May Day Program Will Have South American Theme

Identity of Queen Still A Secret

A festive day with the May Queen in a South American village will form the theme of the Annual May Day program to be presented on the York College campus, May 28, at 2:15 and 8:15 P. M. The queen will be on a fictitious good-will tour of that country.

The May Queen, whose identity will be concealed until May Day, has been elected by vote of the student body. She will have two attendants from each class and from the commercial department, one of the two in each case being chosen by the queen, and the other chosen by the class.

The chorus, under the direction of Dean Charles Amadon, will furnish South American music for the festival.

Margaret Trout, junior of Culbertson, and Ralph Hines, senior of York, are program chairmen from the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. for the occasion. Other committees include:

Lorraine Garlock Heads Council

Lorraine Garlock

Lorraine Garlock, Trenton, Mo., has been elected president of the Student Council for 1943-44.

Miss Garlock is vice president of the Life Work Recruits, and Student Council representative for the Y. W. C. A.

The Student Council president is elected by the student body after two juniors have been nominated by the Student Council. The other nominee was Bruce Herrick, Dayton, Ohio.

"Shall We Stay In College?" Probed

"Shall we stay in college?" was the topic discussed by Ruth Wirén, freshman of Woodston, Kans., in the Y. W. C. A. meeting of April 27.

Ruth pointed out that the present shortage of leadership in England is due to the last war. The younger people went to war, whereas part of them should have trained themselves to carry on at home.

"All of the women can't stay at home," she explained, "but the women who are working now are skilled." She added that some of the women must prepare for jobs but all of them should know about things other than jobs. She suggested that every young woman ask advice of some competent person before leaving college.

Juanita Sanders, freshman of Vancouver, Wash., led the devotions and Helen Hall, senior of Parsons, Kans., sang, "The Little Road Through Nazareth" by Gordon.

When people get full credit for what they do, they don't need credit for what they buy.

Dr. Knipp Talks of War Problems

Dr. J. Edgar Knipp of Baltimore, Md., traveling under the auspices of the Foreign Mission Board of the United Brethren church, spoke at the chapel program on May 5 of some of the problems which are prevalent because of the war.

During Doctor Knipp's visit in February of 1942, he emphasized that the Japanese government had changed their regulations concerning religions so that Christianity became a recognized religion. He also said that in June, 1941, all the denominations formed the "Church of Christ in Japan."

Now the report is brought by Doctor Knipp that last November, 34 denominations dissolved to form this church. The Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., and W. C. T. U. in Japan have become a part of the Christian church.

Doctor Knipp said that in this time of war the church is influenced by the government. Kagawa, of whom little news is heard is probably preaching and teaching in the catacombs.

"During the war and after the war we must have the same spirit as Abraham Lincoln when he said, 'With malice toward none.' This is a time for great living, courage-out acting, earnest prayer, and deep thinking," added Doctor Knipp.

We must think of the world in small terms. "Isn't this the time to be world citizens instead of looking to just one flag? Must we not be free of racial prejudices?" he queried.

Y. C. Dean To Speak at Bradshaw Exercises

Dr. Walter E. Bachman, dean of York College, will address the Bradshaw high school class of 1943 at the Commencement program in Bradshaw this evening.

The Board of Trustees will have their annual meeting at the Administration Building on Tuesday, June 1, at 9:00 A. M.

'Me and My Shadow' Presented By York College Players

A hilarious mystery-comedy, "Me and My Shadow" by J. Voncent Barrett, was presented in the chapel on the evening of May 11 by the York College Players.

Don Hines, as Roy Harrington, heroically saved a Hindu girl, Shadow, played by Virginia Hinkel, from death. Devotedly she said she was his slave, and thus caused complications, as he already had a wife, played by Margaret Trout. She had first-aid uppermost in her mind.

Sabu, a Hindu mystic, portrayed by Fred Gaston, kidnapped the allergic mother-in-law, Mrs. King, enacted by Margaret Gaston, in place of Shadow, his confederate. Dick Riggs, as Dr. Douglas, tried to help Roy straighten out his affairs and keep the nosey Mrs. Butler, aptly portrayed by Thelma Rockhold, from prying too much. Eloise Tabor as Susan, the maid, was both dense and witty. Don Koenig was the country sheriff.

