Warren Witham Is President of Senior Class

Curnutt and McLaughlin Head Other Upperclasses; Frosh Slow to Elect

Warren Witham of Agra, Kansas, was elected president of the senior class at a recent meeting. Cecil Smith of Van Nuys, California, was named vice-president and Margaret Akofer of York was retained in her position as secretary-treasurer. Prof. Charles Bisset is sponsor of the class.

Juniors last week named William Curnutt of Santa Ana, California, to the office of president. Supporting him are Bernard Cook of Fort Scott, Kansas, as vice-president and Dorothy Bittinger of York as secretary-treasurer. Prof. E. I. Doty is class sponsor.

John McLaughlin of York was retained as president by the sophomore class after having filled that office the first semester. Dulcie Hoofnagle of Dawson, Iowa, was named vice-president, Albert Kamm of Platte Center, secretary, and Hazel Emma Morgan of York, treasurer. Miss Zelta Wakelin sponsors the group.

Freshmen had not named their second semester officers at the time of this article.

ZETAS FROLIC AT LAST MEETING

At the first meeting of the Zeta Literary Society in the second semester on February 9 the program chairman, Wayne Dahlstedt and social chairman, Mary Margaret DuRand presented a varied program of entertainment.

The formal part consisted of musical numbers and an extemporaneous speech by Francis Mattison. His subject concerned Cupid and Valentine's Day. The college girls' trio sang two numbers. Creston Klingman and Jane Caldwell sang a duet. Other numbers were piano selections by Marjorie Cook and a baritone horn solo by Waldo Dahlstedt.

Following a business meeting conducted by Hazel Emma Morgan the group played games and refreshments were served.

DEBATERS MEET NEBR. WESLEYAN TOMORROW

Practice debates with Nebraska Wesleyan University will occupy the York debaters' time tomorrow afternoon at Lincoln. The squad has been invited to the production of "Twelfth Night" by the Plainsmen Players in the evening.

Doane college, represented by Eileen Weingart, LaVerne Pruden, Gene Erion, and Clarence Kellener, met the local squad here on February 5. York representatives were Erwin Branson, Irvin Lewis, Lawrence Deever, Hazel Emma Morgan, and Mary Margaret duRand.

Coach Emma Mayfield is attempting to schedule other practice debates with Hastings and Nebraska Central colleges before the annual state tournament at Lincoln, March 11-13.

GROUP PRESENTS P. T. A. PROGRAM

On Monday evening of Febr., 8, the Girls' Trio and Prof. E. I. Doty presented the program of the evening for the McCool P. T. A. Field Representative Guy Ordway presented the entertainers and Hazel Emma Morgan served as accompanist for the trio, which consists of Lodema Frieden, Wanietta Sullivan and Irene Hofgard.

COLLEGE MUSICIANS ADD TO CLUB PROGRAM

Several York College music students shared in presenting the February program of the music department of the York Woman's Club on Tuesday, Febr. 9. Miss Doris White, cellist, is a member of the instrumental trio which presented several groups of numbers. Miss Irene Hofgard, contralto, accompanied by Hazel E. Morgan, contributed a group of four numbers to the program.

Senior Class Is Recognized

Dr. W. B. Johns Is Principal Speaker at Impressive Service Arranged by Juniors

Sixteen seniors were honored on February 11 when the Junior class held its annual Senior Recognition Day service at the United Brethren church. According to William Curnutt in his speech of recognition this was the first of a series of activities planned for the graduating class.

Dr. W. B. Johns, '02, of the University of Nebraska Teachers College made the address. His theme was a general discussion of modern educational theories, and he challenged several recent experiments in education. Among others he considered the theories of the use of the normal curve and the idea of the transfer of training. Dr. Johns praised the small college and stressed its advantages. His advice was to devote four years to a broad college education before specializing.

The senior class was presented by Prof. Charles Bisset, the sponsor, and was recognized by William Curnutt representing the juniors. The response to the college was given by Warren Witham. Musical numbers were given by Wanietta Sullivan and by the male quartet.

