Miss Thompson Is Recovering From Injuries

Registrar Injured By Oncoming Truck

Miss Anna J. Thompson, York College Registrar and Treasurer, is recovering from serious injuries received when she was struck by an on-coming pick-up truck at the corner of Sixth Street and Blackburn Avenue Thursday morning, Sept. 27.

The accident occurred during a heavy rain which impaired the vision of both pedestrian and driver. Witnesses rushed Miss Thompson to the York General hospital (formerly the York Lutheran hospital) where she received immediate treatment for shock, cuts, and bruises. X-ray examination revealed a fracture of the right ankle and leg, and of a process on the left shoulder blade.

Miss Thompson has presided over the college office for a number of years and for several years has been Adviser for the Y. W. C. A.

Freshmen Exhibit Their Skills

Excite Curiosity In Down Town District

By Harriet Thomas

"No, they aren't crazy. They're freshmen." That explains why "Huckleberry Finn" Miller and "Tom Sawyer" Walker are fishing out of a bucket on Lincoln avenue. It also explains why Stanley is displaying his skillfully cut paper dolls to passers-by.

For a further explanation you might look in on Freshman Court. "Do you swear to tell the truth," recites clerk of the court, Ruth Auchard, senior, to a student who stands in front of her with his knees shaking, his lips quivering and his right hand raised tremblingly. After due proceedings, Judge Imogene Bland declares in a grave voice, "Cut out one thousand paper dolls" or "Come up to the stage and grab your ankles."

Undoubtedly you would find that the intellect of this class of blue-capped wonders is exceptionally high as evidenced by the essays presented by its members: "To Be or Not To Be", "My Most Embarrassing Moment", "The Art of Kissing" or "Which Came First, the Chicken or the Egg."

For information as to how many bricks are in the sidewalk, how many strokes of a toothbrush are necessary to make the library steps sanitary, or how best to roll a piece of chalk on the sidewalk, please see members of this class.

Signs of affection were shown by "Kissing Kaliff" who loves the whole world, especially the football team; and "Romeo" Swartz and "Juliet" Hibner.

If you see a black faced football player with long hair or two girls dressed in nightgowns carrying candles in broad daylight, or even a group of girls looking pale and wan on Monday mornings don't be frightened. They are freshmen. Anything might happen and it usually does.

A book review of "He Who Walks Alone" by Perry Burgess, was presented by Marjorie Thornton, junior, Billings, Mont., and a solo, "Grammar" was sung by Wanda Wantz, junior, Shelby, at the Zeta meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 2. "He Who Walks Alone" tells the story of a young man who was afflicted with the devastating disease of leprosy. His fight for existence in the world which he thought was against him is an inspiring and exciting story.

Plans are underway for the open meeting to be held Oct. 16.

Scripture should be used to prove the pastor's point.

Seniorities

Dollie Anderson

A tall, blond girl, with starry eyes and a sparkling diamond on the third finger of her left hand, is the senior to be interviewed this week by your roaming reporter. Her name is Dollie Anderson and she is from Albuquerque, New Mexico. She was born in Rising Star, Texas, and moved to her present home when she was six years old.

Dollie came to York in her sophomore year. It was mainly due to the influence of her former pastor, Rev. Q. E. Henricks, that she came to the campus. During her years at Y. C. she has been active in all musical organizations, the Y. W. C. A., Life Work Recruits, and Zetas.

Her plans for the future are very decided. They were decided for her in September, 1944, when Wayne Schwindt presented her with a diamond. She and Wayne, a senior from LaCrosse, Kans., plan to be married next summer and she will go to Dayton with him while he attends the Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

When asked about her pet peeve, Dollie said, "I can't stand flies, in any size, style, shape, or color." Wayne's recent hair-cut might go under this heading also. "I don't mind his getting a crew-cut, but this one is too crew."

Of course her major major is Wayne, but she also majors in music. She has studied voice, piano, and organ. She is now in a conducting class. She is a member of the senior girls' trio.

