

Dean Amadon Directs Messiah Again For Twelfth Time Last Sunday

For the twelfth straight year Dean Charles Amadon of the York College music department directed the Y. C. chorus and others from the community in the singing of Handel's "Messiah", Sunday afternoon, December 13, at the United Brethren Church. Miss Eda L. Rankin was organ accompanist.

Soloists for the occasion were Elwyn Phillips, Martha Tucker, Patricia Weidler, LeRoy Bott, and Esther Johnson.

Chorus numbers were "And the Glory"; "Lift Up Your Heads"; "For Unto Us a Child"; "Glory to God"; "Behold the Lamb of God"; "All We Like Sheep"; "Surely"; and "Hallelujah Chorus".

Karrakers Take Up New Fields

According to a letter received by Dean W. E. Bachman from former Prof. W. J. Karraker recently, Prof. Karraker is now taking new instruction in airplane engines. Prof. Karraker is teaching in a government school in California.

In his letter Mr. Karraker said, "I am learning a new field of instruction in airplane engines and Mrs. Karraker is learning to be a nurse. I have taken an examination for selective service. My present position is important and interesting."

"I have four hours of teaching each day. I had Thanksgiving off but taught Saturday. They are pushing air work and need aviators."

To conclude his letter, Mr. Karraker added, "Best wishes to all people at York College." Mr. Karraker's address is 135 S. "H" St., Tulare, Calif.

Wedding Bells Will Ring For Miss Pope This Vacation

Students of York College won't be referring to "Miss Pope" after vacation. Instead, they will be inquiring about "Mrs. Arnold".

Wedding bells will ring for Y. C.'s teacher from the Southland on December 19 when she will be married in Springfield, Missouri, to Mr. Conrad W. Arnold, of Peru, Illinois, now in Chicago working as a government safety inspector.

"On our trip we are going to visit the Hot Springs National Park in Arkansas, and various points in Texas," stated Miss Pope.

She will come back to York College to finish the first semester, and then she will leave to join her husband.

"It sounds crazy, but really, I don't know where we will live," laughed Miss Pope. "He is in Chicago now, but you know me,—

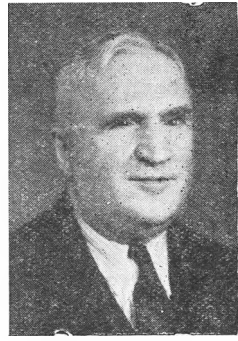

Carolers Spread Christmas Cheer

A group of York College students went caroling, Sunday evening, December 13. Elderly people and shut-ins, were on their list of those to visit.

Following the caroling, chili soup was served at the U. B. church.

Y. W. Sale of Christmas Seals Is Project

Christmas seals to the amount of five dollars and fifty cents were sold December 3 and 4 as a Y. W. C. A. Christmas project with Lillian Sadoris as chairman.

Ethel Brooks, freshman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Barbara Kaliff, freshman of McCool, were in charge of sales. Carol Willer, sophomore of Merville, Iowa; Ruby Grandon, freshman of Burrton, Kansas; Elizabeth Miller, freshman of Dumont, Iowa; Dorothy Bradwell, sophomore of York; Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Washington, and Sarah Baer, freshman of Henderson sold the stamps.

As a joint Christmas project, the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. purchased and trimmed the Christmas tree in the lower hall of the Administration Building. They also made a wreath for the front doors.

Don't let the price of butter upset you. It can be made from grass. All you need is a cow and a churn.

I still like the warm climate of Texas. However, we will live wherever HE is located."

During her year and a half in York, Miss Pope has served as head of the Women's Physical Education department and has taught freshman English. This semester she has served as sponsor of the Zetas and of the freshman class.

"It has been fine here at York College; I've enjoyed it very much. Everyone has been very pleasant to me. Perhaps WE can come back sometime," she concluded.

Many students and faculty members have expressed themselves as wishing Miss Pope many years of happiness and good fortune.

C. E. Society Orders Billboard

A new billboard announcing the Young People's Christian Endeavor meetings at the local United Brethren church will be placed at either the north or south entrance to York, according to a decision of the society at a recent business meeting.

The Bartenbach Poster Advertising Company of Grand Island will erect the sign in the near future.

