Miss Gertrude Wheeler, York, who has been appointed to the position of secretary to Pres. D. E. Weidler, replacing Mrs. Vera Thamer Hicok, ex-'38, who resigned in August to return to her home in Oregon.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of York high school. Her commercial teacher while there was Prof. R. E. Townsend, now of York College Commercial department. She has been employed by the Spurlock Law office for the past several years. She also has been the bookkeeper for the Mothers' Jewels Home, a national Methodist orphanage located in York.

Miss Wheeler is a member of the local United Brethren church and is not a stranger to the faculty and students of York College.

York College Mourns Death of J. A. Parks

York College joins with all music lovers everywhere in mourning the death of J. A. Parks, noted music composer and publisher who passed away at his home in York, Oct. 17. Mr. Parks, who was 82, had lived in York since 1891, the first year the college administration building was occupied.

It was in that year that he established the J. A. Parks Publishing Co. in York, and York College musicians have used his music ever since. Dean Charles Amadon of Hulitt Conservatory and Miss Eda Rankin of the piano department both had a part in the funeral service.

His publications were used in all English speaking countries and many of his works were translated into foreign languages.

Dean Amadon plans a memorial service for Mr. Parks in which will be presented many of his compositions. Among these will be the song which he dedicated to Dean Amadon and the York College Glee Club.

200 Persons Served At Homecoming Day Luncheon

Robert Vance Presided Over Program Held At United Brethren Church

Approximately 200 persons were served at the noon luncheon held at the United Brethren Church on Homecoming Day. After the meal, Robert Vance, senior, Republic, Kans., president of the Student Council, presided over the program.

E. T. Peterson, '31, president of the Alumni association, commended the college for its fine spirit and its building program of the future. He urged that Christian education be stressed now as never before.

A talk representing the parents was given by the Rev. C. F. Wantz of Shelby. He pointed out that the parents furnish the students with material things, and that their prayers and faith have made the college what it is today.

In her speech representing the students, Roberta Berglin Allen, president of the senior class, referred to the last Homecoming Day observed on the campus in the fall of '42 under the shadow of war and to the present occasion as a happier one in that the war is over and men are returning to the campus. She also paid tribute to those who in the intervening years have made the supreme sacrifice and cannot return to us.

A male quartette composed of Rudy Rojahn, sophomore, Stockton, Calif.; Robert Vance, senior, Republic, Kans.; Lynn Lee, sophomore, Dawson, and Kenneth Hicks, junior, Iola, Kans., presented two numbers, "Have You Been to Nazareth?" and "Only a Contrite Sinner."

In the concluding talk of the program, Prof. W. J. Karraker representing the faculty, said, "About the chief asset of the United States is its trained educators. Three of the most important events for which the year of 1945 will be remembered are the end of the war, the commercial use of atomic energy, and the emphasis on increased need of education."

PALS Honor Chaplain Richert At Service

A memorial service was held at the PALS' meeting October 16, in honor of Chaplain Floyd Richert, '41, formerly an active member of PALS, who was killed May 18, 1944, in a plane crash while returning to the states on leave. Richert had the rank of captain in the Troop Carrier Service and was in the North African and Italian campaigns.

Kenneth Hicks, junior, Iola, Kansas, announced the following program: brief history of Chaplain Richert by Iona Shaw, sophomore, Great Falls, Montana; poem by Martha Cox, senior, Espanola, N. M.; tribute by Roberta Allen, senior, Berthoud, Colorado; and a vocal solo by Jane Martin, sophomore, Concordia, Kansas.

Devotions were led by Hope Howland, sophomore, Great Falls, Montana.

"October" Used As Theme For Zeta Open Meeting

The opening meeting of the Zetas was held October 15 with "October" as the theme.

