CHORUS WILL VISIT INDIANA IN MAY, SAYS PRES. WEIDLER

The York College select chorus of thirty-six voices under the direction of Dean Charles Amadon will present a concert at the general conference of the United Brethren Church in South Bend, Indiana, about the middle of May, according to an announcement by President D. E. Weidler.

The chorus will travel across Nebraska, Iowa, Illinois, and into Indiana visiting United Brethren churches and schools. The exact itinerary is not completed, but it will probably include a visit to Chicago, President Weidler stated.

Zetas Select Semester Officers At Meeting

At a special meeting of the Zeta Literary Society called by the president for the last semester, James E. Koontz, the new officers for the ensuing semester were elected. Harvey Peters was elected the new president and then took charge of the remainder of the meeting. The following students were elected to fill the respective offices: Elwyn Phillips, vice-president; Eloise Tabor, secretary; Genavieve Loreman, treasurer; Max Oswald, sergeant-at-arms; and Clayton Lehman, student council representative.

All except two of the new officers are from Nebraska. The secretary is from Glendive, Montana and the student council representative is from Woodward, Oklahoma. The upper three classes are represented with one from the senior class, Clayton Lehman; two from the junior class, Max Oswald and Harvey Peters; and three from the sophomore class, Eloise Tabor, Genavieve Loreman and Elwyn Phillips.

Bishop Addresses Chapel Using Romans: 16, As Text

Using as a text Romans: 16, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth," Bishop Ira D. Warner, Pomona, Calif., Bishop of the Pacific Coast Area, addressed the student body at chapel, February 8, giving a personal testimony of what the gospel had done for him in his own personal life.

Bishop Warner was here to conduct a Students' Bible Conference on the college campus.

"Men are saved by faith in Jesus Christ, the speaker declared. "The reason why you find fault in religion is because you never let it do in life what God wanted it to do. Those who criticize religion and the gospel have to admit that they have never given it a true test in their own lives.

Savery Conducts Y. M. C. A. Installation

"One lesson that we have to learn is that sacrifice is unavoidable," declared Dr. G. T. Savery, pastor of the college church, who spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting February 4. A formal installation of officers elected for the new semester was conducted by Dr. Savery.

The speaker referred to Toyohiko Kagawa as saying that our living the Christian life should exceed our trying to define it.

Final Contracts Signed As York's Civil Pilot School Becomes Reality

Teaches Ground Course

Prof. W. J. Karraker

Final contracts for the private flight course of the Civil Pilot Training Program to be offered in York College this spring were signed February 7. This course is sponsored jointly by York College and the Civil Aeronautic Authority.

Mr. Arvin Bierman, formerly flight instructor in the C. A. A. at Holdrege, will be flight instructor at York. Mr. Bierman comes to York highly recommended by the city of Holdrege and the State Aeronautic Association, according to Prof. W. J. Karraker.

Seventy-two hours of ground work are required, including courses in navigation, meteorology, and civil air regulations. The ground course will be taught by Prof. Karraker of the education department.

A minimum of thirty-five hours of flight is necessary. The local hangar is being completely overhauled. A shop and class room are being added.

According to present plans the flight course will be a permanent fixture at York College, Prof. Karraker stated. Funds have already been allotted for two units of ten students each during the coming year. More detailed announcement of the nature of this work will be made later, Mr. Karraker said.

"Jolly-Up" Lives Up To Name; Makes Students Smile After Midland Loss

By Larry Smith
A welcome respite after the suspense of the York-Midland basketball clash was the "Jolly Up" which was held in the chapel after the game Thursday evening, January 30.

It was a bewildered, almost glum group of students who left the gym, picked their way across a wet campus, and seated themselves in the chapel. However, the gloomy atmosphere was not to reign throughout the evening, for as the program was presented, the spirits of the group were raised. At first, heads were lifted half interestedly. Then smiles began to flicker across faces among the group. And soon everyone present was joining heartily in unrestrained laughter and applause. True to its name, the "Jolly Up" had "jollied up" the group.