Vacation Starts At Noon Today

Today at noon Y. C. students will start scattering to their various homes for their Christmas vacation. Vacation this year of transportation problems will run from today until January 6, since Y. C. voted to waive their Thanksgiving recess in favor of a longer Christmas vacation.

Trying to cooperate with the government's wish for less travel on week-ends, the college administration decided to start the vacation on Thursday and end it on Wednesday.

Dramatists Present Two Plays

Two one-act plays, "Grandma's Christmas", a comedy by Paul Moffett, and "The Alien Star", a religious drama by Francis and Rockwell Smith, were presented by the Histrionic club Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, in the social rooms at the United Brethren church.

Action in New York

The action of the first play was laid at the home of the MacAllisters, a wealthy New York family. Grandma MacAllister, who did all of the arranging, successfully, was played by Virginia Hinkel, senior of Cambridge, Ia. John, her son, was played by Gerald Edgar, sophomore of Beloit, Kansas, and Vera, his wife, by Ruth King of Topeka, Kansas, also a sophomore.

Mansen Crippen of Garwin, Iowa, another sophomore, had the role of the son, John, Jr. Beverly, daughter of the MacAllisters whose mother had arranged for her engagement to a wealthy man who failed to show up, was played by Nancy Fellers, freshman from Denver, Colo. Roderick Page, the man who finally won Beverly, was played by LeRoy Bott of Alexander, Kansas.

Bridges, the butler, was played by Badger Halsey, freshman of Fairmont, and Louissette, the maid, by Thelma Rockhold of Salina, Kansas, also a freshman.

Christmas Play

The second play, presented in three scenes, referred to the well-known Christmas story of the birth of the Christ child.

Clarence Mabon, sophomore of Phillips, Harold Jensen, senior of Cawker City, Kans., Harlan Pankrat, freshman of York, and Don Hines, freshman from Yuma, Colo. were the Wise Men, Balthazar, Caspar, Melchior, and Mirak.

Kerman, the lame servant boy, who saw the star first, was played by Calvin Crouse, freshman from Harlan, Kans.

The part of Mary was played by Mrs. Margaret Gaston, junior of Bradshaw, and that of Joseph was played by Fred Gaston, sophomore, also of Bradshaw.

The part of the woman who kept the inn was played by Shirley Andersen, senior of York, and an Angel of the Lord by Thelma Rockhold, freshman of Salina, Kansas.

Ralph Hines, senior of York, directed both of the plays.

Are Hostesses

Miss Mary Alice Slee, head of the Education Department, and Mrs. Lucile Williams Bachman, Dean of Women, were hostesses for the Delta Kappa Gamma evening meeting at the home of Miss Slee, Thursday, December 3.

Three Men Leave College To Enter Service

Three college men, Jacob Sandoval, Richard Anderson, and Earl Parris, have gone into the Service since December 1.

Sandoval, senior from Chacon, New Mexico, who has been working overtime to complete his courses, will receive his degree in June according to President W. E. Weidler. His major was in science and he had intended to take up dentistry.

Anderson, freshman from Stromsburg, was called last week.

Parris, freshman from Aurora, has enlisted in the navy and expects to be called December 26.

W. A. A. Holds Bridal Shower For Miss Pope

A bridal shower in honor of Miss Zelma Pope, director of women's physical education and sponsor of the W. A. A., and a tumbling program presented for chapel December 16 have been occupying the attention of the W. A. A. women.

The shower was held the evening of December 11 in the home of Miss Zelma Wakelin, head of the department of modern language. Miss Pope was presented with a gift from the organization. Games, a short program, and refreshments occupied the rest of the evening.

Morgan's Room Boasts Pictures

Posters of several kinds adorn the walls of the class room of J. C. Morgan, professor of classical languages and Bible.

Three of the recent ones are collections of advertisements, cartoons, and magazine and newspaper articles which contain classical references. The fourth poster depicts scenes from the life of Christ. Some of the pictures are famous masterpieces.

Other posters depict Roman life and culture.

It's easier for a woman to make a man a good husband when she makes him a good wife.

Primary Methods Class Has Party

Following the custom of many years, the Primary Methods class held their Christmas party Wednesday, December 16. The party was limited to the regular class hour and was similar to those conducted in grade school.