Fred Rasp, Dorothy Bittinger and Prof. E. I. Doty headed the committee in charge of arrangements for the program.

INQUIRING REPORTER DISCOVERS THAT CAMPUS MEN FAVOR PROPOSED RECREATION CENTER

An inquiring reporter with a genuine desire to gain the facts of any situation detected a surprisingly affirmative feeling on the desirability and feasibility of the "men's cottage" proposed in the last Sandburr when he contacted campus men on the subject. Feeling that the men of the campus had discussed the proposition sufficiently among themselves to think intelligently on the problems of construction, management, and maintenance of such a project, the reporter decided to get a few opinions at random. These are listed below:

Merle Blinn: Such a cottage would be of much practical value to Y. C. Each of us finds a short while each day which we would like to spend in conversation, radio enjoyment, or other forms of relaxation provided in this plan. The library, the "AD." building halls, or the "Con" are not the answer. Let's all cooperate to make this idea a working solution to one of our biggest problems.

Bernard Cook: The good that would come from such a plan would far overbalance the money and en-

Minstrel Cast Has Mastered Dialect: Show Next Week

Two and One-Half Hour Entertainment Fast Rounding into Best Form

Despite the Negro dialects that are troubling the end men, the cast of the "Oxtail College" minstrels, to be presented February 25 and 26 in the York college auditorium under the auspices of the senior class, is surmounting the usual difficulties and is well on the way to the "biggest and best" entertainment of this type to come to the campus in recent years.

The two and one-half hour show is to be divided into three parts: the minstrel acts, a series of vaudeville features, and the Oxtail Commencement exercises, which is the grand climax.

The minstrel acts composed of the six endmen, the interlocutor, a chorus of fourteen voices, a pit orchestra, and a number of featured soloists will start the show. Following this will be three vaudeville acts, and, to bring the show to a close, the six end men will graduate with the usual amount of presidents and deans presiding.

Between acts there will be an intermission, in charge of Carl Lee, Ruth Alleshouse, and Elizabeth Feemster, during which refreshments will be sold. Also seats in the Sandburr room, which is a "nigger heaven," will be held at a premium.

The minstrel, which is a means to remove the deficit created by the 1936 Marathon, has as its promoters Irene Thompson, business manager, Flora Blakely as publicity agent, Dorothy Alexander and Warren Witham as ticket solicitors, Irene Hofgard as music director, Glenn Graham as orchestra leader, and Professors C. P. Keim and Charles Bisset as faculty advisers.

The endmen consist of Wayne Dahlstedt, Bob Rouch, Boy May, A. B. Franz, Dan Wright, and Clayton Lehman with J. Erwin Branson acting as interlocutor.

"This is something that will be attended by college students, not only because of loyalty to college functions, but because of the entertainment that they will find there," said Professor Keim.

Panthers Are First Nebraska Quint to Stop Hastings Broncos

Saddle McCrady-Men with Home-Court Loss; Cinch It with Five-Point Margin

By BERNARD COOK

As the first team in the state to accomplish the feat, the York Panthers saddled, rode, and broke the Hastings Broncos on the latter's court, to the tune of 36-41 on the evening of Feb. 9.

Scoring six points before Hastings could tally, the Panthers were off to a flying start. Continuing the occasional dropping in a basket now and then, York built up a big lead during the first thirteen minutes of the game. In order to save his men as much as possible for the second half, Coach Neal Gallant began to insert subs during the closing moments and at the recess the score stood Hastings 16, York 14.

Coming back after the rest period, the Hilltoppers opened up with a basket barrage that put Hastings in the hole and continued the action throughout the entire half. During this period every Panther in the lineup scored.

Fellers and Saindon, those "hot-shot Kansans," scored 18 and 12 points, respectively, to complete a torrid night while Smith, Lutz, and Tonkin were adding the remainder. Haberman and Schenckel were also in the lineup the first half, but failed to connect with any outcourt swishers, the former, however, counting a charity toss.