"After I graduate, I'm going to try my best at being a good wife to a minister, and being a good minister's wife", said Dollie.

The best of luck and happiness to you, Dollie, and may you realize your every dream in the not too distant future!

Lt. Carl Bedient, '41, of the parachute infantry has written to his wife, Mrs. Agnes Drake Bedient, '42, concerning a trip from Marseille, France, to Rome, where he was stationed early this month. He stopped at Cannes which he describes as a wonderful resort city with attractive beaches and hotels and good accommodations. At Nice they took a ship for Leghorn, Italy, arriving the next day and driving to Pisa where they had dinner and took pictures of the leaning tower.

Regarding their arrival in Rome, he says: "We were rather tired and really appreciated coming out here to the rest center. It has the monument with Mussolini's name still standing. It's a very elaborate set-up. The buildings are mostly of marble. Large circular stairs lead from one floor to the next. Today I went swimming in what used to be Benito's private pool. Outside are wonderful sports fields for tennis, football, and track. All about are many white statues representing many of the old-timers from philosophers to athletes. Certainly nothing has been spared to make this place attractive. It's right on the Tiber river. Our army makes good use of all the facilities here."

Sgt. Oscar E. Froid, ex-'41, writing from Biarritz, France, in the latter part of August, explained that he was about to begin a two months' course in engineer-

The Editor Says:

TEAM, TEAM, BULLY FOR TEAM:

Now that the York College Panthers have won their first football game, the spirits of the Y. C. students have soared to greater heights. We are sure that the team appreciates our congratulations. We are happy that our team came back as victors and we want our team to be victorious again. What is our part in bringing those dreamed of victories to be realities?

A building cannot stand without support. A cause cannot be won without support. A football team also needs support. It needs the support of the students and faculty to bolster its morale. Perhaps, one may think that yelling at the game may not affect the players, but it does. If our team can hear us yell, "Yea Blue—Yea White . . ." how do you think they react? When they know that they are being supported, they will strive to greater goals.

Let us give our support to our Panthers on the football field and off. Let us make this our goal: All-out support for OUR team—Y. C. Panthers.

We can give our whole support by learning the school songs and the school yells. Our cheerleaders are elected to lead us in these and we can do our part by following. Let the team know that we are with them—and make it loud!

Team! Team! Bully For Team!
Team! Team! Rah!

High musical interest is being shown by the enrollment of nearly one-half of the students in the chorus this year. However, there is an acute shortage of male voices. Any college men who have any musical talent are urged to see the music director, Dean Charles A. Amadon, immediately.

Miss Eda M. Rankin of the piano department received several pictures of famous musicians for her studio as a gift from Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Parks of York, noted composer and publisher. There are two group reprints and seven single portraits including such familiar artists and composers as Beethoven, Haydn, and Schubert. Some of the pictures are to be placed in Dean Charles Amadon's studio. The gift is greatly appreciated by all music lovers on the campus.

The first public appearance of the York College Chorus under the direction of Dean Charles Amadon will be at the Homecoming on October 19, where they will sing two selections. This group includes over half of the student body, and gives great promise for a successful year, according to the Dean.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS . . .

The Weasel: "Pop".

On The Book Shelves

By Barbara Baluch

A number of new books have been added to the library by our English department. One of these is Toward the Twentieth Century, by H. V. Routh. In it, Victorian thought as expressed through literature, is searched for its relation to present times. The author considers the nineteenth century over-civilized and under-cultured, because the great minds of that time kept seeking some interest to give meaning to their activities and failed to find that interest.

Prof. Routh shows a high degree of clear thinking and keen analysis. According to critics, his literary form is "restrained, graceful, and above all, readable."

Eighteenth Century London Life has a woman's touch as evidenced by the details included within its covers which the masculine hand would overlook as inconsequential.

R. Bayne-Powell has scrutinized the shadows of the past to discover many amusing facts. She reports the city girl of that century suffered more from lack of exercise than from lack of education, and in a recipe by "Mrs. Glass" she finds the shocking statement that six pounds of butter should be sufficient for the crust of a gooseberry pie. (My dear Mrs. Glass—the points!)

