

FRESHMEN FIND LAW OF STUDENT COUNCIL LAID DOWN FOR THEM

New Rules for Court Procedure to Be Put Into Effect at the Opening Trial

The Student Council, believing that a new procedure should be worked out for the trying of Freshmen who have violated the "Freshmen Code of Rules", have drawn up a new set of laws for the manner in which the Freshman court shall be organized and, to a considerable extent, the way in which the court shall be conducted.

In former years the members of the Student Council have acted in the capacity of jurists. However, it has been pointed out that the dignity of the Student Council is subject to question under such circumstances and as a result the new procedure has been made ready to go into operation.

Due to the re-organization the court has not convened as yet but by the time this has gone to press it is more than likely that several unsuspecting Freshmen will have felt its power.

Raymond Wochner was selected by the Frosh as their choice of the two upperclasses for Judge. The Prosecuting attorney for the Senior class is Russel Lewis and for the Junior class, Russel Smith. The Sophomores' choice has not been learned. The Freshmen's defending attorneys are, Robert Hawley, Ralph Jordan, and Irvin Lewis.

Following are the ten rules drawn up by William Hice, Vice-President of the Student Council, for the conducting of the court:

I
The purpose of this court shall be to enforce justly and fairly the Freshman rules as created by the Student Council.

II
Regular court sessions are to be held at 12:30 p. m. every Tuesday during the period in which these rules are in force.

III
Members composing the Freshman court shall be one judge, six jury members, two prosecuting attorneys and six defending attorneys.

IV
The judge shall be chosen in the following manner: The Student Council representatives of the Freshman class, the president of the Freshman class, and the vice-president of the Freshman class shall serve as a nominating committee to select three members of either the junior or Senior class who they believe would be fair and impartial in the enforcement of Freshman rules. These three names shall then be presented to the Freshman class for the purpose of electing one to serve as judge. The nominee receiving the highest vote shall be declared judge for the period during which these rules are to be in force.

The duties of the judge shall be to arrange the order in which the cases are to be tried; to preside at all court sessions; and to order special court sessions when necessary.

V
A jury member shall be a member of one of the three upperclasses. A jury for a day's session will be selected in the following manner: The Student Council shall make a list of thirty eligible people who they believe would make efficient jury members during the period which Freshmen rules are to be in force. Each Wednesday at its regular meeting, the Student Council shall choose at random six people who are to serve on cases booked for trial on the following Tuesday. No person, however, will be allowed to be selected by the Student Council twice in succession.

The duty of a jury member is to hear all evidence for the cases to

JURISTS SELECTED FOR FROSH COURT

Thirty Members of the Three Upperclasses Chosen

The student council has selected thirty members of the three upperclasses from which six persons shall be chosen to serve on the jury for each Freshman court. Under the new laws, no person can serve on two consecutive court sessions. Judge Wochner announced the following drawn for the first jury, Arthur Amadon, Donald Varcoe, Robert Moline, Dave Ender, Jack Graham, and Melvin Thompson.

The thirty people from whom will be drawn the jurists are: Henry Franz, William Hice, Floyd Merchant, Tennis Hoffman, Mildred Thompson, Donald Varcoe, Arthur Amadon, Melvin Thompson, Rodney Whittemore, Evelyn McKain, Robert Moline, Margaret Johnson, LeRoy Ayers, Dave Ender, Lyndle Moore, James Speece, Lucille Westwood, Vernie Buttermore, Jack Graham, Robert Graham, Walter Speece, Warren Witham, Willard Walker, Constantine Trued, Harry Stephenson, Everett Green, Wayne Norwood, Tom King, Ruth Spore, and Irene Thompson.

STUDENTS RALLY TO SUPPORT OF GRIDMEN

Parade Through Business Houses and Enliven Classes

Displaying a school spirit, not like that which waned into submission last year, but a spirit full of vim and vigor, the majority of the York College Student Body rallied in pleasing fashion to give the team a rousing send-off for the battle at Hastings.

At noon before the team left, a large group held a snake dance in the business district, giving yells in several business houses. Ancient autos decorated for the occasion added color to the spectacle.

Returning to the college campus, they visited each class and gave a rousing cheer at the entrance of each classroom. Professors stood in amazement but after the brief visit classes were resumed.

