Gallant, Bell Leave Faculty

Profs. Resign Athletics, Math Posts To Accept New Positions

Leaving a gap in the faculty ranks of York College, Coach Neal Gallant, for five years head of athletics, and Professor Raymond F. Bell, mathematics instructor, have tendered resignations to accept new positions.

Gallant's resignation, which becomes effective at the end of the present school year, enables him to take over as head athletic mentor at Ravenna High School next year. Professor Bell, who has just finished his first year at York, will teach in Washington.

In the five years Coach Gallant has been head of Panther athletic teams, he has developed several outstanding individual performers in every sport. His track teams have been especially powerful.

Before his tenure at York, Gallant coached three years at Polk high school with successful seasons in football, basketball, and track. He has been the cause of the registration of many Polk high athletes at York. Gallant is a York college graduate of the class of '32. While in college he starred in nearly all departments of athletics.

Said Coach Gallant, "I have enjoyed my five years here and feel that relations have been at the best with the trustees, faculty, and students. I am glad I could serve my Alma Mater."

Professor Bell will teach in the mathematics department of the Eastern Washington College of Education, a state teacher's college of about 1500 enrollment. He was selected from a list of 75 applicants, four of whom had Ph.D. degrees.

As yet no one has been engaged to fill either of the vacancies.

BOTANY CLASS HAS FIELD TRIP

Prof. W. C. Noll's Botany class took a field trip to Weeping Water on May 21 to study plants in their natural habitat. They left at six o'clock in the morning and returned at 3:30. Forty-five plants were examined and classified. Weeping Water is surrounded by a native prairie land covered with trees. Mr. Noll brought a new type of tree back with him.

PALS-Zetas Revive Nineties At Anniversary Banquet

Songs and styles of fifty years ago were revived at the PALS-Zeta banquet held in the parlors of the United Brethren church last night.

Hoop skirt nut cups, old grey bonnet programs, and place cards in the form of golden wedding rings symbolized the fiftieth anniversary of the PALS, and the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Zetas.

Gladys Mohler, Puerto Rico, president of the PALS, and Henry Hansen, Des Moines, president of the Zetas, were the toastmistress and toastmaster, respectively. Miss Mohler's parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. I. Mohler, '07, of Puerto Rico, were members of the PALS, then known as the Philomathean and Amphictyon Literary Societies, women's and men's organizations respectively.

A small orchestra, under the direction of Bertha Riggs, played a group of old southern melodies as the guests were being seated.

The program was composed around the anniversary theme. Vernon Overturf, junior of Dumont, Iowa, gave the toast, "Bicycle Built for Two". Catherine Woolever, sophomore of York, sang the song entitled "Teenie With the Light Brown Hair." George Chambers, senior of Belle Plaine, Iowa, gave a toast, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie".

Cook Is Queen of May

MARJORIE M. COOK

Miss Marjorie M. Cook was presented as the 1940 May Queen at the annual May Day festivities last Friday. Miss Cook is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Cook of York. Mr. Cook is the field secretary of York College.

Miss Cook has attended York College four years, majoring in music. She was president of the Music "Y" Club and of Lambda Phi. She was accompanist for the chorus, a member of the orchestra, of the string trio, and second soprano of the "Co-eds", the girls' trio.

She was secretary of the junior and senior classes, and was on the Y. W. C. A. cabinet for three years. She has been president of Zeta, and a member of Life Work Recruits and of Student Council. She has been attendant to the May Queen twice.

Miss Cook is to be married next Sunday, June 2, to Lawrence Deever, '39, and they will live in Dayton, Ohio, where Deever is a student at Bonebrake Seminary.

Seniors Honored At Baccalaureate

The largest class in the history of York College was honored last Sunday evening at the United Brethren Church at a baccalaureate program with the Rev. Harlan H. Thomas, pastor at the United Brethren Church at Coffeyville, Kansas, as the speaker.

Rev. Harlan H. Thomas spoke on "The Proof of Living". Other numbers on the program were: organ music by Miss Eda Rankin; invocation by the Rev. A. L. Deever; scripture by Dean Walter E. Bachman; prayer by Dr. Earl I. Doty; special music by the York College chorus; a solo by Gertrude Lindstrom; and the benediction by the Rev. Isaac Cassel of the Baptist-Congregational Church.