This book is particularly interesting because of the contemporaries mentioned, a few of whom are Pope, Lord Chesterfield, Goldsmith, Gainsborough, Bach, Hayden, and Mozart.

World of Washington Irving, by Van Wyck Brooks, recently serialized in the Atlantic Monthly; Poets of Our Time, by Brenner; Recognition of Robert Frost, by Thornton; and Irish Literary Portraits, by Eglinton, are only a few of these books that students will enjoy.

Miss Ford will resume her college career in March, nearer her home, as she plans to enter the University of California.

Panthers Win Opening Game 18-0 Over Dana

Six-Man Football Season Off To Good Start As Panthers Display Prowess

Reaching pay dirt three times, the York College Panthers opened their six-man football season by tossing Dana college a 18 to 0 loss at Blair last Friday night.

The first touchdown was scored in the opening period. After a series of exchanges of possession of the ball, the Panthers drove deep into Dana territory and Denny Auchard, carrying the ball, charged over for the first marker. The try for point was from placement, but was no good.

In the second period, York scored their second tally. Auchard faded back and having plenty of time, threw a long pass to Don Robson who gathered the ball in on Dana's 35 yard line and scampared into the end zone to make the score 12 to 0. Again the try for point was from placement, but was no good.

The third quarter brought strong offensive play by both teams, but the Panthers were doing all right defensively, holding the Dana team from reaching pay dirt when it threatened.

Later in the third quarter, after a series of runs and passes, Auchard carried the ball across the goal for his second touchdown of the evening, giving York their third and final counter. The try for point was no good and the score was 18 to 0.

The fourth quarter was the thrilling period of the evening with both teams slinging passes and mixing up the aerial attacks with laterals.

Late in the final period, Kenny Hicks snagged a York pass and raced down the field, but was stopped on the one-yard line where York had possession as the period ended.

Clif Rhoades was outstanding on defensive play, constantly keeping the Dana backfield worried. Auchard and Robson kept the Dana team in hot water with their running and passing.

The Panthers found some of their weak spots during the game and will spend the next two weeks polishing up for the homecoming game on Friday, Oct. 19, when Dana comes to York, to play a return game.

The York lineup:
Ends: C. Rhoades and K. Hicks; center, W. Schwindt; quarterback, B. Walker; halfback, Don Robson; fullback, D. Auchard. York substitutions: J. Townsend for Schwindt; J. Hannon for Hicks; S. Jorn for Walker.

Y. C. Students Witness Practice Football Game

East Hill park was the scene of a six-man football exhibition on the afternoon of Oct. 1, as members of the Panther squad, divided into the black shirt and red shirt teams, scrimmaged in order to acquaint the student body with the new game being initiated for the first time in the history of York College.

The exhibition lasted for nearly three quarters of an hour and besides the main purpose of demonstration, provided some good practice for the squad. The Panthers have been practicing daily, running through their plays and scrimmaging.

The team has not suffered many injuries so far this season. The major ones have been a few cracked ribs, pulled muscles, and the loss of one tooth. Despite these few difficulties, the team was in fine shape when they tussled with Dana College at Blair last Friday night.

Dean W. E. Bachman Discusses Standards Of Y. M. At Meeting

Dean W. E. Bachman spoke on the part of the Y. M. C. A. in the college curriculum at the first regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. In his talk he brought out the fact that the Y. M. C. A. and the college are united in their effort to uphold Christian standards.

In enumerating the standards of the Y. M. C. A. he mentioned religious and Christian ideals, etiquette, humor, and the idea of fellowship.

The following officers were also elected at this meeting to fill vacancies: Student Council representative, Don Robson, sophomore, Thayer; treasurer, Denny Auchard, freshman, Woodston, Kans., and chorister, Bob Moomey, sophomore, York. Devotions were led by Robert Vance, senior, Republic, Kans.