McLaughlin paved the way of the thorny bed of roses for Hastings with fifteen points while Trupp was close behind with twelve.

Constituting the first conference loss for Hastings, the game gave the Panthers added confidence with which to face the invading Wesleyan Plainsmen tonight.

When asked if he had any comment to make on the game, Coach Gallant, with a bit of persuasion, prophesied, "If the boys play against Wesleyan as they did Hastings, Wesleyan had better watch out."

MORE ALUMNI PLEDGE TO BOILER PROJECT

New contributors to the Alumni Boiler Project fund have raised the amount to $148, Neal Gallant, director of the project announces. Last week Gallant addressed letters to all alumni and he expects encouraging answers, results of which will be published in the Sandburr soon. Additions to the previous list to date are:

H. A. Dierdorff, C. C., '07, Omaha; Leonora Lueck Haag, C. C., '09, Holton, Kansas; Lee Knolle, '32, Plattsmouth; Jacob Glur, ex-'19, Columbus; Grace Hanson, (Com), York; Dr. R. A. Newton, '22, Genoa; Dr. O. T. Deever, C. C., '07, Dayton, O.; Edna Coffey, '29, Reynolds; Melvir Thompson, '34, Norfolk; Mrs. Stanley G. Greene, (Camille Pachner '27) Norfolk, Virginia; Dr. L. A. Newton, '25, Norfolk, Virginia.

EDUCATIONAL CONFERENCE SET FOR APRIL 6-8

April 6 to 8 has been named as the date for the annual Educational Conference of the York College area. Through the sponsorship of Pres. J. R. Overmiller and the cooperation of Dr. O. T. Deever and the Rev. J. Gordon Howard of the General Board of Christian Education, church leaders will meet at York to listen to addresses by such men as Dr. O. T. Deever, Dr. Chas. Ashcraft, and Bishop A. B. Statton.

FATHER OF MRS. W. E. BACHMAN DIES

Dr. R. E. Williams of Des Moines, Iowa, passed away at his home on February 14. Dr. Williams has for many years been a pastor in the Iowa United Brethren conference. He is the father of Mrs. Walter Bachman, dean of women. The funeral was held on Tuesday, February 16.

D. Riggs, Deever Are Elected

Will Head Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. for Coming Year; Supporting Cabinets Named

Dorothy Riggs of Hudson, Iowa and Lawrence Deever of York were elected to head the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. for the following year at the separate meetings held on February 16.

Supporting Miss Riggs will be Lucille Hall of Parsons, Kansas, as vice-president, Mildred Beason of Circle, Montana (as treasurer, Miss Mary Alice Slee as faculty sponsor, and Mrs. J. R. Overmiller as church sponsor. The vote for secretary was tied between Lucille Heins of York and Marjorie Cook of Brookfield, Missouri. This tie will be voted off at the next meeting.

As a partial cabinet to aid Deever, Roland Tonkin of Amistad, New Mexico, was named vice-president, Ross Martinez of Santa Cruz, New Mexico, was named secretary, and Carl Friesen of Henderson was elected treasurer. Dr. W. E. Bachman and Neal Gallant will serve as sponsors of the organization.

THE REGISTER

NAME THE ELK
 What shall we call him? Certainly he deserves a name—that noble specimen of elkhood who lifts his majestic head above the turbulent laborers of the library. How thankful we are for that serene face, quieting our troubled thoughts; how we are inspired by those calm, brown eyes that watch our every move and smile benevolently upon our feeble efforts.

He must be christened, and Leviticus, the editor of the Register, has decided that you, dear reader, shall have the privilege. We hereby start a Name-the-Elk contest, open to all York College students.

Entries must be turned in by Monday, March 1. The winning name, together with the name of the christener, will be published in the next issue of the Register.