Ralph Hines directed this play in which there was truly "never a dull moment."

Sylvia Estey, Ruth Wirén, Ruth King, and Walter Brant presented musical numbers on the Mothers' Day program at the city auditorium last Sunday. The program was sponsored by the American Legion and the York Ministerial Alliance in honor of the mothers, wives, and children of York county men in service.

Dr. Conner Commissioned Lieutenant-Commander

The rank of Lieutenant-Commander has been conferred on Dr. Edwin Iris Conner, '22, who has been called to Medical Corps of the United States Navy. He is serving as a specialist in the Naval Hospital in San Diego, California, where he assumed duty on April fifth.

Dr. Conner is better known to the students and alumni of York College as the man who presented to the college the leopard skin which hangs on the west wall of the library.

Sierra Leone, West Africa, where they served as missionaries from March, 1928, to November, 1932, was the home of Dr. and Mrs. Conner for a time. Though they were compelled to come home because of illness, they left in Africa not only a rich ministry of healing of body and soul, but also a road from Jiama to Sefadu which is used for modern travel, the building of which was personally supervised by Dr. Conner.

Doctor Conner's services were sought by the Navy, and he was given this high ranking because of his thorough training, his knowledge of tropical diseases, and his wide experience as a physician and surgeon. Following his graduation from York College, he spent four years in the Medical School of the University of Nebraska, graduating in 1926. He spent a year in internship in the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington, Delaware. On his way to Africa, he spent six months in London studying tropical diseases.

After Doctor Conner regained his health, he practiced in Alcester, South Dakota. From there he moved to southern California. On January 1, 1942, he became a member of the staff of the Ross-Loos Clinic in Los Angeles.

Two incidents in connection with his appointment reveal the Christ-like spirit and attitude of this Christian physician, according to Bishop Ira D. Warner of the Pacific Coast area. When Major Drum delivered the official notice of his appointment from the president of the United States, he stated:

"Doctor Conner, this rank of Lieutenant-Commander in the United States Navy is the highest honor you have ever received." To this Doctor Conner replied, "I regard my call and consecration as a missionary as the highest honor." When told that a service star would be placed on the Pomona Church Service Flag, he requested that it be placed at the foot of the cross—Information by courtesy of the Religious Telescope.

Typical Of Formal Chapel Service

Regular formal chapel services held each Thursday morning at 9:30 have become an integral part of the life of York College students. Typical of these chapel programs was the one of April 29, when Dr. E. I. Doty, of the department of History and Political Science, spoke on "The Universal Law of Service."

The formal chapel hour opens as the choir sings a hymn, in this instance, "Christ of the Upward Way." Adding to the effectiveness of the music of the entire choir was a violin solo by Ruth King during one stanza, and a bass solo by LeRoy Bott during another.

The choir remains standing during the scripture reading by a member of the senior class. Then the audience rises for the prayer which is also given by a senior. On this occasion, Helen Hall, Parsons, Kansas, read the scripture, and Virginia Hinkel, Cambridge, Iowa, led in prayer.

Following a response by the choir, "Let the Words of my Mouth," Prof. Doty began his address.

He said that the universal law of service is illustrated in the words spoken at the cross by mockers who said that Christ could save others, but could not save Himself. The statement holds true with all mankind, in that individuals may save others, but if they do, it is impossible for them to save themselves.

Continuing, the speaker gave illustrations from the lives of heroes of the cross, to show how they could not save themselves and still do the work God had planned for them.

In applying his foregoing thoughts, Prof. Doty said: "If we want excellence, we may have to lay down a great many things. As to getting lessons, the hours of preparation fit one to do that for which he is called, and whether one is faithful to those hours of preparation may mean whether or not he is faithful to his work. The battle of Waterloo was won in the study halls of Eton."

Concerning the world today, Prof. Doty said, "We ought to put seriousness into our everyday thoughts. The soldiers fighting in Tunisia and in the islands of the Pacific cannot save themselves. Whether or not we are privileged to carry a gun or a testament, or whether we stay in the gray, dull work at home, whatever we do is of terrible importance."