Bette Crum, junior of Des Moines, Iowa, introduced the various numbers on the programs. A piano solo by Bruce Herrick, freshman of Topeka, Kansas, was the initial number on the program as he led Ibert's "Little White Donkey" over the keys. "A Flight to Venus" by Stephen Leacock was next as Vera Blinn, sophomore of Kismet, Kansas, read for the group. A harmonious aspect was given to the program when a quartet composed of Leonard Godown, sophomore of Cozad; Elwyn Phillips, sophomore of Merna; Lora Holbrook, freshman of Orchard; and Daryl Severin, sophomore of Imperial, sang. Jack Miller, sophomore of Johnstown, Colorado, sketched a number of chalk drawings portraying life at York College. Students entering for the Progress Campaign Hits Full Swing In Southwest Area

Bishop V. O. Weidler, Dr. Stanley B. Williams, associate secretary of the United Brethren Home Missionary Society, Dr. S. G. Zeigler, general secretary of the Foreign Missionary Society, Dr. O. T. Deever, general secretary of the Board of Christian Education, President D. E. Weidler, and Rev. Harry Cook, field secretary for the college, are assisting in the Golden Jubilee Progress Campaign. In addition to these, many pastors throughout the Southwest Area are devoting special attention to this campaign.

The campaign is now proceeding in Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Nebraska. An effort is being made to touch every church in the area, according to President Weidler.

President Weidler visited the Berthoud, Colorado, United Brethren Church on February 2. The Rev. A. V. Howland, former field secretary for the college, is the pastor of this congregation. President Weidler will be in Cheyenne, Wyoming, February 9.

Y. W. C. A. HAS REV. MANN AS CHIEF SPEAKER

Stressing the fact that there is a great field for service in industrial schools, the Rev. Maude Mann, spiritual adviser for the Women's Reformatory in York spoke to the Y. W. C. A. women at the regular meeting February 3.

Miss Mann stated that the women who are inmates of such institutions are usually victims of circumstances, and that they are very often intelligent and talented. In conclusion she asked the question, "To what purpose is all this waste?"

Prof. C. K. Morse, Extension Agent at the University of Nebraska, spoke to the student body at chapel, February 7, on "Mental Honesty."

Debaters Go To Tourney Saturday

Two York College debate teams will go to Lincoln Saturday, February 15, to enter a practice debate tournament which is being held at Wesleyan University at Lincoln. Arline Beason, junior, Circle, Montana; Lorena Wygle freshman, Russell, Kansas, with Marjorie Warner, freshman, Pomona, California, as an alternate, will make up the women's team. Floyd Richert, senior, Whitetail, Montana, and Edward Auchard, senior, Luray, Kansas, are on the men's team. Miss Alma Tress Lundman, the debate coach, will accompany the teams.

Speech Fraternities, Histrionic Club Cooperate To Present Mystery

The Alpha Sigma Phi and Alpha Psi Omega, National Speech fraternity chapters of York College, assisted by the Histrionic club, will present as a mid-year forensic benefit play the modern three-act mystery, Through The Night, by F. Ryerson and C. Clements, in the York College Auditorium, Friday evening, February 21.

This unusual mystery was first produced by Wilson Barrett and Esmond Knight at the King's Theater, London, on April 1, 1940. Production rights have been granted to the local players by Samuel French of New York.

The plot details what happens to a rich and irresponsible family when murder strikes in their midst. During a gay houseparty in his summer home, preceding the wedding of his niece, the master of the house is killed. The murderer plans "a perfect crime" to cover his thefts. With diabolic cleverness, he throws suspicion first upon a delightful burglar with a Robin Hood complex and later upon a mysterious and absent-minded guest. Some lightning-

Riggs Elected New PALS Head

Bertha Riggs, senior, Merville, Iowa, was elected president of the PALS Literary Society at a short business meeting held on Monday, February 3.

BISHOP OPENS SERIES WITH STUDY OF ROMANS

"The Epistle to the Romans is the outer door through which we must enter to learn from the Holy Spirit the things we need" stated Bishop I. D. Warner, Pomona, California, as he opened a series of lectures at the Young People's Bible Conference, February 6-9, in the college chapel.

Bishop Warner divided the book of Romans into six parts and based his lectures on these parts stressing the following: What We Are by Nature, How to Become a Christian, How to Live the Christian Life, Why Israel is Set Aside, and How to Serve God.

Concluding the lectures, Bishop Warner declared, "The book of Romans is a Bible within the Bible. It has the same beginning and the same ending as the Bible itself, and is devoted to the same theme—the Story of Redemption."

REV. EUTSLER DIES

The Rev. B. C. Eutsler, pastor of the Concordia, Kansas, United Brethren Church, and father of Margaret and Florence Eutsler, freshmen in the college, passed away January 31. Several students from the college attended his funeral.

