"Playground" Is Theme of Spring Banquet

Dahlstedt Is Toastmaster At Informal Affair Sponsored By Council

Like Julius Cæsar, student council members and all other college students, have no fears for the ideo of March. To show their bravado in the face of superstition, they are to have their annual Spring Banquet tomorrow evening.

As a special treat the theme may now be divulged according to the committee appointed by the student council, as "Playground". Further secrets are the fact that Wayne Dahlstedt toasts will be given by Edward Auchard, Carmen Ware, and Mary Jean Buttermore, with a chalk toast by Jack Miller. These four persons will present different aspects of spring.

A musical comedy skit will be given by Junior Scott Heatherington, Bill White, and Jimmie Koontz. Lois Miller will play her marimba.

Wayne Dahlstedt, as master of ceremonies, will be in his prime because fellows may come without the hindrance of ties or suit coats, the affair being strictly informal. Girls will typify spring with their print dresses, and some will even go so far as to wear anklets and hair ribbons.

Bertha Riggs and Catherine Woolver are chairmen. In case there is a single person on the campus who is not acquainted with the more important details of this banquet, it is to be held at the United Brethren Church tomorrow evening March 15, at 6:30, and costs only 35¢.

Wedding Bells To Ring In June

Wedding bells are soon to be ringing according to latest reports from Mr. Daniel Cupid, for Rev. and Mrs. Harry M. Cook of York announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Mr. Lawrence Deever, son of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Deever, also of York. The date for the occasion is to be June 2 in the local United Brethren church of which Rev. Deever is pastor.

Also on the list of June nuptials is the marriage of Miss Dorothy Riggs, Henderson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Hal Riggs of Merville, Iowa, to Rev. Russell Dunlop, Smith Center, Kansas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunlop of Ogden, Iowa. Their vows will be pledged on June 23 at Merville, Iowa, where the father of the bride-to-be is pastor of the United Brethren Church.

Miss Cook is now a senior in college, graduating next May just preceding her wedding, while Mr. Deever, former Sandburr editor, graduated from York College last year and is now completing his first year in attendance at Bonebrake Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio.

Both Miss Riggs and Mr. Dunlop attended York College last year, Miss Riggs graduating with the class of '39. This past year she has been employed as a teacher in the public school at Henderson, Nebraska. Mr. Dunlop has been preaching at the Thornburg, Kansas charge of three United Brethren Churches near Smith Center.

BULLETIN

Tuesday P. M.—According to latest reports, Prof. E. I. Doty, who underwent a gall bladder operation last Friday, is now recovering very satisfactorily, though his condition is still considered serious.

Mrs. W. J. Karraker, who underwent an operation March 2, has been dismissed from the hospital.

College And Church Entertain Prof. Behney of Seminary

With the purpose of interviewing ministerial students, the Rev. J. Bruce Behney, professor of systematic theology and church history in Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, was the guest of the local United Brethren Church on the evening of March 10 and of the college the following day.

Prof. Behney preached in the College Church Sunday evening using the topic "Sons of God". He spoke to the students in the college chapel Monday morning. During the day he interviewed over twenty students most of whom look toward Bonebrake Seminary for graduate work in Religion.

The officers of the Life Work Recruits and the cabinets of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. entertained Mr. Behney with a dinner in the Conservatory Monday evening. He addressed the Recruits at their weekly meeting that evening.

"Religion A Balance", Karraker Tells Men

"Religion should serve as a balancing factor in much the way as you have balances on an auto wheel. The job of the teacher and the minister is to help people build a balanced life." This is Professor Karraker's summary of his talk at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Tuesday, March 5.

Avalo Caldwell led the short devotional service before the address.

Plans were discussed for attending the State Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. Training Conference at Kearney. The students representing York will go in cars driven by President D. E. Weidler and Al Zerwekh.

Some features of the Conference will be the Estes Park banquet and the lectures by Dr. I. D. Week, president of the University of South Dakota.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND SPRING "Y" CONFERENCE AT KEARNEY

About fifteen students from York College plan to attend the Spring "Y" Conference at the Kearney State Teachers' College March 15-17. Officers of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. and as many cabinet members as possible will go to this conference according to Al Zerwekh, Y. M. president.

Helen Lumbus, Waterloo, Iowa, president of the Y. W. C. A. was elected treasurer of the conference, and a member of the model cabinet.

