Banquet Guests Wade Snow To Celebrate Arrival of Spring

Ninety students and faculty members waded snow drifts to attend the annual spring banquet held in the "Con" dining room on Friday evening, March 19. Toasts were arranged to show that "In Spring A Young Man's Fancy Turns." Clifford Hartman, junior of LeCompton, Kansas, was toastmaster, and members of the basketball team were the honored guests.

George Shaneyfelt, junior of Central City, expressed his ideas on the turning of fancy "From Basketball to Track," and Edwina Bomhoff, senior of Wichita, Kansas, told of turning "From Hibernation to Love." Prof. E. I. Doty suggested turning "From Study to Liesure," and Ruth Wiren, freshman of Woodston, Kansas, turned the thoughts "From Nonsense to Sense."

A tribute to the basketball team was in charge of Walter Brant, senior of Robinson, Kansas, and president of the Student Council. After drinking a toast to the "boys," the group sang "Panther Salute."

"Spring Joy" was sung by Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, and Dick Riggs, freshman of Merville, Iowa, sang two popular numbers, "There Are Such Things," and "Still Crazy For You." A third musical number was contributed by Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, and Jane Hirschfeld, freshman of Benedict, as Severin sang to Jane, "Moonlight Becomes You." The program was closed as the entire group joined in singing the college song, "On the Hill of the Rising Sun."

Decorations were flowers, both real and artificial. Programs were paper wheels which "turned" to reveal the program, menu, and names of the basketball team. Guests were attired in print dresses and sport clothes.

Y. M. and Y. W. Hear Mrs. Doyer On W. S. S. F.

Representing the World Student Service Fund organization, Mrs. Dorothy T. Doyer, Dean of Women at Perdue University, addressed the student body at the joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., Tuesday, March 23. She talked of the aid the organization gave to the captured soldiers held in internment, refugee, and concentration camps in foreign countries. "Being a representative of the World Student Service fund entitles you to go into concentration camps of Germany and see what the prisoners' wants and desires are," stated Mrs. Doyer. "The organization collects funds to help men in war, in internment camps, and in enemy territory."

"We do lots of work in internment camps which are not internationally controlled. A Polish group is receiving American education now in a camp in Switzerland," declared Mrs. Doyer. American-born Japanese are eager and willing to go to work for the United States, according to the speaker. In attacking China, Japan realized she would have to conquer China before she could become highly educated.

"An inspection is held every month or six weeks to see whether captured American soldiers are being treated as well as German soldiers," said Mrs. Doyer.

In closing, Mrs. Doyer exclaimed, "We may very easily win this war now, but we may lose it afterwards."

Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, opened the meeting by leading the audience in singing, "We've a

Captain Hayes Calls For Women In Waves... Spars

"Release a man to fight at sea. Join the Navy, Waves or Spars." These words come as Capt. Webb C. Hayes, Director of Recruiting for the U. S. Navy, calls for women to fill shore jobs which formerly have been done by men.

Recent reports from the Bureau of Naval Personnel state that educational and other requirements have been lowered, and Waves and Spars are now permitted to marry men in their own branches of service upon com-

Y. C. Executive Committee Meets

The York College Executive Committee met Wednesday evening, March 17. The out of town members present were Dr. O. T. Deever, Dayton, Ohio; Dr. G. E. MacCanon, Des Moines, Iowa; Rev. A. E. Moore, Enid, Oklahoma; Dr. Maurice Nichols, Denver, Colorado; Dr. C. V. Priddle, Wichita, Kansas; Bishop V. O. Weidler, Dr. S. B. Williams, and Rev. Claude H. Crandall, all of Kansas City, Missouri.

Local members of the board in attendance were President D. E. Weidler, Supt. A. P. Vannice, E. A. Levitt, E. L. Malster, J. R. McCloud, Rev. G. T. Savery, Russ Williams, and Nels Hammar. President Weidler is chairman of the committee.

"Your Religion Will Be Tested"

"The minute you claim to have religion, your religion is put to the test," said the Rev. C. H. Crandall, superintendent of the Missouri conference, at the Life Work Recruits meeting on March 17.

The Rev. Mr. Crandall stated that there are three simple tests of religion: what religion does to you, for you, and for others. He also said, "The religion of Jesus Christ will not only share in giving material things, but in encouraging others in the realms of spiritual blessings."

