

Four Missionaries To Visit Campus For Mission Emphasis

Miss P. Shepp, Mrs. L. Nagel, the Rev. Peter Wong, And the Rev. Carl B. Eschbach to be here March 8

Four foreign missionaries will be on the campus next week to speak to college students during Mission Emphasis Period. Chapel services, personal interviews, and World Mission Sunday observance will be on their schedule. The members of the team are, Miss Phyllis Shepp, Mrs. Leora Nagel and the Rev. Peter Wong, and the Rev. Carl B. Eschbach.

Mrs. Nagel

Mrs. Leora Nagel and her husband, the Rev. Edward Nagel, went to the Philippines as missionaries in 1939. They were stationed at Lubuagan, Mt. Province, where they were doing an unusually fine piece of work when war came. Mr. Nagel then served as chaplain with the U. S. armed forces in the Philippines. He was taken prisoner and later died in a hospital in Japan. Mrs. Nagel was interned in the Philippines during the war. She returned to the United States in 1945 and is serving as Secretary of Missionary Education of the Women's Society of World Service.

Miss Phyllis Shepp (not pictured) a graduate of the Shenandoah Conservatory of Music, was the fifth representative of the Student Friendship Project to serve in our Mission schools in Sierra Leone, West Africa. During the two years Miss Shepp was at the Harford School for Girls, she directed the school chorus, organized an A Capella choir, and gave individual lessons, besides teaching some literary courses. When the teachers met in their Annual Institutes, she presented lectures on the use of music in the class room. She also wrote helpful articles for the mission magazine, "The Sierra Leone Outlook." The Africans are a musical race and responded wholeheartedly to Miss Shepp's leadership. She is the first music major to serve on the Harford staff. Her work was felt to be so worthwhile that a request has come that such a teacher be maintained permanently.

Rev. Peter Wong

The Rev. Peter Wong is a native of Hong Kong, China. His parents are staunch Christians. After graduation from a Christian high school in Hong Kong, Mr. Wong, who had not only felt the call to preach the Gospel but who had taken a very active part in church work and served as lay-preacher in various churches in Hong Kong, definitely committed himself to the ministry as his life work. He graduated from the Canton, Union Theological College in 1938. In the fall of 1938 he entered Bonebrake Seminary. After a year in Bonebrake, he transferred to Oberlin School of Theology where he received his Master's Degree in 1940. He returned to Hong Kong in the fall. During the years of the war, when most of the missionaries were off the field, Mr. Wong carried many of the administrative responsibilities of the Mission. He was head of the relief work under UNRRA and C. W. S. in the area around Canton, China. He established food centers for the poor, reorganized and opened many of the mission schools, and launched the Christian Church on an evangelistic program to meet the challenge of a new day for China. He returned to the states last fall, and will spend about a year here presenting the work and needs in China.

Rev. C. B. Eschbach

The Rev. Carl B. Eschbach is associated with the Department of World Missions of the Evangelical United Brethren church. From 1929 to 1941 he served as pastor of the United Evangelical church in Baguio, Philippine Islands. This congregation was cosmopolitan in its make-up. Among its membership and adherents were Americans, Filipinos, Chinese and Japanese. At least four different languages were used in the Sunday services: English, Ilocano, Chinese, and some Mountain dialect. Various services were held throughout the day to accommodate these various linguistic groups which worshipped there. For three and a half years the Rev. Mr. Eschbach was held as a prisoner of war by the Japanese. When the American forces retook Manila, he was released and returned home. Since he returned he has assisted in the promotion work of the board.

Lora Holbrook, senior, and Joseph Martin, freshman, are no longer without their cooks, thanks to the completion of the housing units. Mrs. Holbrook, and son Jerry, arrived in York February 2, and Mrs. Martin arrived February 16.

Press Guild Plans Annual Banquet

Plans are being made by the Press Guild for the annual Publications dinner, to be held at the Evangelical United Brethren church on March 14. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Lora Holbrook, nee Eloise Tabor '43, in care of York College. The price will be 85¢. Former staff members of campus publications who cannot attend the banquet are asked to send their greetings to be read at the dinner.