Holy Week To Have Special Services

Three devotional chapels are planned for Holy Week, March 18-22. The Monday program will be sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. On Tuesday the Y. M. C. A. is planning a joint meeting of the Christian associations with the Rev. Blaine Simon, pastor of the local English Lutheran Church, as speaker. The Life Work Recruits will have charge of the chapel service Friday morning.

College Honors Largest Class; B. F. Schwartz Speaker

Forty Seniors Recognized At Ceremonies Today

The largest senior class in the history of York College was formally recognized at the United Brethren Church at 10:00 this morning when thirty men and ten women first donned the academic gowns. Chancellor B. F. Schwartz of Nebraska Wesleyan University was the guest speaker.

Chancellor Schwartz addressed the seniors on the subject, "The College Student Faces the Modern World". Miss Alma Tress Lundman, class sponsor, presented the class to the audience. Ralph Schmidt, who is president of the juniors by whom this ceremony is planned, welcomed the seniors, and Marlin Bedient represented the seniors in a response.

The college orchestra, under the direction of Mrs. Lee Clarke, played "Intermezzo" from Arlesienne Suite by Bizet, and "Hungarian Dances 7 and 8" by Brahms. Bertha Riggs sang "Je suis Titania" from Mignon by Thomas, accompanied by Miss Eda Rankin, who also played the processional and recession on the organ.

The invocation was offered by President D. E. Weidler, and the benediction by the Rev. A. L.

Cook Presented In Voice Recital

York College Conservatory presented Marjorie Cook, senior, York, in a voice recital assisted by Mattie Pearce, sophomore, Oak Hill, Kansas, at the United Brethren church last Tuesday evening, March 12. She was accompanied by Lois Miller, senior, Russell, Kansas.

Miss Cook sang the following numbers: "A Birthday" by R. Huntington Woodman; "The Hills of Gruzia" by Nicolai Mednikoff; "I love and the World is Mine" by Charles F. Manney; "Who Is Sylvia?" "Faith In Spring", "Serenade", and "Ave Maria" by Franz Schubert; "Springtime" by Mrs. H. H. A. Beach; "Summer" by Cecile Chaminate, and "One Fine Day," from Madame Butterfly, by G. Puccini.

Miss Pearce played the following piano selections: "Moonlight Sonata", First Movement, by Beethoven; "Prelude in G. Minor" by Rachmaninoff; and "Rondo Capriccioso" by Mendelssohn.

GOSPEL TEAM TO TRAVEL DURING VACATION

A special Gospel team composed of Imogene Ogden and Marguerite Anderson of York, Margaret Taylor, Denver, Colo., Clarence Carlson, Fremont, and Edward Auchard, Luray, Kans., accompanied by Prof. Harold Haugan will visit churches in eastern Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas during spring vacation.

A tentative schedule has been arranged according to Carlson, leader of the team. Probable appointments include Omaha, Dawson, Mound City, Mo., and McLouth, Lecompton, and Republic, Kans.

If the weather permits, this group may assist in an evening service March 24 at McCool Junction where Edward Auchard is pastor.

Phys. Ed. Expansion Offers Students New Activities

The York College gymnasium has been literally humming with activity as a result of the new physical education expansion program. Equipment and facilities for playing badminton, ping pong, basketball, volleyball, and boxing and wrestling have been purchased and installed in the gymnasium for the recreation of students during the spare moments occasionally found in late afternoons.

With Miss Irene Foster and Coach Neal Gallant as faculty directors, Robert Spore, senior, is the student supervisor in charge of all activities, and to him has been entrusted the responsibility of caring for all equipment, directing the activities, and enforcing the activities' rules.

The hours for participation in the various sports are from three to six P. M. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and from three to four and from five to six on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Modern Art Displayed On Y. W. Program

A display of examples of modern art was shown by Lenore Stevenson at Y. W. C. A., March 5. The speaker said, "Modern art is gradually being replaced by photography because of the latter's realism. Pictures ought to make sense". The examples of modern art were selected from the Fortune Magazine.

The Y. W. C. A. president, Helen Lumbus, read a letter from the Nebraska State Training Conference setting the dates, March 15, 16, 17, for the meeting. A letter from Enola Lassel expressing her gratitude to the Y. W. C. A. for their gift to her during her illness was read also. Winnie Noble led the devotions.