S. S. Members Entertained

Officers and teachers of the First United Brethren church entertained the Sunday School members at a social gathering in the church parlors March 26. Dr. D. E. Weidler, president of the college and superintendent of the Sunday School, presided at a short program.

LeRoy Bott, sophomore of Alexander, Kans., led the group in singing songs that children like. Bruce Herrick, junior of Dayton, Ohio, accompanied on the piano. Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, sang "Without a Song," accompanied by Mr. Herrick.

Arthur Lenz, freshman of Circle, Montana, illustrated "Jesus Savior Pilot Me" with a chalk drawing pletion of indoctrination and training courses. Information may be obtained by writing to the nearest U. S. Navy Recruiting stations; for York, the Baird Bldg., 1704 Douglas St., Omaha.

College graduates are eligible for training as commissioned officers, provided the usual requirements for enlistment can be met.

The annual faculty reception will be held on Friday evening, April 9, at 8:30 o'clock, at the United Brethren church, according to Miss Anna J. Thompson, registrar and general chairman of the reception.

The reception is formal, but under war time restrictions it will be permissible to wear street clothes, says Miss Thompson.

The first faculty reception was given March 19, 1931, at the United Brethren church. Over 200 guests were present, and the college color scheme was used. Two plays were given, one a drama, "The Finger of God", by Percival Wilde; and a comedy, "The Trysting Place", by Booth Tarkington.

Dean Charles Amadon sang two solos during the intermission between plays. Misses Gladys Pearson and Edith Callender served refreshments to complete the evening's entertainment.

Waffles and Sausage For Press Guilders

Waffles and sausage rapidly disappeared from the platters when the Press Guild met at the home of Prof. J. C. Morgan, March 15, for their regular monthly meeting.

Prof. Edith Callender, sponsor, officiated at the skillet and Mary Miller, sophomore of Broken Bow, did the honors at the waffle iron.

After the food disappeared, a writing kit was presented to DuWayne Grimes, '43, editor of the Sandhurr for two and one-half years and president of the Press Guild, who was leaving for active duty in the army. Games were played before the guests disappeared through the snow.

while LeRoy Bott accompanied him by singing the song.

A violin solo, "One Fleeting Hour," was given by Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kans. Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, sang, "Little White Bird." Ruth Wiren, freshman of Woodston, Kans, accompanied these numbers.

Dr. Weidler extended an invitation to everyone to come to Sunday School.

Professor W. C. Noll, head of department of Biological Science, showed a movie of Colorado scenes to the group before refreshments were served by Mrs. G. T. Savery, Mrs. A. P. Vannice, and Mrs. Harold Megill.

College Receives Gifts

Mrs. Ella Hogrefe of Kearney and Mrs. Ellen Bailey of the Otterbein Home but formerly of Lemar, have made York College the recipient of two very generous gifts within the past few weeks, according to Pres. D. E. Weidler.

Mrs. Hogrefe and her late husband, in the year 1925, gave an Estate Note for $2,500.00 which she paid in cash last week. In addition to this cash gift, Mrs. Hogrefe has set up a trust fund in favor of York College in the amount of $2,500.00 with the General Board of Christian Education, Dayton, Ohio, as an annuity, and has willed her Kearney home to the College.

Mrs. Bailey some years ago gave 520 acres of land as an endowment to York College. Later, Mrs. Bailey deeded 400 acres to York College, in which she retained a part interest until a few weeks ago. Mrs. Bailey has terminated the agreement so that the College has the full title. This makes the gifts of Mrs. Bailey and her late husband the largest from any one family to York College, with the exception of the McCloud Trust Fund of $50,000.00, and the many direct gifts made by Mr. C. A. McCloud during his lifetime.

"These generous gifts at this time, added to the results of the recent campaign in York, give a new aspect to the financial status of York College," declared Dr. Weidler.

Dignity Lost As Juniors And Seniors Celebrate

According to those in attendance, dignity was forgotten as juniors and seniors gathered in the "Con" dining hall for the annual senior-junior party on March 18. Short dresses, hair ribbons, and knickers lent atmosphere to the occasion of the juniors' third birthday.

Recalled for an evening were such games as "The Farmer in the Dell," "Wink 'em," and "Peanut Race." Between games and contests the usually staid (?) upperclassmen amused themselves with dolls, teddy bears, and bibcks.

In keeping with the theme of a birthday party, diminutive candles decorated the cup cakes which were served with sherbert and candy bars.