A LETTER TO AUNT LUCRETIA

Dear Aunt Lucretia: I hear you are good at solving love problems. Here is mine: My girl Betty is growing cold toward me. She talks about some guy Orvis and it makes me so mad I could see red. What should I do?

Yours in doubt,

Dear Leo: You have every right to see red; in fact, that's what she does all the time. But hold firm, Leo—Remember the old saying, "Betty late than never."

Yours for the asking,
 AUNT LUCRETIA

It's one man in a million who actually enjoys seventy-three classes so much that he insists upon going to them whether he's enrolled or not. Members of the 7:30 Physics class were surprised the other morning when Squeak Callahan dashed madly in at 8:10 and took a seat on the front row. You see, Squeak isn't even enrolled in the course.

He left a few minutes later, mumbling something about thinking it was 8:30. Too bad, Squeak, we'll have to let you operate on daylight saving time, or something.

It is the height of something when two young fellows try to break up a party by swiping the refreshments which have been set out to cool, and, upon their failure to do so, come to the party via the front entrance and have those same refreshments offered to them generously.

The Recruits tell us that there were two new faces at their social the other evening. Roy and Dip are the new converts.

Was it Dulcie's case of the "Gripes" or Willie's modesty which caused him to send her a "With Deepest Sympathy" card accompanying a corsage on the night of the Sophomore Reception?

18 Football Awards Presented by Gallant

Eighteen men, who lettered in football, were presented the Y-Club award in chapel, February 10, by Coach Neal Gallant.

Those men receiving the coveted awards were: Captain Donald Varcoe, Captain-Elect Rex Lutz, Warren Witham, Ronald Tonkin, Fred Rasp, William McConnel, Robert May, Gilbert Fellers, Wilbur Overmiller, Donald Jackson, Walter Eckdahl, Maurice Thompson, Kenneth Willets, John Haberman, Daniel Wright, Ferdinand Saindon, Raymond Peterson, and Carrol Wages.

On completing the requirements of the Y-Club of initiation and semester hours John McLaughlin, Paul McLaughlin, Roy Speece, Bryce Hanna, and Robert Spore will be presented their awards.

HEAR OF LINCOLN

"The Life and Character of Abraham Lincoln" was the theme of the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Feb. 9. John Dowd and Lawrence Deever gave a brief review of Lincoln's life emphasizing the difficulties Lincoln overcame in attaining his success. Several of the professors told anecdotes characteristic of Lincoln as a man among men.

The Proposed Cottage

In the last issue of The Sandburr, we printed an editorial by "One of the Fellows" which, to our way of thinking, was particularly appealing and progressive. It dealt with the possibility of erecting a small, cottage-type building on the campus which would serve the dual purpose of recreation center for the male students and headquarters for after-school meetings of such organizations as the Y. M. C. A., the Council, and other similar groups.

Although public discussion of the proposition is comparatively recent, the plan has received the attention of many students and a number of the faculty since it was first proposed in a Y. M. C. A. meeting last year. Consideration of many angles seems to point to three factors in the success of the proposal.

First, the building of the cottage occupies the attention of the interested persons. The amount of money paid for labor would be negligible. Volunteer labor and NYA workers could cooperate on that phase of the problem. Undoubtedly, the raising of sufficient funds to buy the materials for the cottage constitutes the major problem. The first source is from the men, themselves. Next, follows the income from events which are or could be sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. This includes the May Day fete, minstrel shows, etc. Another source, the potentialities of which are practically unprobed, is the host of alumni, business men, and others who are interested in the welfare of York college.

The second problem, and one which must be rather well settled before many can be won to the cause, is the management of the building. We would propose that the building be under the auspices of the Y. M., that it be closed during school hours, and that it would be open on Saturday afternoon and evening and Sunday afternoon as well as during the noon hour and after four o'clock on week days. A definite system of management of the cottage would necessarily have to be worked out.

The third problem, and one which will prove comparatively simple when the other two are solved, is the maintenance of the building. We propose that this be done through semester assessments of from twenty-five to fifty cents per male student. Or, if certain organizations use the building for meetings, small assessments could also be collected from them.

