

The

Bishop Weidler Speaker At Senior Recognition

With Bishop V. O. Weidler of Kansas City as guest speaker, recognition was given the York College seniors of 1943 in the United Brethren Church at 10:00 A. M., March 18.

"Work or Rewards" was the

title of the address by Bishop Weidler, of the southwest area of the United Brethren church. According to Dr. Weidler, the viewpoint we have concerning these two concepts will determine the drift of our civilization in the years just ahead.

Following the processional by Miss Eda Rankin, of the Conservatory faculty, the invocation was given by Dr. G. T. Savery, minister of the college church.

Dr. E. I. Doty, of the history department, presented the senior class to Pres. D. E. Weidler of York College, who responded. In reply to the recognition by the junior class given by Bruce Herrick of Dayton, Ohio, Dorothy Jean Sadoris, York, spoke in behalf of the senior class.

After presentation of the Mary Mutch Cain award, Martha Tucker, junior of Great Bend, Kans., sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" from "Samson and Delilah" by Saint Saens.

A violin solo, "To the Rising Sun" by Torjussen was played by Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kans. President Weidler pronounced the benediction following which Miss Rankin played the recessional.

The seniors are: Shirley Andersen, York; Lester Auchard, Woodston, Kans.; Edwina Bomhoff, Wichita, Kans.; Walter Brant, Robinson, Kans.; Herbert Bryant, Marshalltown, Iowa; Stine Douglas, Beach, North Dakota.

Elwyn Phillips, Merna; Marjorie

Reisbick, York; Dorothy Jean Sadoris, York; Lillian Sadoris, York; Daryl Severin, Imperial, Nebr.; Eloise Tabor, Spokane, Wash.; Floyd Taylor, York; Louis Webb, DuBois, Nebr.; and Jacob Sandoval, Chacon, New Mex.

The junior committee in charge of the arrangements was: Winifred Smith, Enid, Okla.; Daisy Million, Noel, Mo.; George Shaneyfelt, Central City, Nebr.; Hal Goodrich, Portland, Ore.; Sylvia Estey, York; Bruce Herrick, Dayton, Ohio, president of the class; and Miss Zelda Wakelin, sponsor of the class.

Army Reservists Report for Active Duty on March 25

Seven Enlisted Army Reserve Corps men, York's entire representation, received orders to active duty from the Seventh Service Command, Monday, March 5, and will report to Leavenworth for induction next Thursday, March 25. The Army Reserves are the second of the Reserve units to be called from Y. C., the Air Force men having left in February.

The seven men include Elwyn Phillips, Merna, and DuWayne Grimes, Harlan, Kansas, seniors; Donald Haberman, York, and Roy Woodward, Moravia, Iowa, juniors; and Glen Shaneyfelt, Central City, Eldon Anderson, Grand Island, and Edward Seward, Imperial, freshmen.

Apparently the Army Reserves will be the last men to leave York before the year is completed, except for occasional draftees. The Navy Reserves, at least those in V-7, will probably be called to active duty July 1.

The Army Reserves have dropped their studies, and most of them have gone to their homes to await induction date.

The college will award degrees to both seniors at Commencement since they are within 18 hours of graduation as provided by faculty action when Air Force Reserves were called.

Helen Hall Wins Cain Award

Helen Hall, senior, Parsons, Kansas, is the senior woman winning the Mary Mutch Cain award for the class of 1943, it was revealed by President D. E. Weidler yesterday at the Senior Recognition program when he presented Miss Hall with the honor.

The Mary Mutch Cain award is made annually to the senior woman, who, in the judgment of a faculty committee, most nearly represents the qualities of Mary Mutch Cain, a well-known missionary who gave her life for her work. A fund has been set up by friends of Mary Mutch Cain, and from this fund a cash award is made each year.

This year's winner has been very active on the York campus since coming here as a junior. She has served this term as President of W. A. A. and has been laboratory assistant to Prof. W. C. Noll. Miss Hall is a science major. She has also taken a prominent part in religious activities on the Y. C. campus, being a member of Y. W. C. A. and Life Work Recruits.