Devotions were led by Jewell Daniel, senior, Lockport, N. Y. Under the direction of Eunice Stauffer, senior, from Meadow Grove, a varied program of music, talks, poems, and slide pictures was presented. Those taking part in the program were: Marie Harris, sophomore, Great Falls, Mont.; Jean Rasp, sophomore, Shelby; Dollie Anderson, senior, Albuquerque, N. M.; Alden Sears, sophomore, Velarde, N. M.; Wanda Wantz, junior, Shelby; Esther Megill, senior, York.

Zeta's hall was decorated with autumn leaves and flowers to carry out the theme.

Y. C. Pep Parade Held Down Town

The Homecoming pep parade was held Friday, Oct. 19 immediately following the freshmen-upperclassmen basketball game.

Riding in a convertible coupe in the position of honor was the queen, Ruth Auchard. Escorting the queen were Glen Richards, freshman, York, on a motorcycle and Leland Summers, special student, York, on a motor scooter.

Featured among the many banners carried by the students was a large "Panther" painted by Jewell Daniel, senior, Lockport, N. Y. These banners were prepared by a committee of freshmen headed by Gaylon Baker, Merville, Iowa, and were used to advertise the game that evening.

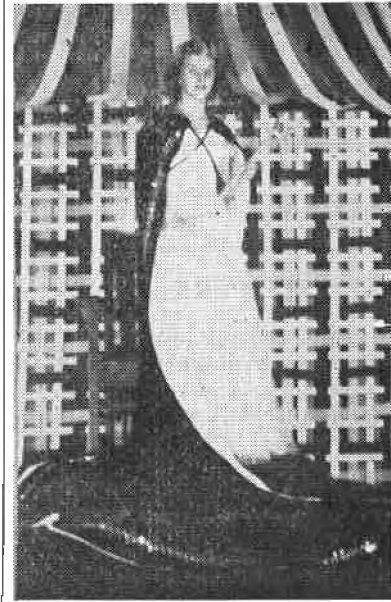

A large "FRESHMAN" sign carried by Imogene Bland, senior, Shelby, and Martha Cox, senior, Espanola, New Mex., was at the head of the freshman section of walking students.

Gaily decorated bicycles and students riding horseback concluded the procession which went from the college through the main streets of town singing and cheering. It stopped twice down town to give a short pep session preparatory to the game with Dana.

Ruth Auchard Crowned Queen Homecoming Day

Rev. Vergil Hague Spoke In The Chapel To First Homecoming Crowd Since 1942

Luncheon, Football Game, Featured

Ruth Wiren Auchard

Ruth Wiren Auchard, senior of Woodston, Kans., was crowned Homecoming Queen before a large crowd of students, parents, and alumni who gathered in the chapel for the first Homecoming celebration since 1942. The Rev. Vergil Hague, Director of the Greater York College campaign, addressed the company on the necessity of unselfish service in the post-war world. Other highlights of the day were the luncheon and program at the college church, a program of drama and music by the expression and music departments in the afternoon, and the victory over Dana college in the evening.

Preceding the crowning of the queen, Dean W. E. Bachman, chairman, introduced the senior girl's trio composed of Pattie Weidler, York; Dollie Anderson, Albuquerque, N. M.; and Irene Falk, Stromsburg. The trio sang two numbers, "Where My Caravan Has Rested" by H. Lohr and

C. E. Presents October Party To 56 Guests

Fifty-six college C. E. and high school C. E. members met in an autumn-clad reception room of the College Church for an October party preceding a lesson period led by Marjorie Thornton, junior, Billings, Mont.

Singing of choruses, led by Gene Langseth, freshman, Albuquerque, New Mex., started the afternoon activities. Folk games were conducted by Hope Howland, sophomore, Great Falls, Mont. and Wanda Miller, freshman, Hoisington, Kans.

Marjorie Thornton presented a study of the purpose and meaning of Christian Endeavor. "The History of C. E." as written by the Rev. Francis Clark was given by Eunice Stauffer, senior, Meadow Grove. Willa Lee Roberts, freshman, Fairbury, explained "The Meaning of Pledges."