Upon a cursory examination of the whole proposition, it would seem that the success of the plan lies in the degree of forcefulness of the men, themselves, as they attack the problem. The roving reporter found that each of twelve men selected at random was in favor of the cottage. The criterion of success, then, will be the manner in which campus men go about obtaining the things they want.

The Show Must Go on

The spirit of regular troupers is evident in the minstrel show rehearsals as participants struggle with a dialect which the quartette picked up in a short trip to Oklahoma. "Yo 'alls" and "I'se about to undress you in behalf ob" have come into common usage as the show rounds into form.

A little visit with students and with some of the towns-people convinces us that the minstrel is really creating some interest. If this interest resolves itself into attendance of the big show, we believe the goal set by the sponsors will be reached. Talk up the show to your friends and parents. It will help.

Squibs Recopied

Hastings college is leading Nebraska's three regionally approved liberal arts colleges in total enrollment for this academic year with 794 students over Wesleyan's 593 and Doane's 219, according to the December 19th issue of School and Society magazine. All three colleges showed increases over last year.—The Hastings Collegian.

A recent decree of the council of the men's dormitory permits the ladies to visit the reception room of that building of Friday evenings by invitation. On the first Friday evening after the bill was passed not one of the fair sex appeared. How do you like that! —Hermes, Dana.

Several carloads of Midland faculty members went to Omaha on January 19, to pay tribute to Karl Krueger, top ranking Midland college graduate in the field of music. Karl Krueger, '13, has been conductor of the Kansas City orchestra since 1933.—The Midland.

Tact is what a certain Arkansas editor had nothing but when he printed the following item in his paper: "Miss Hanna Smith, a Batesville belle of twenty summers, is visiting her twin brother, age thirty-two."—The Goldenrod, Wayne.

Doane fans at future games now have the privilege of following the game more closely, due to the installation of a new automatically controlled clock and score board. The new improvement consists of a twenty-minute clock dial which shows the amount of playing time used during Tiger games. The clock is automatically controlled at the scorers bench by the time-keepers. The apparatus also consists of a controlled scoreboard, which records the points scored immediately following the conversion of such by either team.—The Doane Owl.

The average Nebraskan reads only 3.31 books each year; there is only .85 of a book for each Nebraskan in the state; and 60 per cent of the population in the state is without access to a library. So reports the Antelope organ of Kearney State Teacher's College. And yet we Nebraskans pride ourselves on our low rate of illiteracy! It is high time we consider the great difference between mere literacy and real culture.

PROF. BISSET TALKS

"It is not asked of the college graduate—'What have you learned?' but rather, 'What have you become?'" So stated Prof. Charles Bisset in his chapel address on the morning of Friday, Febr. 8. Prof. Bisset discussed the values of the church college and the advantages which such an institution gives to its students. He also related some interesting events in the history of York College.

Gallant's Crew Tackles Wesleyan On Home Court Tonight

All Aspects Point to Close Game; Panthers Want Revenge

Tonight, the Panthers face the crucial game of the season as they entertain Wesleyan on the home court in what promises to be one of the best games of the season. Headed only by Hastings early in the season, the Plainsman aggregation boasts wins over Midland, Doane, York, and Hastings, in the latter's recent return engagement.

The Panthers will need to finish their own conference schedule with victories and see Wesleyan and Hastings defeated again before they will obtain a glimpse of top honors. Wesleyan will have to win tonight's game to maintain her present leadership in the N. C. A. C.

Wesleyan beat Midland, 26-25, in a tight game while the Panthers turned the trick, 31-29. The Plainsmen slipped past Doane, 31-22, while the Panthers faltered and were downed, 33-19. Both teams have split their series with Hastings. York with a 41-36 score and the Plainsmen with a 31-24 final tally robbed the Broncs of their earlier conference domination.