York Goes to Second Round National Tourney

Panthers Upset Favored Akron. U in Opener, Then Lose to North Texas 49-51

Rounding out the greatest season a York College cage team has ever had, the Panthers advanced to the second round of the National Inter-collegiate Basketball Tournament at Kansas City last week. The Panthers did it the hard way, too, as they came from behind to knock tournament favorite Akron, O., University out of the running 52-49 in a Tuesday night game. Then, after leading North Texas State most of the first half and all of the final period, York lost a heartbreaker by two points, 51-49, and was out of the tournament.

The Panthers weren't given a chance against the high-scoring Akronites by tournament dopsters. However, Jim Kaeding took the lead in upsetting the dope, and the slippery Panther forward broke loose again and again to count 10 field goals and eight free throws for 28 points. It was his three baskets in the last three minutes that pulled the Panthers from seven points behind to within one of the Ohioans.

With about a minute to go, alert guard George Shaneyfelt intercepted an Akron pass, set sail for the York goal, and was fouled as he shot and missed. Shaneyfelt, after a York time-out, notched both frees to put York ahead 50-49. Cleo Campbell then cinched the game a few seconds later when he drove in for a set-up bucket, and the Panthers had won 52-49.

York Surprises
Akron couldn't believe it, the crowd (which was soon all for York) could hardly believe it, but there it was on the scoreboard, York 52, Akron 49. York had made a sensational debut into Intercollegiate Tournament history.

It was York's whirlwind fast break, without an equal in the tourney, that caught Akron by surprise and also caught the fancy of the crowd.

Next day the Panthers tangled with tall North Texas State of Denton, Tex., who had conquered Stout Institute of Wisconsin 60-37 in the first round.

Texas in Early Lead
A shaky Panther start saw the rugged Texans run up a nine point lead early. Wayne Kaeding came to the rescue with about 10 minutes gone, and with only a short time left in the initial half, York sported a 24-20 advantage. Two quick baskets by the Texan one hand artists tied the score as the half ended.

Back with a vengeance after intermission, the Panthers capitalized on baskets by the Kaedings and Shaneyfelt to go as much as nine points ahead of bewildered State. But, as the clock ticked off the minutes, Texas rallied.

With five minutes left, York still had a five point lead. The Texans fired from long range and hit three baskets immediately to

Eloise Tabor To Edit Sandburr

Starting with the next issue of the Sandburr, the paper will be edited by Eloise Tabor. Miss Tabor was elected by vote of the student council recently to fill the position after editor DuWayne Grimes was called to active duty with the Army Enlisted Reserve.

Miss Tabor is a senior from Washington and has been active at York in Press Guild, Y. W. C. A., Recruits, and Panther Club. She had served so far this year as news editor of the 'Burr.

Anyone interested in writing for the Sandburr should see Miss Edith Callender, sponsor, or Miss Tabor as the staff has been depleted recently by service calls for several men.

"Saboteur!" Says Mrs. Feemster

"Alcohol is a war time saboteur. It has killed off at least a million Americans who would otherwise be in the army or navy today," declared Mrs. H. C. Feemster, wife of Professor Feemster of the mathematics department, in a recent chapel talk.

Beer is important in the liquor fight because of its alcoholic content, and few people realize that there is more alcohol in beer than is ordinarily supposed.

"Some people become potential drunkards at their first drink," continued Mrs. Feemster. "Others can withstand the effects of alcohol for a time."

Von Wicklens Raise Radishes In March

By Winifred Smith
"There is a sweet, superior taste about home-grown radishes in March," say Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Von Wicklen, who raise vegetables in their chemical garden, with little concern for the seasons. Already, in mid-March, there is a three-foot tomato plant bearing rapidly developing fruit.

Dr. Von Wicklen, professor of physical sciences in York College, in speaking of the "secret" of growing his year-round victory garden, says: "It is a chemical solution called the Matlin five-salt solution including potassium nitrate, potassium chloride, ammonium di-hydrogen phosphate, magnesium sulphate, calcium nitrate, and traces of boron, manganese, zinc, and iron, dissolved in distilled water. The vegetables are "watered" and drained every day. Then the drained solution is made up to volume and the cycle begins again. Once a week the sand is washed and a clean solution is used."

Mrs. Von Wicklen, who is a major in the field of biological sciences, contributes to the success of their gardening venture by pollinating the blossoms of the tomato plants in the absence of the bees. In the morning, when the bloom is open, she cuts off a part of the pistil of one bloom with a razor blade and rubs it against the pistil of another. Proof of the necessity for this was the fact that the first bloom failed to produce a tomato.