Miller Places Third In Oratory Contest

Jack Miller, sophomore of Johnstown, Colo., won third place and a five dollar award in the Curtis Oratorical Contest at Hastings, May 15 with his oration "Hoskins, the American." A Hastings College contestant won first place and twenty-five dollars with an oration entitled, "We the People". Second place went to an orator from Doane College.

Eight contestants from York College, Doane College, Hastings College, and Hebron Junior College participated in this event.

Don Davis, freshman from York, who was Y. C.'s other entrant, was ranked sixth.

Program Carries Out "Isle of May" Theme; Lumbus, Maid of Honor

With a background of flowers and music, Marjorie Cook was crowned Queen of the "Isle of May" on May Day, May 24, in Marathon Park, north of the Administration building. She was crowned by Helen Lumbus, who, as president of Y. W. C. A., was maid of honor to the queen.

The attendants were: seniors, Mary Jean Buttermore, Woodston, Kansas, and Lois Miller, Russell, Kansas; juniors, Agnes Drake, Sterling, Kansas, and Mary Lue Warner, Kalispell, Montana; sophomores, Bette Crum, Des Moines, Iowa, and Arline Beason, Circle, Montana; freshmen, Lucy Jane Scamehorn, Bradshaw; and Gertrude Lindstrom, Gresham; and commercial, Ellen Craig, York; and Anna Jane Easterling, Enid, Oklahoma. The first mentioned of each class was chosen by her class and the other one was selected by the queen. The respective classes presented the queen with a crown, a scepter, an orb, and a footstool.

The flower girl was Bonnie Rathjen, and the train bearers were Gail Moomey and Roger Slack.

Varied Program Given

The play, "Fernseed in the Shoe", by Ethel Van Der Veer was presented under the direction of Miss Alma Tress Lundman. The main characters were portrayed by Lois Cobe, junior of Dawson; Bertha Riggs, junior of Merville, Iowa; and Bill White, sophomore of Des Moines, Iowa.

A sextet composed of Catherine Woolever, York; Elaine West, Orchard; Rosemary McCormick, Berthoud, Colorado; Doris Landon, Russell, Kansas; Verlene Witham, Agra, Kansas, and Carmen Ware, Des Moines, Iowa, sang "Isle of May" accompanied by Mattie Pearce, Oak Hill, Kansas.

Y Club Initiates Nine, Chooses New Officers

Nine new lettermen submitted to the initiation rites of the athletic "Y" club last Wednesday night on the club's annual spring picnic. New officers were also selected to serve for the coming year.

The initiates who underwent the usual corporal torment were Waldo Dahlstedt, York; Leonard Godown, Merna; Robert Witt, Shickley; Don Yager, Surprise; Floyd Taylor, York; Hugh Pursel, Bradshaw; George Shaneyfelt, Aurora; Paul Strickler, Julian; and Scott Heatherington, Independence, Kans.

Henry Hansen, junior from Des Moines, Iowa, was chosen to succeed John Haberman, York, as president of the organization. Harold Haberman, York, was chosen as vice-president, and Kenneth Willits, Polk, the student council representative. Dr. Charles Bisset was re-elected club sponsor. Harvey Peters, Henderson, is to be the sergeant-at-arms.

A kittenball game started the evening schedule for the 25 athletes, their coach and sponsor, and then followed "eats." After a brief business meeting and election, the traditional initiation ceremonies took place. On the following day, the remainder of the initiation requirements were held in chapel. It was also "Y-club Recognition Day" when all male non-members are compelled to wear hats and tip them to the athletes.

YORK, CENTRAL CABINETS PICNIC

Six Christian Association cabinet members and one sponsor from Nebraska Central College joined the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. cabinets of York College for a picnic Thursday evening, May 16, at York.

After the picnic in the York city park the cabinet members roller skated at the York College gym. To close the day a friendship circle was formed about a camp fire and songs were sung. The songs included the college song of both schools, rounds, and sacred numbers.