The Lincoln team's 41-20 triumph over the Panthers in an earlier game can not necessarily be used as an index to what will happen tonight. The Gallant squad is considerably changed, not only in personnel but also in ability, confidence, and the other factors which make a winning combination. The cry of the week is BEAT WESLEYAN!

Y. C.

* * * * * Salubrious Selections * * * * *

Boy! Oh, Boy! That Hastings game must have been a honey. Our figures on this might not be exact but I believe that it is the first time since 1932 that we have beaten Hastings in basketball. Of course the fact that Marvel was not in the line-up without doubt must be taken into account. But it is all in the game of basketball. We didn't have Tonkin in when they were up here so I guess we are even.

Just now the conference seems to be crystalizing. Wesleyan, who usually holds a monopoly on second place is within a hair of reaching first for a change. However, if York beats Wesleyan, and wins all the rest of her conference games she stands a very good chance of tying for second. If not, then we predict it will be close to something like this: Hastings and Wesleyan, tied for first; York third; Midland fourth; and Doane in the cellar in spite of everything Kristufek and Aron can do to keep her from being there. But York is going to have to play some bigtime basketball to end like that.

Among the individual scorers of the conference, Kristufek is in the lead to date, Hedges of Wesleyan is giving him a show for his money, and Christensen of Midland is not entirely out of the picture. Bert Fellers of York is ranging between third and fifth, by virtue of those eighteen points he garnered at Hastings while Saindon is right behind him with his twelve. Their averages run somewhere between eight and ten points per game.

Since Wesleyan beat Hastings last week it means that York will have to get down and dig more than ever tonight.

Let's Go, Gang!

Yours,
INK-SLINGIN SLIM.

VESTA GROSS WINS

Vesta Gross, sophomore, bowled her way to the championship of the annual W.A.A. bowling tournament at the York alleys with an average of 126. "Sease" Hoofnagle and Leta Yost knocked the pins for an average of 110. High score in one game went to Leta for a total of 148. Dorothy Alexander rated fourth with 97 average. Other entrants were Marjorie Dudek, Norma Harris, Evelyn Beason, and Isabelle Thompson. The girls have bowled for only a few months.

ROAD TRIP NETS TWO LOSSES

Trinity and Wayne Win By Comfortable Margins

Decidedly off form, the Panthers suffered a relapse from the Hastings game, and dropped two games on a road trip last week end, to Trinity of Sioux City and Wayne State Teachers.

With Saindon grabbing two field goals before the opening whistle had hardly died out, York apparently took the game for granted and proceeded to stage a sit-down strike on the scorer. As a result, when they finally awoke late in the second half, Trinity very nearly had the game pocketed. The half ended 13-11 in favor of Trinity and the final count-up was 35-25, with the "lads from the tall corn" country on the long end.

Staying overnight in Sioux City, the Gallant-men journeyed next day to Wayne where they engaged the Teachers in the evening.

This game found the locals hopelessly outclassed. The up-state men fairly breezed past the Panther defense almost at will and at one time the score was 19-1, Wayne dominating the scoring almost completely during the early minutes of the contest. At the end of the first stanza, the local crew was sadly in arrears, the count standing Wayne 32, York 9.

The closing stanza held little improvement for the local side of the contest, the Wayne quintet, subs for the most part, counting twenty-five points to the Panthers' twelve.

Fellers and Saindon were unable to find the basket from the floor during the Wayne game and in both games scored but eleven points between them. Tonkin was high man for the trip with nine points.

Y. C.

KEARNEY GETS HEAVY END OF 43-32 SCORE

Dropping their third game within a week, the York Panthers were turned back February 4, by the strong Kearney Teachers, on the short end of a 32-43 decision.

Failing to cope with the expert basket shooting of Johnson, Sturdevant, and Beck, the Panthers were trailing by a 10-4 count before they were able to find the basket for a field goal.

Staging a great rally in the closing minutes of the first half, the Panthers pulled up within seven points as the bell sounded ending the half. The score read 22-15.