A short program was given and games were played. Toys to be Winter and spring sports program will be carried on the officials of the Nebraska College Athletic Conference decided in a meeting at Lincoln on Dec. 5. The meeting was attended by Coach R. E. Tonkin and Dr. Charles Bisset. Doane college was officially awarded the championships of golf, football, and singles in tennis. York tied with Doane in basketball. Hastings took the track and tennis doubles championships.

Next spring, May 7 and 8, the track conference will meet at Hastings. Golf and tennis meets will be held at Midland college one week later.

Professor Bisset turned his duties as president of the conference over to President F. E. Wood, of Midland college.

Y. C. Fun Night Brings Games, Taffy Pull

A program of readings and musical numbers followed by a taffy pull and games was sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. the evening of Nov. 27.

Students met in the college chapel where Eugene Severin, senior from Imperial, presented Cleo Campbell, sophomore of York, who played a drum solo; Eloise Tabor, senior from Spokane, Wash., who read a group of poems; Maurine Marvel, sophomore of Giltner, and Larry Smith, junior of Pontiac, Mich., who played two piano duets; and Daryl Severin, senior from Imperial, who sang, "Water Boy", a Negro convict song arranged by Avery Robinson.

Arthur Lenz, freshman from Circle, Mont., illustrated the hymn, "Higher Ground" in a chalk picture while Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Okla., sang the hymn. She was accompanied by Ruth Wiren, freshman from Woodston, Kans.

Winifred Smith sang "I Am Still Crazy For You" with actions given by Helen Hall, senior from Parsons, Kans.; Imogene Bland, freshman from Shelby; Trinidad Guillen, freshman from Alcalde, New Mex.; Antonia Sepulveda, junior from Mayaguez, P. R., and Virginia Hinkel, senior from Cambridge, Ia.

Following the program, the group went to Hulitt Conservatory where they pulled taffy. Those who wished to do so played ping-pong and other games.

Miss Slee Talks on Courage

Defining courage as mental willingness to endure and giving examples from the Bible of courageous men, Professor Mary Alice Slee, head of the Department of Education, stated in a chapel talk, Dec. 10, that perhaps we should add to the Lord's Prayer, "Give us this day our daily courage."

Thelma Rockhold, freshman of Salina, Kansas, was chairman of the program committee and Barbara Kaliff, freshman of McCool, was chairman of the game committee.

A. C. P.'s Correspondent Reports from Washington

FOR TEEN AGERS

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—Right now the lid is down tight on information concerning the army's plan for sending drafted 'teen age men back to college. Officials and educators here say it soon will be spelled out in detail.

However, it is a virtual certainty that all 18 and 19 year olds who are drafted—whether or not they're college men—will be eligible to take tests to determine whether they shall be assigned to colleges and universities for technical and scientific training.

They probably will be selected on the basis of education, as well as for 'qualities of leadership, military ability and aptitude for more education.'

It is unlikely the 'teen age plan will resemble the current "contract" arrangement both the army and navy already have with some colleges. Under the contract plan, men already in the services are assigned to colleges for short periods of training, usually three months.

It appears that 'teen age men will get longer periods of training of a highly specialized and intensive character.

The back-to-college plan, or whatever it may be called, is likely to hit small arts colleges hard. The army and navy will probably take over the physical facilities of many of them to train men in technical subjects. The art of war leaves little room for other arts.

FOOTNOTE ON WAR

There is a manpower problem in Germany with tragic overtones. Preparations are reported under way for professional military training of boys 14 and 15 years old.

JOBS

The U. S. Office of Education is represented on a government committee studying job possibilities for the physically handicapped.

A recent survey showed that thousands of jobs in arsenals, navy yards and other government industrial plants could be filled by the handicapped. Altogether, the survey revealed 1,300 different kinds of work that might be done by such persons.

Objectives of the continuing study are two-fold: to help solve our war manpower problem, and to gain experience for use in placement of disabled veterans and industrial workers after the war.

Hard of hearing and deaf persons make up the major pool of handicapped manpower.

Many persons with defective vision also could do effective work in important jobs. In one large plant, approximately 90 per cent of the positions might be filled by persons who are blind in one eye but have good vision in the other.

The survey of handicapped persons also included provision for study of the use of women in industry. It was found that—with proper training—they could perform the duties of a majority of industrial jobs.