Recruits Choose Auchard As Second Semester President

Edward Auchard was elected president of Life Work Recruits on January 29, and the organization chose all girls as his co-officers. Auchard, senior of Luray, Kansas, was president during the second semester of last year, and now succeeds Vaughn Leaming, who was president first semester this year.

Two families are represented twice in the official line-up. Arline Beason, junior, of Circle, Montana, is vice president, and her sister, Evelyn is secretary. Elizabeth Auchard, freshman, is

They Tramped These Halls

By PROF. J. C. MORGAN

The address of Miss Lenore Milligan, '18, is 3941 Roxton Avenue, Los Angeles, California, and she is now Mrs. Lenore Nichols. This information is furnished by Mr. Donald Fisher, '30, whose new address is 441 Cherry Avenue, Tulare, California. Tulare is located in the San Joaquin Valley and is near the Sequoia National Park.

Rev. I. E. Caldwell, '02, writes a newsy letter of interest to alumni. His son Howard, '36, is a pilot on the Pan-American Air Line. His address is Lima, Peru. Another son, Laurence, ex-'33, is also in South America and is working for the Standard Oil Company. He is superintendent of Industrial Relations. Avalo, who would have been a senior at York this year, is attending Trinity College in the home town where an older brother, E. M. Caldwell, is head of the Department of History.

The following paragraph from Dr. Caldwell's letter I quote verbatim: "You may also be interested in knowing that I was one of the committee which selected the name of the college paper. Each of us went to the meeting ready to suggest a name, and it was Miss Serena Dowell, the faculty member of the committee who suggested the name "Sandburr" and the name was adopted by the committee. I had the honor of serving as editor for one period, and two periods as business manager." Both Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell were members of the class of 1902 and served for many years as missionaries in Porto Rico. Their present address is Waxahachie, Texas.

Rev. J. W. Burket, '04, of Campbell College and '10 of York College, who is pastor of the United Brethren church at Vergil, Kansas, has been chosen chaplain of the House of Representatives of that state. This is the first time a United Brethren pastor has been accorded this honor.

With deep regret we record the death of two alumni, Rev. C. R. Fralich, Campbell College, '06, who for many years served as field representative of Bonebrake Seminary, and of Ralph Sawyer, M. D., '24, of Buffalo, Wyoming.

The new address of Mr. and Mrs. Art Farnam, ex-'30, is 1056 15th Street, San Pedro, California.

Marvin Garlock, Trenton, Missouri, freshman presented a sermon of Bible verses. Vaughn Leaming closed the meeting with prayer.

Professor J. C. Morgan, sponsor of the organization, gave the installation service for the new officers on February 5. He said that being an officer in Recruits is different in degree, but very similar in kind to being president of United States. He admonished all officers to do their very best. At this meeting Leaming challenged each member of Life Work Recruits to let others know what they stand for. He said that it is the students who make York College. He urged that Christians use Nietzsche's slogan, "Live dangerously," if they are to live like Christ. The meeting was closed with the singing of "I Would Be True," and Leaming pronounced the benediction.

Two Student Gospel Teams Visit 3 Towns

Two York College Gospel teams recently held services in Polk, Lincoln, and Swede Plain. The teams are sponsored by the Life Work Recruits.

The team of which Vera Blinn, sophomore, Kismet, Kansas, is chairman, conducted morning services in Polk and Swede Plain, and an evening service in Polk, on February 2. Others in the group included: James Koontz, junior, Des Moines, Iowa; Larry Smith, freshman, Pontiac, Michigan; Clayton Lehman, senior, Woodward, Oklahoma; Juanita Lehman, freshman, Woodward, Oklahoma; and Virginia Hinkel, sophomore, Cambridge, Iowa.

Lorena Wygle, freshman, Russell, Kansas, is chairman of the team which visited the Caldwell Memorial Church in Lincoln, February 9. Margaret Bollinger, freshman, Robinson, Kansas; Esther Johnson, sophomore, Merna; Stine Douglas, sophomore, Beach, North Dakota; Fred Carlsen, senior, Muscatine, Iowa; Floyd Richert, senior, Whitetail, Montana; and Shirley Anderson, sophomore, York, also made the trip.

speed detective work by the mysterious stranger, the bride-to-be, and the maid of honor brings the play to a startling and satisfying denouement.