The second half was a game of substitution for the Kearney coach, as he used fourteen men. The Panthers' offense was clicking throughout the game, but they were unable to stop the sharp-shooting of the Kearney men.

Saindon and Lutz of York did a large share of the defensive and offensive work for the Panthers.

High scoring honors go to Lutz, mighty guard of the Panthers, with 11 points, while Johnson and Sturdevant each collected 10 points from the floor.

York Downs Nebr. B Squad, 39-33

York college led the Nebraska B squad to a 39-33 Panther win in a fast but loosely played game on Tuesday, February 16. By agreement of the two coaches, the center jump was eliminated except to start the game and to start the second half.

Playing by this rule, the game presented a lot of fast basketball. Teamwork meant success for the Panthers as they pulled away to a 39-29 lead with five minutes to play. Two more baskets by the Nebraska squad completed the scoring. Score at the half favored the University team, 18-14.

Cecil Smith, York's 'ganged' center, proved that his center jumping ability wasn't all that keeps him in the game as he garnered 11 points to lead the scoring. Ried of the 'B' squad made 8.

NEBRASKA TEAM WINS OVER OUT-STATERS

The instate girls of the W.A.A. outscored the outstater in an evenly contested game at the gym recently. Behind at the end of the half, the instaters reconstructed their team and won by 20-18. The games was a clean game, very few fouls being called. The winners were represented by Capt. Gross, Lutz, Heins, Blakeley, Scamehorne, Thompson, Dudek, Rasp, Grewell and Yost. Heins tossed 4 field goals to top her team's scoring. "Sease" Hoofnagle shot 6 field goals and one gift toss. Ferdinand Saindon refereed the game.

The girl who used to drop her eyes, raise her face and say, "You who says, "Shove her into high, big must ask father," has a daughter boy, the old man's gaining on us." The gal who looks sweet enough to eat usually does.

Luthi Crusades in Kansas Town

Other News of Alumni by Historian

By Prof. J. C. Morgan, alumni historian
Fellow alumni:

Here is a news item from Mr. Jesse Luthi of last year's class. He is now serving as pastor of the Evangelical church at Lucas, Kansas. An organization, of which he is secretary as well as a leading spirit, has recently been inaugurated in his town and has been named the Lucas Prohibition Movement. Its purpose, as the name indicates, is education in the doctrines of total abstinence and the enforcement of the laws prohibiting the sale of alcoholic beverages. The organization plans to meet quarterly.

We are glad to get the above item and hope other alumni will report such news.

Four more names should be added to our list of students now in York College whose parents also are graduates or attended Y. C. They are Lucille Vannice, De Wimmer, Evalina Caldwell, and Jarvis Cobe. If anyone has been missed, we would like to be so informed.

We learn that Edna Coffey, '29, is teaching at Reynolds, Mrs. W. R. Beddeo, '30, (formerly Opal Mitchell) is now living at Gering. Russel Lewis, '34 was recently reelected as principal of the junior high school at Ravenna. Miss Ruth Spore, '36, was in York last week-end. She is now connected with the University Hospital in Omaha.

TWENTY APPLY TO PALS; MEETING IMMORTALIZES LOVE

Twenty new names were turned in as applications for membership at the PALS meeting on Tuesday, February 9.

After a short business meeting a Valentine program was presented. Norma Harris had the role of "Oscar" Cupid and was mistress of ceremonies. The program opened with a whistling duet by Bernice Strickler and Ocie Moran. A reading, "Mannekin and Minnekin" was presented by Miss Emma Mayfield. "Twelve by the Clock" and "My Love Is a Fisherman" were sung by the Girls' Trio. Next a glimpse into the life of great lovers of history was given. Those presented were: Antony and Cleopatra played by Erwin Branson and Flora Blakeley; Romeo and Juliet by Daniel Wright and Mildred Beason; Frankie and Johnny by Doris Johnson and Bernard Cook; King Edward and Wally by Irvin Lewis and Shirley Young. The program was closed with the song, "Love Marches On," sung by Bernard Cook and Wanieta Sullivan.