Correction

Apologies are due Eugene Severin of Imperial, for the omission of his name from the list of seniors who took part in the Recognition Day service, March 18.

Navy Announces New Program For Upperclassmen

College upperclassmen enrolled in courses leading toward degrees in engineering, physics, mathematics or electronics, whose eyes have prohibited them from enrolling earlier in an armed forces officer reserve program, are now being accepted by the Navy.

The new program, known as Class SV-7 of the U. S. Naval Reserve, has been announced in connection with the Navy's need for additional officer candidates for engineering duties in 1943 and 1944.

Weidler and Bachman Attend N. A. C. C. Held in Lincoln

President D. E. Weidler, and Dean W. E. Bachman attended the meeting of the representatives of the NACC at the Y. M. C. A. in Lincoln, Saturday, March 20. This meeting was held in lieu of the annual session of the organization because of the war condition.

Dr. Gould Wickey, Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Conference of Church-Related colleges, told the group that "Church related schools must adjust themselves to the military program, but must also carry their Christian program." He also pointed out that as long as there is a church there will be church-supported colleges, needed by society, religion, and education.

S. H. Anonsen, St. Paul, Minnesota, administrative agent for the NYA, explained the setting up of state college councils and their relation to the over-all national council of colleges.

All officers of the NACC were re-elected including Chancellor B. F. Schwartz, Wesleyan, president; D. E. Weidler, president York College, vice-president; Dean W. E. Bachman, York college, secretary; G. E. Hickman, Midland, treasurer.

Africal Project Prospers As Pledges Are Paid

Approximately $130.00 has been pledged for the African Project of the Life Work Recruits, according to Virginia Hinkel, senior of Cambridge, Iowa, who is the chairman of the project. Nearly two-thirds of the amount has been paid.

The African Project is part of the World Friendship Program carried on by the five United Brethren Colleges and the seminary. Dr. S. G. Zeigler, Executive Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, started this program about ten years ago.

The college having the largest contribution per capita sends a representative to Africa until each school has been represented. Four representatives have been sent.

"The pledge this year is the best since 1938," declared Miss Hinkel. "The pledges have come in well and several alumni have contributed."

Wavelene Babbitt from Indiana

Central College at Indianapolis, Ind., is the present representative. She went in 1942 to the Harford School for girls at Moyamba, Sierra Leone, West Africa. The "Recruits" receive letters from her. The most recent letter stated that she will remain at her post for another year.

The first representative was Helen Cole from Otterbein College in Westerville, O. She and her husband are now serving in Africa.

Chester Goodman from Bonebrake Theological Seminary at Dayton, O., was the second representative. He is preaching now in Oregon.

The third representative was Vaughn Leaming, '41, of York College. Mr. Leaming is now studying at the seminary. The two colleges not yet represented are Shenandoah Institute at Dayton, Va., and Lebanon Valley at Annville, Pa.

Mrs. Warner Hopes War Will Not Affect Music Supply

"I hope the war doesn't affect my supply of music," said Mrs. Annie Beck Warner, proprietor of the Needlecraft And Music Shop located at 610 Grant Ave. "I am unable to get some things that I usually keep in stock."

Mrs. Warner has had her shop for twenty-six years. The first location was north of the First National Bank. The Needlecraft has been at the present location for nine years.

Besides needlework, the shelves and counters are filled with pictures, music, pottery, figurines, woodcuts, and various other articles. Mrs. Warner sells all the sheet music and other musical studies used at the college.

"I appreciate the college trade," said Mrs. Warner. "Because of it I have made the acquaintance of many fine young people." Mrs. Warner has employed students. "If I had a hobby, it would be my shop," she said.

Mrs. Julia Bissell, a sister, lives with Mrs. Warner at 915 Iowa Ave. Mrs. Warner has lived in York most of her life.

New Books

Recently added to the shelves of the York College Library are Barriers Down, The Private Life of the Romans, and Life and Thought in the Greek and Roman World. The first of these would be of interest to students of world affairs, while the latter two would be of most-use to those interested in Greek and Roman History.

Barriers Down, written by Kent Cooper, is the story of his fight for true and unbiased news. This book shows how he broke the hold three European news agencies had upon the news of the world by means of which they spread information favorable to their respective countries.

H. W. Johnson, in his book on the life of the Romans, describes among other things, the Roman family, homes, marriages, children, and education.