A picnic supper of "hot-dogs", potato salad, and cocoa was furnished by Dr. and Mrs. G. T. Savery, College minister and wife. Mrs. Ruth Auchard, senior, Woodston, Kans., Mrs. Roberta Allen, senior, Berthoud, Colo., Miss Irene Falk, senior, Stromsburg, and Mrs. J. C. Morgan, York, helped to prepare and serve the food.

"Rain" by Pearl G. Curran.

With college colors of blue and white as a lattice background, Mrs. Auchard was crowned by Roberta Berglin Allen, Pres. of the senior class. The music for the procession was played by a piano quartette including Eunice Stauffer, senior, Meadow Grove; Lois Anderson, junior, Billings, Mont.; Marjorie Thornton, junior, Billings, Mont.; and Dollie Anderson, senior, of Albuquerque, N. M. The senior attendants of the queen were Irene Falk, Stromsburg, and Bob Vance, Republic, Kans., junior, attendants were Margaret Webb, DuBois, and Kenneth Hicks, Iola, Kans.; Wilma Murphy, Woodston, Kans., and Don Robson, Thayer; freshmen, Wanda Miller, Hoisington, Kans., and Denny Auchard, Woodston, Kans. James and Joylan Hague, children of Rev. and Mrs. V. J. Hague, served as trainbearers for the queen.

"It takes a Christian spirit to live in a world so small as the world we are living in today," stated Mr. Hague in his address. "Let us give our lives to serve the peace and work to that end."

Two numbers, "This is My Country" by Tom Scott and "Night Breezes" by La Matha, were sung by the college choir. The first was directed by Roumaine Holt, junior, Kansas City, Kansas. The second was led by Dolly Anderson, senior, Albuquerque, N. Mex. Both students are members of Dean Charles Amadon's conducting class.

To begin the afternoon program, Roumaine Holt sang the solo, "Il Bacio" by L. Arditi. Following this, two plays, described in detail in the last issue of the Sandburr, were presented by the Expression department. Other musical numbers included a piano solo, "Rhapsody in G. Minor" by Brahms played by Eunice Stauffer, and two trios by the Pantherettes composed by Jane Martin, sophomore, Concordia, Kans., Roumaine Holt, junior, Kansas City, Kans., and Roberta Berglin Allen, senior, Berthoud, Colo.

Final Victory To Frosh After Thursday Loss

With shouts of joy following many tense moments, the upperclassmen went ahead of the freshmen by a margin of two points in the annual freshmen-upperclassmen contests. The basketball game, however, decided the final score in favor of the freshmen.

The men's contests started with baseball throws in which Don Robson, sophomore, York, took first place, and Eloy Martinez, sophomore, Antonito, Colo., took second place. Next came the football throw in which Denny Auchard, freshman, Woodston, Kans., took first place.

The football kick, 100 yard dash and tug-o-war were won by the freshmen and the upperclassmen took first place in the 50-yard shuttle relay and the three legged race. Bob Jokerst, freshman, York, took first place and Bill Walker, freshman, York, second place in the football kick. In the 100-yard dash Auchard took first

The Editor Says:

ORCHIDS TO THE HOMECOMING HELPERS

In every program put on by a group there is always a number of people who work hard and long to make the program what it is. These people seldom, if ever, get any recognition for their work. Here we shall endeavor to cite some of these people and give them their due credit.

We feel that Pattie Weidler as chairman of the Program Committee merits recognition. Pattie worked many long hours to perfect Homecoming Day as a whole. To Pattie we give our deepest gratitude and sincere appreciation for her work.

The helpers at the luncheon, especially Mrs. Mamie Long of the faculty, deserve our thanks as do the freshmen who made the many signs for the parade.

The music and expression departments provided entertainment during the day. They deserve our thanks and appreciation also. The York High School Band, which played at the game, was greatly appreciated by the faculty and students.

On the whole, to all who helped, and that takes in 100 per cent of the faculty and student body, we say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servants."

Homecoming Appreciated

Comments heard on the campus reveal the appreciation of the students and faculty for the return of the traditional Homecoming celebration.