A member of the group was heard to state that: Doty beamed in recognition of the enthusiasm; Ordway spoke encouragement; Miss Slee frowned; Miss Wakelin and Keim patiently awaited the worst; and Miss Callender stood calmly at attention.

Spirit was also very much in evidence at the game. York cries were heard to ring as loudly as those of the home rooters at Hastings, thus showing the numbers journeying from York to see the game.

TOUR EUROPEAN STATES AT ZETAS ON OCT. 24

Tour the United States, British Isles, France, Germany, Italy, and Spain with the Zetas! Tuesday evening, Oct. 24, will find us at Hotel Waldorf, in New York City, reviewing our American tour and making preparations to set sail for London.

W. A. A. HAVE PICNIC

Members of the Woman's Athletic Association donned hiking clothes and proceeded to an attractive spot near the Country Club, Tuesday, October 3, where they made merry at a picnic. Mrs. Guy Ordway sponsored the group.

After the festivities were over, a business meeting was held at which the possibilities of organizing a pep club were discussed.

"So This Is London" to Be Presented by the Histrionic Players

Three Act Comedy Drama to Be Given at York High School on November 10

The York College Players, better known as the Histrionic Club, will present "So This Is London", a three act comedy by Arthur Goodrich, at the York High School Auditorium on the evening of November 10.

Arthur Goodrich is one of the better known American dramatists and in this instance presents a plot about which is built many a laugh.

The story concerns a typical American and a likewise typical English family who will have nothing to do with each other. A son of the American family falls in love with a daughter of the English family and the plot is based around the ruse by which the two families are made friends and the marriage of the young couple is sanctioned.

The production is under the supervision of Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the Expression department.

Following are the cast of characters: Hiram Draper Jr.—William Hice; Elinor Beauchamp—Irene Hofgard; Lady Amy Duckworth—Lucille Evans; Hiram Draper Sr.—Marvin Hess; Mrs. Hiram Draper—Lucille Dierdorff; Flunky At The Ritz—Harold Burhoop; Sir Percy Beauchamp—Ormal Tack; Alfred Honeycutt—Bernabe Herrera; Lady Beauchamp—Dorothy Riggs; Thomas, a butler—Nelson Ronne; Jennings, another butler—Max Riggs.

Those who composed the team were Vernie Butterworth, chairman, Bernabe Herrera, Levi Johnson, Carroll and Paul Myers, and Carl and Samuel Lee. The program consisted of three talks on "Sin", "Sacrifice", and "Salvation", a reading, a vocal duet, and an instrumental duet.

"Y" CLUB PICNIC

The "Y" Club held their annual "date" picnic for the benefit of the new football men at Downey's grove west of town on the evening of Oct. 13.

This is an annual occasion at which it is necessary for every active member of the "Y" Club to be present. The foot ball team is invited and every man present is required to bring a date or receive spats from the group as a penalty.

Kittenball, speeches, instrumental music and group singing furnished entertainment for the evening.

Refreshments of weiners, buns, pickles, apples, and marshmallows were served. About seventy people were present.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR TENDERS RECEPTION

Annual Party for New Students Given at U. B. Church

The annual reception sponsored by the Senior Christian Endeavor was held in the United Brethren Church, on Wednesday evening, October 4. About 65 students were in attendance.

The address of welcome was given by Carroll Myers, temporary chairman. The response, in behalf of the new students was given by Ormal Tack. Winifred Ordway, of the Junior department, read "Who's Afraid", by Marjorie Benton Cooke. A saxophone solo, entitled "Piggly Wiggle", was presented by Virgil Walker. Paul Myers offered a trombone selection, entitled, "Crying for my Old Kentucky Home", by Fishback. The concluding number of the formal part of the reception was a piano solo, played by Dorothy Miracle. It was a composition by Crammond, entitled "Fond Recollection."

The social hour was directed by a committee composed of John Boren, Ormal Tack, and Vera Thamer. After several lively games, refreshments were served by Mildred Thompson, Melba Manning, and Cecil Smith, who made up the refreshment committee.

PROF. BALLER LEADS RECRUITS DISCUSSION

Professor Warren Baller led the discussion on "How to find the kingdom of Christ in our lives" at the meeting of the Life Work Recruits on Monday evening, October 9.