The garden is planted in boxes thirty-six inches long and six inches wide, with the planting medium of pure sand, cleansed from dirt and other impurities by many washings. The boxes are placed in a south window, and the plants show forth their phototropic nature by bending toward the sun, which necessitates their being changed in position. This winter, the Von Wicklens have planted tomatoes, potatoes, lettuce, carrots, radishes, and beets.

Why not start a victory garden in your south window? Then you, too, may have fresh home-grown vegetables in winter, and may keep up with the "Joneses," begging your pardon—the Von Wicklens.

OPEN DOOR TO JOBS

WASHINGTON—(ACP)—Uncle Sam has propped the doors open for college graduates seeking professional careers in government service.

In an unprecedented announcement, the Civil Service Commission reported it will accept applicants for positions as junior professional assistants as rapidly as recent college graduates and college seniors can fill them out.

"Junior professional assistant" is the civil service term for the beginning grade of professional service, a grade requiring training but not experience. Base salaries at the junior professional assistant level are $2,000, but wartime overtime pay for the 48-hour week brings actual compensation to $2,433 a year.

Here are the precedent-shattering provisions of the commission's announcement:

- 1.—No time limit is set for receipt of applications.
- 2.—Examinations will be held periodically as the applications come in.
- 3.—Seniors may file applications when they are a semester or two quarters from graduation and receive provisional appointments before graduation if they are successful on the test.

give them a one-point edge. Shaneyfelt was fouled with a minute left and made good the shot to tie the game at 49 all.

York's succeeding rushes down the floor failed to produce the winning bucket as the long-armed Southerners batted down two basket tries that looked good. Fifteen seconds remained on the clock as the Texas center, Shannon, dribbled down the floor and let go with a one-hander from the center which swished as cleanly as a set-up. The Panthers' bid for national recognition was done.

Wayne Gets 27

Wayne Kaeding was the Panther big gun, getting 27 points. Jim got 11, and together the two in both tournament games scored 78 points.

Panther prestige went higher the next evening when North Texas dethroned defending champion Hamline College of St. Paul, Minn., 45-41 in the quarterfinals of the tournament.

With their fast-breaking offense York was one of the outstanding teams of the tourney, and certainly the favorite of the crowd.

The Burr Speaks

Our Challenge . . .

In this issue we speak for the last time through this column. For almost four years, the 'Burr and its staff have been part and parcel of our life. Now comes a great change. Uncle Sam has need of us elsewhere, and we leave our collegiate "bull-sessions", editorializing, sports,—all that has been familiar and dear to us,—for we know not what. We can go only with faith that we are establishing a tomorrow that may be far, far better.

It is appropos at such a time to express our appreciation to the staff that has worked with us. They have always been loyal, ready to stand by, and ready to help. We thank them and wish them luck.

Our aim has been, in editing the 'Burr, to make it the best in its field. In some ways, especially this year, we have been hampered and have fallen down in quality. Several times our staff has been disrupted and almost wrecked. There are sure to be more trials and troubles, but be ready for them. We leave you all with this challenge: keep doing your best to make York and the 'Burr the best. Leaving, we say so long, and "30."

Cats Go All Out In Finale To Whip All Stars 79-73

A sensational rally that tied the score at 65 all just as the game ended, and a brilliant overtime period in which the Panthers scored 14 points gave the Yorkers their ninth straight victory on the auditorium maples over the greatest collection of N. C. A. C. stars that have ever been assembled, 79-73, Tuesday night.

The game was played as a benefit for the Y. S. O., and all receipts over expenses went to that organization.

The York Chamber of Commerce sponsored the game and made arrangements to bring all the bright lights of other conference teams to York for the game.

Again the competitive spirit of this year's Panthers was evident as they came back from what looked like certain defeat to subdue the stubborn All-Stars. Trailing by eight points at the half, the Panthers were as far as 12 behind midway in the final period before Wayne Kaeding started dunking baskets to tie the game at 51-51.

From there on out it was a slam-bang basket-making affair with the pot shooting All-Stars, paced by Weber and Grosscup of Doane, getting the better of it. With a minute and a half left, York trailed by five points but managed to get within one basket with seconds left as Jim Kaeding got a free throw and arched a long swisher from far out.