"To me the return of Homecoming means that York College is returning to a pre-war status," said Miss Jean Mattingly, '42, Hostess of Hulitt Hall and instructor in English, "and that the students who are now in college will begin to see what York College was like five years ago when it was at its peak in number of students and participation in athletics and other activities."

Stellarose Lampshire, freshman, Lincoln, stated, "I was impressed by the whole-hearted participation of the faculty and students in the Homecoming program and also by the gay spirit that prevailed during the entire day. I think that the return of this tradition is another step towards the Greater York College."

Donald Robson, sophomore, of Thayer was heard to say, "F'evven's sake! Of course the return of Homecoming is wonderful. We not only won the game but we also revived some old Y. C. traditions. F'evven's sake!"

They Tramped These Halls

By J. C. Morgan

The following excerpt is taken from a recent letter from S/Sgt. Robert Kennedy, ex-'42, who is stationed in the Pacific:

"I look forward to each issue of the Burr and enjoy every word of it, especially the alumni column. For about six months now I have been on this little island of Ie. It is only five miles long and about two miles wide, but we find plenty to do. The weather and much of the scenery here are very much like lower California. This is the island where Ernie Pyle was killed and buried. I was privileged to see the envoys of Japan when they stopped here on the way to Manila. I am enclosing a picture of one of the planes, a converted Betty bomber, and also one of the envoys. They are about to get aboard the C-54 that took them to Manila.

We had no celebration here when peace was declared, but we gave thanks to a merciful God. Several of the fellows have told me that their nightly prayers helped to end the war, and I know that mine did.

On V-J day we had services at the cemetery in memory of those who gave their lives here. We have a nice little chapel with about two hundred from our organizations attending each Sunday. We held services every Sunday, even when the Jap bombers were overhead, and I know better than ever the peace that such services can bring.

Thanks again for the Sandburr."

Chaplain and Mrs. Vernie Buttermore, '35, visited the campus, Oct. 16. Chaplain Buttermore spent twenty months in Europe. He plans to take scholastic work in some university next semester. Mrs. Buttermore was formerly Neva Fellman, '35.

Among the students of this year is Oliver Davidson. Oliver is the sixth member of his family to attend York College. Other members of the family include, Ford, '15, Alan, ex-'18, Gladys, (deceased), ex-'21, Lucy, '24, (Mrs. Clarence Coffey), and John, '23. This is a perfect record for one family.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Mayo Statz, ex-'41, visited on the campus, Oct. 17 and 18. Their home is at Chase.

Miss Hazel Bearss, '30, who works in the Central office of the Colorado State Welfare Dept. in the division of Child Welfare, is visiting relatives in York.

Ensign James Conway, ex-'45, was at Wakayama, Honshu, Japan, when occupation troops were put ashore on Sept. 25.

Sympathy is extended to Dr. Harlon E. Moore, '29, and Mrs. Florence Moore Deason, '25, in the loss of their mother, Mrs. J. B. Moore. The address of Dr. Moore is Sutherland, Nebr., and of Mrs. Deason, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Burr Reporter Interviews Visiting Army Private

By Norma Jean Anderson

"The first thing I buy when I get out of these O. D.'s will be a bow-tie, about tha-a-at wide, canary-yellow, with red polka-dots as big as a quarter," declared Pfc. William Clarence Mabon, ex-'45, when visiting on the campus recently. He was expressing his dislike of the monotony of the army costume and his desire for independence after three years of army life.

Pfc. Mabon, who is now stationed at the Camp Carson, Colorado, convalescent center, was a freshman in York College in 1941-42 when he enlisted in the armed forces. At that time he was very much interested in news-writing and photography and was a reporter on the Sandburr.

In answer to a question concerning his work in the army, the former collegiate said:

"I was first put to work in the Quartermaster Corps and then transferred into the Army Specialized Training Program and stationed at Lawrence, Kansas. Later, I was sent overseas in the 42nd (Rainbow) Division of Gen. Patton's 3rd army and then was transferred to the 90th Division or T. O. (Tough 'Ombre) Division."