M. Cary and T. J. Haarhoff write of Greece and Rome as if they were one civilization as they speak of the life and thoughts of these ancient countries.

Cantata Planned

"The Thorn-Crowned King" is the title of an Easter Cantata to be presented by a chorus under the direction of Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, at the Life Work Recruit meeting on the Wednesday preceding Easter.

Members of the chorus include: Soprano, Arlene Adams, Margaret Trout, Virginia Hinkel, Elizabeth Miller; alto, Lorraine Garlock, Roberta Berglin, Helen Hall, Eloise Tabor, Thelma Rockhold.

Tenor, Dick Riggs, Eugene Severin, Bob Gillespie, Harold Jensen; bass, LeRoy Bott, Hal Goodrich, Leland Miller, Dary Severin.

Leland Miller, Daryl Severin. Cpl. Glen Ulrich, ex-'45, writes an interesting letter about camp conditions. Camp Hoan, (California) where he is stationed is surrounded by desert. He writes that they are learning to get along with a small ration of water. Camp Hoan is about seventy-five miles north of Camp Young.

The alumni are responding loyally and generously to this project. Recent contributors include:

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Lester Auchard

With men continually leaving our campus for the Army, Navy, Marines, and Air Force, we are naturally interested in their activities at the various training camps. This article attempts to bring a little first hand information in the form of excerpts from service men's letters:

S/Sgt. Carl Bedient, '40, Fort Bragg, North Carolina, writes concerning the airborne infantry:

"Yes, there are tense moments when we are riding preparatory to jumping. Every man chews vigorously on his gum, his tongue, or something. The blood drains from his face, and he looks almost like a ghost. But when the jumpmaster says "Stand Up", everyone of them is up and ready to go. They check equipment, and when the plane is in the proper position, you should see the speed with which a squad of men can make an exit. Seventeen men get out in slightly over ten seconds. It's a short time before they hit terra firma, and then they wonder why they were 'sweating it out'."

Harvey Peters, ex-'42, now somewhere at sea, writes from the Armed Guard Center, Brooklyn, New York:

"This is quite a place. It is the home port for men coming back from convoy trips. They speak of being torpedoed as though it were nothing; so I know what to expect. Nearly all survivors are picked up, however. I've met a lot of my old friends that I knew back at Great Lakes. They're tough boys, but they know what it's all about, and they know how to cooperate with their shipmates."

Pvt. Floyd Taylor, '43, in the Army Air Corps, writes from Jefferson Barracks, Missouri:

"Now all we have to do is drill six hours a day. If this is the air corps, I wonder what the infantry is like. We get out our little wooden guns and go out and drill, at marching, manual of arms, and so on."

Pvt. Dick Foulk, ex-'44, writes from his hut in Jefferson Barracks, Missouri:

"At 3:30 in the morning I was awakened for K. P. duty. I handed out milk bottles for breakfast—1000 half pints. At noon I dished out soup—approximately 40 gallons, and at supper, milk again. We mopped and swept between meals. They feed 2000 in that mess hall."

S/Sgt. John Haberman, '40, has been spending a furlough with his parents in York. He has been stationed in the Hawaiian Islands for the past ten months. Following his furlough, John will go to Camp Berkeley, Texas, where he will take an Officers Training course.

Telling of his experiences, Haberman says:

"Our convoy reached the Hawaiian Islands near the end of last May. The Pacific is always quite calm, and I was much impressed by its extremely deep blue color. Now and then I saw a small flying fish glide over the water.

"I was taken on a trip around the island on which I was stationed, soon after my arrival there. Places of interest were pointed out to me and the trip was very interesting, and also helpful in acquainting one with the terrain. The island is quite beautiful, and

Y. C. Scientists Seek Unknown

By Winifred Smith

That old bugaboo of science students, the unknown, is creeping into the laboratory schedules at "both ends of the hall."

Bacteriologists have finished their research on the reactions of bacterial organisms on such media as the sugars, milk, agar, and nutrient broth, and are ready to begin their analysis of organisms unknown to all but Professor Noll. An equivalent of twenty unknowns must be done in a semester's work.

Quantitative analysis students have completed the gravimetric analysis of chlorine, iron, sulfur, and phosphorus, and will have completed the volumetric analysis of an unknown acid, an unknown base, iron in an iron ore, and copper, before the semester is over. Accuracy and clean equipment are the outstanding necessities for this type of unknown.