PALS Hold Informal Variety Meeting

Because newly elected President Bob Dicus, sophomore, Lawton, Ia., was away on a basketball trip, PALS held an informal meeting consisting of games, contests, and group singing, February 18 in PALS hall, in place of holding installation of officers.

Margaret Stevens, freshman, York, had charge of the devotions and Rachel Langenburg, freshmen, Sutton, sang "God's Highway". Rowena Fahrning, freshman, Salina, Kans., presided over the program.

It was decided in the business meeting that pledges would be sought for one week only. Installation of officers will take place at the next meeting.

Music Students Broadcast From Several Stations

Radio programs are in the air as far as York college music students are concerned. The third broadcast by the department was given Saturday by the College Girls' Trio and Hoover Fisher, freshman, Stillwater, Okla., accompanist, over KFAB in Lincoln.

The Melody Men and Girls' Trio previously presented the first radio program for the year over WOW, Omaha. Lyle De Moss program chairman for WOW, was a student at York college under Dean Charles A. Amadon, head of the music department. The climax of this broadcast was the singing of a Fred Waring arrangement of "Sailing Home" by both the trio and quartette.

Norma Jean Anderson Stars As Imaginative Teen-Ager

Story of Judy And Her Problem Family Promises To Be Fast-Moving Entertainment

Norma Jean Anderson

A conscientious girl of 13, gifted with a vivid imagination and an unparalleled faculty for "doing good deeds", and worrying about her "problem family" form the basis of a fast moving comedy plot in "Junior Miss", the dramatic production of the His trionic club to be presented at the city auditorium tonight.

Judy, the "Junior Miss", observes her father with his arm around his employer's daughter, Ellen, and misinterprets it to mean that they are in love. She immediately makes plans to break up this budding romance and save her mother from disgrace and disillusionment.

The arrival of Uncle Willis, her mother's brother who has been away for 10 years, and whom she supposes to have been in jail, offers a love interest by which she plans to divert Ellen's affections from her father.

She arranges a meeting between Willis and Ellen on Christmas Day and then leaves them alone in the house. Her plan is a great success as Ellen and Willis are wed secretly shortly after New Year's Day. Ellen's father, J. B., when informed of the marriage blames Harry, Judy's father and discharges him from his position.

However, Judy has a date with the son of a very rich prospective client of the law firm which J. B. heads; and when he calls for her, J. B. thinks Harry is trying to steal his client and offers Harry a junior partnership if he will land the account for the firm.

Lois, the sophisticated 16 year old sister of Judy, adds greatly to the comedy as she tries to keep her boy friends and Judy all pacified.

Judy's inspiration and ideas are supplemented and assisted in their execution by Fuffy, her rollicking playmate and "Bosom friend".

All in all, "Junior Miss" promises an evening of fine entertainment for those who attend its presentation.

March 21 Is Date of Spring Banquet

March 21, the first day of spring, is to be the date of the annual Spring Banquet, according to Marjorie Thornton, senior, Billings, Mont., president of the Student Council. The theme has been chosen but will not be announced. The banquet is an informal affair sponsored by the Student Council.

The committee to plan the theme was Mary Alice Riggs, sophomore, Ames, Ia., chairman, with Mark and Rowena Fahrning, freshmen, York, serving as members.

Y Club Initiates Perform At Chapel

Amid laughs and cheers from the student body, Jim Conway, junior of York and master of ceremonies of the recent Y club program, introduced the 12 newly initiated lettermen to the student body. As part of the initiatory proceedings, the new members proved their mettle.

Among the talented performers were musicians, orators, a man of muscles, a pie eater, a gum chewer, and a baby sitter.

at the head of the tables, John Reger, sophomore, Amherst, discussed the Last Supper, and presented to the guests the purpose of the OBN Fellowship.

Ralph Amen, freshman, Cheyenne, Wyo., led the devotional service.

Howard DeBoer, Jim Conway Head Senior And Junior Classes

Howard DeBoer, senior, and Jim Conway, junior, both of York, were elected to the presidency of their respective classes at recent class meetings.