There seems to be quite a bit of basketball talent among the freshmen girls. It may be that a word to the upperclass girls is sufficient.

Speaking of talent, Harriet Thomas is one of the few girls who can skate on her nose gracefully. What do you think, Harriet?

Imogene Bland hopes to get some good pitching on Homecoming Day from Margie Webb. After all, Margie is getting experience with that pitching arm in freshman court.

When Mrs. Singer was adjusting blindfolds for ulterior purposes at WAA initiation, one of the initiates said, "thank you," so sweetly that it almost broke her heart.

Homecoming Contest Chairmen Appointed

Chairmen were announced for the upperclassmen-freshmen contests by Robert Vance, senior, Republic, Kans., president of the Student Council.

Willis Friesen, sophomore, Henderson, and Imogene Bland, senior, Shelby, are the chairmen for the upperclassmen. The freshmen chairmen are Leslie Herron, Ames, Iowa, and Wanda Miller, Hoisington, Kans.

The chairmen will make arrangements for the traditional Homecoming events.

Capt. Megill Tells Of Experiences As Chaplain Overseas

Chaplain H. R. Megill, recently returned from overseas duty, told of his experiences with spiritual power in his chapel talk Sept. 21. "I went into the army with one conviction, to organize prayer fellowships for the sole purpose of experimenting with spiritual power," stated Chaplain Megill. "After one year in Iceland, out of less than 1,000 men, there were 7 in the psychoneurotic ward, and others had been in and discharged throughout the year. These men collapsed because they had only a shell, and had no core of strength on which they could depend."

In the same year, he organized a prayer fellowship, and soon discovered to his amazement that officer candidates were continually being drawn from the small group of men in the fellowship.

"These men built within themselves a core of strength, confidence in themselves, in God, and in mankind. They went about their regular tasks, and also engaged in constructive activity for the good of others," said Chaplain Megill.

After telling the stories of some of the men whom he has known in the service, and what spiritual power has done for them, the chaplain said that nothing is so important to democracy as that men and women, and boys and girls shall be given a basis of strength inside themselves upon which they can fall back in time of need.

"Life is very complex; goodness is the simplest thing in the world. It is so simple that in our complexity and sophistication we miss it," continued the chaplain.

The chaplain then told of experiences in France which give him hope that through the free Protestant church in France spiritual power can be brought to bear upon the political life of Europe. In closing, Chaplain Megill challenged each one to learn how to live good lives intelligent and big enough to be able to use spiritual power.

He says in part: "Biarritz is a good-sized place, perhaps about like Lincoln. All soldier students are billeted in hotels along the ocean front, and the classrooms are ball rooms and dining rooms of the hotels. Looking over the list of teachers, one finds many noted colleges from east to west represented. There is only one woman teacher, a WAC captain who teaches music.

"I am well located on the fourth floor of the hotel in a front room facing the ocean. I can go through the French windows onto the balcony and watch the frolics of the bathers. I've been in swimming four times in the last four days."

Lt. Floyd A. Chenoweth, '41, writes from Ie Shima on August 27 to have his new address put on the mailing list. He says:

"I'm in a P-51 fighter outfit attached to the Fifth Air Force and will soon be moving into Japan.

Sympathy Is Extended to Miss Taylor

Miss Maybelle Taylor, '32, York College Librarian, was absent from her desk a few days following the death of her brother-in-law, Dr. Charles Calkins of York who passed away in Omaha on September 25. Miss Taylor went to Kearney to be with her sister, Mrs. Violette Taylor Calkins, '31, who is a patient at the hospital for tubercular cases.

Dr. Calkins, who had practiced dentistry in York for more than forty years, was a former student of York College. His son, Jack, of Marshalltown, Ia., and his daughter, Mrs. Ardith Calkins Feaster of Omaha, are also numbered among the institution's former students, and his son-in-law, D. W. Feaster was graduated with the class of '27.

I haven't met any Y. C. fellows for a long time but would enjoy receiving the Sandburr so as to keep up with things there."