Six-thirty in the evening sees the beginning of the drama, while dawn the next morning sees the end. And into these few hours the authors have crammed murder, mystery, sudden twists, suspense, comedy, charming love scenes, and clever dialogue, thereby guaranteeing the popularity and success with which the play has been acclaimed wherever produced.

In the local cast are ten characters, most of whom have starred in previous York College productions. The players include: Roberts, the butler, Jack Miller, sophomore, Johnstown, Colorado; Gregory Stanton, the bridegroom-to-be, Bruce Herrick, freshman, Topeka, Kansas; Kay Stanton, prospective maid-of-honor, Amy Speece, senior, York; Sayre Holbrook, the bride-to-be, Lois Cobe, senior, Dawson; Mrs. Alicia Keefe, the bride's aunt, Carmen Ware, sophomore, Des Moines, Iowa; Bunny, the versatile secretary, William C. White, junior, Des Moines, Iowa; Dwight Holbrook, wealthy stockbroker, Deane Tack, sophomore, Harlan, Kansas; Calvin Driscoll, the business manager, D. Warren Neal, junior, Brookfield, Missouri; the suave Mr. Smith, Ralph Hines, sophomore, Yuma, Colorado; Bart Jessop, the bungling village detective, Henry Hansen, senior, Des Moines, Iowa.

The action of the play takes place in the living room of Sandymere, Dwight Holbrook's country home, somewhere on the Atlantic coast.

Your Pep, Students . . . Your Pep . . .

We know that Y. C. students have lots of pep. We know that they have stood solidly behind the Panthers all basketball season. We know, too, that they have rooted for the team for all they were worth.

But, it seems to us we need something more,—something to give our cheering section just a little extra unity, just a little extra distinction; something that would help weld into one whole all the heterogeneous groups that make it up. Something is needed to give the flash to the potential power of our cheering body.

Now, other schools, we believe, have found that flash in this way. In those schools where the cheering is above the average, the whole section of rooters is built around one particular group. That group, in most of these colleges, is a women's pep club, organized especially to serve as a nucleus for their team's vocally-supporting rooters. That is their sole purpose. Providing that they are uniformed, they lend color, pep, and unity to a very important phase of basketball.

The foregoing is the case in point. The question is: Would York profit by a similar organization? What do you think, student readers?

(Ed. note). The Sandburr invites comment from the student body on the above question. We'd like to know your reactions on the subject, pro or con. If good ones come in, we shall print some of them next issue in a "Readers' Reaction" column.

Don Haberman Tallies 14 Points For York

The Panther Cubs, college B squad, lost a hard fought battle to Concordia Teachers 45-34 as an aftermath to the York victory over Western Union Friday evening.

A decided height advantage of the opponents proved detrimental to the Graff twins and E. P. Worthington, miniature York stars. The visitors led at the half 22-17. The Cubs went to work immediately following the half-time intermission and midway in the third quarter pulled within one point of the victors. Eggers, who led the Teachers with 18 points, kept the visitors well out in front for the remainder of the game.

Don Haberman was the offensive star for York, garnering 14 points. Burl Graff was runner-up with 7 points. Don Porter and Roy Woodward were the defensive stars for York.

The Polk town team will be the next Cub foe. They play at York February 15.

York Slips In Conference Race As Doane, Midland Eke Out Victories

Rally Falls Short; York Goes Under 42-38 To Favored Doane

Despite a last minute rally which decreased Doane's lead six points, the York college quintet lost by a score of 42-38 to the conference-leading Tigers, Tuesday evening, February 4, on the latter's floor.

The game proceeded on fairly even terms until a few minutes before the end of the half when the Tigers built up a 17-11 lead. During the last half, the Panthers met with still more difficulty, part of which probably, was caused by the absence of Wayne Kaeding, who was injured in the Midland game the preceding Tuesday.

George Shaneyfelt, Panther center, and Grosscup, Tiger forward, tied for high point honors with 14 points each. Shaneyfelt was also the defensive standout of the game. He held Belka, high scorer in the conference with an average of 24 points per game, to a total of ten points.

Weber, Doane guard was second highest scorer with 13 points and did some outstanding offensive work under the basket for the Tigers.

The victory was the third in as many conference games for the Tigers who are now favorites to win the N. C. A. C. title.

