Pres. Weidler Gives First Chapel Address of Second Semester

"We ought to be different because we have superior privileges," said President D. E. Weidler in the opening chapel address of the second semester.

"We are faced with the problem of a clear understanding of the line between tolerance and conformity. We must be tolerant of our fellow man but we must not lower ourselves to conform with anything that will make us less than our best.

"We are responsible for being different and being willing to avoid conformity when it interferes with what we think is clean and blameless. We must set up within ourselves certain rules and mental controls in the sight of God.

"York," the president concluded "has always stood for high standards and we are responsible for holding up the ideals of a Christian college."

Marathon Receives Many Off-Campus Subscriptions

The Marathon Train moves on from state to state. Besides the many states represented by students buying Marathons, 38 off-campus orders have been received from 12 states. These include Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Ohio, California, New Mexico, Kentucky, Colorado, Illinois, Oklahoma, and Indiana.

"We are very happy to receive these off-campus orders and hope for even more. We wish to express our thanks to each and every one who helps to make our Marathon a success", states the business manager. Those who have not ordered a Marathon but desire to do so, send four dollars by March 1 to Eunice Stauffer, Sales Mgr., 6 29 Kiplinger, York, Nebraska.

Semester Opens With One-Third Enrollment Increase

"With an increase in the enrollment this semester of 33% over last fall, the activities of campus life are coming into full swing", remarked Dean W. E. Bachman.

The great lead in the number of women over men on the campus during the war has dropped according to office figures. At the present time there are only four more women than men. The sophomore class has an even balance between men and women. The junior women are in the decided minority representing only 35% of the total class. The freshman men compose 49 % of the class and the women 51%. In the senior class, the women have 76% and the men trail with 24%. The percentage of the total college is 53% women and 47% men.

Thirteen states and one foreign country are represented in the student body this semester. Those states are: Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, Oklahoma, California, Illinois, Arizona, Missouri, New York, and Minnesota. The foreign country is Sierra Leone, West Africa. Fourteen religious denominations are also represented. This diversity of background led one observer to characterize York College "as unusually cosmopolitan for a small institution."

The Editor Says:

America Always Fights for Freedom

February is the month in which America celebrates the anniversary of the birthdates of two of the greatest Americans: George Washington and Abraham Lincoln. Both of these men lived through wartime and they have contributed greatly toward the ideal of peace.

George Washington was a general during the war in which America won independence from a nation which wished to oppress and exploit American resources. He fought for peace from the dominance of others so that America could be a nation independent, and ruled by its own government.

Lincoln fought the war of equality. He helped to preserve the nation as a union. He emancipated the oppressed and won the respect and admiration of the ages. He fought for peace from internal strife and helped to bring about domestic tranquility.

Yesterday, we fought to establish America as a nation among nations. We fought for democracy and for the peace that Washington and Lincoln and other men in years past fought for. It is up to the youth of America today to keep the spirits of Washington and Lincoln in the fights against oppression of today. We have fought for the peace; we have worked for the peace, we have prayed for the peace; we have won the peace! Now we must preserve the peace that we have fought for since America began.

How About It!

We've heard plenty in the last few years concerning "tolerance." A war to insure individual rights, freedom, and tolerance has just been fought. If ever we are to understand the meaning of the word, now would be the time.

But what do we know of tolerance? Typical of our connotation is this example mentioned by a columnist in a daily paper. A few weeks ago a radio commentator received a phone call from a listener. The woman complimented him on views he had expressed on the subject of tolerance. A short time later the same listener called again. The second call was to reprimand the commentator because he had expressed views with which she did not agree.

The attitude of the listener in this case is typical of many citizens. To them tolerance means accepting those ideas or actions which coincide with their own conceptions. It doesn't include consideration of opposing views. The attitude is common, and an old one. The Puritans who came to this country seeking religious freedom oppressed individuals who dared to worship in other than the manner of the Puritans. Similar examples are numerous throughout history. A generation fights for a cause, wins the battle, then settles into complacency. The issue has been settled; nothing more need be done.