Following the address, the audience joined in singing "Love Thyself Last." The songs are chosen for their appropriateness.

Dr. Charles Bisset pronounced the benediction.

The following is quoted from a recent letter from Lt. Col. Donald H. Hale, '25: "I want to express my satisfaction with the fine record made this year by the basketball team. In my day we tried and tried to do the same, but Ashmore, Tewell, Nichols, Osborne, Hale, and company just didn't have the stuff which this year's lads have shown." However, the historian happens to remember the season referred to by Col. Hale, and it was a mighty good record for those days.

Sgt. Maurice C. Thompson, '39, of Camp Roberts, Calif., Professor Orlan Arnold, ex-'26, of Troy, N. Y., and Dr. Thomas King, ex-'35, of Cleveland, O., have been visitors in York recently.

Sportmanship, Again

Football, basketball, track. All of these sports are in the past for this year. But there is a new sport we might consider for awhile. Semester exams begin in two weeks.

It is an old story, is it not, that if you cheat in an exam you do not cheat anyone but yourself? Now maybe that should not be mentioned, for you have heard it so often that you are tired of it. Strange, isn't it, that repetition does not always aid in retention of the axiom.

We are sorry to know that a few students of college age still get out their note books when the professor leaves the room, or use "crib sheets" right in the professor's presence.

Now, in a basketball or football game, we insist on fair play, and nothing is deplored more than a dishonest referee, or a player who tries to get around the rules. The exams we take are a part of the game of life, and if we are good sports we will not try to evade the rules.

How is your sportmanship?

Russian. Other subjects in his course of study are English, first aid, and hand to hand combat tactics.

The first excerpt comes from Pvt. Robert DuWayne Grimes, Sheppard Field, Texas.

"Sunday marked the end of my third week here. In another week or two, my basic training will be finished. After that I shall be sent to one of the Air Force technical schools, likely the clerical or radio. The basic here is pretty rigorous. We are on a full schedule of marching, calisthenics, lectures, and training films from 4:30 in the morning until 6 at night. We do plenty of marching, even if this is an aerial war and we are in the Air Force.

"Just Saturday night before Easter we returned from bivouac. It involves a 15 mile hike, actual field conditions for camping and eating, and instruction in the use of the rifle and machine gun. There was also an evident lack of sleep since Commando raids were carried on all night long between our camp and another close by. They landed one tear gas bomb, and we landed a smoke bomb in the respective camps, so there was plenty of excitement and gas-mask adjusting."

Pvt. Floyd Taylor, Wisconsin State Teachers College, Milwaukee, tells of his first flying experiences.

"We started our flight instruction yesterday. We had two lessons yesterday and one today. The work is pretty easy for a while, as all we have to do is come out to the airport and sit around waiting for our turn to come. Each instructor has four pupils and he gives each of them a thirty minute lesson and then starts around again. I have one and one-half hours so far, and I will get ten before leaving here.

"... Back again. I have just been up for forty-five minutes. It gets more fun every time, but I about lost part of me up there this time. I did something wrong and the instructor said not to do it that way because this is what would happen. On saying that he put the gadget into a spin which about made me seasick."

Entered as right classy matter at the United Snakes post office.

New Mark In High Hurdles Despite High Wind

Running the high hurdles in a surprisingly fast time, 15:6, against a strong wind, Norval Barker, ace hurdler of Aurora clipped a tenth of a second off the old mark at the invitational high school meet held at York College, Saturday, May 7.

Daryl Strong, teaming along with Barker swept the sprints and ran in a winning relay team. Running against hard wind, Strong sprinted the century in 11 flat and the 220 in 24:5. Strong and Barker tied for first in point honors with 10 apiece.

Lincoln Central won the Class A meet handily scoring 53 1/2 points, to Aurora's, 31 1/2, York, third, 23, Grand Island, fourth, 22, and Seward, fifth, 11 points.

Chester won the Class B meet after shaking off Benedict and Edgar in the closing events. Chester scored 30 points followed by Benedict, with 19 points, Edgar, third, 17, DeWitt, fourth, 14, Lincoln Teachers, fifth, 11 1/2, Osceola, sixth, 10 1/2, Shickley, seventh, 7, Phillips, eighth, 6, Henderson, ninth, 6, Concordia, tenth, 5 1/2, Giltner eleventh, 5, Hampton, twelfth, 5, McCool Junction, thirteenth, 4 1/2, and Scotia, 2.