Other officers elected by the senior class are: vice-president, J. Hill Anglin, Amistad, New Mexico; secretary, Arlene Kaeding, York; treasurer, Elizabeth Anderson, Arlington, Colo.; Student Council representative, Dick Foulk, Adrian, Michigan; Panther club representatives, Lora Holbrook, York, and Margaret Webb, Omaha; sponsor, Miss Zelta Wakelin.

Junior officers are: vice-president, Betty Schoonover, Des Moines, Ia.; secretary, Louis Rachow, Strang; treasurer, Bob Gillespie, Glendale, California; Student Council representative, Lois Shaneyfelt of Central City; Panther club representatives, Jane Martin, Concordia, Kans., and Leland Miller, Ventura, Ia.; sponsor, Miss Irene Shipley.

ERASERS . . .

Erasers are handy gadgets to have around. When a mistake is made in writing a paper, drawing a picture, or making a list, an eraser removes it. Writers, artists, office workers, housewives, and students are the users of this type of an eraser. There is another type of eraser that many of us do not use.

As he stepped on the toes of the lady, he said, "I beg your pardon", thus erasing the look of consternation from her face. Such a courteous phrase helps to erase small infractions of social rules.

He gets what he wants because he uses "please" and "thank you". These words are also used as erasers to remove doubt in peoples' minds as to the social habits of the speaker. These phrases are keys to a social position and work to help keep that position.

A word of praise for the fellow who did the job we would have liked to do serves as an eraser to obliterate from our own minds envy or jealousy that may have entered in.

Gracious attitudes and actions serve as erasers of any petty feelings of greed, mistrust, or dislike.

Do you use your erasers?

RURAL DELIGHTS . . .

We, who appreciate beauty, pay silent tribute to the spots where beauty has come to life—a deserted nest, a withered stem, or an old tree. These charms of rural delight are fresh from the brush of God. There is reassurance in this fact. It is a symbol of our hopes for the future and of the roots we have in the past and the present.

To the farmer, old orchards are useless except for firewood, but to us they are things of picturesque beauty. The old trees, gnarled, storm-torn and neglected, stand staunchly through the years. They know heat and blizzard, rain and snow. Although they are abandoned by man, they become a part of nature's scheme and serve out their time faithfully. There is reassurance at the foot of those trees whose branches start well down the trunk and whose roots strike deep into the soil and find sustenance in the earth.

Root cellars, another type of rural delight, are security for the countryman and his family. They are dug into small slopes and are well protected from freezing by walls of soil and stone. Small ventilators in the roof provide a necessary circulation of air. Root cellars are used for storing vegetables and fruit in their natural state. Potatoes are heaped in bins as are carrots and other root vegetables. There are rows of jams, jellies, fruits, meat, and vegetables on the shelves and new kraut fermenting in old stone jars.

A challenge to human endurance of farm life is the wheelbarrow. It deals with rocks, hunks of sod, and bags of lime. It includes dead leaves, garden vegetables, garden tools, and seedling flats. Best of all, it is shaped to its purpose. It makes the rounds of March winds and April showers, July sun and August thunderstorms, October harvest and November frost. Like faith, the wheelbarrow can move mountains. A few drops of oil can silence its loudest complaint. When the sun is setting and human energy is dwindling, the wheelbarrow waits with welcoming arms for the weary frame of the owner.

In some rural sections kerosene lanterns are still good companions of the farmer. No one can tell what the sight of a lantern has meant in terms of human happiness. Lanterns have hung beneath farm wagons on the way to town on Saturday night. On many a lonely road and in many an isolated home, the sight of gleaming lanterns has given comforting heart glows. They give light to dark places, they bring cheer to human hearts, and they keep man's feet on the path that leads upward.

They Tramped These Halls

By Prof. J. C. Morgan

The autumn number of the Bonebrake Theological Seminary Bulletin contains a most thoughtful and timely article by Dr. Merl W. Harner, '20, Professor of New Testament at the Seminary, on the subject of: Paul's Idea of Christian Freedom—an article certainly worthy of further publicity.

