

Council, Faculty Act to Shorten Turkey Vacation to One Day Only

By recommendation of the Y. C. student council and action of the faculty, Thanksgiving vacation, traditionally two days and a half long, has been shortened to only Thanksgiving, Thursday.

The move, says Walter Brant, council president, was made because most students couldn't get home anyhow on account of rubber and gasoline rationing. Instead, two days more will be added to Christmas vacation.

This means that Thanksgiving vacation will begin at 4 o'clock on Wednesday, Nov. 25 and end on Friday morning, Nov. 27 at 7:30 o'clock.

President Weidler made the announcement of the shortened vacation in chapel last week and expressed the opinion that, under the circumstances, the traditional vacation was not advisable.

Zetas Make Plans For Reception

Eleanor Pfug, Eloise Tabor, and Joe Hickey were the three chairmen placed in charge of the coming reception of the Zetas at a meeting held recently.

Miss Pfug, program chairman, will be assisted by Josephine Hickey and Cliff Hartman. Miss Tabor will be assisted by J. Hill Anglin and Phyllis Foster, and Hickey will be assisted by Elwyn Phillips and J. Hill Anglin. All members will help "clean up" after the party.

An interesting and amusing theme has been selected, but it will not be revealed until a later date, according to the chairmen.

IRC Meets Tonight

Present day problems of the western hemisphere will be discussed at the meeting of the International Relations Club tonight.

Lester Auchard, senior of Woodston, Kansas, will review the book, Inter-American Solidarity by Walter Lavesrust. This book is one of the Harris Foundation lectures for 1941 and was recently presented to the college library by the Carnegie Foundation.

The meeting will be held in Miss Zelma Pope's classroom at 7:30 p. m.

Prof. Morgan Points Out Values of Education Now

That World War No. 1 and this war have both revealed the necessity of correcting educational deficiencies; that at the close of the first World War, we threw away all the benefits; and that we must not lose the peace when we have won this war were points brought out by Professor J. C. Morgan, head of the Classical Languages Department, in his chapel talk, Oct. 26.

"He who knows only his own generation remains always a child," an inscription on a colonnade in the library at the University of Greeley, Colo., reminds us that in these days of haste we should preserve the cultural values of liberal arts colleges," stated Prof. Morgan.

That a liberal arts education frees us from the slavery of ignorance and muddled thinking; that it teaches us Christian and moral values and how to appreciate the beauties of nature, literature, and art; that it frees us from the provincial, socially, historically, and vocationally; and that it makes us aware of injustices in the world, are four reasons, given by Prof.

Histrionic Club Works

With the approach of Christmas in mind, the Histrionic club has started work on two one-act plays appropriate to that time of year, "Grandma's Christmas" by Paul Moffett and "The Alien Star" by Frances and Rockwell Smith.

As the enrollment of the club is rather small, other students will be asked to co-operate in the presentation.

The club has also been working on a radio skit.

W.A.A. Takes Up Two Activities

Volley Ball, Tumbling Share Time Now

Volley ball and tumbling are now occupying the spot light in the activity program of the Women's Athletic Association.

Two volley ball teams have been chosen with Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kansas, and Carol Willer, sophomore of Merville, Iowa, as the captains. These teams practice during the regular W. A. A. period in preparation for a game to be played within the next few weeks.

Miss Zelma Pope, faculty sponsor, has received a new tumbling manual, and work has been started learning new stunts for a chapel program to be presented in four weeks.

Pres. Weidler Leaves For Indiana, Ohio

President D. E. Weidler left York the evening of Friday, November 6, for Indiana and Ohio. President Weidler will visit his former home at Anderson and Indianapolis, Indiana, and call at Indiana Central College, where he was formerly a member of the faculty.

Doctor Weidler attended the meetings of the General Board of Christian Education, at Otterbein College, Westerville, Ohio, on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. He has been a member of this board since it was organized in 1929.

Morgan, why we should have a liberal arts education.