MRS. WEIDLER HOSTESS TO OTTERBEIN GUILD; CELEBRATE GIRLS' YEAR

In celebration of Girls' Year in the W. M. A. of the United Brethren Church, Mrs. D. E. Weidler entertained in her home on the afternoon of March 3, college girls who belong to Otterbein Guild in their home towns. The Otterbein Guild is a missionary association for girls.

As representative hostess for York College, Mrs. Weidler welcomed the girls. Lois Miller played a medley on her marimba, and Marjorie Cook played a piano solo. The Sweethearts' Trio, Elaine West, Rosemary McCormick, and Verlene Witham sang, "Lift Thine Eyes", accompanied by Leona Berry.

Miss Anna Thompson read the scripture and introduced Mrs. J. N. Smith, matron of the Mother Jewel's Home, who told of the coming of Christianity into South America, and of its effects and growth. Until five years ago the Smiths were in South America as missionaries for the Methodist Church. Imogene Smith is now a freshman in York College.

Refreshments were served from a table over which Mrs. J. C. Morgan presided.

York College Host To N. A. C. C. In Annual Meet

Dean Bachman Re-elected For Fourth Term As Executive Secretary

Holding its annual spring meeting at York College March 8 and 9, the Nebraska Association of Church Colleges had for its theme "Our Increasing Responsibility".

W. E. Bachman

Through-out the sessions, the aims of the organization were emphasized. The purpose of the N. A. C. C. is to have unified understanding and emphasis of the specific function of the church-related college.

Carrell Is New Head

Dean Walter E. Bachman was unanimously re-elected for his fourth term as secretary of the N. A. C. C. President O. W. Carrell of Nebraska Central College at Central City was selected to head the association for the year 1940-41. He succeeds Rev. Joseph P. Zuercher, S. J., president of Creighton University at Omaha. The vice-president for the same term will be President L. Siersbeck of Dana College at Blair. Prof. P. V. Hanson, also of Dana College, was elected treasurer.

New Methods Studied

At the annual meetings of the organization, the departmental groups meet for the purpose of studying the progressive methods of the specific work of the respective departments. Another purpose behind the work of the association is to keep in contact with

Field Sec'y Reports Growing Interest In York College

"There is a growing interest in York College among our Kansas churches," declared the Rev. Harry Cook, field secretary. "Education Day was observed in many places with fine results. In other places it was postponed because of weather conditions," he continued.

Mr. Cook has attended United Brethren group meetings throughout Kansas. At the present time he is engaged in a Pre-Easter evangelistic campaign at Republic, Kansas.

HISTRIONIC CLUB HAS ELIXIR OF YOUTH PARTY

The competitive sale of tickets for the last Histrionic club play resulted in the winning side being entertained by the losers at a party on Tuesday evening March 5. Children's games and apparel were very much in evidence during the evening.

Upon arrival each one partook of the "Elixir of Youth" and became a child.

Following the refreshments of fruit salad, cookies and chocolate, impromptu speeches were given by Edwina Bomhoff, Donald Boehr, Scott Heatherington, and Miss Alma Tress Lundman, who is the sponsor of the Histrionic Club. Virginia Hinkle sang "Rock a-bye Baby", and the quartette composed by Vera Blinn, Lois Cobe, Donald Boehr, and Rredrick Carlsen sang "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

A Word to the Wise? . . .

There comes a time (not the one about a young man's fancy) when all well-meaning students, after examining an examination schedule or upon being informed of a report or term paper that is due, inevitably say something like, "Gosh, I didn't know that was so soon", or "I should have started sooner". It happens to all of us, and all of us, with slightly different phraseologies offer the same old story or excuse. With Father Time trying to beat his own time every day and week, and an entangling web of inviting activities that traps most of us, besides a relentless faculty that seems to think studying, writing papers, and making reports are comparable with and necessary ingredients of a college education, each semester we inevitably reach the place where we frantically try "to catch up" and "just feel swamped". "What fools we mortals be!"

If we were to do some extremely delicate calculating, and in the interim could keep our tenses straight, we would probably discover that just about now is the period that we will designate next May as "the time when I should have really started studying", or "should have gotten this done". Then we'll scare our blood pressure to new heights and commence going through the ancient routine of cramming, reporting, and making excuses.