A book-length story by Miss Jean Z. Owen, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Zimmerman Owen, ex-'06, is to be published soon in the American Magazine. Mrs. Owen is a daughter of the late Rev. A.

L. Zimmerman, pioneer pastor in the Nebraska United Brethren Conference.

The address of Mrs. Martha Evans Jensen, ex-'33, is Kearney, Nebr. Mr. Jensen is employed by Phillips 66. They have three children.

Hazel E. Morgan, '39, who works in the War Department, Washington, D. C., edits the radio script that is broadcast to the American forces overseas. She is also organist at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Behind The Scenes of "Junior Miss"

Many strange and curious happenings occur behind the scenes in the preparation of a dramatic production. The cast of "Junior Miss" has discovered itself to be no exception to this rule.

The superb portrayal of various characters by Mr. William White, director of play production, has been a never-ending source of enjoyment, and, as such, led one student to remark, "I think I will skip play practice tonight and let Mr. White do my part. He is much more comical than I."

One night Mr. White suggested to the students that they begin to practice using "hand props", such as coats, packages, etc. The result was amazing! Fred Vorce at a dramatic point of action, (when he was supposedly interrupted in preparing for bed), came dashing on the stage robed only in his undershirt and trousers. Another time, a dramatic scene was climaxed by a fervent handshake between Norma Jean Anderson and Betty Schoonever. The two actresses clasped hands in great solemnity as "Scooch" exclaimed, "Ouch! my ring." The result was a new line in the script.

These incidents contribute to the general attitude of the actors and director alike. This attitude must be one of cooperation, good will, and teamwork in order to coordinate the four phases; try-out, blocking, memorizing, and polishing.

Hi-Lites from Chapel Talks

By LOUIS RACHOW

We Have Social Responsibility

"We show our greatness through our lives," declared Dr. Charles Bisset, head of the social science department, in the last formal chapel address. "One doing the will of God is one called of God."

There is a purpose in every life and the manner in which we meet our crisis will depend upon how we are preparing for it. Bible study and prayer will get results, he added. We must hear the call for results. This is our social responsibility.

Live For Today

All that is gone before is a prologue. This was the substance of a recent chapel address by Dr. E. I. Doty, head of the political science department. This is the best day that has ever been; tomorrow will be a better day, he said.

"We are working to establish ourselves for the present day," continued Prof. Doty. "There is now a King and a political control. We are organized and stand one for all and all for one," declared the speaker.

"This is My Father's World"

"This is my Father's world" because it is a good world and because it is a world of beauty and wonder," declared Prof. J. C. Morgan, head of the classical language department, in a recent formal chapel service. "There is a natural law in the spiritual world and God is revealed in all nature because the earth is the Lord's," continued Dr. Morgan.

God is good to everyone, to strangers, and to the poor. There is no unbelief, because the Heavens declare the glory of God. It is a wonder of the mind and of the soul of man, who is God's great signature, according to Prof. Morgan.

Who is a Spiritual Person?

A spiritual person is one who has been born of the spirit, one who is filled with the spirit, and one who walks in the spirit. This is the essence of a recent chapel, address by the Rev. Mr. A. E. Rodewald, pastor of the Nazarene church of York. The words of Paul in his letter to the Galatians, "Ye which are spiritual," stimulate thinking and raise the question of who a spiritual person is, he said.

"The answers to this question may be found only in the word of God," declared the speaker. "The definition of a spiritual person is unbiased. We must need be re-molded to the will of God because the success of a Christian life depends upon obedience to God."

Socialities

The engagement of Mary Alice Riggs, sophomore, Ames, Ia., to Max Allen, senior, Washta, Ia., was announced at the Diehl Den last week. Congratulations!

Miss Norma Ruth Ehler, sophomore, Johnstown, Colo., and Miss Marie Harris, junior, Great Falls, Mont., were guests of Mrs. Arlene Johnson Kaeding, senior in York last week-end. Mr. Kaeding was on a basketball trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Kuntz and family of Alton, Kans., and the Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hiller, Russell, Kans., are on the campus to attend the production of "Junior Miss" this evening.