Leon Foulk, outstanding field man for Grand Island took first in the discus throw, with a toss of 156' 6", and placed second in the shot put. The discus throw was still short from the record set by Debus, three years ago, a university of Nebraska track star now, at 174' 2 1/2".

Class B competition was very close with 14 schools entered. Ivan Smith, of Benedict was the individual star, throwing the discus 148' 3".

Other trackmen who figured in the scoring for their respective teams were, Valencia of Lincoln, who ran the 880, with machine like stride in 2:14.2; Becker of Lincoln taking first in the shot with a pitch of 45' 2", Moomey and Cooper of York taking firsts in the high jump and pole vault respectively; and Donlan of Lincoln leaping 20' 3", in the broad jump.

"Gypsy"

Our track men have gone through another season and they would have proven themselves capable of securing more points if they had been as strong in the track events as in the field events. As usual, York has had to lean very heavily upon two or three "strong men" for their points. This year they are "Shaney", "Jug", and Shoff. "Shaney" and Speece have been consistently bringing in around five points apiece, and Shoff has been hanging up quite a few "tie for firsts" in the pole vault. As Coach Tonkin says, "Practice helps".

At the Conference Track meet last Friday, "Jug" Speece could have easily won the century sprint if for no other reason than the "heat" he was in. "Jug" was disqualified after jumping the gun twice. He had beaten all contestants in a previous meeting. Tough luck, "Jug".

There has been talk about the forming of an intramural softball league to round out the school year. This is a chance for some of you potential baseball stars to show your stuff.

Doane Takes First In N. C. A. C. Meet

Hastings Beaten For First Time in 16 Years

Doane copped first place in the N. C. A. C. conference track meet held at Hastings Friday, by nosing out Hastings and Wesleyan. The outcome was in doubt until the final relay was over. This marks the first time in sixteen years that Hastings did not win the N.C.A.C. track crown.

With 47 1/2 points Doane took first, Hastings second with 41, Wesleyan third with 32 1/2, Midland fourth with 23 1/2, and York finished last with 20 1/2 points. It was a closely fought battle all day with first one event putting Doane ahead, and then the next slipping Hastings or Wesleyan into first place temporarily. With the weather damp and cold, most of the marks were not outstanding. After winning the mile run easily, Bill Madden, Hastings distance ace, ran a 9:58.2 two mile race to break the only conference record at the meet. "Big Moose" Weber, Doane's great all-round athlete, totaled 14 points as he toiled in seven events.

The Panther scoring was done by Shaneyfelt, Shoff, Bott, Speece, Auchard, Holbrook, and E. Severin. "Shaney" captured a first in the discus, second in the javelin throw, and ran a leg of the relay, to total 8 1/2 points. Shoff nabbed 5 points with a first in the pole vault, while Bott placed third in the century dash, fourth in the 220 yard dash, and ran on the relay team to post 3 1/2 pointers. Speece tied for third and fourth in the high jump and landed a fourth in the pole vault, and Auchard reaped a fourth in the high hurdles and a tie for third and fourth in the high jump. Holbrook and E. Severin earned their letters at the meet by running on the relay team.

Dr. J. Edgar Knipp Speaks to PALS - Zetas

A chalk drawing by Arthur Lenz, freshman of Circle, Mont., writing letters to service men and to Mrs. Conrad Arnold, former Zeta Literary society sponsor, and a short talk by Dr. J. Edgar Knipp made up the meeting of the Zetas held in Zeta hall on May 4.

The chalk drawing illustrated the song "America the Beautiful". Esther Megill, freshman of York, accompanied Trinnie Guillen, freshman of Alcalde, N. M., and Phyllis Foster, senior of York, as they sang the song.

The letters were written to some of the former members of the society who are now in the armed forces in the United States and overseas.

Dr. Knipp, former missionary from the United States to Japan, who is now making his home in Baltimore, Md., visited the campus for a few days. He told the members of the conditions under which the Japanese schools and universities are now operating. He also showed many interesting pictures and read from a Japanese hymnal and a New Testament.