This organization has weekly meetings on Monday evenings in the recreation room of the Conservatory. Members are those interested in Christian service. With the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. the Recruits are helping to sponsor the maintenance of a worker in the foreign mission field. Every two years one of the United Brethren Colleges providing the most money may send a representative to take the place of the one who has been there. No college may send a worker a second time till all have had a turn. The institutions working on the project are Otterbein College, Lebanon Valley, Indiana Central, Bonebrake Seminary, Shenandoah, and York.

Y. W. C. A. Has Hike for Big-Little Sisters

A group of about thirty Big and Little Sisters of the Y. W. C. A. went on the annual hike Monday, October 9. They met at four thirty o'clock in front of the "Con" and proceeded to the city park. A lively ball game with Geraldine Johnson and Elizabeth Feemster as captains, was an interesting episode. Apples, buns, wieners, pickles, and marshmallows, were enjoyed. Then just before the return, the group joined in singing songs about the campfire.

Y. M. C. A. DISCUSSES STUDENT PROBLEMS

Con Trued Favors Group with Two Solos

"Persistent Problems of the College Student" was the subject brought up for discussion by John Boren, at the Y. M. C. A. meeting of October 10.

Henry Franz led the singing of two songs and Irvin Lewis led the devotions. Constantine Trued sang two selections, "The Lord is My Strength," by Bruno Huhn and "Bells of the Sea". He was accompanied by William Hice. The problem for discussion was barely entered upon because of lack of time and it was suggested that the discussion be continued at the next meeting. Prof. Bisset dismissed the group with prayer.

HOMECOMING TO BE OBSERVED AT YORK COLLEGE ON NOV. 11

Midland to Meet York Panthers and Frosh to Battle Upperclassmen

York College will celebrate its annual Homecoming on November 11 with the Midland College Redskins holding the spotlight.

The Freshman Upperclassmen will open the day's program by clashing in their annual gridiron carnival at 9:00 a. m. The Freshmen have been victorious for the past two years but those upperclassmen who have tasted defeat for two consecutive years are determined to do a right-about-face.

A program and cafeteria luncheon will be held at the conservatory at noon. This will be open to any who wish to attend.

At 2:30 p. m. the Panthers meet Midland in an N. C. A. C. contest. The "Y" Club are planning a luncheon in the evening at the "Con" and hope to have all old "Y" Men back at this time.

ZETA ELECT OFFICERS

The Zeta Literary Society has completed the election of officers for this semester. They are: President, Vernie Butterworth; Vice President, Wilmer Maley; Secretary and Treasurer, Edith Lawson; Pianist, Viola Wimmer; Chorister, Jean Hanna; Chaplain, Frances Kimball; Sergeant-at-arms, Willard Walker.

Pals History to Be Placed in Records

"Develop society loyalty" and "re-vice traditions" were the admonitions of Prof. E. I. Doty, Pals critic, when he gave his report at the meeting of October 10. The following of these points is to be the aim of the Pals Literary Society this year.

An extempo, "First Impressions of College Life", was given by Harry Stephenson. A solo by Arthur Amadon, a discussion of "The History and Ideals of the Pals" by Evelyn Dixon, a reading by Marian Hill, and a piano solo, "Romance" by Jean Sibelius, given by Evelyn McKain, completed the program.

A business meeting after the program accomplished several important things. The history of the society is to be prepared and written into the records so that it will be preserved. A number of new students expressed their intention of becoming members of the organization.

BUSINESS COLLEGE PICNIC

Members of the commercial department with their sponsor, Prof. R. E. Townsend, enjoyed a picnic in the city park, Tuesday evening, October 10. The menu consisted of Wieners, buns, pickles, potato chips, and apples followed by marshmallows toasted over the campfire. The men of the group had a lively game of ball.

The officers of this organization are: President, Leonard Thompson; Vice President, Kenneth Liedtke; Secretary and Treasurer, Josephine Smith; Student Council Representative, Evelyn Bittinger, Panther Club representative, Geraldine Lamb and Kenneth Nelson.

WATCH YOUR DATES

Keep the way open for December 18th and January 8th. One fine thing about these occasions is that "activity tickets" is the pass-word. On December 18th—a quarter of a million volts of electricity is to be caused to pass through the body of some student on the college campus. You may want to help choose the victim. After this is done bells will ring and mysterious lights will appear. Mark up the date.