Cliff Rhoades, sophomore, York, returned to college this week having recovered from chicken pox.

The Marathon Staff is busy writing copy to be sent to the printers. Second semester students who are new on the campus, had their portraits taken last week. Several organization pictures were taken by Bill DeVriendt from the Capital Engraving company at Lincoln.

PANTHER SPORTS

Panthers Win One, Lose Two, On Road Trip

The York college Panthers returned home Sunday after a road trip through Iowa, Indiana, and Illinois. On their trip they played Simpson college at Indianola, Ia., Indiana Central college at Indianapolis, and Knox college at Galesburg, Illinois. They ran up against some stiff competition, losing to Simpson college and Indiana Central, but winning over Knox college by a one point margin.

Simpson Too Strong

Despite the high scoring of Jim Kaeding, who poured in 35 points, the Panthers fell before Simpson 83-75 in the first of their three games.

Simpson jumped to an early lead, leading all the way, and holding a 45-39 half-time advantage.

Wayne Kaeding helped York's scoring with 14 points, while Denny Auchard got 12.

Greyhounds Win

The Indiana Central Greyhounds pulled away after the first five minutes of play to score a 67 to 55 triumph over the Panthers in the second game.

The Greyhounds used a fast break to tie the score at 10-all early in the game and increased the lead to 35-25 at the half-time.

Jim and Wayne Kaeding sparked a rally midway in the last half which brought the score up to 56-46 before Central stopped the rush.

Griffith, Central center, had 20 points when the final whistle sounded, while Wayne Kaeding had 16 and Jim 18 points.

Panthers Edge Knox

It was Denny Auchard's basket, with less than five seconds remaining in the game, that gave York a 77-76 edge over Knox college in the last of the three road games.

The Panthers took possession of the ball with five seconds left in the game. Trailing by one point, Auchard sank the necessary basket to give them the victory.

At the half-time the Panthers held a 35-31 lead. The Knox five showed plenty of fire in the last four minutes of the game and the lead changed several times.

Jim Kaeding collected another 31 points, while brother Wayne scored 18, Auchard 14, Conway six, and DeBoer and Campbell four each.

Denny Auchard

Denny Auchard has again won himself a starting position on the Panther five. He has lettered in basketball two years and was high point man last season. Auchard's ability, speed, and flexibility make him a valuable team man. He has scored 146 points this season.

Kearney Antelopes Fall To Panthers

Jim Kaeding Hits For 35 Points To Tie NCC Record Set By Hahn of Midland

The York college Panthers copied win number ten and climbed into second place in the NCC as they won 79-63 over the Kearney State Antelopes on the Teachers' home court.

Jim Kaeding was the big factor in York's victory as he netted 35 points to tie the conference record set by Bob Hahn of Midland early in the season.

After Jim Kaeding missed the first of eleven out of fourteen free throws that he failed to hit during the evening, Cornelius of Kearney scored the first basket. Wayne Kaeding came through in the next few seconds with one of his long shots which tied the score. Conway added a bucket to put York ahead 4-2 with two and a half minutes played.

From then on York was out in front all the way. After ten minutes of play, the Panthers were leading 20-13. At the half the scoreboard gave York a 35-31 advantage.

The Antelopes came back the second half with plenty of fire, but with the hot pursuing Panthers on their heels, they were unable to get into the lead. York steadily increased their lead as the game went into the last minutes of the game.

Wayne Kaeding followed brother Jim with 15 points and Conway collected 10. Dick Petersen of Kearney bagged 15 points for high honors for his team. Lewis netted 13 points.

The York Cubs won over the Kearney B team in a preliminary game.