Although unknowns seem difficult to analyze, the analysis of them is the most practical training possible for industrial chemists, laboratory technicians, and similar occupations.

In Appreciation

York College faculty and students are speaking appreciatively of many York business men for the courtesies they have extended to the basketball team during their successful season.

Dr. C. H. Brugh, local dentist, took ice cream cones to the team following their victory over Doane.

Mr. Dean Sack of the Meridian Finance Office furnished the two cars for the team to make their trip to Kansas City.

Mr. Leslie Foster of the Foster Dry Cleaners and Mr. Robert Gale, local photographer, attended the first game of the K. C. tournament.

The team has expressed its appreciation for the telegrams sent to them during the trip.

I imagine it was even more so before the war. Large pineapple and sugar cane plantations make up the greatest part of the rural areas. Bananas, coconuts, and several native fruits are also found on some parts of the island.

One of my biggest thrills was watching a high school football game in Honolulu. I was very much surprised by the caliber of football played. The game was very interesting and very much like a high school game here on the mainland. The natives are sports lovers, and all athletic contests attract large crowds.

"I was very fortunate in being able to meet George Bailey and Jack Sloey soon after I reached the islands. I knew them when they were attending Doane college and I was at York college. We had many good times talking about our home state and our college days."

The Burr Speaks

To Do Our Best

As we edit the 'Burr for the remainder of the year, we are grateful for the example which has been set before us. We shall endeavor to be prepared for the task and to give it our best.

Thanks

Since our staff has been greatly depleted by the loss of several members to the military service, we appreciate the help of volunteer contributors who have been faithful in bringing in the news.

Here's to the "OWL"

We wish to express our appreciation of the generous tribute paid to our basketball team in "The 5th Column" of the March 18 "Doane Owl." We have noted especially the friendly spirit and the good sportsmanship of our greatest N. C. A. C. opponents who share the championship title with us. Some "5th Columns" are all right.

What Is Our Part

Almost one-third of the students enrolled in York College last fall have left the campus to enter the armed forces, to help on the farm, or to aid in the task of the war in some way. Now comes the question—What about the other two-thirds?

We must not become smug and self-satisfied. We cannot hope to have our own well-ordered lives remain unchanged, when others are sacrificing everything! We must do more than talk about the privilege we have of remaining in school. We must act!

All over the world lives are being sacrificed as men fight to preserve the freedom of such institutions as schools and churches. What reason have we to remain in college without working for that right? The battle will not be won on the battlefield alone. Those of us at home must give aid by keeping our spirits, morals, aims, and morale higher than ever before. Such is our task. To do less is to fail to do our part in the maintenance of a world in which we shall desire to live in the future.

We must not fail.

Cats Are Rewarded

In a few weeks the champion Panthers will be proud possessors of blue and white satin jackets. The reversible jackets, which have been ordered, are the reward for winning the state title and tying for the N. C. A. C. crown.

One side of the jacket will be blue with white trimmings and the other side will be white with blue trimmings. On the front of the blue side will be a white basketball with the blue lettering "State Champs". A blue letter "Y" will be on the white side and also chevrons to indicate the number of years the player has lettered.

The 12 members of the squad awarded the jackets were: DuWayne Grimes, Jim and Wayne Kaeding, George Shaneyfelt, Cleo Campbell, Clifford Hartman, Don Haberman, Lester Auchard, Jim Conway, Harvey Holbrook, Leroy Bott, and Galen Munsinger.

Basketball to What?

The delightful memories of our championship basketball season are fast fading into history. Yet we shall never forget our Panther squad of 1943. If and when these same men are called into active army and navy duty, we believe they will conduct themselves as admirably in the front lines as they did on the mapsles this past season.

Athletes Leave . . .

At this time, the outlook for any of the present squad to appear next season is very dim, as some have left the campus already for army service, and others plan to leave in July for the navy. From all reports, most of the other state and conference colleges have been hit as hard as York if not harder. Johnson, Horton, and Rader, Hastings' star cinder men, have departed for the army, leav-

Track Prospects Still Bright Despite Losses

Prospects for a successful season in track and tennis are still bright after losing two star sprinters and three tennis lettermen to the army.