One ordnance plant already has hired women for 50 per cent of its jobs. Their work is high grade and sometimes superior to that of men.

Speaking of women, the Civil Service Commission is seeking Junior Chemists and is particularly interested in co-eds who have had four years of college, with 30 semester hours of chemistry. Pay, $2000 annually; no written test.

Also sought are Chemical Aids who need only three years of college, with 24 semester hours of chemistry. Pay, $1800; no test.

Expanded research in synthetic rubber may double the demand for chemists during coming months.

The Burr Speaks

Curtiss-Wright Corporation, the pioneer family of aviation and one of the three largest aeronautical concerns in the United States, has announced a far-reaching plan for the training of a large number of young women to fill engineering positions within their organization.

Completely new in many of its aspects, the idea presents a challenge to college women, and with ever-increasing numbers of women entering industries and the services, it presents a real chance for many to perform a vital wartime duty. The American Council on Education, in its Bulletin of October 17, 1942, has taken a realistic stand on the role that college women must prepare to play in the total war effort:

"... Some women students may have to enter employment even before they receive their degrees, and unquestionably the planned careers of many of them will be twisted out of shape even as those of their brothers. The growing importance of woman's position in the war merits more careful consideration than it has had on the part of faculties, especially in the large institutions which have up to this point been preoccupied with meeting the needs of men who are about to be called into service.

"... It is difficult for women students now in college... to realize the situation they are facing. College women have, with some justification, been criticized for their apathy when their "less privileged" sisters in industry are already giving a full day and even overtime to the production of war materials."

Many women from all walks of life are already working in the machine shops and assembly lines, as well as in the offices, of war production plants. Very few, however, have as yet entered the highly creative field of engineering in these same plants. Now, for the first time, industry has opened a new field to college-trained women—a field that will allow a far greater utilization of their academic background.

American industry is presently faced with almost complete curtailment of their normal supply of professionally trained graduate engineers by the demands of the armed forces for these men, and the Curtiss-Wright program, the first of its kind to be proposed, is intended to create in the shortest possible period of time an additional source of personnel with individual capacities for performing at least the primary engineering responsibilities.

The program is by no means an attempt to replace engineers who, by the very nature of their duties, are irreplaceable; to the contrary, it will allow a more complete utilization of these engineers' abilities by releasing them from part of their present overload.

Training will be administered in engineering schools, and will be open to young women who have completed at least two years of college education including elementary college mathematics. Those young women selected will be placed on the payroll of Curtiss-Wright and assigned to a given school, where they will receive their tuition, room, and board free of charge. In addition, a normal salary will be paid during training.

York Enters Tournament

PANTHER PATTERN

"Larry"

All the facts and figures are compiled now; so let's take one more look at the football season before we devote all our attention to basketball. Wesleyan defeated Hastings 31-0 in the final NCAC game of the season to claim undisputed possession of second place. Final conference standings are below:

Team	Won	Lost
Doane	4	0
Wesleyan	3	1
York	1	3
Midland	1	3
Hastings	1	3

In both state and seasonal ratings York placed above Midland and Hastings respectively to rank seventh among the nine teams. Also two York players, Les Auchard and E. Graf, received honorable mention on the United Press All Nebraska College Team. E. Graf also was named on the NCAC all-conference team.

Basketball seems a little slow in getting under way this season but a few scores are in. All games thus far have been non-conference frays with Doane dropping a game to Kansas State 50-32, and Hastings taking a drubbing from Kearney 63-27. Wesleyan has won twice defeating Luther 51-17 and Concordia 40-42. York set back Concordia in the Panthers' only start 55-35.

All eyes will be turned toward the invitational basketball tourney at Hastings during the vacation period. When those scores are in, everyone will have a little better idea of which team will be doing what in conference play. In the meantime I'll take a venture into the realm of conjecture and predict the order of the final standings as follows: York, Doane, Midland, Wesleyan, and Hastings. One consolation is that no team can end more than four places from where they were picked.

Tonkin Finds Plenty of Material at Hand

Seven Lettermen Back for Squad

When the cage season closed last year, Coach R. E. Tonkin took a final glance at his co-champion Panthers, mostly underclassmen, with but two seniors graduating, thought about the war and the draft, closed his eyes and wished.