AROUND THE CONFERENCE

By BLAINE RONNE

York college remains in second place in the Nebraska College Conference with two games yet to be played, one game with Doane and an all-important game with Hastings this Friday. Peru has dropped into third place without a chance at the title, having lost their last five games. Chadron pulled up into fifth place after their double win over Peru. Doane is at the bottom of the ratings, but could still stop York from winning the title. In order to win the crown, the Panthers must win both games. The ratings:

	W	L
Hastings	13	2
York	11	2
Peru	9	5
Kearney	8	6
Chadron	6	9
Wayne	4	8
Wesleyan	4	9
Midland	4	10
Doane	2	10

Here are several oddities: The Panthers were the first team in the conference to defeat Peru. The Panthers were the first team to defeat Kearney on their home floor this season and also it was the first time in seven years that York beat the Antelopes on their home court. The Hastings Broncos have not been beaten on their home floor this year. The Broncos were the only team to beat York on York's floor this year in conference play. It looks as if the Panthers have something to settle with Hastings and I believe they can do it.

A record crowd is expected to attend the Hastings-York game Friday. It is evident that not all people who want to see it will have the opportunity because of lack of seating. A report from Hastings stated that seating facilities would take care of 2000. The Hastings college publication reported that 1600 fans attended the Hastings-Peru bout and that many fans were turned away. It has been mentioned that it might be a wise idea to move the game to the U. N. coliseum.

According to a recent report on average points scored in college basketball in the United States, the high was 29 points. If the report was correct, Jim Kaeding could claim a spot in the high ten.

York Takes 64-43 Win From Wesleyan

Plainsmen Easy Foe For Panthers; Wayne Kaeding Gets 20 Points In Game

Wayne Kaeding, chalking up 20 points, paced the York College Panthers to a 64-43 victory over Wesleyan Tuesday night in the city auditorium.

Wesleyan matched the Panthers point for point for the first ten minutes of play, but when the York squad found the basket, the game was all but over. The torrid pace of the Panthers during the last ten minutes of the first half pushed them into a 34-19 lead at half-time.

The last half found the Y. C. "basketeers" still able to make the points at a furious pace as eight Panthers scored points to produce the final score.

Other "point-getters" for York were Jim Kaeding with 17, Denny Auchard with 9, and Jim Conway with 8. The Plainsmen high scorers were Cliff Squires and Mercer with six points each.

In a hard fought preliminary game the York "B" squad dropped a 46-45 decision to the Wesleyan "B" five.

The summary:

York (64)	fg	ft	pf

W. Kaeding, f	8	4-12	2

Ethel Brooks Installed As President of Y.W.C.A.

Annual Banquet Held At College Church Is Scene of Installation of Officers

Ethel Brooks, junior, Cedar Rapids, Ia., was installed as president of the YWCA at a banquet with the theme of "Girls" held at the Evangelical United Brethren church last Friday.

Jasmine Ingraham, junior, Sewal, Ia., retiring president, presided at the installation service, and Mrs. Ruth Auchard, Woodston, Kansas, played organ selections during the ceremony. Miss Ingraham and Norma Jean Anderson, sophomore, York, retiring vice president, then lighted a series of candles, and presented corsages to the newly-elected officers and cabinet members.

Those installed were: president, Ethel Brooks; vice president and membership chairman, Opal Anderson, freshman, York; secretary, Mary Jackson, freshman, Adrian, Mo.; treasurer, Bernice Dvorak, freshman, Swisher, Ia.; student council, Eunice Goodrich, junior, Portland, Ore.; district representative, Mary Alice Riggs, sophomore, Ames, Ia.; finance chairman, Ruth Sanchez, junior, Holman, N. M.; program chairman, Jasmine Ingraham; social chairman, Ruth Weston, sophomore, York; library chairman, Reta Summers, sophomore, York; world fellowship chairman, Harriet Thomas, sophomore, Topeka, Kans.; and music chairman, Jane Martin, junior, Concordia, Kans. Miss Irene Shipley of the department of Speech and Dramatic Art, was installed as college sponsor, and Mrs. A. C. Core, York, as church sponsor.