MIDLAND WINS 40-39 AFTER TRAILING IN GAME

A game with the traditional story-book happy ending for Midland fans saw the York College Panthers the victims of a 40-39 defeat at the hands of the Rover Boys and Horatio Algers from Midland, Thursday evening, January 29 on the Panther basketball floor.

The Warriors enjoyed a 2-0 lead for about two minutes at the first of the battle when freshman Babe Petrow made two free shots. Soon afterward, George Shaneyfelt, York center, captured the lead and the Panthers refused to give it up—that is, until the fatal last two minutes.

After the first four minutes of play the Panthers had led by margins varying all the way from two to ten points. Then in the last quarter the Warriors started a pow-wow sparked by Draemel, who took high point honors with 19 points, and tied the score at 38-38.

With less than two minutes left to play, Draemel fouled Harvey Peters, and when Harvey made his one shot, the scorekeepers quickly closed their books and started home. However, by the time they reached the door, they were forced to reopen those books to make alterations.

Schneider, a Warrior guard who up to this time had scored only one field goal and a free throw, saw the large hand of the clock reach the "ten seconds remaining" mark and decided something ought to be done about the situation. And he did it. Standing behind the free throw line, he made a long arching shot which dropped through without even disturbing the termites which have been gnawing on the net since the wooden backboards were removed.

The game ended.

Omaha U. Buries Panthers With Long Shot Barrage

"Hot" Indians Run Score To 66-37; Tonkin Alternates Teams

York college met with its second defeat of the season when the Panther five lost to the University of Omaha at Omaha Tuesday, January 28, by a score of 66-37.

Matthews of Omaha led the scoring with nine field goals, all but one of them being made in the first half. Teammate Helborn was next in line with 16 points, while Yager was high scorer for York with eight.

Rolland Tonkin, Panther coach, was pleased with the team's showing despite the final high score as Omaha led only by 19-12 at the end of the first quarter. It was then that York's second five took over in order to rest the first five for the more important conference game with Midland the following Thursday.

Long and difficult shots which always seemed to find their way through the hoop were too much for the reserve five and at the end of the half and third quarter, respectively, York trailed by scores of 34-20 and 41-22.

In the last quarter, the Panther first string again entered the game and played on equal terms with the Indians, each team scoring 15 points before the final gun.

Cagers Return To Form To Win Easily 48-33

J. Kaeding Flips In 16 Counters; Shaneyfelt Buckets 12

The Panthers jumped back into the win column when they scored an easy 48-33 victory over Western Union college cagemen from LeMars, Iowa, last Friday night in the York gym.

It was a case of "now you see it, now you don't" as the York boys controlled the floor play almost at will scoring 42 points by the end of the third quarter, and at the same time allowing the Unioners only 17 points, ten of which were scored against the reserve squad.

Young Jim Kaeding, who has been taking his brother Wayne's position since the latter suffered a broken wrist in the Midland game, led the scoring with 16 points. Borsheim was best for the losers, tying for second honors with George Shaneyfelt, top Panther scorer for the season and second highest scorer in the conference. Each made twelve points.

The cagemen from Iowa reached their peak in the last quarter when they lacked only one point of doubling their score of the first three quarters.

Rain In The Tropics

By VAUGHN LEAMING

The rains have come!
The rain giant is roused from his sleep—
Six dry months of dusty sleep.
Yesterday the earth trembled with his groans;
Last night the sky was burdened with his brooding scowls;
At this dawn he zipped the bottom of heaven open with his flashing sword!
TODAY, - - - IT RAINS! RAINS!

I stand at my study window and laugh!
And why do I laugh from the inside out?
I have lived in Dust;
I have seen it absorb the light from the plains,
And choke the life from trees and the hope from people;
I have plowed furrows through it;
I have prayed for rains that would not come.
But here in the African tropics it does rain!
The rains come in June,
And you can expect the rains to come.

Ha! Little black-skinned, barefoot boy;—
My spirit splashes with you through the puddles.
Laugh and clap your hands!
Your round, naked body glistens like the primitive joy
that thrills my soul;
Torrents of rain!

O, stately palm, you may let your wide leaves droop and weep with the weight of the rain,
But I will stand straight, fold my arms across my chest and cleanse my lungs with this fresh fragrance,
And grin all over my face!