When he dared to open them again one November practice day recently, he found on deck and ready to go, six of those lettermen. The six were seniors Lester Auchard and DuWayne Grimes, juniors Wayne and Jim Kaeding and Cliff Hartman, and sophomore Cleo Campbell.

Better yet, George Shaneyfelt, all-state center as a sophomore at Y. C., who was out of school last year, was back in the fold. With those seven lettermen, Tonkin had sophomore Don Haberman, shifty forward, and a squadman from last year.

Fallen by the wayside were only Abe Dick, six and a half foot freshman guard of last year, whom the draft took in October, and Bill Gallant, high-scoring freshman center, who has joined the navy.

To these eight, Tonkin has added two freshmen at present, Jim Conway, York high grad, and Earl Ferguson, Beaver Crossing product, and has started to shape his '42-'43 team.

Hardest place to fill, of course, is the position left open by honorary captain Harve Peters, smooth-working guard, who finished his career last year and is now bent on a new one with Uncle Sam's navy.

Of the 10 varsity squad members, the Kaedings, Shaneyfelt, Campbell, Conway, and Auchard are in the Navy Reserve; Haberman and Grimes are in the Enlisted Army Reserve Corps; and Hartman is classified 4-F. That leaves only Ferguson without some service status.

With the schedule not yet completely arranged, the Panthers will meet their first stiff competition in the pre-season tournament at Hastings Dec. 28-30. On January 11 they will open their conference championship defense against Hastings.

Eight State College Teams In Hastings Meet

Coach R. E. Tonkin will get another good long look at his blue and white cagers before the conference battles start when the Panthers compete in an eight-team pre-season tournament at Hastings, Dec. 28-30.

Coach Newt Kyle of Hastings College is the manager of the tournament. Eight college teams from Nebraska's two conferences, York, Midland, Doane, Hastings, Wesleyan, Wayne, Peru, and Kearney, make up the field.

The Panthers, with 10 days of vacation and consequently no practices before the tourney grind, may be at a disadvantage. Win or lose, however, they will play three games as the tournament is drawn up with consolation brackets, since the primary aim of the tournament is practice.

A glance over the early season prospects and scores and a shot in the dark would say that Kearney, York, Wayne, and Doane would be the teams to watch. Early season unpredictabilities, though, might cause a sudden reversal of any predictions, so this scribe lies low.

Y C Slaps Concordia In Cage Opener 55-35

Chief arsonists Wayne and "Jake" Kaeding burned the netting for 19 and 17 points respectively Dec. 8 as a veteran Panther team buried Concordia Teachers 55-35 on the Tutors' court in the season's opener.

Before the game the Panthers, with seven lettermen available, looked uncertain in the backcourt. After the game the backcourt performance still seemed a little uncertain, but the showing of the front line featuring the dipsydoe Kaedings and big capable George Shaneyfelt, all state two years ago, was good enough to make up for it.

Coach Tonkin opened with four lettermen, (the Kaedings at forward posts, Shaneyfelt at center, and Cleo Campbell at one guard), and one recruit, six foot, one inch frosh, Jim Conway at the other guard.

Alternated for perhaps a third of the time was another quintet composed of Grimes and Haberman, forwards, Auchard, center, and Hartman and Ferguson, guards. Two sophomore forwards, Bott and Friesen, also saw action, as Tonkin experimented with his material.

At no time after the first quarter were the Tonkinmen in any difficulty. The Tutors were even 11-11 then, but the Panthers offense got rolling for 14 points in the second canto while Concordia was getting four, to give York a 25-15 half-time lead.

After that it was mostly a question of how high the score would go as the sizzling Kaedings hit with regularity.

Von Fange, Hufnagel, and Neiting gave York the most trouble before the Tutors faded out.

The Panthers' 55 points were split among W. Kaeding, 19; J. Kaeding, 17; Shaneyfelt, 8; Auchard, 4; Grimes, 4; Conway, 2; and Haberman, 1.

Zetas Hold Christmas Party

Members of the Zeta Literary society enjoyed Christmas stories, songs, and games at their Christmas party held in Zeta Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 15.

Esther Megill, freshman of York, told several Christmas stories, and Josephine Hickey, sophomore of Harvard, led the group in Christmas carols, fitting them into the pattern of the stories.

Elwyn Phillips, president and senior of Merna, was in charge of games. A bag of gifts was passed and each person received something.