Refreshments were served.

Thomas and du Rand Have Leads in Play

Carrol Thomas has been chosen for the part of Argon in Molier's play, "The Imaginary Invalid," the feminine lead, Angelique, has been taken by Mary Margaret du Rand. The first performance will be presented on Friday evening, March 4, under the direction of Miss Emma Mayfield, in the York College chapel.

Other characters are: Beline, Argon's second wife, Lucille Heins; Beralde, Argon's brother, Daniel Wright; Cleante, Angelique's lover, Lawrence Deever; Diafoirus, a doctor, Charles Sandall; Thomas Diafoirus, his son, also in love with Angelique, Thompson Allison; Fleurant, an apothecary, Wilson Gilmore; Bonnefoi, a notary, Lawrence Deever; Toinette, a maid in Argon's house, Edith Rabuck; Purgon, a doctor, Charles Sandall; and Louison, daughter of Argon and sister of Angelique, Betty Burton.

It has been brought to special notice, by the business manager of the production, that the price of admission will be 15 cents to all students who have activity tickets.

INFANT SON DIES

William Jacob, infant son of Prof. and Mrs. C. P. Keim, died at the York Clinic hospital on February 9 at the age of three days.

RECRUITS WILL PRESENT PLAY

First Performance at U. B. Church Sunday Night

Next Sunday evening in the United Brethren church the Life Work Recruits will present for the first time the play, "Operation at One," announces Miss Dorothy Riggs, director of the play. Besides Sunday evening presentations in country churches and in the towns near York, Miss Riggs is considering two week-end trips, one to be in the direction of Omaha and the other into northern Nebraska.

"Operation at One" was written by Mrs. Maude Taylor Sarvis who lived in China for fifteen years. She was closely associated with the Chinese while she taught sociology and economics in the University of Nanking. The struggle she saw in the lives of Chinese students and American missionaries is authentically recorded in her play.

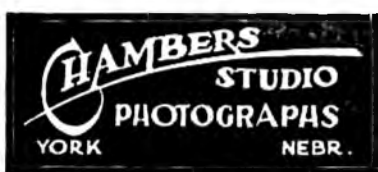

The playing time of "Operation at One" is about forty minutes. The setting is a mission hospital in modern China. The threat of invasion by communists hangs over the work the missionaries are trying to do. Ko-Yohan, played by Erwin Branson, is a Chinese student just returned from America. He is a tool of the communists and is the one chosen to head the invasion of the town. Having a personal interest in one of the native Christian workers, Meng Elan, played by Jean Mattinghe warns the occupants of the hospital of the danger. The missionaries, Merrill Day, Lawrence Deever, and Edith Rabuck, refuse to leave but stay with the patients and prepare for an operation at one o'clock, the time set for the invasion. Patricia Steen, as Amah, is a spirited defender and helper in the hospital. Her son, Lao Da, played by Bernard Cook, and another native, John Dowd, were Christians but have been converted to communism. The attack on the city fails and since there must be a scapegoat, Ko is forced to face the firing squad. But in his last hour while he was at the hospital, the bravery and unselfishness of the missionaries and the Christian workers there convinced him that his method of violence could never change the world and that love is the true way. He dies bravely with that assurance. As if without interruption, the operation was performed at one o'clock.

By offerings at the churches where play is to be presented the Recruit organization hopes to raise money for the African project, that of sending a local representative to Africa. Last year almost one hundred dollars was raised by this method and the goal this year is as near that amount as possible.

QUARTET COMPLETES TOUR OF SOUTHERN STATES

Returning to York on Sunday, Febr. 7, the Dukes and the Duchess of York, otherwise known as the male quartette and their accompanist, with their sponsor, Guy Ordway, completed a week's program tour of various churches and schools of Oklahoma and Kansas. Reports seem to indicate that the trip was very satisfactory, and that the warm, southern climate especially was enjoyed and employed.