But in spite of that attitude, the world keeps changing. People continue to think. New ideas and methods evolve. It is difficult to imagine what ends might be attained if the attitude of tolerance could be cultivated in those fostering these changes. There's a strong rumor that there are "two sides to every story", but how many individuals take time to listen to the other side? Also not all disagreements are cases of good versus evil. Many conflicts are "good versus good", and in such cases true tolerance can direct the energies of the partisans into beneficial compromises instead of wasteful deadlocks.

Of what importance is this to the college student? It is imperative that we develop an attitude of tolerance while preparing for more active participation in society. If tolerance becomes part of our philosophy of life as students, it will bear fruit when we become workers in the communities of the nation. Our usefulness will be enhanced. Perhaps of greater importance is the fact that our conception and enjoyment of life will attain a worth and broadness that is barred to the intolerant mind.

After searching for hours, your haggard reporter found this week's senior girl in the chem lab with her nose in a book and a beaker in her hand. "I'm just 'playing' around in here before I go to the physics lab," replied Mary Harris of Nelson, when asked what she was doing.

What Mary means is that she is working on one of her majors—yes, you read that right, she has two of them; mathematics and chemistry.

"I can stand very few of the pungent odors that are concocted in a chemistry laboratory, and I also am allergic to perfume," said Miss Harris with a wry smile on her face.

Although she spends much of her time as Physics Lab assistant, Mary finds time to be active in PALS, YWCA, and Life Work Recruits. She is vice president of the Student Council and has been honored by Delta Lambda Mu, alumni honor society, for her scholarship.

After graduation, Mary plans to put her knowledge of science and mathematics to practical use in a research laboratory.

Mary is a quiet, thoughtful student and a credit to York College and to the senior class.

Nuggets From Chapel Talks

Emphasizing the center of Jesus' teaching as, "Be ye also prepared," Dr. W. C. Noll, head of the Department of Biological Science, recently addressed formal chapel. He stated that "every phase of life, was touched in Jesus' teaching and preaching, and that His key was the interest which he aroused. Jesus was more concerned with a man's future and not with the past. He made frequent use of His imagination, was an independent thinker, and exalted personality." Dr. Noll concluded, "The Teacher is here and calleth thee."

The Rev. O'Linn McGuire, pastor of the local Baptist-Congregational Church, spoke recently in formal chapel. He stressed the necessity of realizing that circumstances must not control us. The Rev. McGuire said that "being circumstance-directed has a great deal to do with what we are. If we do not live abundantly, circumstances can be dangerous masters. Circumstances can work to our advantage only when we have complete faith in God." Concluding he said, "A God-filled life always has the upper hand."

York Upsets Doane to Win NCAC Game 36-34

Panthers Rally To Win Rough Battle On Tigers' Home Floor, January 28

Winning their first NCAC conference game of the season, the Panthers upset the Doane college Tigers 36-34 in a rough and tough "battle played on the Doane floor Jan. 28.

Things looked bad for the Panthers after ten minutes of play as Doane was leading 14-2. Deciding that it was time to start playing basketball, they began to find the range and while holding Doane scoreless the rest of the half, the Panthers dumped in 10 points. Doane led at the half-time 14-12.

There was plenty of fire the second half as both teams fought for the lead. The score was tied several times, but in the middle of the final period, the Panthers with a couple quick baskets took the lead. Doane fought desperately to the dying moments of the game, but lacked two points of tying the score.

Holbrook potted 10 points and Shaneyfelt and Robson potted 8 points each to score 26 for York's points. Razor had 8 points for the Tigers. Shaneyfelt missed seven free throws costing him the chance for high scoring honors for the evening.

Concordia Teams Fall To Powerful Panther Squad

Seeking revenge for an earlier loss, the York college Panthers quietly sharpened their claws and in gentlemanly fashion ripped open the offense of the Concordia Teachers to win a 72-60 victory. The Panther Cubs polished off the Concordia B team by a score of 52-41 in the preliminary. Both games were played at the city auditorium on the night of Feb. 5.