Christian Youth . . . A Challenge . . .

Today, throughout the world, the accent is on youth. It is youth who is sweeping on to new discoveries, and introducing new changes; youth with its indomitable spirit and courageous forward-look that will build our world of tomorrow. Nations, everywhere have recognized this power inherent in youth, and have put more stress on programs reaching for and utilizing that power, than ever before.

Nazi Germany trains her future citizens from the cradle in the precepts of Adolph Hitler. The Nazi youth is the core of the whole movement. New members of that party are chosen only from those under 25 years who have been steeped in Hitlerism until they fanatically follow its principles. It is that fanaticism of youth who know no leader, no patriotism, even no God but Hitler, that is pushing back the Allies in the present war.

Communist Russia and Fascist Italy are also building for the future. They too have well-organized plans for their youth, plans that will force their collective strength into the channels that Mussolini and Stalin open for it. All three, Germany, Russia, and Italy are exploiting youth for the good of the state, and are blowing up any chance for world peace in the process.

To Christian youth the part their contemporaries are playing in other countries is a distinct challenge. Why can they not be welded into one far-reaching whole that would assert itself as those political groups have done? There is much to be gained by the type of work such an organization could do in solving world problems, even enough to offset somewhat the disturbance of international harmony caused by power-mad dictators.

A first step towards that goal must be taken. We have numerous associations of Christian young people, but they are a heterogenous lot more concerned with local difficulties than the possibility of helping a restless world. Perhaps that first step is a meeting of the kind that the Christian Association Cabinets of Central and York College held last fortnight. It is evident that unification can be accomplished only by some such means, since there is no dictator to command and mould by force. At any rate, we cast our vote for more of the same, for at such meetings a feeling of kinship is born that may ripen into an organization potent to aid the advancement of peace.

SENIOR MEN DIRECT LAST Y. M. MEETING

The Y. M. C. A. program for Tuesday, May 21, was in charge of the senior men of the college. The meeting opened with a hymn after which prayer was offered by Bob McCannon.

Waldo Dahlstedt played a trombone solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song", accompanied by Carmen Ware, as a special number.

Lyle Anderson gave a forceful talk on "Peace," urging each one to work for peace. He suggested that peace might well serve as the central subject for next year's program.

The second speaker, Carl Bedient, discussed the value of Y. M. C. A. work on the campus from the angles of what the members can do for the Y. M. C. A. and what the Y. M. C. A. can do for them.

PHYSICISTS VISIT RADIO STATION

Eight students from the physics department who are especially interested in radio, accompanied by Professor Harold Haugan, visited the United States Monitor station six miles from Grand Island Thursday afternoon, May 23.

THE LIMELIGHT

By William C. White

At last we honor in our cross-section of student life Jerry Dierdorff, the Geneva lad who incorporates all the qualities of an ideal student. For three years Jerry has been a student in York, and in every one of them he has been among the most prominent on the campus. He is one of the few who combine scholastic honors with athletic skill and a knowledge of music.

Well-fitted to play this versatile role is Jerry. Tall, blond, with smiling blue eyes and an engaging personality, he goes about his activities varying from hitting notes on his trombone to hitting burly tackles on the gridiron, with ease and poise.

No less poised is he when standing over the one-burner stove common to all bachelor's quarters. Jerry especially likes to make gravy. However, if you want to catch him in a really expansive mood, wait until the aroma of apple sauce pervades the basement corner of his quarters. For then Jerry, tickling the blubbery fruit now and again with a long spoon from which he occasionally sips, is content, as that is his favorite dish.

Along the line of dislikes, Jerry has very definite views regarding people with no ambition. Perhaps this is true because he is so progressive himself. Next year Jerry plans to enter an Osteopathic-surgery school in Des Moines.

Jerry makes a particular hobby of studying the personalities of different individuals. Recreational activities are no problem to him. He likes them all, but especially leans to tennis and football in which he has lettered all three years.