Returning lettermen in track are, Lester Auchard, senior of Woodston, Kansas, in the high hurdles and half mile; George Shaneyfelt, junior of Aurora, in the discus throw; Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, in the mile and two mile; and Cleo Campbell, junior of York, in the javelin throw. Our two star sprinters, Louis Webb, senior of DuBois, and Floyd Taylor, senior of York, were recently called into the Army Air Force.

Other athletes who also have shown signs of having outstanding ability are Leland Miller, sophomore of Dumont, Iowa, in the weights; Ross Speece and Jim Conway, freshmen of York, in the high jump; Fred Gaston, junior of Bradshaw, in the quarter mile; Gene Severin, senior of Imperial, in the half mile; Niles Shoff, freshman of Basset, in the pole vault and Harold Walker, freshman of Norway, Kansas, in the mile.

Hal Goodrich, junior of Portland, Oregon, is the only returning letterman in tennis. Larry Smith, junior of Pontiac, Michigan; Dick Foulk, junior of Adrian, Michigan; William Feemster, sophomore of York, and DuWayne Grimes, senior of Harlan, Kansas, were lettermen last year, but were recently called into the Army.

ing a big gap in their track hopes. Big Lloyd McCullough, 42 large reasons why Kearney beat York in their first contest this year, has been in uniform since the Kansas City tournament. "Babe" Petrow and John and Jack Swartz, famous "uncle and nephew act", have left the Warrior campus.

Girl Star Found!

To our reckoning, Eloise Tabor is the only woman, known to have boosted the Cats scoring by two points. She caught the mistake during the Fairmont game and promptly reported it at the half.

Good Training

The armed forces take from six weeks to two months to harden a man physically, and those who have gone through this "boot" training, say that it is the hardest part of their service. Your chance to genuinely help your country, as well as yourself, is right now. Prepare your body physically. Keep it hardened for the rigorous life ahead in the service. Experienced or green, go out for track and learn to enjoy yourself by participating in spring sports. The squad needs you, and you need the squad.

Grimes Chosen Honorary Captain

DuWayne Grimes

By Galen Munsinger
DuWayne Grimes, senior of Harlan, Kansas, and the only senior playing regularly on the basketball squad, was unanimously elected honorary captain of the basketball team. This is the third year Grimes has lettered in basketball.

Coming into his own in his senior year, Grimes proved that scrap and persistence could overcome the disadvantages of lack of weight and height in athletic prowess. He always upheld high Panther ideals by putting clean sportsmanship above the glory of victory.

In both scholastic standing and in sports, his ideals were the highest. Fair play not only in the classroom but in student activities placed him high in both fields. His personality and character commanded the admiration and friendship of every one on the campus.

Grimes has been editor of the Sandbur for the past three years and has done a creditable job. He took a short summer course in journalism at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, before attending York College. He had previously been editor of a small high school paper.

An army reserve, he severed connection with student life last week to take up active duty at Fort Leavenworth on March 25.

The curtain was drawn on a highly successful basketball season as the York College Panthers easily outclassed the Fairmont Air Base quintet 76 to 47 on the college maples. It was the second post-season game the Panthers have played in York and it enabled them to run their home victory string to ten consecutive wins.

Displaying a fire brand type of basketball from the outset, the Tonkinmen rolled up a 15 point lead before the soldiers found the range. As the game progressed, the superior playing of the Panthers was evident to everyone, and the Air Base team failed to cope with the smooth passing and accurate shooting of the state college champions. During the second quarter, Coach Rolland Tonkin flooded the floor with reserves who matched baskets with the visitors and finished the half with a 36-20 advantage.

While ten Panthers rang the scoring bell for York, Wayne Kaeding headed the list with 27 points. The other big guns in York's blistering attack were Jim Kaeding, 16 points; Cleo Campbell, 9; and George Shaneyfelt, 7. The chief scoring threat for the Fairmonters was Lt. Anapole, former All-American at Iowa University and a member of the 1940 Olympic team. Anapole, who chucked in 24 points, was ably assisted by teammate Cpl. Walters with 13 counters.

A large turnout watched the popular Panthers play what was probably their last game for the duration. The proceeds from the game are being used to buy each member of the team a reversible championship jacket.

Responsive Prayer-Service In Y. W. C. A.

Using an order of service written for the World Day of Prayer, Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Washington, led a responsive service, "Love Never Fails," in the Y. W. C. A. meeting on March 23. She was assisted by Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Oklahoma, contralto, who sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains."