When asked if he had been in actual combat, Pvt. Mabon, the wearer of three battle-stars, said, "Yes, I participated in the battle of the Bulge in Belgium where Allied forces pushed back the Germans."

The much-traveled G. I. then revealed that he had been stationed in Belgium, France, Luxembourg, Czechoslovakia, and Germany. In relation to those countries he said, "Luxembourg is the most attractive country I visited. It has model, up-to-date cities with every modern convenience."

Regarding the people of Europe he had very definite opinions. He stated, "Strange as it may seem, I like the German people very much. The G. I.'s were invited into the German homes just as they are in the states and were treated very well. As English is required in German schools, we were able to converse quite easily."

Pfc. Mabon's division took over the notorious prison-camp of Buchenwald but he was not required to view the infamies of that camp of horrors. In response to questions concerning the feelings of the soldiers about such atrocities he added, "Over there death doesn't mean anything; you become hardened against it."

On July 16, the returning veteran left Europe and flew from Paris to New York. "I love to fly!" was his enthusiastic declaration. He visited the campus during a 30-day convalescent leave.

When he is released from the army he plans to continue his education in York College. Later, he would not be averse to returning to Germany to teach.

Visitors Comment On Homecoming

Dr. G. T. Savery, pastor of the College church, and instigator of many campus improvements, had this to say of the eventful day, "I'm thrilled to death to see Homecoming restored to the campus."

Albert Kamm, '39, Platte Center, who has returned from three years and two months overseas, commented, "The students look so young, and the campus has changed for the better."

C. Fogo, ex-'28, of York, has watched the campus closely as it improved, but hasn't noticed any lessening of student enthusiasm. Mrs. Eloise Tabor Holbrook,

'43, who teaches the 7th and 8th grades at Orchard, spent Homecoming day at Y. C. Her husband Lora Holbrook, ex-'45, is stationed in Belgium. Mrs. Holbrook was released last summer from the SPARS.

Robert G. Hunt, '42, who is a minister in Creston, Iowa, came 250 miles to attend Y. C. Homecoming. The last Homecoming he attended was in 1941.

Wilma Eastering, Seminole, Oklahoma, came to York with her sister and brother-in-law, Lt. and Mrs. Alfred Kamm, to visit in this vicinity and attend the Homecoming.

Pfc. Glenn Shaneyfelt will report to the Jefferson Barracks at St. Louis, Mo. on Oct. 20. After his discharge, he hopes to return to college.

By PEE WEE

Mary Kathryn Armstrong

A small, busy senior, Mary Kathryn Armstrong of Lincoln, is in the limelight this week. The roving reporter had to catch Mary Kay "in-between-times" which are few and far between.

Mary Kay is now the secretary of her class and has held this office several times. Her major is English and she plans to teach in Jr. High School after graduation if her plans are not changed by the return of her fiance, Gene Gentry, of the 112 Cavalry in Tokyo.

If you ever need a blotter, just ask Mary Kay for one. She has a large collection of them. She has some blotters that were sent to her from Bizerte, North Africa, and Marseille, France.

When asked about her pet peeve, Mary Kay said, "There is nothing that can rile me more than having someone call on the telephone and then hang up before I get there."

Mary Kay has been active in many of the campus organizations, among which are Press Guild; Histrionic Club; W. A. A.; Y. W. C. A.; and Alpha Psi Omega. Last year she was news editor of the Sandburr and also student director of the three act play, "Belles In Waiting."

OUR MEN IN SERVICE

Cpl. Galen Munsinger, ex-'46, was a recent visitor to the campus. He is in the air corps, and stationed at Denver.

Merl L. Riggs, S 1/c, ex-'47, is now at Hagushi Bay, Okinawa. His father, the Rev. Paul Riggs, '23, says that "he arrived there July 8, and went through 50-60 air raids in the next month. His ship shot down a suicide plane which strafed it 80 miles north of Okinawa, while on radar patrol to intercept the planes. They have been all around to the surrounding islands, carrying messages, officers, etc. Their boat was the Port Director for a month. They narrowly escaped being wrecked by the typhoon the middle of September. He is now working in the radio shack, 4 hours on duty, 8 hours off. He left the states May 16, and has since been to Ie Island, Kerma Reta, Pearl Harbor, Eintowek, Saipan, and Okinawa."