Some of the seniors received their gentle spankings last week when they were summoned to explain their laxity in submitting their final research papers. This little stimulus effected the necessary results, but although most of us are constantly committing the same offense, no stimulus should really be necessary.

Perhaps a little of the merchants' Christmas "Don't Wait—Buy Now" spirit would be the solution to the problem. At any rate, it does seem just a little foolish that most of us plan and balance our schedule so poorly that we must always be prodded at the last moment in order to make sure that we complete our work. A change and correction of pace and a bit of timeliness may not only result in a noticeable difference in accomplishments in college, but may become a very convenient habit later on in the outside "no-prodding", "no-alibing" world of realistic and specifically-timed elements.

Prof. Behney Speaks To Recruits, Proves Existence of God

In an address to the Life Work Recruits, March 11, Professor J. Bruce Behney of Dayton, Ohio, told of the ways in which God is revealed to us proving his existence. He divided these means into four classifications—philosophy, science, feeling or emotion, and scripture, and then went on to prove that by sincere and earnest effort in the study of any of these means God is revealed without a doubt. In speaking on the last classification, he stated, "God not only died that he might be the saviour of mankind, but also that He might realize His ideals of man".

Helen Lumbus led the devotions, reading an essay called "The Two Seas", in which are described the differences between the Dead Sea and the Sea of Galilee revealing a comparison between the selfish, hoarding type of individual and the generous, considerate type.

Bertha Riggs sang "How Beautiful upon the Mountains", accompanied by Marjorie Cook.

The benediction was offered by Lawrence Deever, '39, of Dayton.

Girl's Trio Sings At Republic, Kansas

One of the York College trios, the "Three Flats" made four appearances in the United Brethren Church in Republic, Kansas, Sunday, March 10. The program consisted of several types of numbers.

The members of the trio are: Rosemary McCormick, sophomore, Berthoud, Colorado; Elaine West, freshman, Orchard; Verlene Witham, sophomore, Agra, Kansas; and Leona Berry, senior, Bunker Hill, Kansas, accompanist.

The Rev. Harry Cook, field secretary of the college, accompanied the trio to Kansas.

THE LIMELIGHT

By Bob Spore

Mimic, reader, comedian—these are three nouns. Modest, courteous, talented, likeable, loquacious, trustworthy—these are six adjectives. Fix them all together, and you will have a thumbnail sketch of Bill White, York College sophomore.

Bill is slight in appearance, around 5' 10" in height, has blonde hair, and a grin that flashes on and off.

Born in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1919, Bill attended North

High where he won acclaim in dramatics and swimming, also serving on the high school social committee which had charge of all of the social functions.

Having graduated from North High, he attended a semester at the University of Iowa before coming to York. Bertha Riggs, he claims, is responsible for his attendance here. She persuaded him at a summer camp, using the "big-fish-in-a-little-pool" argument, according to Bill.

Bill has a great ambition: to keep his speaking voice down in a rich baritone quality, polish his enunciation, smooth his interpretation, and someday, as a result, obtain a position as a dramatic artist at some radio station. Therefore, he is specializing in dramatics here at Y. C.

Those who have witnessed this regular-featured young man go into action on the stage, turning with versatility from the serious to the humorous and even to the slap-stick, are certain that he will realize this ambition.

Bill has won another distinction this year which proves his popularity. According to a Sandburr count, his name has appeared 27 times in print in the Sandburr publications this school year.

Not only has he held a leading part in four major plays since coming to college, but he has been president of Histrionic club, vice-president of PALS, and of Alpha Psi Omega, a member of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet (he is May Day

Leaping Lenas Break Losing Streak; Hot Shots Undefeated

The Leaping Lenas, hard-luck team of the Women's Intramural Basketball Tourney, staged an upset Thursday evening, March 7 and smashed their haunting losing streak by turning back the Sure Shots 22-14. The Hot Shots, league leaders, maintained their clean slate at the expense of the Zippers 27-16.

With Captain Lois Cobe leading her crew and pouring in buckets from all angles to tally 16 points, the Lenas overcame an injury-sickness handicap that had threatened to keep them in the cellar. Outstanding defensive work on the part of Ella Wright, Carmen Ware and Shirley Anderson supplemented the brilliant forward play and allowed the Sure Shot forwards, Imogene Smith and Arline Beason, a final total of only 14 points.