During the party Phyllis Foster, senior of York, served candy and apples.

Miss Pope Honored At Shower

Miss Zelma Pope was the guest of honor at the home of Miss Mary Alice Slee, Saturday evening, December 12, at a bathroom shower. Miss Zeldia Wakelin was the assisting hostess. Guests were faculty women and faculty wives, and a few intimate friends. Miss Pope will be married during Christmas vacation to Conrad Arnold, of Chicago.

Miss Thompson Gives Readings

Miss Anna Thompson, registrar, gave three musical readings in the chapel service Nov. 30. She was accompanied by Miss Eda Rankin, head of the piano department.

The selections were: the "Twenty-third Psalm" with music by Phyllis Fergus; "Smiles" by Ella Wheeler Wilcox with musical accompaniment by Harold Wansborough; and "An Old Sweetheart of Mine" by James Whitcomb Riley with music by Walter Howe Jones.

Press Guild Holds Party

The Christmas party of the Press Guild, to which guests were invited, was held at the home of Prof. and Mrs. J. C. Morgan, Dec. 14 at 7:00 o'clock. The members and their guests played games and exchanged gifts. Refreshments were served by the social chairman, Mary Miller, sophomore of Broken Bow.

Vannice Speaks

"Faith in yourself and faith in God is the key to success", stated Dr. Vannice, Superintendent of Nebraska Conference of United Brethren churches, speaking on Wednesday, December 9, to the Life Work Recruits. Dr. Vannice mentioned the fact that the word "success" was used very sparingly in the Bible.

Mrs. Bachman Traces History of Hymns in Recruit Meeting

Chapel Features Two Movie Shorts

Two "movie" shorts, "How Brazil Gets Its News" and "The Bounteous Earth," were shown in the chapel service Nov. 27.

The first feature showed the different processes of printing a newspaper. The second picture portrayed Mexican fiestas.

Christmas Theme Featured In Y. W. Meeting

Christmas poems and Christmas carols were featured in Y. W. C. A. Tuesday, December 8.

Daisy Million, junior of Noel, Missouri; Dorothy Saddoris, senior of York; Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Washington, and Mrs. Margaret Gaston, junior of Bradshaw read Christmas poems by Grace Noll Crowell.

Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, led the group in singing Christmas songs.

The Magnificat of Mary, Luke 1:46-55, was read by Shirley Andersen, senior of York, and Virginia Hinkel, senior of Cambridge, Iowa, led the group in praying the last verse of "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The remaining time was spent singing carols chosen by the group.

The history of hymns including those of Bible times, and the characteristics of Hebrew poetry were discussed by Mrs. W. E. Bachman, Dean of Women, in her talk to the Life Work Recruits, Wednesday, December 2.

Arthur Lenz, freshman of Circle, Montana made a colored crayon illustration of the hymn, "Jesus Savior Pilot Me", which was sung by Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Oklahoma. Ruth Wiren, freshman of Woodston, Kansas, was her accompanist.

Mrs. Bachman explained the parallelism used in Hebrew poetry instead of rhyme, and gave examples. She also discussed church music of the present and stated three duties of the choir:

- (1) Sing with the congregation;
- (2) Sing for the congregation;
- (3) Sing at the congregation.

Hold York Dinner At Bonebrake

A recent letter from Rev. Arthur C. Core, formerly Director of Publicity and Finance of York College, but now taking advanced work at the seminary, told of the observance of a York College Thanksgiving Day dinner at the Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio. The dinner was attended by graduates of York College and former members of the staff. Carrying out the theme, they were seated at tables arranged as a "Y".

Savery Describes English Churches

Describing the English church and relating his first impressions of church life, the Rev. G. T. Savery of the local United Brethren Church, spoke at a joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday, December 1.

"The churches in England are very old," stated Mr. Savery, "and the cemetery is often around the church. The churches are especially well known for their beautiful bells; the names of expert bell ringers are commemorated on a bronze plate in the church."

Mr. Savery told his first experience of going to church and read some of the interesting epitaphs he had collected from various cemeteries.

"The English churches are plain, strong buildings often strangely located," concluded Mr. Savery. "There is a fine unity among the churches and each is represented in the Free Church Council. This Council operates such as a Federal Council and is Christian, not communistic."