Merl's address is as follows:

Lt. Alfred Kamm, '41, and Mrs. Kamm, ex-'44, visited York College campus with Miss Anna Kamm, ex-'45, who teaches school in Platte county, Nebr. The lieutenant is on terminal leave from the Army Air Corps. He will remain in the Air Corps Reserves. They exclaimed, "Everything looks wonderful. The campus has never been so beautiful!"

Dean W. E. Bachman was very enthusiastic about Homecoming. He said, "It seems like old times to have Homecoming back. It has created much splendid activity on the campus."

Panthers Climax Homecoming With Victory Over Vikings

Homecoming Crowd Witnesses Second 6-Man Game Of Season, As York College Downs Dana College At East Hill Park

To make a Homecoming perfect, the York College Panthers won a 38-19 decision from the Dana College Vikings at East Hill Park last Friday night before a Homecoming crowd. This was the second game of the season and the second win for the Panthers.

The Panthers won the toss and kicked-off to Dana. The Vikings carried the ball back to the 20 yard line and on the first play fumbled the ball. Rhoades recovered for York.

Taking advantage of the fumble, York scored the first touchdown with Auchard carrying the ball, but failed to convert, making the score 6-0.

Later in the first quarter, Robson intercepted a Dana pass on the Dana 40 and returned it to the Panthers' 10 yard line. On the next play Auchard carried the ball around right end and scored standing up. Try for point was from placement and was good. The score was 14-0 in York's favor as the quarter ended.

The second quarter opened with the Panthers kicking-off to Dana. Dana took the ball and after a number of first downs, were able to shake Rouse loose behind wonderful blocking for their first touchdown. Their try for point was good and the score was 14-7.

Dana kicked-off to York and Robson took the ball on the York 25, lateralled to Auchard on the 20, who ran 80 yards for the touchdown. The try for point was no good and the score was 20-7.

Dana scored twice more before the half ended. Both touchdowns were made by Rouse who caught two passes to account for the two touchdowns. Neither of the trials for points was good. As the half ended, the score was 20-19 in the Panthers' favor.

The second half brought plenty of thrills. On the kick-off, Walker took the ball on the Panthers' 30, lateralled to Auchard who on a reversed field run out-ran the Viking tacklers and scored. The try for point was from placement but was wide of the goal posts. The score now stood at 26-19.

The second touchdown of the half came when Auchard carried the ball from his own 35 yard line to the Dana 20 on a beautiful job of running. With four downs to go, the Panthers buckled down and Robson carried the football across the goal line. Try for point was no good, and York was ahead 32-19.

In the fourth quarter, Dana threatened to score. Parker took the ball on the Dana 25 and on a wide sweeping end run behind good blocking carried the ball to the York 30.

The threat was stopped as Dana passed and Robson intercepted the pass on the Dana 5, and on the most sensational run of the evening, carried the ball 95 yards for the last and final touchdown of the game. The try for point was drop-kicked but was wide.

The quarter ended, closing the game with the Panthers out in front 38-19.

The Panthers played a good game with Auchard and Robson doing the bulk of the work. Jim Townsend was hurt during the second quarter, but was able to play the second half. Auchard was shaken up on a play in the last quarter and was forced to leave the game.

The Panthers should be in top condition by next Saturday night when they journey to Seward, where they will play the Concordia Teachers who have not been beaten this year.

Orchids to Jasmine Ingraham who played a good game of basketball in spite of that "Bum Knee" on Homecoming Day.

Harlene Smith, Norma Jean Anderson, Wanda Miller, Elsie Walker, Mildred Hibner and Mary Donna McCollough proved that the freshmen also have what it takes to play basketball. If you don't believe us, ask any upperclassman.