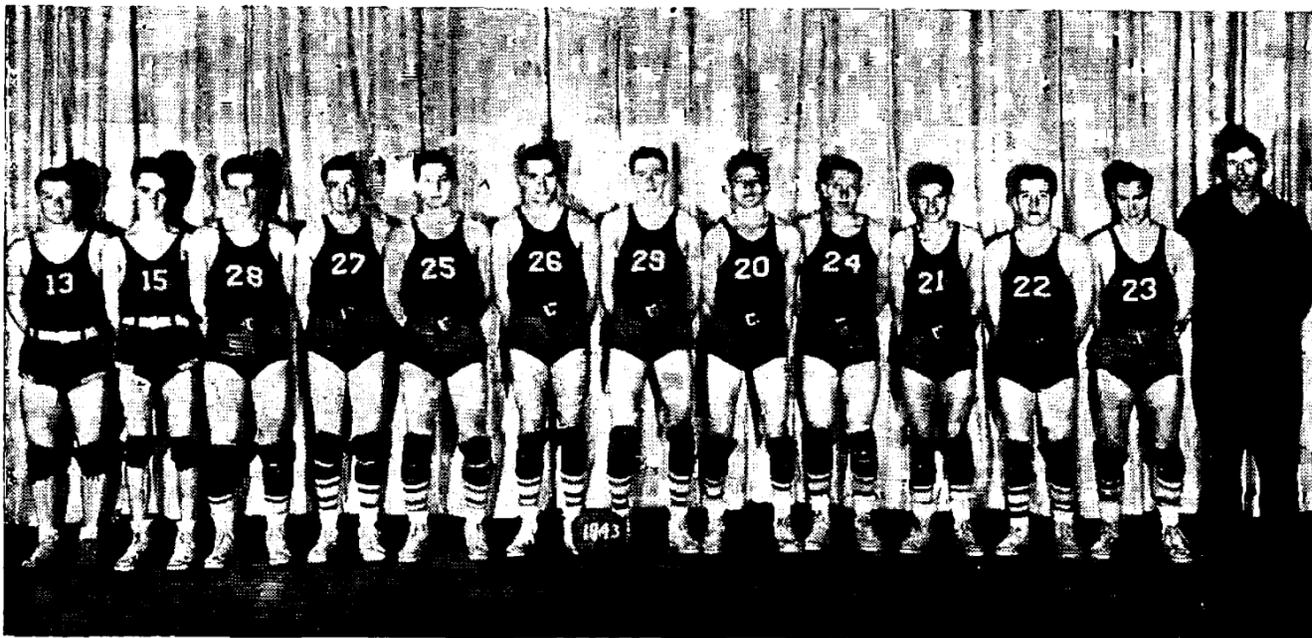

Grimes then caged one from some distance out to tie the score at 65 all as the horn blew ending the regular playing-time.

In the overtime the Panthers showed the best brand of ball displayed this year to tally 14 points in the five minutes and finished six ahead of the Stars.

Wayne and Jim Kaeding again turned in great performances. Wayne broke his individual scoring mark for one game, established against Midland last year, by one point, getting 35 tallies during the evening. Jake's flashy floor-work was combined with 26 points, most of them coming at crucial times.

The Stars had in their line-up, coached by Al Calvert of Doane, such NCAC standouts as Weber and Grosscup of Doane, Payne and Schwartz of Midland, Miller and Ketterer of Wesleyan, and Rader and Cochrane of Hastings.

Nebraska's Best,---State Champs . . .

The York college Panthers, co-holders with Doane of the N.C.A.C. championship for the second year, rounded out the most successful season in many years by winning the state college title with nine victories against three defeats.

PANTHER PATTEN

"Gypsie"

"All" Teams . . .

On his recently chosen All-State and All-Conference teams, Gregg McBride, of the Omaha World-Herald, gave top-billing to three of York's Panthers. The three Panthers selected on these mythical teams were Jim and Wayne Kaeding and George Shaneyfelt, mainstays on York's championship basketball squad this year.

Wayne, leading scorer in both conference and state, should have a berth on any "all" team, and what coach couldn't use "Jake" and "Shaney" to help round out a nearly perfect quintet. Looking at the Cats' different game scorings, did you ever wonder how great an aggregation of points could have been assembled "if", all three boys were at their best at the same time?