In the Hot Shot-Zipper fray, the impenetrable defense maintained by ace-guard, Lois Miller and Doris White and the hot shooting of forwards Amy Speece and Bette Crum shot out the unlucky Zippers who could garner only 16 points. Doris Holloway and Grace Shirk contributed all but two of the Zippers' total score.

Panthers Beaten In Season's Finale At Kearney

As shot after shot bounded off backboard and basket, the York College Panthers took a 49-15 licking from the Kearney State Antelopes on the Kearney floor, February 27, to conclude the basketball wars of '39-'40. The Panthers never threatened, scoring only four field goals.

With J. Haberman dropping out, Shaneyfelt, regular center, ill, and McLaughlin, who filled in capably against Doane, unable to be with the team, Coach Gallant was forced to use a make-shift line-up that had Saindon playing at center.

Antelope Defense Tight
The Antelopes' zone defense, tight on the Kearney court, had the Panthers firing from long range, and no one could hit. Had-die Haberman carried off what York scoring honors there were with four points in the shape of two field goals. Husky Bud Blessing, leading N. I. A. A. scorer, was outstanding for Kearney.

Unlike Former Fray
Exactly opposite of the 37-35 overtime thriller that Kearney took at York, the game was loosely-played and slow. After the first quarter it was only a question of how many points the cold Panthers would gather.

The defeat continued the jinx that rival conference teams hold over York in what was probably the blue and white's worst performance all year.

With some of their players out, too, the Panther Cubs bowed to

Hastings Takes Conference Crown

The Hastings Bronchos ran off with first-place honors in the N. C. A. C. basketball race this season with seven victories against a single defeat, but they have the York Panthers to thank for their undisputed title.

Though the Panthers tied with Midland for third and fourth places, registering three triumphs and five set-backs, two of those triumphs were over top-ranking teams. Their 39-33 conquest of Doane, who split games with the Bronchs, eliminated the defending-champion Tigers from a share of the title. The overtime beating York handed Midland in February sent that team out of championship running early. York's other conference win was at the expense of last place Wesleyan.

The final conference standings with all games played:

Final NCAC Standings	WL	Pct	Pts	Opp
Hastings	7 1	.875	391	318
Doane	6 2	.750	358	302
York	3 5	.375	315	349
Midland	3 5	.375	333	339
Wesleyan	1 7	.125	281	370

Up And Coming!

JESSE MERRYMAN

Here, Panther basketball fans, is an up-and-coming young cager who will be a vital link in the '41 edition of blue and white hoopers. Jesse Merryman by name, this lanky six feet, one inch guard gained valuable experience on the B team this year. A sophomore in Y. C., he lettered two years at Schickley High and captained that team his senior year. Jesse was the steady influence on this year's freshmen-dominated second team of Panthers, playing most of every game. Consistent in his scoring, he is known best for his larruping long shots that find the net from well out. Watch him go next season!

Zetas Win Again In Perennial Feud

By Wayne Dahlstedt
(A Zeta)

Arrayed in miscellaneous equipment and fitted mostly with zeal, the Zeta men and women showed their physical prowess by downing the PALS 28-26 and 16-11, respectively, in their annual basketball tilts held in the Y. C. gym Wednesday night March 6.

Girls Are "Cute"

The be-powdered and primed girls battled first. In a flurry of wildly-sawing arms, feminine shrieks, and daring pivots, the Zeta women forged ahead in the first quarter by scoring 2 points, Lois Cobe, wearing a "cute" blue-striped outfit, doing the swishing.

She held her "dead-eye" the whole game, piling up, as leading scorer, 10 points. Imogene Smith, another Zeta forward, contributed the other 6.

Arline Beason led for the PALS with 2 buckets and a free toss.

The girls played an unusually clean game too, with a total of only 15 fouls.

Men's Game Is Close

The men's fray resembled at times a group of calisthenics artists, but it was more closely contested, the PALS taking an early lead, sparked by Virgil Shickell, and holding it until in the 4th canto, when Floyd Chenoweth tied it up 22 all by tossing a free one for the Zetas.

The end of the first quarter saw the PALS doubling the Zetas with a score 6-3, Godown of the Zetas doing their only scoring. At the half the Zetas still trailed 17-10.