Men Discuss War Marriages In Open Forum

Hal Goodrich was chairman of an open forum in Y. M. Nov. 3rd. The consensus of the discussion on the question, "Should young men marry just before being inducted into military service?", was that the action was an unwise move.

Opinions were expressed from the floor and were limited to two minutes. LeRoy Bott was time-keeper.

The Rev. G. T. Savery offered the benediction.

On Nov. 10, Arthur Lenz, freshman of Circle, Mont., gave a chalk talk.

The program for Nov. 17 will be on the World Student Service Fund. Stine Douglas will be the leader.

Panthers in Last Game

Too late to make this edition of the Sandhurr, the Panthers played their last game of the season with the Hastings Broncs on the home field yesterday, Armistice Day. If they won, the Panthers might share, with Midland and Hastings, third place in the conference. If they lost, it meant last place.

Brant Appears In Voice Recital

First voice recital of this year at Y. C. is scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock when Walter Brant, senior baritone of Robinson, Kansas will be presented in recital by Dean Charles Amador.

Enlisting Board Here Again

If any college men who are qualified do not get into a reserve which will defer them for their education, it will not be the fault of Uncle Sam who will send another enlisting board to the Y. C. campus about November 30.

According to President Weidler, this board will do all the actual enlisting here on the campus, swearing in all men who are qualified. He advises that men wishing to enlist in a reserve have all of their papers ready by that time. Men not sure what papers are needed should see President Weidler immediately.

Panther Club Hints at Theme of Event, Veils Other Program Plans in Mystery

Frosh Pay Debt to Uppers With Party

Upperclassmen will be guests of the freshmen on Friday evening, November 20, when the freshmen sponsor an all-school party as a penalty for losing the freshman-upperclass contests on Homecoming Day.

The program committee includes: Jim Conway, York, chairman; Bob Gillespie, Glendale, California; Glen Shaneyfelt, Aurora; Barbara Jean Kaliff, York; Roberta Berglin, Berthoud, Colorado; and Thelma Rockhold, Salina, Kansas. Those on the refreshment committee are Patty Weidler, York, chairman; Elizabeth Miller, Dumont, Iowa; Harvey Holbrook, Orchard; Bob Cunningham, York; and Galen Munsinger, Harlan, Kansas.

Spook Atmosphere Greets PALS, Zetas at Party

Ghosts, spirits, skeletons, and wierd noises greeted those making their way into a "haunted house" in York on the evening of October 30, as PALS and Zetas provided entertainment at a Halloween party.

Guests gathered at the "Con" at eight o'clock and were led as a group to the old house which was the scene of spirit roving. The building was entered via a broken window and then was explored from cellar to attic.

Closets bore evidence of several family skeletons as well as a spirit fortune teller.

A gong ringing in measured accents from the second story brought to some thoughts of the "death" gong of warning in a play of last year. There were some ideas also as to the cause of the wavy floor of the cellar, but final conclusions were that bed springs were not made to be walked upon, especially in "dark blackness."

There was a ghost story, too, and refreshments, but no Halloween party would be complete without either of those.

Commercial Dep't. Gains Three Students

Three new students have been enrolled by the commercial department. Mrs. Jane Bell Dobson, Mrs. Florence K. Moore, and Mrs. Maynard Grosshans, all of York, enrolled November 2.

Miss Nancy Bell, a commercial student last year, is now employed in Civil Service work in Washington, D. C.

Armistice Day Comes Again

By Margaret Gaston

"Victory Day" is the title given to November 11 in Colorado, Tennessee, Texas, and Hawaii. Otherwise the day is known as "Armistice Day."

Isn't "Victory Day" a good name? It signifies something accomplished, some struggle won.

On November 11, 1918, an armistice was signed. This pact was intended to bring a lasting peace to the world.

Though that treaty has not been

York's next big social event, with a tradition of many years behind it, will take place Tuesday night, November 17, when Y. C. students gather for the annual football banquet sponsored by the Panther Club. This year the event is scheduled at the United Brethren Church.

Each year students honor the members of the football squad with this banquet. Panther Club members have veiled this year's banquet in mystery, and even the inquiring press could not find out who the toastmaster is or what will be on the program.