Taking plenty of time to get in gear, the Panthers started hitting and held the half time lead of 39-24. Holbrook and Auchard scored 12 points each in the first period.

The Concordia Teachers found plenty of opposition the second half, too. After 12 minutes of play, the score was 62-43, and Coach Tonkin sent in the second hve to finish the game.

Holbrook hit the goal for 23 points during the game, while Hafemeister of Concordia followed with 19. Shaneyfelt and Auchard hit 15 points each. Robson played his usual fast game and sparked the defensive play for the Panthers.

Panther Gossip By "Stooge"

Many interesting things happen on basketball trips. As the Panthers were coming back from the Doane game, they were cruising along in Jake's Chev at approximately 42 miles per hour when the stillness of the night was broken by a low voice. Yes, it was "Beaver" talking in his sleep.

On a recent trip to Blair to play Dana, the chief argument was whether Tonk's car with the good heater or Shaney's car with the radio was the most inviting.

Denny Auchard not only takes a physical beating but also a mental heating when he plays basketball. His opponents ruff him up and the officials call him names. His name really is Auchard, but it has been pronounced "Awkward" and at Blair the referee called him "Archy".

Shaney couldn't hit the basket during the Kearney game and maybe it was a good thing, because Kearney would have had two more points. Yes, he got his directions a little mixed up and took a shot at the wrong goal.

The night of the Dana game, Don Robson said he didn't feel very well because his stomach was hurting and he wanted to stop in umaba and see a nurse who could give him some medicine to make it feel better. He wasn't fooling the Panthers. They knew that it was hls heart instead of hls stomach that was bothering him.

Then the first five took over and increased the lead by five points at the half.

In the second half, the Panthers came to life, and scored almost at will. Removal of two Dana players in the third quarter via the five foul rule cinched the game for York. Final score was 58-33.

Bert Lotn nas a protege. Mary-Catherine Blaine acted like a basketball in the New Mexico-Nebraska game and bounced all over the floor. But "Kit" did a super job of guarding Elsie Walker. Congrats!

"Jasper" Ingraham is still an associate member of the cast system, but we hope that she gets both feet on the ground before long.

I'd like to find somebody who didn't have to look up to Elsie Walker.

"Mudge" Anderson played a game without breaking her glasses. Hurray! Lois Anderson wasn't so lucky. We're really sorry, Amy Lois!

Y.W.C.A. Welcomes New Women Students

A group of senior girls and the Y. W. C. A. sponsor, Miss Irene Shipley, head of the Expression Department, welcomed the new women students to Y. W. C. A. in the first meeting of the new semester.

"If For Girls" by McEvoy was read by Mrs. Roberta Allen, Berthoud, Colo. The senior trio, Miss Pattie Weidler, York, Miss Irene Falk, Stromsburg, and Mrs. Dollie Schwindt, Albuquerque, New Mex., accompanied by Marjorie Thornton, junior, Billings, Mont., sang "Salutation" by Gaines and "Morning" by Speaks.

Miss Shipley read for the group, "A Little Sermon" by Louisa M. Alcott. After the 121st Psalm given by Miss Mary Harris, Nelson, Miss Esther Megill, York, led in prayer.

The Y. W. C. A. president, Miss Eunice Stauffer, Meadow Grove, gave an open invitation to this semester's Y. W. C. A. meetings.

MISS WAKELIN SPEAKS AT Y. W. C. A. MEETING

"The will to put the golden rule into practice in a thousand small ways," was the definition Miss Zelda Wakelin, head of the modern language department, gave for manners in a recent Y. W. C. A. meeting.

Miss Wakelin pointed out that good manners are a part of our democratic, whole-hearted spirit. Five points were given by the speaker in the art of entertaining: expense, work, honor, obligation, and pleasure.

"Manners," emphasized Miss Wakelin, "are a sure way of winning social approval."

Other numbers on the program were two whistling selections by Jewel Daniel, senior, Lockport, New York, the piano prelude by Mrs. Ruth Auchard, senior, Woodston, Kans., and devotions by Martha Cox, senior, Espanola, New Mex.