HOMECOMING

Time draws near for York College's Annual Homecoming. Once again co-eds, gridiron heroes, scholastic notables, orators, all summed up in graduates and former students, will tread the old familiar campus of by-gone days. Once again footsteps that can not be mistaken will ascend the time-worn stairs to the chapel that has brought many a happy moment as well as an occasional grip. But, without a doubt, the greatest thrill of all is the re-union of pals and friends of college days—the rehearsal of pranks, the worries of the Prof's; the fate of certain chapel notables, and each individual's occasional flash of brilliancy that threatened the very seats of the professors themselves???

Let's everyone, if it is possible, assemble on Homecoming, November 11, and renew these invaluable friendships of our college days.

PANTHER CLUB

The Panther Club is a student organization whose duty it is to promote college spirit. They should be especially active at this time of year when prospects for a championship football team are exceedingly bright.

But . . . where are they???. Have they passed on or out? Or are they in a physical state such that they need a spark to kindle them into a roaring flame. Perhaps that is the trouble which is causing their silence. We do not wish to advise but—we suggest that you, the Panther Club of 1933-34, effect an organization at once. Make your presence felt on the campus. You can do it. Put on a big PEP RALLY in chapel. Perhaps a comic football game, perhaps a radio broadcast, perhaps an Amadonian love scene—any one of these and many others will start you on the road to fame and success. Remember a large part of the injecting of insulin into this Panther football squad rests in your hands. DO NOT FAIL US.

WHAT I EXPECT TO GET OUT OF COLLEGE

A college is strictly an educational institution. Someone might ask, what is education? Education was formerly thought of as a pouring in process, but now it has come to the place where it is said to be a drawing out process. Therefore, looking at education from the drawing out viewpoint, I will endeavor to point out a few things that I hope to get out of college.

First, I hope most of all to get more knowledge of the world about me. I hope to get more knowledge of the plants, the animals, the different races of people and their languages, their customs, their art, their music, their religion and so on. Life really means more to a person who is acquainted with the lives lived by other people and even with the lives of plants and of animals of a very minute type.

Second, I hope to develop along social lines. There are really few things in this world that are more important than to live in harmony with one's fellow men. College is an institution where a feeling of fellowship should be cultivated until it blossoms into a flower of everlasting friendship that may be seen by many and enjoyed by all who come in contact with it.

Third, I hope to develop along spiritual lines. I hope to gain this development from the organization known as the "Young Men's Christian Association." The aims of this organization are high and I hope to draw helpful material from this source.

Fourth, I hope to develop along physical lines. Athletics has been of great importance from the time of the Greeks to the present time, and I rather believe that it is gaining rather than losing in importance. Every one should take part in some form of athletics for physical development.

Lastly, I hope to get a place where I can step from the "College" boat on the sea of "Education," to the dry land where every one must fight his own battles, and win, not a name of fame or a store of wealth for myself, but a home of happiness and contentment, where the spirit of service reigns supreme.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

Freshman, you are now in College. You are no longer individual big shots. No doubt it is pleasant to visualize yourself as still being the big frog in the high school puddle. You were an athletic star, a successful dramatist, a staunch debater or a valedictorian. You attained some amount of renown in high school but it will not carry you through College. You must begin again and build up a College reputation equal to the one you had attained in high school.

Select a course you like. Take subjects that you enjoy. Take them under instructors you like. Learn all you can and don't worry about what you can't learn. Get all you can out of College life and when you are through, stop a minute and reflect on what a wonderful experience it has been. Then turn resolutely forward and confront the problem of living a successful and beneficial life.

There, Freshmen, is the whole layout. Accept it and God Bless you for a wise man. Reject it and God Pity you for a conceited ass.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF COLLEGE LIFE

We, the new students, find college different from high school in many ways. In the first place, the upper classmen call us green, and inexperienced. Only last year we were in control of the high school; now we are controlled to a great extent. Last year there were those in comparison with whom we had superior mental attainments. This year students are working more of their own accord. They are more serious. They have paid money in order to learn; consequently the majority have ambition.

Religion is taken more seriously in college and we begin to see that the word "religion" has a very broad application. It does not merely mean something in connection with the Bible. It means our attitude toward God, our attitude toward ourselves and toward those about us. We find that our teachers take us at our word; therefore we feel that it is for our own good to be honest.