Zetas Rally

But during the 3rd period, the Zetas dumped in 11 points to the PALS' 5, Widga of the Zetas arousing a yell with a twisting, nose-dive shot from the corner, which miraculously went in.

The last quarter, tied up 22 all, at first was played furiously, the Zetas finally edging out the PALS with 3 gift tosses and two field goals, the PALS scoring only four points.

Shickell, PAL, was high-point man with 10, while Widga, Zeta, trailed with 9.

Strange to say, there were only 10 time-outs during the game.

The men played a clean game, too, with only 29 fouls, 3 PALS being eliminated from the game.

"Sports Shorts"

The Season in Review

February has gone, and with it, another basketball season. The Panthers of '39-'40, a versatile, experienced crew, do not have a particularly impressive won and lost record, but nevertheless, they made a name for themselves. They tied for third and fourth in the conference. Nearly every game they lost was close enough that a break or two might have flung the game York's direction. The Panthers were, admittedly, an off and on team. When they were hot, they were unbeatable, but when cold—well, witness the last Kearney game. Five have played their last game for the blue and white. From the ranks graduation will take stalwarts Max Quick, John Haberman, Burton Feaster, Ferdinand Saindon, and Paul McLaughlin. So, they go. A new Panther team will take the floor next year, but this year's team leaves behind a winning spirit.

Orchids

To Freshman George Shaneyfelt, smooth Panther center and ball-player par excellence, go this column's orchids. A first-year man who made the grade, "Shaney" took the big jump from high school to college basketball in one stride. Consistent in his all-round play, he won the starting berth at center. Look at some of the competitors he faced: Bud Blessing, burly Kearney pivot man; Belka, Doane's biggest threat; Jerry Green of Midland; not to mention the elongated Dick Marvel of Hastings. "Shaney" met all comers, his aggressive ball-hawking sparkling in every game.

Action Pictures

Their games all played, Panther cagers cavorted for the camera last week. The sports section of the Marathon will contain action pictures of the squad.

The Inside "Dope"

(We delve behind scenes to get the inside story of the PALS-Zetas game from the knowing lips of the coaches themselves. First we contact the losing PALS with player-manager Dierdorff doing the answering.)

Q. Well, Coach Dierdorff, have you anything for the Sandbur public?

A. Hello, mom and pop! We wuz robbed, . . . the referee . . .

(While Coach Dierdorff orates on to his awed players, we skip over to the jubilant Zetas where Jarvis Cobe, who directed his team's fortunes from the bench, holds forth as head man.)

Q. Nice game your boys played, Jarvis. Any comment?

A. There's more to the victory than meets the eye. I'll tell you, the work of the coach . . .

CAMPUS VISITORS

Visitors on the campus this week included Mr. Lawrence Deever, '39, former Sandburr editor, and son of Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Deever of York. Mr. Deever is now attending Bonebrake Theological Seminary in Dayton, Ohio. He is home during a week mid-term vacation period and has been busy visiting his parents and many friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Douglas and their daughter Dean, of Beach, Montana, parents and sister, respectively, of Stine Douglas, freshman, stopped in York for a few days last week to visit Stine. They were returning to their home after making a trip to Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mayo Stutz, of Imperial, both former York College students, visited the college and friends this week. They are planning to establish new residence in southern Missouri.

Miller, Hansen, Debate Teams Place In Annual Tourney

Jack Miller, Henry Hansen, and the two debate teams all won places in the debate and speech tournament held in Omaha, last Thursday and Friday, March 7 and 8.

In the after-dinner speech contest Jack Miller, sophomore, of Johnstown, Colorado, won third place with his subject, "There is no substitute for....." The general theme of this contest was "Health Hints by the American Advertiser." Top rating was captured by Omaha, followed by Hastings.

In the "Old Line" oratorical contest, Henry Hansen, junior, of Des Moines, Iowa, placed fourth in a field of eight contestants with his original oration, "Give Us This Day". Wesleyan won first as they had done several consecutive years previously until York's Lawrence Deever, '39, broke their record last year. Hastings was second and Doane third.

The debaters won three of their debates, Warren Neal and Herbert Bryant winning two of their encounters and Jack Miller and Hugo Mierau winning one of theirs.