All the information strict Panther Club censors would permit, was that the banquet would be a circus of fun. Then they hinted at side shows, wild west, animals, clowns, and even a circus band.

However, there were three things on the program that the Panther Club could not hide. Tradition dictates that on football banquet night the Panther Sweetheart, the representative football man, and the football captain-elect shall be presented.

These three are nominated and elected by the football squad, and their identity is not revealed until banquet time.

PALS Name Two Committees for Annual Reception

Chairmen of committees for the PALS' reception for new members to be held Nov. 24, were announced at their business meeting Nov. 3, as follows: Bruce Herrick, junior of Dayton, O., entertainment; Mary Miller, sophomore, Broken Bow, refreshments; Larry Smith, junior, Pontiac, Mich., decorations.

During the program, Virginia Hinkel, program chairman, conducted a "Battle of the Sexes," asking questions concerning current events, insignia of armed forces, geography, and popular songs. The men won with 13 points, while the women obtained only 7.

Lots of people packed up their troubles in an old kit bag — and gave 'em to the scrap metal drive.

forgotten, today the world is in a chaotic state. Again men are giving themselves for a cause they believe to be just.

There are other ways for college students to do their bit in re-arranging this topsy-turvy condition. Conscientious study and wholesome recreation will help to maintain morale and make a brighter future.

There will be another armistice. May it be more enduring than the last and may that day truly be a "Victory Day."

It May Be Winter But Just the Same, Cupid Is in There Working

By Eloise Tabor

"Ta-ta-ta!" A blare of trumpets sounded out as some of the "Con" girls gathered about a specific few to do a little teasing. You may have guessed—someone had just received a diamond!

The celebration was not just for the girls who had received rings this year, though, because Antonia Sepulveda was getting her share of the din. Toni, you know, has a friend in Puerto Rico, Francisco Mariano Quinones.

The others who were being feted were Margaret Trout and Edwina Bomhoff. Margaret had just announced her engagement to Elwyn Phillips, and Harvey Klick had been an important campus visitor the previous week-end.

It was too bad that Vada Winfrey and Marjorie Reilsbick weren't there, too. They have found their permanent interests in Louis Webb and Garold Denton.

Speaking of engagements reminds me of weddings. Had you heard that Marvin Herrick and Irma Zeller were married in September? And of course one North Dakotan could not get ahead of another, so Stine Douglas journeyed to Kansas one week-end and returned with Margaret Bollinger as his bride.

Cupid still seems to be gaining ground!

Time to Study

If there was ever a time when studies should be paramount in the thoughts and time of a college student, that time is now. Many men are left in college purely to get the technical knowledge that will make them better officers and better technicians in the service of our country. Assuredly, their time must be well-spent here.

It must not be overlooked, either, that our college graduates of today will have some little say-so about our world of tomorrow after the war. The best preparation we can make to understand that world is called for now that we may be ready to think, to suggest, and to act when peace comes.

P. S. Nine weeks tests are this week.

The Small Colleges

(By Associated Collegiate Press)

"There is one basic requirement for successful development of the educational process, and that is freedom. The unique service of the small liberal arts, co-educational, church-related or independent colleges is in my judgment the maintenance and preservation of freedom.

Perhaps some idea of the ideal size for a small college may be obtained by considering the size of the "colleges" or "houses" into which the great universities are breaking up their college departments in an attempt to recapture the virtues of the small college. It is believed that the very fact that a college is small makes for freedom and individualism.

The study of the liberal arts in itself means that emphasis is being placed on mental training rather than on the imparting of information or still less on specialization or technical training. To learn "how to think, not what to think," is the goal of the study of the liberal arts; its effect is to train the mind for any emergency.

Coeducation means adaptability. It means doing the same thing for growing young men and women that the skillful forester does for trees, that is to say, growing them as far as possible in the altitude and environment in which they will live. They will work together in life, why not in college? College affords a unique opportunity for the development of mutual understanding between men and women.