At the meetings of Y. M. C. A., we see the upper classmen taking the work of the organization seriously. They are building up their religions, their personalities, and so we must do the same.

In the classroom it is taken for granted that more must be covered in less time. In other words our scope is broadening bringing with it a stronger need for self reliance. No one student is intentionally favored more than another. We do our work ourselves, individually.

We are going to enjoy the new life.

WHAT I EXPECT TO GET OUT OF COLLEGE

The all-important thing that I intend to get out of college is an education. An education, as defined in the dictionary, is "the acquisition of knowledge, skill, or development of character, as by study or discipline." I wish to get something more than this alone, however. I wish to cultivate truer and better friendships. I wish to have a deeper understanding of social life and social problems. I wish to have developed the spiritual side of my life more fully and also the home-life side.

After all, is a "book-education" everything? Is there not something equally as important, such as a knowledge of people that is acquired only through social contacts? I am of the opinion that while one is studying and acquiring a book-knowledge, he should also study the lives of his daily companions. Many different phases of character and types of situations will be discovered in this way which one must, sooner or later, learn to cope with successfully. This will prove valuable in later years, in some cases, even more so than a knowledge received from books and teachers. While I attend college this year, I intend and expect to, at least, try to improve every opportunity possible and to take the best that life has to offer to me.

—Y. C.—
WHY I AM INTERESTED IN COLLEGE

I am interested in college life because it offers so many opportunities for further development.

One doesn't realize how many things college life really includes until he is in the "swing of the thing." Music, athletics, clubs, and Christian associations are a few of the many activities a student may participate in while attending school.

A person hears about many advantages and disadvantages of college work. As I happen to be the curious type, I spend part of my time wondering about these problems. Then I wonder why individuals write about the "boring part of college." To me it is anything but boring. This is one of the reasons I am interested in my present work—I want to find out for myself. I am interested in college because it is the background for my future work. A good education is becoming more and more a necessity each year of our lives.

I believe I can sincerely say I am truly interested in college work and college life and I will try to do my best to keep that attitude.

CHAPEL CHIPS

"Faith in God grows stronger and stronger as knowledge of science progresses", stated Prof. Keim of the Physical Science department in a chapel address on Oct. 5. He recalled foolish superstitions of the present day and the inexcusable credulity of superstitious people. "Science", said the Professor, "is helping us to find and appreciate God more everyday".

The Rev. Oliver Morton Keve, pastor of the Methodist Church of York, displayed a volume from his personal library in chapel on October 6 which is over two hundred and fifty-five years old. From this volume he read a passage which he applied to the present day and then proceeded to show how history repeats itself. He further touched on a pessimistic philosophy of life, stating that a pessimistic philosophy of life is false.

Chapel of October 9 was featured by the presentation of three readings by Mrs. J. E. Reeder of Lexington, Nebraska. Mrs. Reeder is state director of the W. C. T. U.'s evangelism division. She was formerly Elda Brewer and was graduated from York College Expression Department in 1916.

She read the selections, "A little Bit of Loving", "The Football Game", and "Just A Girl".

"The Age of Insects" was the chapel address on October 11 given by Miss Mary Alice Slee.

She pointed out that 387 species of insects had been discovered by 1907 and that about 6000 species per year have been discovered since that time. Miss Slee showed man's constant strife with insects as well as the knowledge that has been developed about them since early ages. The manufacture of honey by bees and the gas warfare of beetles were two remarkable qualities described. In closing, Miss Slee stated that insects lived long before man and no doubt will live long afterwards.

"Be not just creatures of the machine age, but be masters of your own destiny" was Prof. J. C. Morgan's admonition in a chapel address on October 13. Prof. Morgan stated that a college education should give one the knowledge necessary to distinguish between sincerity and hypocrisy, and between truth and error.

The Rev. A. C. Ramsey, pastor of the Presbyterian church of York, addressed chapel on October 13 on the subject of "Faith". He said that faith has been tried and proved more lasting than gold as well as more precious. Only by years of experience can one really appreciate the Christian faith", said Rev. Ramsey. He closed by saying that if we carefully examine the foundation of our faith and find it clear to the foundation we will have a sufficient basis of faith for life.