Drive, rain! Drive!
You cannot wash my concrete walls away;
Thunder on my roof with a thousand hammers,
And the metal will only resound with roaring mockery.
Wash this hot, dry earth and give it green again;
Sweep the red dust from the rocky fields,
From the sun-burned trails, from the mountain sides;
Collect it in your choking streams and
Pour it like tomato soup into the great, grey sea.

"Know Thyself First" . . .

Do you ever wish you could skip out of the routine of things, the pressing studies, tests, and activities, for about two hours and just be with yourself? Probably, you have. We wonder sometimes if what we call living, rushing to and fro, brusque, and business-like, and thinking we are accomplishing great things, is just the opposite, —not living at all. For one can live only when he realizes what he himself is, only when he knows everything about himself,—his habits, ideals, reactions, and potentialities,—and lives to fulfill them. Yet, we take no time to discover ourselves, but seemingly dodging the whole issue, sweep on through the numerous details of "leading a happy life."

Philosophers for years have told an unlistening human race, "Know thine own heart," and "Know thyself first." Occasionally some one does just that. And other people look at their own lives wishing they, too, could find the same joy in living. But they don't try to live this way, and probably never will. No, they are too busy.

EDITORIALS . . .

People in glass houses shouldn't.

We haven't said "Women is fickle", for just an awful long time.

Drafty, isn't it, with all this war talk?

A miss is better than a mile. No kiddin'.

Do you mind if we don't say anything about it? We guess Hitler's controlling it, too.

MOVIE REVIEW

And How . . .
Saw "The Captain Was a Fish" adapted by ROT studios. Cap' got along swimmingly until some little blonde "gill" entered the sea and caused the capture of Sir Fish who was made into glue, causing the conclusion to be very gripping.

NEWS AND STUFF

Braggadocio . . .

We don't mind a little boasting now and then; in fact, we think it adds a little spice or something to life. But when it goes as far as "Haddie" Haberman went the other day, there ought to be a law. The great H. was posing for a basketball picture when he anxiously queried of those in front:

"Hey, you—Is my hair parted all right," meanwhile pointing to his Tarzanic chest.

THE LIMELIGHT

By William White

"Five foot two, eyes of blue—"
In the words of a popular song, we introduce to you Betty Jo Ericson, senior of Stromsburg. Betty Jo is a good student, displays a charming personality, and is always full of good cheer and pep, and very neat and graceful in her appearance.

Betty Jo has been active in various organizations on the campus including P A L S, in which she was a trustee, W. A. A., Y. W. C. A., and Histrionic Club. She was secretary of her sophomore class and for one semester in her junior class. She also has served as chairman of the property committee for play productions under Miss Alma Tress Lundman. This type of work is one of her favorite pastimes.

When asked as to her hobby, Miss Ericson said with gay laughter, "Well, I enjoy bowling; however, sometimes I almost follow the ball down the alley, but it is fun anyway."

Betty Jo has dark brown hair and usually wears a pretty little bow in it. When asked as to her likes, Betty Jo replied, "I like to wear formals, and as far as that goes, I love pretty clothes, especially shoes." She has many other favorites besides clothes. After thinking a while, she said smiling, "I enjoy reading too. Then I would like someday to learn to fly an airplane. I enjoy a good picture show, except when someone sits behind me and tells me the story as it proceeds." Breakfast food and cherry pie a la mode are tops along the food line.

Her dislikes are few, but she did make the following remark, "I think we can do without fault finders and people who enjoy their gum too much."

"I like to watch a good football game, until people get hurt. (humm). When it comes to participating in a sport myself, I like archery."

Betty Jo is a major in English and is minoring in Latin and Speech. She is planning to teach. She thinks people can make themselves happy if they would always keep in mind the Golden Rule, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Isn't This Fine . . .

True love does exist! Penelope says so. She made the discovery when she asked Iris of the Iris-Irene Johnson twins, if she were going on the Doane migration. Cried the shocked Iris:
"Oh, no, I couldn't. Irene has to work in the library tonight."

Funny Con People . . .

If this hadn't happened in the "Con", and there wasn't an English major involved, there wouldn't be any story. But it did, there was, and there is. And, it's the awfulest thing! This English major said to the ouija board, "Is there any spirits, here?"
Tsk, tsk. And again, tsk! tsk!

Publicity and Such . . .

If you noticed the happy look on reserve center Norm Miller's face after the Kearney game, it was because all the Kearney papers, mistakenly, said he would start at guard. 'Tis said that his "perfect 30" chest was a whole half-inch bigger next day.