A church-related or independent college means first of all a college free from any kind of state control. It is submitted that the maintenance of this type of college is absolutely essential to the preservation of "The American Way."

Finally, a word should be said as to the place of the distinctly church-related college. Such an institution brings its students into

Dean Bachman's Article Appears In Magazine on Christian Education

The September issue of "Christian Education", which is a journal of Christian higher education, contains an article by Dr. Walter E. Bachman, Dean of York College, on "The Church-Related College and the Long Range Program". This was read at the recent meeting of the Nebraska Council of Church-Related Colleges, and it describes the steps in the long range college program with special reference to Philosophy and Religion.

Doctor Bachman stressed four steps in the long range program of the church-related college. The college educational program as a whole should help the students to live richly, abundantly, harmoniously, and completely. In the field of religion, the task of the college program is to present the Christian religion with clarity and conviction.

In the department of philosophy, the program should help students "to see life steadily and see it whole". The course of Philosophy of Religious Education should stimulate and guide students in their own Christian living and prepare them for the Christian lay leadership.

Co-Eds Wanted

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—Need for nurses is most urgent. Some 55,000 are wanted immediately. A survey of two-thirds of the country's nursing schools reveals that we're going to fall about 19,000 nurses short of that quota.

The only way to reach the goal now would be for 19,000 new girls to enroll in nursing courses in January and February.

Decision to become a nurse doesn't necessarily mean an interruption of your college course. Perhaps you can do it simply by inducing biological, physical, medical and social science courses in your schedule at the start of a new term this winter.

Estimates of the number of nurses needed have kept growing throughout the war. Some 3,000 a month have been taken from civilian life for army and navy duty. That's 36,000 a year, as against an original estimate of 10,000 for 1942.

Those figures add up to a migraine headache for local hospitals throughout the nation.

contact with what unbelievers as well as believers must concede to be one of the great motivating forces of human life, religion.

It is certain that the Christian college which seeks to produce men and women who love their country so much that they are not only ready to die for it but to live for it, needs to rest, and so far as it properly may, to make it easy and natural for its students to rest upon the "everlasting arms."—Wm. Deceptive Panther Team Spoils Sterling's Homecoming 26-6

Deception and passes paid off for the Y. C.'s Panthers last Friday night as they rolled over Sterling (Kans.) College 26-6 in the Sterling homecoming game. Victory was sweet for the blue and white since Sterling spoiled York's homecoming here last year.

Running from single wing, center-on-the-end, and tricky T formations, the Panthers hit their stride in the last half after leading only 7-6 at intermission. Sterling's tired warriors, after getting one touchdown on a long pass, spent the rest of the night in a stalemate.

Hartman Scores First

York's first half score was punched over from the 4 yard line by "Doc" Hartman as he slipped through off tackle after a pass had carried to there. In the third quarter the Cats crossed the goal line from the 3 when Speece carried over on a quarterback sneak.

Co-captain Floyd Taylor hung up York's third t. d., when, from a T formation, he took the ball through the center of a baffled Warrior line for a 15 yard sprint.

Earl Graff Counts

Earl Graff found how it was to be on the receiving end of a pass in the fourth quarter when he took one from the arm of twin Burl and raced on 20 yards for York's last touchdown. Burl booted the first two extra points; a pass and another kick failed on the last two.

Sterling was punchless except for their one touchdown drive as the Panthers solved their double wing formation, and York stayed in Warrior territory nearly all the game. Early in the first quarter the Panthers missed another chance to score when end Kaeding juggled a pass in the end zone on fourth down and finally lost it.

York Has Razzle-Dazzle

Some of York's deceptive lateral and combination forward-lateral plays had Sterling razzle-dazzled, and even the partisan homecoming crowd sensed it.

The Panther squad of 20 left for the game Thursday morning, worked out at Kansas Wesleyan in Salina in the afternoon, spent Thursday night and Friday in Hutchinson and returned to Sterling for the game Friday night.