STEVE AND HIS HACK

First of all we had better state that Steve is none other than Harry Stephenson who comes to York College from Doane where, as a Freshman, he made all-conference tackle on the Tiger football squad. To further enlighten our readers we will explain that Steve's hack is a single lunged motorcycle.

'Tis with the recent hits and misses of Steve and the aforementioned mechanical device that we are concerned. Without a doubt, Harry bears a charmed life and "Hair-breadth Harry" of comic strip fame wouldn't have a chance on said motorcycle.

The forenoon of the Hastings game Harry was heading homeward on his "one-lunger" when a jack rabbit came along and attempted to leave said hack and its rider in the dust.

Sensing a cringe of shame creeping up his back, Steve unloosened all the mechanical energy to be derived from his mount and set out to make "hash" out of Mr. Jack Rabbit. But as he hit the four-legged flying machine it decided to thread itself in the front wheel of the motorcycle which ended up with the front wheel resting against a cement culvert. But a few seconds intervened until rider and machine were on their way. For particulars of more recent adventures, inquire of Steve in person.

Before a student can be convicted or acquitted of a charge, the jury must agree unanimously. For every person found guilty, it is the jury's duty to assess a penalty, which penalty shall be announced by the judge. Should a jury be unable to reach an agreement, the case shall be retried before the judge who shall decide whether the person being tried is guilty or not guilty, and who shall assess a penalty if necessary.

VI

Attorneys shall be of two kinds—prosecuting and defending.

The prosecuting attorneys shall be two people selected by the Student Council for the purpose of prosecuting any individual who is charged with violating any rule made by the Student Council.

The defending attorneys shall be six people, the first of which shall be a Freshman selected by the president of the Student Council, the president of the Freshman class, and the Student Council representative of the Freshman class; and the last three of which shall be upperclassmen selected by the presidents of the Student Council, the Senior class, and the Junior class. Any freshman charged with violating a Student Council ruling must select one of the last three to present his argument in court.

VII

No Freshman shall be sentenced to receive more than ten spat at any one time. These spat are to be administered by the judge, the prosecuting attorneys, and the jury.

VIII

Any Freshman who fails to appear before the court at the stated time shall be guilty of contempt of court and that charge shall be added to his previous misdemeanor.

If any upper-classman shall be charged with purposely preventing a Freshman from complying with the Freshman rules, he shall be liable to trial by the same court that hears all Freshman cases and he shall be subject to the same penalties if found guilty.

X

These rules shall be declared in force after they have been accepted by a majority of the members of the 1933-34 Student Council and by two-thirds of the members of the 1933-34 Freshman class.

While walking through a crowded downtown street the other day, I heard a little urchin to his comrade turn and say:

"Say Jimmy, let me tell youse, I'd be happy as a clam, "If I only was de feller dat me mudder t'inks I am.

"Gee, Jim, she t'inks dat I'm a wonder, and she knows her little lad "Could never mix wid othin' dat wuz ugly, mean or bad. "Lots er times I sits and t'inks how nice 'twould be, gee, whizz. "If a feller only was de feller dat his mudder t'inks he is."

My friends, be yours a life of toil or undiluted joy, You still can learn a lesson from this small, unlettered boy. Don't aim to be an earthy saint with eyes fixed on a star; Just try to be the fellow that your mother thinks you are. —Author Unknown.

KAMPUS KAPERS

(By Mrs. Nothing)

Our aspiring "Bill" Tilden Hice Jr. had a rather tense experience in "court technique" within the structure that houses the comic section of the newspapers and a few books of 'larnin'. 'Twas this way. A tennis ball escaped Bill's clutch and started places and doing things. Judge the rest for yourself as William scampered hither and thither under chairs and over tables to grasp the naughty little rascal.

Can you imagine Tennis "By Jacks" Hoffman pedaling his new-stream-lined. Pedal-it-yourself bicycle with "Toots-Swede" Thompson perched on the handle bars. Anyhow "Swede" didn't have to walk home that night.

Duck-a-day Ender has such an affinity for hunting that he arises in the wee hours of the morning in order to slay the innocent little "boids". Hunting even is imbedded in Dave's subconscious mind which is very evident as a result of an incident in class recently. Dave was sleeping peacefully, when Prof. Doty asked him to answer a question. Dave awoke with a start and said, "Shoot him before he gets away".