It has been said that the game would have turned out differently if the freshmen had gone through three years without sleep, as the upperclassmen did.

The races which were run Thursday before Homecoming Day were very close—especially the three-legged race.

Susie certainly was glad to see Marolyn Donahoe at the football game last Friday night. Marolyn came over to see her Don Robson play football. He played a real game for her, too. Marolyn is taking nurse's training at Omaha this year.

Butch told Susie that Bob Rand had hurt his arm in football practice. Butch said that Bob saw Jean Rasp watching him so he decided to show off. That just goes to show you that show offs don't get anywhere in this world—well, not far anyway.

If you see "Fritz" Shaneyfelt or "Bert" Loth dancing around as if they were in mortal pain, don't be alarmed. They are just preparing for the W. A. A. Barn Party.

AS I SEE IT

By Blaine Ronne

Football fans got a big thrill last Friday night when they saw the Panthers defeat Dana. The Panthers played a wonderful game and proved the old saying, "Anything can happen in a football game." I say, "Hats off to the Panthers."

Coach Townsend and some of the Panthers went to Seward Oct. 13, and saw the game between Concordia and Tarkio. Concordia won a razzle-dazzle 39-0 victory over Tarkio. They have also beaten Dana twice. The York and Concordia tussle next Saturday will be a mighty struggle and anything can happen.

Some of our football men have acquired nicknames out on the gridiron. The other day I was over at East Hill park and heard a few, such as, "Buster" Walker, "Fadder" Rojahn, "Tooth-less" Moomey, "Chief" Martinez, "Slim" Townsend, and little "Rachel" Ruybalid.

Nebraska Wesleyan has made it one-up this year in football. They have resumed 11-man play and have lost to Kearney State Teachers and won from Morningside Methodists of Sioux City, Ia.

Midland, Doane, and Hastings colleges have resumed 11-man football. Doane has won from Midland, tied with Peru, and lost one or two games with other schools.

Nuggets From Chapel Talks

By Mary Kathryn Armstrong

"We will not be gathering a spiritual harvest by and by, but now," said Dr. Earl I. Doty in chapel recently. "People travel far to a place of worship in order to secure that which satisfies to life eternal."

Service as the cornerstone of Christianity was discussed by Dr. Charles E. Bisset in a recent formal chapel address. He stressed the fact that "work without service is drudgery," and that "material things are not ends but means. Service to men is service to God," he concluded.

"Faith is the assurance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen," said Dr. Doty recently in chapel, quoting this definition from Hebrews 11:1, the "great faith chapter. We wish to eradicate our social needs and to have a world that can find adjustment for its activities in some other way than in war. Ideals, hopes, and needs," he concluded, "will some day find fulfillment in words and deeds."

The necessity of having Christ and Christianity as the cornerstone for world organizations was stressed by the Rev. William J. Hage, York Presbyterian minister, at a recent formal chapel service. He pointed out the important place Christianity must have if peace and unity are to be maintained.

tion, and was a speaker at the luncheon held at the United Brethren Church on Homecoming day. When asked if he noticed any changes, he answered, "Yes, the campus has changed but the traditions are the same. I predict an even greater change for the better in the next ten years. The new "Greater York College" will be a dream come true."

Rev. Laverne Williams, pastor of the United Brethren Church at Salina, Kansas, which Betty Daniels, freshman, attends, was visiting his cousin, Wanda Miller, freshman, on Homecoming day. He commented that, "there is a great improvement in the campus. We all certainly enjoy being here for this grand occasion."

Myron Holm, '25, York County Superintendent of schools pointed out that, "The college students still have the same attitudes, even if the campus has changed. We owe a great deal to Rev. Savery, who has done some wonderful work for the college and the church."

Mrs. M. B. Canon, '24, of York, whose husband is Rev. M. B. Canon, director of public relations of York College, said, when asked if the campus had changed, "I think the campus looks better than it ever has. I wish that all the old grads could be here for Homecoming."