We could have chosen our "all" teams, but repetition is monotonous. Our choice for all-state members is the same as McBride's, which included Weber of Doane and McCullough of Kearney. Besides York's three, our all-conference team would have Weber

Panthers Finish Greatest Season

York College is the first N. C. A. C. team ever to enter the Kansas City Basketball Tournament. The Panthers well deserved an invitation to participate there this year as they won the state title and in doing so, made a habit of breaking scoring records.

The Tonkinmen amassed a total of 1113 points against 19 opponents in full season play and while playing 12 games in the state circuit, they potted 711 counters to average nearly 60 points a game.

The 84 points scored in one game against Hastings this year is the largest score in Panther history and the second largest in N. C. A. C. history. Other high-scoring games of the season found the Yorkers notching 83, 77, and 71, against Norfolk J. C., Kearney, and Midland, respectively.

and your choice between Schwartz of Midland and Geis of Wesleyan for the other guard position.

Spring . . . Ah Spring!

It seems to us as we glance around the campus, that too many spring athletes are competing in the much tougher Uncle Sam's league, and that York will find herself a little shy on material this season.

The two mainstays on the track squad, Webb and Taylor, having left with the Air Corps Reserves, there is a large crimp in the Panthers' outlook for their usual strong track team. Let's hope there are a couple of dark horses in hiding. We need them.

Tennis, the minor sport of the two, is perhaps by far the hardest hit, having only one letterman, Hal Goodrich, returning. Boosting a runner-up doubles team in the conference meet last year, York would have had a good shot at leading the league this year had they been assured all members of their '42 team. All we have to say is "Good luck, Hal".

Sox and Ties for the college man—Russ Williams.

Not only could the Cats score heavily but they scored when the points were needed most. Two examples of this courageous playing are shown in the Kearney and Wayne games which were both played away. When the Panthers found themselves 15 points behind Kearney 73-58 and only 6 minutes left in the game, they set sail and tied the score at 74-74 to send the game into an overtime. While playing the Wayne Teachers the Panthers walked off the floor at the half on the short end of a 36 to 17 score but came back with a "never-say-die spirit" to knot the count at 58 all before finally falling 58 to 60.

These comebacks are nothing short of sensational and plainly show the great competitive spirit of the boys. It is no wonder that the York fans are proudly claiming their Panthers to be the greatest basketball team that ever wore the blue and white for York College.

Jolly-Up Meet

Y. C. talent springs up in the most unique places! Maybe it is in a rogue's gallery, in a torture chamber, or in a variety show, as was the case when students attended the Big Carnival held in the "Ad" building on the evening of March 12.

On entering the building, the guests visited a side show which included "ground" hogs, 3 (s) cents for nothing. Further on was a rogue's gallery with rewards offered for the capture of various "inmates." And, too, there was the great "Gypsy," who told secrets of the future to those who wished to know.

The last and most dreaded (it is said) place visited at the carnival was "Torture Chamber" number 0613505. If the visitor lived through this, he found his way to the chapel, where a dignified Master of Ceremonies, dressed in "tails," solemnly introduced characters of a melodrama, an outstanding trio, "Jugheads" great new orchestra.

The last of the booths to be visited, and the one said to be most popular, was in Professor Morgan's room, where everyone was served hot dogs and pink lemonade.

Y. C. Songs To Be Published

The college song, "On the Hill of the Rising Sun," written by Miss Ruby Carol Rickert, and the pep song, "Panther Salute," written by Larry Smith, ex-'44, will be published soon under the auspices of the Student Council, according to Walter Brant, council president. The copies will be sold for a nominal sum.

Miss Rickert, a blind musician living in Washington, Kansas, at the time she dedicated the song to York College, is now married and at home in Washington, D. C., according to the Rev. Maud Mann, a long-time friend.

Smith was recently called to active duty with the Army Air Forces at Jefferson Barracks, St. Louis, Missouri.

Zetas Debate Induction Question

Debating the subject, "that all men between the ages of 18 and 38 should be inducted into the armed service", Jane Hirschfeld, freshman of Benedict, and Esther Megill of York, also a freshman, upholding the negative, won over Herbert Bryant, senior of Shelby, and Hal Goodrich, sophomore of Portland, Ore., at the Zeta meeting on March 2.

Points brought out by the affirmative were that all wars have demonstrated that the younger men are the better fighters; and that a man 27 years of age is considered too old to become an air corps officer.