Many York College Co-eds recently appeared on the campus with their coats streaked with a yellow-brown substance of some description. Mrs. Nothing immediately sensed that a strange phenomena of this sort should be uncovered. After days of careful research and investigating it was found that Art "Wise-Cracker" Amadon was wearing a new suede jacket.

Neva Fellman and Dorothy Miracle were demonstrating to the other Con girls their latest methods of kissing. They found that it wasn't safe to close the eyes unless the participants were sure of their destination, because in the act Neva's glasses were broken. Surely it can't be a lack of experience. For further information, see Buttermore and Buttermore, Inc.

Mrs. Nothing accidentally was the over-hearer of a dream of Sittler's as he roared the rails to York last Sunday night. Being in the midst of a sensational touchdown gallop, Ralph completely forgot that York was his destination and the conductor forgot likewise. As a result the Merna all-city quarterback never stopped whirling and sidestepping until he hit Union Station in Lincoln where he was viciously tackled as he crossed the goal line and Sittler received a free pass back to York and charged on to the Y. C. campus in time for his 11 o'clock class.

Either Mrs. Nothing is blind, or Jim Speece does double duty in the course of one evening, or Dixon has lost her appeal, we know not which.

AT MY MOTHER'S KNEE

I have worshipped in churches and chapels;

I've prayed in the busy streets; I have sought my God and have found him

Where the waves of his ocean beat; I have knelt in the silent forest, In the shade of some ancient tree; But the dearest of all my altars Was raised at my mother's knee.

I have listened to God in his Temple; I've caught his voice in the crowd; I have heard him speak when the breakers

Were booming long and loud; Where the winds play soft in the tree tops

My father has talked to me; But I have never heard him clearer Than I did at my mother's knee.

The things in my life that are worthy

Were born in my mother's breast. And breathed into mine by the magic Of their love her life expressed. The years that have brought me to manhood

Have taken her far from me; But memory keeps me from straying Too far from my mother's knee.

God make me the man of her vision, And purge me of selfishness! God keep true to her standards, And help me to live to bless!

God hallow the holy impress Of the days that used to be, And keep me a pilgrim forever To the shrine at my mother's knee! —John H. Styles.

Panthers Tie 6-6 with Co-Champs of N. C. A. C. League

York Scores in the First Quarter and Holds a 6-0 Lead at the Half

The York College Panthers lived up to their forecasters' predictions and made it a very long evening for Hastings Bronchos when they were held to a 6-6 tie on the evening of October 6 on the Hastings field.

The Panthers snatched the spotlight by scoring in the latter part of the first quarter when Norwood, standing on his own 47 yard line, flipped a short forward pass to Maurer, who in return tossed a lateral to Thomas who ran unmolested thirty yards to score. The Bronchos stood flabbergasted as there wasn't a Hastings man within 15 yards of Thomas when he crossed the goal line. Moline's try for extra point was short by inches as he attempted to plug the line.

Hastings was unable to make a threat during the first half although they out-downed York 7-3. They once got to the Panther's 15 yard line, but on three consecutive plays, they were thrown for losses indicating the play of the Panther linemen.

York gained 57 yards from scrimmage to the Bronchos' 96 during the first half but the Panthers chalked up 67 yards from five passes to the 10 yards the Bronchos garnered in one out of four attempts.

The Bronchos came back fighting hard the second half and midway in the third quarter Holm crossed the Panther goal on a 15 yard run.

York was offside as the first try for point sailed wide of the goal posts but on the second attempt at the line the Bronchos were stopped cold and the score remained 6-6 throughout the remainder of the game.

The game was marred by the Bronchos' committing fifteen fumbles and the Panthers' seven.

Enders, Hoffman, Lewis, and Ayers stood out in the York line while Moline's off-tackle smashes and Maurer's consistency stood out in the backfield.

Captain Bosserman looked best in the Hastings forward wall while Holm and Chase looked best in the backfield.

FOUR SHORT RULES THAT WILL BETTER OUR LIVING

First—To Laugh. Laughing is better than any amount of medicine. Whenever you smile or laugh, the mind is liberated for that moment from all the burdens and cares of human life.

Second—To learn to conceal your own regrets and discomfitures. The world has sorrow enough without listening to your complaints and injustices too.