The group left York Thursday morning, March 7, accompanied by their coach Miss Alma Tress Lundman, and returned on Saturday.

NINE TAKE STATE EMPLOYMENT EXAMS.

Nine persons, including three former students of the commercial department of York College took an examination conducted in the commercial rooms of the college by W. J. Cotter, Lincoln, for the Nebraska State Employment Service on Thursday afternoon, March 7.

Those who pass the examination with satisfactory grades will be classified, listed, and recommended to employers, both public and private.

Other examinations of a similar nature will be given at future dates, according to Mr. R. E. Townsend head of the commercial department.

Gospel Teams Assist In Geneva Meetings

Gospel teams from York College are assisting in special evangelistic meetings in the Geneva United Brethren Church this week. The Rev. H. A. Dierdorff, father of Jerry Dierdorff, a junior in York College, is the pastor.

Probably twenty-five students will be among those on these gospel teams. Leaders of the various teams are Marlin Bedient, Bradshaw; Vernon Overturf, Dumont, Ia.; Robert Hunt, Albia, Ia.; Robert MacCanon, Des Moines, Ia.; Warren Neal, Brookfield, Mo., and Stine Douglas, Beach, N. D.

CHORAL CHOIR, DUKES PERFORM IN LINCOLN

The York College speaking choir presented The Least of These by V. W. Elicker for the evening services at the Calvary Evangelical church in Lincoln Sunday, March 10. They were assisted by the Dukes of York, the men's quartette.

Miss Alma Tress Lundman, head of the Speech department, accompanied the group.

Dr. W. E. Bachman, who is located in Lincoln while on leave of absence from the college, pronounced the benediction.

On Tuesday, March 12, "The Least of These" was presented to the York chapter of the Knights of Pythias at the local hall.

"Obeisance In Heart, Not Head", Says Recruit Sponsor

"We obey our hearts rather than our heads. That is why we are commanded to 'keep our hearts with all diligence for out of it come the issues of life,'" said Mr. J. C. Morgan, speaker of the evening, at Life Work Recruits, Monday, March 4.

In his talk "God's Grammar", Mr. Morgan underlined four topics: The great declarative, imperative, and explanatory statements of the Bible; and the great questions of the Bible.

Blanch Leach, freshman from Clarks, had charge of devotions. Edward Auchard was chairman.

the high schools, so that their seniors may have direction and help concerning college work, and to offer honor scholarships to the different high schools, making it possible for those who are prospects and have made especially good records to have financial help to encourage their college attendance.

Seventy Representatives Present

The membership of the N. A. C. C. is composed of the church-related colleges of Nebraska, and about seventy representatives from eight out-of-town institutions, Creighton, Doane, Dana, Hastings, Hebron, Midland, Nebraska Central, and Wesleyan, were in attendance. Dr. A. A. Reed and Dr. W. A. Rosene, both of Lincoln, representing the state department, and Supt. Earl W. Wiltse of York, representing the public school program, took part in the activities of the convention.

The outstanding general sessions of the conventions were those of Friday evening and Saturday morning. The general meeting Friday evening in the church auditorium was presided over by President Zuercher. Music was furnished by the York College Chorus, and a dialogue on the theme, "Our Increasing Responsibility" was presented by Pres. B. S. Stoffer, Doane College, Supt. Wiltse, and Dean F. S. Bowdern, S. J., Creighton. Following the dialogue was a period for general discussions. After musical numbers presented by the York College Conservatory, Pres. Fred C. Wiegman, Midland College, addressed the association at the Saturday morning general session.

Discuss Christian Associations

The first meeting held Friday afternoon was for administrative groups, with Pres. Zuercher presiding. Following this was the Christian Associations Round

At dinner Friday evening, music was furnished by the conservatory. President D. E. Weidler welcomed the guests, and President Zuercher responded.

Saturday morning departmental meetings were held, and pertinent topics discussed by each group.

Following the luncheon Saturday noon a business meeting was held, and at its close a resolution was passed expressing appreciation to York College, the church and community, and the entertainment committee. The chairman of this committee was President Weidler. Other committee chairmen were Dr. Charles Bisset, Miss Mary Alice Slee, and Prof. J. C. Morgan.

At the close of the business meeting the presidents of the various institutions met, with Pres. Zuercher as chairman.