Coach Tonklin started Shaneyfelt and Kaeding at ends, DeBoer and Miller at tackles, Auchard and E. Severin at guards, Schoff at center, Burl and Earl Graff, Speece and Taylor in the backfield. Substitutions were Haberman, Conway, D. Severin, Feemster, Walker, Hartman, Campbell, Grimes, and Gaston.

Midlanders Rally, Beat York; 14-6

Panthers Carry Fight To Warriors for Half

Failing to hold a 6-0 lead at the half, the Panthers lost to the Midland Warriors on the Midland field at Fremont October 30. The final score was 14 to 6.

York played in Midland territory throughout the first half of the game and held an advantage in both downs and yardage. In the second quarter a pass from the Midland 40 was completed to Haberman on the 20 and he ran for the only York score. The attempt for the extra point missed by inches.

Fumble Hurts York

During the second half, the Panthers played on even terms with their opponents in every department but scoring. Midland's first score came after they recovered a York fumble on the York 10 yard line.

In a series of line plays the ball was barely forced across the goal line on the fourth down. The try for the extra point was good and the York lead was gone.

Midland again scored in the fourth quarter when Petrow got loose and ran 35 yards for the touchdown. The conversion was good again.

The starting lineup for York was: Shaneyfelt and Kaeding, ends; Miller and Conway, tackles; Auchard and D. Severin, guards; Schoff, center; E. Graff, B. Graff, Speece, and Taylor in the backfield. Campbell, Hartman, E. Severin, DeBoer, Feemster, and Haberman also saw action.

Play Last Game Yesterday . . .

L. Auchard

F. Taylor

D. Severin

H. Jensen

Sorely missed if there is football on the inter-collegiate set-up next fall, will be co-captains Auchard and Taylor and guard Daryl Severin, all usual starters. Reserve strength will suffer with the loss of the other three.

Panthers Pack Punch; Eight Have Scored

For a team that has shown only intermittent flashes of offensive punch, the Panthers have plenty of material capable of carrying the ball to pay dirt. In six games eight Yorkmen have crossed opponents' goal lines for fourteen touchdowns.

Don Haberman, junior end, has scored four times on passing plays to lead the team in scoring. Ross Speece, freshman back, has scored twice on runs and once on a pass. George Shaneyfelt, junior end, has counted on a blocked punt and a pass. Wayne Kaeding, junior end and E. Graff, junior back, have each caught one pass for touchdowns.

The two fellows responsible for the accurate tossing of the eight touchdown passes are the Graff twins, Earl and Burl. Both juniors, the similarity of their appearance and of their jersey numbers coupled with the fact that one passes lefthanded and the other righthanded is confusing to any defense. Each of the twins has thrown four of the touchdown passes.

The other touchdowns were scored by rushing, two by Floyd Taylor, senior, and one by Cliff Hartman, junior, both backfield men.

"How to Spend Your Time" was the title of the playlet given by Carol Willer, sophomore, Merville, Iowa, and Juanita Sanders, freshman, Vancouver, Wash., at Y. W. Oct. 27.

A women's quartet composed of Esther Johnson, senior, Merna; Margaret Trout, junior, Culbertson; Maurine Marvel, sophomore, Giltner, and Winifred Smith, junior, Enid, Okla., sang, "Take Time to Be Holy" accompanied by Ruth King, sophomore of Wichita, Kansas, on the violin, and Josephine Hickey, sophomore, Harvard, on the piano.

Mrs. Ralph Hines, freshman, Aurora, had charge of the devotions.

"Hey! What's he got that I haven't?" "That's easy, an Arrow Shirt from Russ Williams."

Talk to Recruits

Life Work Recruit meetings on October 28 and November 4 featured the Rev. Kenneth Reeves, pastor of the Presbyterian church, who spoke on "Higher Ground", and Larry Smith, president of the organization, who spoke on "Consecration".

The Rev. Mr. Reeves used the Old Testament story of Jacob to illustrate his theme. A special vocal number by a mixed quartet, Elwyn Phillips, Margaret Trout, Winifred Smith, and Daryl Severin ended the meeting.