Panthers Lose 5344 To Kearney

Hitting an off night, the York college Panthers were defeated by the Kearney State Antelopes, 53-44, on Friday, Feb. 8. The game was played on the Antelopes' floor and was a rough affair with 35 fouls being called and nearly that many being missed.

The Panthers couldn't hit the basket and missed several set-ups and numerous free throws. Kearney had some trouble making their shots, too, but managed to hold the half-time lead 23-14.

The Panthers did show some life late in the last quarter when they tied the score. The Antelopes quickly made several baskets to break the tie and built up a 53-44 lead to win the game.

Peterson, Antelope forward, collected 15 points for his evening's work to take scoring honors for his team. Robson sank five field goals and four free throws for 14 points to take scoring honors for the Panthers.

In a preliminary game, the Panther Cubs romped over the Kearney B squad 49-30. Dean and Haberman led the way for the Panther Cubs.

HISTRIONIC CLUB PERFORMS AT D.A.R.

Powdered hair and colonial costumes took members of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution back to the 18th century Friday evening, Feb. 1, when seven members of the York College Histrionic Club presented their one-act play, "A Dish of China Tea," by Elizabeth Neff.

Another college student on the program was Miss Pattie Weidler, pupil of Dean Charles Amadon, who sang, "American Prayer" by Stillman, and "There Is No Death" by Geoffrey O'Hara.

The events depicted took place at a tea in the home of a Royalist family on the day of Cornwallis's defeat at Yorktown. The plot revolves around the daughter of the hostess who reveals in rapid succession the Yorktown victory, her rejection of her Royalist suitor, her aid to Washington and her betrothal to a young Revolutionary.

Norma Jean Anderson played the part of Marcy Wynn, the daughter. Mrs. Wynn was played by Irene Falk; Mrs. Throckmorton, by Mary Kathryn Armstrong; Lady Augusta Clive by Ruth Auchard; Mrs. Cynthia Ravencroft by Harriet Thomas; Honorable Clarissa Courtenage, by Wanda Miller; and Janitye Wynn, by Mary Donna McCollough.

The cast expects to present the play before the McCool Women's Club in the near future.

The Senior Trio furnished a chapel program recently. They sang five hymns.

The members of the trio are Pattie Weidler, York; Trene Falk, Stromsburg; and Dollie Schwindt, Albuquerque, N. Mex. Marjorie Thornton, sophomore of Billing3. Mont., is the accompanist.

New Mexico Wins Intramural Girls' Basketball Tourney

In the last game of the women's basketball tournament, "New Mexico" defeat the fighting "New Mexico" defeated the fighting "New Mexico" with a score of 21 to 14. With Dolly Schwindt, senior, Albuquerque, back in the line-up, the New Mexico sextet was right on the beam and played a good offensive game. They were again at an advantage because of the height of their players and it seemed as if Elsie Walker, freshman, Santa Cruz, couldn't miss.

Although Nebraska made the first score and held its own up to the last quarter, the Cornhuskers just couldn't find the basket. At the end of the first quarter the score was 4-5 with New Mexico in the lead. At the half the teams were neck and neck, but New Mexico still led 9-8. Due to some fast team-work on the part of the Cornhuskers, the opposing team still was unable to get a big lead and the end of the third quarter found Nebraska still trailing by only one point, 14-15. In the last quarter, however, Elsie Walker began a barrage of baskets which boosted the final score up to 14-21, while the Nebraska girls still couldn't hit the hoop.

Scoring honors were claimed by Elsie Walker who piled up a total of 14 points, while Joan Schark was high-pointer on the losing team, with 8 points to her credit.

The beginning line-up for the

The game was refereed by Wanda Miller, freshman, Hoisington, Kansas, and Mary Donna McCollough, freshman, Webster City, Iowa. Imogene Bland, senior, Shelby, and Mrs. Charles Singer, Blair, acted as official time and score keepers during the whole tournament.