Points brought out by the negative side were that for obvious reasons, such as health, occupation, etc., all men could not be inducted into the service; that some men will have to be trained to prepare and direct the postwar work. Judges were Miss Doris Gilmore, secretary to Pres. D. E. Weidler and sponsor of the organization; Daisy Million, junior of Noel, Mo.; and Eleanor Pfug, sophomore of York.

Mrs. Bachman Talks Concerning Friends

"A little boy's definition of a friend is 'Someone who knows all about you and likes you anyway,'" said Dean Lucille Williams Bachman in her chapel talk, Thursday, March 4.

When asked what his secret of a beautiful life was, Charles Kingsley stated, "I had a friend." Even fragments of friendship should be treasured.

Angelo Patri, principal of a New York kindergarten has said, "Friendship is the witchhazel that soothes away bruises of the spirit as witchhazel soothes physical bruises."

"If you like someone, let him know it. If he does good work, praise him. It will add savor and joy to his life," concluded Mrs. Bachman.

PALS Hear How To Walk

"O wad some Pow'r the giftie gie us to see ourselves as ithers see us!" This sentiment was the wish of the PALS after Dr. Charles Bisset, head of the Social Science Department, discussed, "People and the Way They Walk," at the PALS meeting Mar. 2.

Dr. Bisset said that the movement of the feet may be just as expressive as a look in the eyes or a shrug of the shoulders.

"One is literally 'on his toes,' when he is happy; he dances for joy," said Dr. Bisset, "but one doesn't go tripping in a funeral procession."

A small child will imitate the way his "hero" walks. A peculiar form of muscle may be inherited and cause a characteristic walk in a family.

"Character is shown in a person's walk," declared Dr. Bisset. "A swagger is about the same as a brag. A 'slounch' walk shows a slouchy way of thinking. One who walks with precision knows just where he is going."

Fashion sometimes interferes with a graceful way of walking. Dr. Bisset expressed a doubt that anyone can walk gracefully in three-inch heels.

"The action of the feet indicate the character of the heart. Your feet take you where your head directs," concluded Dr. Bisset.

Mrs. Morgan Talks To Y. W. C. A.

"Radiant personality comes only when the power God has given each one of us is dedicated faithfully to Him," said Mrs. J. C. Morgan in her talk to the Y. W. C. A. on March 9.

In illustrating the power which God has given, Mrs. Morgan cited several instances in which good had come because of the use of abilities and potentialities when the individual has been willing to dedicate himself to God.

In speaking of Raphael, the artist who gave us the great "Sistine Madonna," Mrs. Morgan stated that not until he had dedicated his talents to produce a picture that would bless the world, did he paint the one picture which has become outstanding above his other works.

Another example of the use of power which the speaker gave was of a huge power plant built on the Jordan river, which furnished light, heat, and power to one-third of Palestine.

Victory Gardens to Plant Until the Boys Come Home was the theme of the annual Y. W. C. A. banquet, carried out with toasts on "Deep Digging," "Weather Conditions," "Seeds," and "Harvest." Dinner was served in the dining room at Hulitt Hall, March 9.

Marjorie Reisbick, senior of York and retiring Y. W. C. A. president, was toastmistress. Elizabeth Miller, freshman of Dumont, Iowa; Dorothy Jean Sadoris, senior of York; Arlene Adams, sophomore, Clayton, Kan.; and Daisy Million junior, Noel, Mo., newly-elected Y. W. C. A. president, gave toasts.

Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, directed the group in singing "Caisson's Song," "Anchors Aweigh," "The Army Air Corps," and the "Marine Hymn." Margaret Trout, junior of Culbertson, accompanied.

Each new cabinet member received a corsage of sweet peas from the retiring cabinet.

Red, white, and blue candles, miniature gardens, and flags decorated the tables. The programs, tied with red, white, and blue ribbons, each bore the emblem of the army, navy, army air corps, or marines.

I. R. C. Questions Germany's Future

"What future has Germany?" was the topic of the discussion led by Loraine Garlock, junior of Trenton, Mo., at the meeting of the International Relations club March 11 at 7:30.

This question was divided into several parts: What's to be done (1) to Germany, (2) for Germany, and (3) with Germany.

Three brief reports on reparation, disarmament, and the desire for power and territory were given by Virginia Hinkel, senior of Cambridge, Ioka, Fred Gaston, sophomore, and Margaret Gaston, junior of Bradshaw, Nebr.