Smith attributed failure after consecration to an attempt to set too high a goal at first, or to achieve it too suddenly. He also said that young Christians sometimes have a tendency to do things in their own way and in their own strength, and that this leads to failure.

At the close of his talk, a consecration service was held.

"The next two meetings will be a Study of Religious Pictures and a Study of Religious Poetry," Winifred Smith, program chairman, said.

Mrs. Savery Describes England for Y.W.C.A.

Mrs. G. T. Savery, a former citizen of England, described her native land to the Y. W. C. A. members in their meeting Nov. 3. Mrs. Savery read a letter from an English college girl to illustrate college life in London.

Lorraine Garlock, junior, Trenton, Mo., led the devotions. Josephine Hickey, sophomore of Harvard, and Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Wash., played a clarinet duet, "Lead On, O King Eternal", accompanied by Margaret Trout, junior of Culbertson.

What Chapel Speakers Say:

Miss Callender Discusses Wartime Religion

Religious conditions in the world as presented by prominent writers in both religious and secular magazines were reviewed by Miss Edith Callender, head of the English department, in chapel on Monday, Nov. 2.

Citing as authority such magazines as the Atlantic Monthly, Christian Herald, and the American magazine, Miss Callender pointed out the attempts made in many of the foreign countries to stamp out Christianity, by discriminating against religious sects, and placing courageous ministers in concentration camps. Spanish Protestant churches, except at Madrid and Seville, have been closed and Bibles burned or confiscated, she declared.

"However," continued the speaker, "there are many optimistic statements being made by those who have studied present conditions. Some foreign leaders are taking a more tolerant attitude toward Christian people."

Stanley High was quoted as pointing out increased interest in religion in army camps, and a widespread feeling among service men that the present international crisis is due to living by wrong standards.

In closing, Miss Callender quoted a prediction made by a missionary recently returned from Burma that Christianity will sweep the world when the war is over.

"Pure Religion" Is
Pres. Weidler's Topic

"Pure religion causes us to keep our bodies clean and unspotted from the evils of the world if we are to make our lives count," explained Pres. D. E. Weidler in a chapel talk on Thursday, Nov. 5.

He stated that one of the problems of Christian people has been how to go through life keeping themselves from being contaminated by the evils of the world. Throughout the history of the Christian church there have been those who close their eyes to problems in order to remain unspotted, while others have taken religion so casually that they skim over the world problems. Pres. Weidler went on to say that he hoped somewhere there would be found a medium between the two, so that Christians would not be withdrawn, but would be a part of the community.

"My desire for you students and for those who have gone on is that you have a desire to make life count because of the thoughtful habits you have formed, and the detrimental habits you have avoided," declared Pres. Weidler. "Keep yourself unspotted from the world. Only you and God are the judges of the influences about you."

Doty Shows Importance of Unity in All Life

From the one hundred thirty-third Psalm, Prof. E. I. Doty, head of the History department, stressed the importance of a consciousness of a spirit of unity in a chapel talk Friday morning.

"Things in our country tend to divide us, and activities on our own campus divide us. There must be a band of union," continued Prof. Doty. "But if we are going to have unity, there must be a spirit of unity."

He stated that joy, peace, kindness, and other factors are a means of testing us. "We are conscious of them only if we have them. These are the binding influences of God among people in everyday life. There are ways we can find and use them."

Giving statistics showing that since prohibition has been repealed, there have been more arrests for drunkenness and for operating illicit stills than during prohibition, Mrs. Alyce Mullins O'Neal, of St. Louis, Mo., National Evangelistic director of the W. C. T. U., declared that we each have a personal and a national responsibility in relation to the alcohol problem, and that it behooves us to be concerned, in a talk to college students in chapel Oct. 28.

"We are not told about the vast expenditures of our nation for accidents and crimes caused by alcoholic beverages, but we are constantly reminded of the revenues that they bring in," said Mrs. O'Neal.

She also stated that the expenses of our government for accidents and crimes caused by drinking intoxicating beverages far exceed the revenues which the legal sale of them brings into the government treasury.