The first part of the service had as responses the verses of a hymn, "Draw Thou My Soul, O Christ." Following a "Silent Examination Before God" the group responded to a "Litany of Love." The meeting closed with the singing of "Are Ye Able?" followed by the benediction.

Dr. Roberts On Campus

Dr. Walter N. Roberts, president of Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, Ohio, spoke in chapel and in the college church on March 14 and 15, on both occasions using "Faith and New Democracy" as his general subject.

Dr. Roberts stated that we have little in common with Russia, no political, economic, or religious life. But we do have much in common with Great Britain and Germany. All our traditions come from England, and much of our religious culture is derived from Germany.

"Our common feeling with China," he said, "is due to the fact that her great leaders are good Christians."

Dr. Roberts also said that there is no true universal, eternal moral law. The "isms" have tried to do away with internationalism.

As the conclusion to his chapel talk, Dr. Roberts quoted the Archbishop of Canterbury who said, "The first world war was fought to make the world safe for democracy. The second is being fought to make democracy and freedom safe for the world."

Following chapel, and during the afternoon of Monday, Dr. Roberts interviewed pre-seminary students individually, and held a group meeting at three o'clock.

First Aid Certificates To Be Awarded

Red Cross Standard First Aid Certificates will be given to those students who complete the course which ends Thursday, April 1, according to Miss Frieda Wirz, R.N., first aid instructor. She will begin a home nursing class next week.

Thirty-five students have taken this course. The advanced first aid course will not be offered on the campus, but those students who are interested may take the class down town.

The standard course is chiefly study of the material in the book. The advanced course is the application of the study.

"The students have done very splendid work, and have shown great interest," stated Miss Wirz.

Dorothy Bradwell, sophomore of York who has her standard and advanced first aid certificates, has been assisting Miss Wirz.

New Emblem To Fly Soon

A new flag will soon replace the one which has been flying over the campus daily. The new "Stars and Stripes" will be of wool, six by nine feet in size, with stitched stars and fast colors, approved by the government for outdoor use.

Prof. Doty Speaks

"God has made for us the best possible world and put us into it in order that we might progressively discover and develop it," said Professor E. I. Doty, head of the modern history department, in his chapel talk, Mar. 25.

"It is a good thing that we are dissatisfied with the world today because that dissatisfaction stimulates our efforts to find new and better ways of doing things. Somewhere in the universe is the answer to our wants," he continued.

"We carry on," concluded Professor Doty, "in the faith that in the bright morn of Creation God put into the world the things that will satisfy our needs. Tomorrow will be better than today."

Recruits Have Chapel Program

Herbert Bryant, senior of Marshalltown, Iowa, spoke of the Cross and its significance to Christians in a Life Work Recruits program on March 22. The service was presented in accordance with the Lenten season.

Although the cross is a symbol of death, divine royalty, and punishment, to some, Mr. Bryant said that to the Christian the Cross is a symbol of sacrifice, worship, love, redemption, and reverence. It brings mankind into closer fellowship with God.

"We should live our lives as Christ lived, and bear our cross as he so cheerfully bore His," concluded Mr. Bryant. "Then the Cross will have significance to us as Christians."

Ethel Brooks, freshman of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, read "The Changed Cross," and the scripture was read by Hal Goodrich, junior of Portland, Oregon. Group singing was led by Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, with Ruth Wiren, freshman of Woodston, Kansas, as pianist. Winifred Smith, junior of Enid, Oklahoma, and president of the Recruit organization, presided, and Nellie Rabuck, freshman of Dawson, Iowa, gave the closing prayer.

The source and nature of temptation and the best method of overcoming it was the subject discussed by the Rev. E. H. Jackson, recently acting pastor of the Baptist-Congregational church, at the Y. M. C. A. meeting held Tuesday, March 23.

"Our source of temptations is not from God, but He may permit temptations. God leads no man to evil. How could God who is light, lead us into darkness?" said the speaker.

A person's source of temptation is within his own desires and one will have to prepare himself within to resist these temptations, according to Mr. Jackson.

"God is faithful, who will not suffer us to be tempted more than we can bear." In closing, the Rev. Mr. Jackson said, "If God is for us who can be against us?"

The meeting was opened by singing, "I Must Tell Jesus", led by Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial accompanied by Bruce Herrick, junior of Dayton, Ohio. J. W. Tomlinson, freshman of Enid, Oklahoma, led the devotions.