Third—To refrain from grumbling, even in secret. If your circumstances are not always pleasant and agreeable, remember that they might be far worse.

Fourth—To greet your friends with cheerfulness. They already have troubles enough of their own without feeling that they are about to share another's.

Leather Jackets? Sure we have them. They're style and service combined. Russ Williams.

YORK MEETS DOANE TOMORROW NIGHT

Panthers Will Meet Formidable
Foe at Tiger Homecoming

Coach Ordway will take his York College Panthers to Crete tomorrow night to engage the Doane College Tigers at the annual Homecoming festivities of the Doane Grads. Doane will be opening its conference schedule while York has gained a 6-6 tie with Hastings.

The Tigers clawed out a 6-0 victory over Buena Vista at Storm Lake, Iowa last week while the Panthers were idle. A pass to Kobes did the damage and he will bear watching all evening.

Last year York and Doane battled to a scoreless tie. In 1931 the Panthers won 7-6. In 1930 the Tigers won 7-6. Thus the prospects of another battle are in the making.

Though the Tigers were rated as a weak outfit at the start of the season, they showed their stuff by tying a heavier Kearney Normal team. They dropped a 20-0 tilt to Tarkio Teachers and then took Buena Vista 6-0. Looking at the York record we find them walloping Hebron 20-7; losing 19-0 to the University of South Dakota; and tying Hastings, co-champs of the N. C. A. C. last week, by a 6-6 count.

An aerial attack is expected from both teams while York's power plays are expected to do plenty of damage.

ZETAS INITIATE NEW MEMBERS AT MEETING

Large Organization Is Looked Forward to

The formal initiation of twenty-two new Zeta members took place at the regular Zeta meeting on Tuesday, October 10.

Devotions were led by Frances Kimball, Chaplain, and the singing was directed by William Hice. The rhetorical exercises consisted of a piano solo by Hice, "Prelude", Op. 28, numbers four and six, composed by Chopin, and a brief review of Christopher Morley's one-act play, "Good Theater", by Edith Lawson. Viola Wimmer sang "A Song Remembered", by Coates. Hice played the accompaniment. Robert Hawley was obliged to talk on the extempo "What I would do in the next twenty-one days if all affairs were under my management."

Those who took the oath of allegiance to the Zeta Literary Society were; Margaret Akofer, Dorothy Miracle, Evangeline Steen, Irene Hofgard, Neva Fellman, Mildred Thompson, Geraldine Johnson, Fern Carson, Tennis Hoffman, Robert Hawley, Paul Buttermore, Paul Myers, Howard Caldwell, Harold Burhoop, Donald Varcoe, Ralph Jordan, Ella Larson, Jerome Fuller, Everett Green, Marvin Hess, Benard Wall, and Leona Bussard. Thirteen others have expressed their desire to join but were unable to be present at this meeting.

HELP BEAT DOANE

Students!!!—Attend the Panther-Tiger mix at Crete tomorrow night. Each year the Panther Club centers their efforts on one game away from home and have chosen Doane for this year. This is Doane's Homecoming and let's make it a win for York. Admission will be 25c for York College students if they have their activity tickets.

STEVE SAYS

It looks as if the Panthers will have the weight advantage over the Tigers when they meet next Saturday night; and it might be a long evening for the Doane Tigers.

The probable line-up will show a line average of 180lbs. and a back field average of 175 lbs.; which is a lot of weight and it often comes in handy.

Give Maurer a lot of credit for stopping Hastings with short line gains. His alertness behind the line was outstanding.

The scoring play used by the Panthers against Hastings is a variation of the same play used by the Zupke Eleven to defeat Wisconsin 21-0.

This year the Panthers are throwing faster and with a balanced line; the passer has much more protection.

Tack was a mean looking boy underneath a helmet and that nose-guard smeared all over his map. Fitzgibbon and Tack will meet this week at Doane.

Fitzgibbon received a broken nose in the Doane-Kearney game. It was tough luck "Fitz", you have my sympathy.

And now Panther Club—What's the matter? You should show some gratitude to a bunch of fellows that are willing to give time and energy for three long months. You get pleasure; they get work.

The next home game is here with Central College on October 27. It is to be hoped that you will be organized and ready to YELL.

There were no conference games scheduled in this conference last week.