His achievements on our campus are many. Listed, they are: Y. M. C. A. Sec'y-Treas.; president of the freshman class, Recruits, PALS, Student Council, Sandburr editor, Y club, chorus, "Dukes," music Y club, football, and tennis. Nevertheless, Jerry remains unassuming. For example, had the Sandburr not been turned over to the new editor, this write-up would not have appeared.

Every summer since he registered here, Jerry has represented the college in the field. Last summer he was second tenor on the far-traveling Dukes.

Jerry's philosophy of life follows the path of comets, high above the reach of man, yet bright enough for even the more insignificant things of life to see. In striving to attain the ideals of this philosophy, Jerry leaves a broad trail of useful service in his footsteps.

We'll miss you, Jerry, as you leave our campus. We wish you success in your chosen work,—the same success that has attended your college activities.

SENIORS CONDUCT CHAPEL PROGRAM AS CLASS MEETING

The annual senior chapel program held on Monday, May 27, was conducted as a class meeting this year with Wayne Dahlstedt, York, the president of the class, presiding. Each number on the program was presented as a different item of business.

The program consisted of the following numbers: marimba solo, Lois Miller, Russel, Kansas; class prophecy, Mary Jean Buttermore, Woodston, Kansas, and Walter Ekdahl, Polk; instrumental duet, Don Casner, Fort Scott, Kansas, and Waldo Dahlstedt, York; "Hidden talent" an address by Lyle Anderson, Marquette, on a fiftieth anniversary theme; the presentation of the senior gift to the college; the class will, Bob Spore, York, and Clarence Miller, York.

LIBRARY PARTY WELCOMES MARATHONS

It was a long-awaited and gala occasion when Editor-in-Chief Wayne Dahlstedt introduced the new "stream-lined" Marathons last Tuesday night, at 8:30, in the library.

Approximately one-hundred students and several faculty members were on hand at this "Marathon party" to receive the new books, and the remainder of the evening was busily spent in looking at the pictures and writing signatures.

DELTA LAMBDA MU RECOGNIZES HONOR GRADUATES

Delta Lambda Mu, the honor society of York College, will hold its annual tea Wednesday afternoon, May 29, at the United Brethren Church. Dr. O. T. Deever of Dayton, Ohio, a graduate of Campbell College, and now general secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the United Brethren Church, will be the speaker.

Miss Irene Thompson, has urged all members to attend and to pay their dues in order to make possible the customary scholarship award granted to the outstanding junior. A silver offering will be taken for the tea, she stated.

SPORTS REVIEW . . .

(Sideline shot on sports this issue)

It was more fun last Thurs. when "Tiny" Phillips was accosted by some Y club fellows and was told to "assume the angle" because of his failure to recognize them by tipping his hat. The report says that it took four men to do the job. One sat on each of his shoulders. A third braced him in front. The fourth swatted.

NEWS SECTION . . .

Sshhhh . . .
The botany class came near to finding the "missing-link" last Tuesday. While meandering down a little ravine they came upon an ape-like creature walking across the ditch on a fallen tree. After a quick look at his classification book, Prof. Noll identified it as "a rare specimen of Homo sapiens." Further study was impossible as the "animal" soon lost himself in the nearby timber.

Don't say anything to Prof., but later investigation proved the "link" to be just Hank Hansen showin' off.

The Weaker Sex . . .

"Cowboy" Jack Miller exhibited his roping skill at the cabinet's picnic t'other night. A fine show it was, too, until he roped Bertha, tied her to a tree, and then couldn't get her loose. To save the tree when the eats came, Jack had to cut the rope.

Columnist Phil Dessauer, authority on classifying typewriters, says:

"The common type is known as the "Hawaiian" or Hula model. It shimmies. Number two is the "Love bird type." Every part is stuck on some other part, and the keys are stuck on themselves.

"Number 4 is the "journalist special." It is nature's great boon to the lead pencil industry. A sort of aviator-type machine. The keys always look over the field before they land.

"The last model is known as the "secretary." It slips into your lap at the slightest provocation."

Freshman—I wanna go out tonight, Mamma.

Sophomore—Please may I go out tonight? I'll be back early.

Junior—I'm going out tonight dad.

Senior—So long folks, I'll bring in the milk.
