, Cotner, backfield replacement.

Honorable Mention went to Brown, Hastings and Morehouse, Wesleyan, ends; LEWIS, YORK, and Stevenson, Doane, tackles; GARD, YORK, and Coffman, Wesleyan and Bell, Cotner, guards; Spear, Wesleyan, and Davis, Midland, centers; Trott and Griffin, Wesleyan; Holm and Glenn, Hastings; Bennet, Doane; Clair, Lyman and Somerhalder, Cotner, backs.

FOUR BASKETBALL LETTERMEN RETURN

Fifty Men Reporting for Practice This Season

The 1932-33 Panther basketball team have four lettermen about which to build a representative team. Captain Marvin Hersey, Robert Moline, and Henry Franz are veteran guards while Dale Jones is the only veteran forward.

After the Interclass tourney in which the Sophs dethroned the juniors, the squad went under the knife and those failed to survive are being organized into an intramural league.

Candidates who are showing up well besides the lettermen include Anderson, Seigel, Everett Green, Jim and Walter Speece, Jack Graham, Orville Moore, Albert Hansen, and Ray Miller. Jack Mlnnick and Wayne Norwood, who will be eligible at the end of the semester, are also making a strong bid.

Howard Kingsley

Chalk up another year of football in your book as it will soon be history. Solve your own equations as to the brand of football played in the N. C. A. C. conference this year for it is primarily a matter personal opinion. Keep your results for they will be interesting to note a few years from now. Whether N. C. A. C. teams played a better brand of ball this year than last year is a problem with no correct answer. There is no standard for comparing football teams of ten years ago with the teams of today. Perhaps this year's Y. C. team was better than last year's team or vice versa, or maybe this year's team would have taken last year's championship and Wesleyan's championship team of this year taken the cellar position in last year's competition. So you can see it is a puzzling question to answer. Your results are just as near right as your friend's are.

It is very common to hear a person at some N. C. A. C. game say that there are too many referees in the grand stand meaning of course that there are several people in every audience that do not agree with the officials' decision on some more or less difficult situation. Many times out of ten those said people wouldn't know the difference between the pivot position and the key position on a basketball team. As a matter of fact there isn't any difference but they wouldn't know that either. For the benefit of those unfortunate individuals a few of the most important rules for the 1932-1933 'basketball season will be given. They are as follows: 1. Team gaining possession of the ball in the back court (back of center) has 10 seconds to advance the ball into the front court. Failure to do so means the loss of the ball to opponents. 2. After ball is in front court it can not be thrown back to the back court unless one of the four following things takes place: a. try for point has been made. b. jump ball takes place, c. out-of-bounds award has been made. d. ball has been recovered by opponents. The ball can be passed back only once. 3. Player while in free throw lane with his back towards his own basket can not keep the ball from play more than three seconds. Failure to comply with these last two rules means the loss of the ball to the opponents. 4. Blocking is defined as personal contact which impedes the progress of the individual. Penalty—personal foul. 5. Face guarding means disregarding the ball and playing the man. Penalty—personal foul. On examining these rules it shows that basketball will be much faster and cleaner this year than in previous years.

Howard Hill, coach of the Panther teams, gave me some interesting facts concerning N. C. A. C. basketball prospects for the 1932-1933 season. N. C. A. C. opens its basketball season the first week in January. York plays its first conference game against Doane on January 7. Last year Doane nosed out York by a one point margin in an extra period game. Doane has only two lettermen back this year but they inherited some fine material from Crete high school including Kobes, last year's all-state high school center. York also with two lettermen back has some promising material in Seigel, Anderson, J. Graham, Buzz Moore, Miller, Leidtke, Varcoe, and J. Speece. Midland, the conference champions for the past two years should have little trouble in repeating their little act as they are fortunate enough in having eight veterans back including Wilson and Davis, sensational forward and center respectively. Cotner with four lettermen returning plus the entire Bethany high squad that won The Greater Lincoln League last year should be right in the money this year. Wesleyan with six lettermen back should be considered in the conference battle. Hastings winning only a couple of games last year will probably be the "dark horse" of the conference. Coach Keel loses two valuable players in the Bivens twins. Is N. C. A. C. basketball should prove interesting this year with outstanding individual performance plus team cooperation.

HASTINGS TIES WESLEYAN FOR N. C. A. C. TITLE

Championship Remains as an Unsettled Question

Nebraska Wesleyan was forced to share the 1932 N. C. A. C. football title with Hastings college by virtue of a 7-7 tie in their annual Turkey Day battle. Hastings outyarded the Wesleyan aggregation but failed to push across the coveted counters for victory. It looks as if the "Bronchs" may someday be champs, having approached a step closer this year than last. Last year they were undefeated but ties with York and Midland marred their slate, while Wesleyan made a clean sweep. Both Wesleyan and Hastings swept through conference competition this year without a scar until they met each other. As a consequence they are recognized as co-holders of the title.

Panthers Defeat

Concordia 40-32

Hillmen Open Cage Season With Win At Seward

The York College Cagesitters made their official debut for the 1932-33 basketball season by defeating Concordia Teachers College 40-32 at Seward on the evening of Dec. 9. Taking an early lead the Panthers rolled up 13 points before the Teachers registered in the scoring column. York led 20-12 at the end of the half.

Schmidt of Concordia copped individual scoring honors of the evening with nine points.

Hersey and Ray Miller led the York scoring with eight points each while Franz followed closely with seven.

The floor work of Hersey, Graham, and Jones was outstanding features of the game.