Plans are being made for a Zeta picnic later in May. Daisy Million, junior of Noel, Mo., Esther Megill, freshman of York, and Ruby Grandon, freshman of Burton, Kans., were named to be in charge of the picnic.

Dr. J. Edgar Knipp, former missionary to Japan now living in Baltimore, Md., showed pictures and curios from Japan at the PALS meeting May 4. Committees were announced at the business meeting for the picnic, May 18, and for the banquet, May 31.

Dr. Knipp is doing field work for the United Brethren Foreign Mission Board and included York College in his itinerary. He taught the group a hymn, "This Is My Father's World," in the Japanese language and said they were "very good pupils."

"The characters of the Japanese and Chinese languages are the same," stated Dr. Knipp, "but the pronunciations in the two countries are as different as two languages."

Banquet committees: Program, Ruth King, sophomore, Topeka, Kans.; Esther Johnson, senior, Merna; and Irma Galbraith, freshman, York. Tickets, Rachel Gackle, freshman, Watkin, Mont.; Esther Peters, and Margaret Trout.

Those appointed to nominate officers for next year are: Edwina Bomhoff, senior, Wichita, Kans.; Daryl Severin, senior, Imperial, and Juanita Sanders, freshman, Vancouver, Wash.

Y. M. C. A. Hears The Rev. Asboe

Neglecting our religion in the home, in education, and in all types of life has caused the troubles of our world today, according to the Rev. E. B. Asboe, graduate of Doane College, and pastor of the local Episcopal church, who spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Tuesday, April 25.

"No nation can be permanently good without a faith of some sort. Faith has been shattered in the world's present day progress", said the Rev. Mr. Asboe.

People become too selfish and think more of personal profit, than of worshipping of God. At the present time many people who never before were religious are turning to religion, according to the speaker.

"Progress in the world today has been to a great extent due to the Christian religion", declared the minister.

In closing, Mr. Asboe said, "In times of trial and tribulation there usually is an emotional revival. People need to have an objective in life which is influential and so they should develop a definite and permanent faith in Christ."

Daryl Severin, senior of Imperial, led the group in singing, "Jesus Is All the World To Me", accompanied by Bruce Herrick, junior of Dayton, Ohio. Arthur Lenz, freshman of Circle, Montana, led the devotions. Prof. R. E. Townsend, head of the commercial department, gave the closing prayer.

EDWINA BOMHOFF HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. Amelia Lantz entertained at a miscellaneous shower and announcement party for Edwina Bomhoff, senior of Wichita, Kans., on May 7. The announcement of Miss Bomhoff's marriage to Harvey Klick, ex-'44, on June 12 at Wichita, was concealed in corsages of sweet peas which each guest received.

Recipes and "advice to the bride-to-be" and various games occupied the evening. Miss Bomhoff opened her gifts before lunch was served. Guests included the senior women and a few other college friends.

"What Profit?" Asks Pres. Weidler

"What Profit?" was the theme of the speech made by Pres. D. E. Weidler at the chapel program May 6.

President Weidler said that in a recent survey it was found that United States history is not required for graduation by many of the undergraduate schools, and many colleges and universities do not require this course for entrance.

"Students who do not know what subjects to study in the field of liberal arts should study what grandfather studied and what grandson will study if they want lasting knowledge," he continued.

"The popular conception of freedom today," said Pres. Weidler, "is doing what we want to do instead of what we are morally obligated to do. We should say no to selfish impulses that come to us. Today man seems not to get his fill of pleasure," he added.

"Education is too exclusively secular and careerist and man is satisfied to live below his capacities," concluded President Weidler.

Mothers Are Guests At Special Program In Y. W. Meeting

Bouquets and a special program honored the mothers of the members of the Y. W. C. A. May 4. The girls who were unable to have their mothers with them borrowed mothers for the occasion.

A violin solo by Ruth King, sophomore of Topeka, Kans., opened the program. Esther Johnson, senior of Merna, sang "My Mother's Prayer." Elizabeth Miller, freshman of Dumont, Iowa read the scripture from the book of Ruth. Eloise Tabor, senior of Spokane, Wash., spoke on the subject of mothers of the present day.