The program topics were chosen from things a girl would have on her bulletin board. Jasmine Ingraham, as mistress of ceremonies, began with "Programs", after which Marjorie Thornton, senior, Billings, Mont., gave a toast on "Pictures". Jean Rasp, junior, Shelby, with "Clippings" as her topic, gave a reading, followed by a toast on "Corsages" by Ethel Brooks. "Favors" was represented by a song by Wanda Wantz, senior, Shelby, and Miss Shipley offered a toast on "Pennies". The program was concluded with "Love notes" in the form of a song sung by Mary Donna McColl-

The committees responsible for the banquet were as follows: decorations, Kate Cox, junior, Ames, Ia.; Eunice Goodrich; Bessie McMinn, sophomore, Salina, Kans.; and Nadine Allen, senior, Delaware, Okla.; program, Jasmine Ingraham; Ethel Brooks, and Jean Rasp; flowers, Barbara Blauch, sophomore, York; and Norma Jean Anderson. Jane Martin was chairman of the ticket committee.

Arm Chairs Added To Class Rooms

One hundred seventy-eight broad arm chairs have been added to York college class rooms this year. President D. E. Weidler stated they were ordered to provide adequate seating for the unusually large classes.

The new chairs have been placed in the expression room, the English literature room, the PALS hall, and the newly constructed mathematics room on the second floor.

Three dozens of the chairs were purchased directly from the manufacturer and 142 were purchased from a government surplus agency. The latter chairs are made of light colored maple and were sanded and varnished recently. The others are made of oak and metal and the height of the tops is adjustable.

HUBBERT TO GIVE RECITAL

Lee Huebert, senior of York will be presented in a music recital at 4:00 p. m. March 9 at the Evangelical United Brethren church.

The sophomore girls' trio composed of Wanda Miller, Russell, Kansas, Mary Alice Riggs, Ames, Iowa, and Barbara Blauch, York, will assist in the program.

Huebert will sing German, English, modern and religious songs. Marjorie Thornton, senior of Billings, Mont., will be the accompanist.

Nebraska Veterans Take Education Seriously Says VA

Nebraska World War II veterans continue to take their education seriously, a report from the Veterans Administration Lincoln Regional office indicates.

Records as of February 1, show 13,310 veteran students enrolled in Nebraska colleges and schools. The number includes 639 disabled veterans taking courses under Public Law 16, the disability act.

In addition to veterans in schools and colleges, the VA said another 10,380 World II veterans are taking on-the-job training. This makes a grand total of 23,690 veterans enrolled in institutional and job training in Nebraska.

During January the VA received more than 2,000 new applications for schooling and job training.

Gospel Teams Are Active Again

Gospel teams are active again in Life Work Recruits, two teams having been sent last Sunday. One team, led by Aloys Holst, sophomore, Red Wing, Minn., went to the Evangelical United Brethren church at Concordia, Kans., and the other, led by Lee Huebert, senior, York, to Shiloh and Harmony, where John Karutz, freshman, Stockton, Calif., is the pastor.

Other members of the team going to Concordia were Dick Miller, freshman, Ventura, Ia.; Harriet Thomas, sophomore, Topeka, Kans.; Eunice Goodrich, junior, Portland, Ore.; Molly Rafter, freshman, Harlem, Mont.; and Marjorie Voegelé, freshman, Great Falls, Mont.

Dick MacCanon, sophomore, Des Moines, Ia.; Bob Jaquiss, freshman, Brookfield, Mo.; Ethel Brooks, senior, Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Marjorie Thornton, senior, Billings, Mont., were other members of the Shiloh-Harmony team.

According to the gospel team chairman, Rowena Farring, sophomore, York, all money obtained by these teams will be contributed to the African Project campaign which is being sponsored by the Recruits.

Edgar Re-elected Vice President of Press Guild

Gerald Edgar, junior, McLouth, Kans., was re-elected vice president of Press Guild in a recent meeting in which exchange papers from other colleges were discussed. Marie Harris, editor, junior Great Falls, Mont., will remain president until her term as editor expires. Other officers elected for the second semester were: Gaylon Baker, sophomore, Merville, Ia., secretary; Fred Vorce, sophomore, Brookfield, Mo., treasurer; Norma Jean Anderson, sophomore, York, social chairman; and Louis Rachow, junior, Strang, library chairman.

Merits and demerits of exchange papers were discussed by Blaine Ronne, senior, York; Wanda Miller, sophomore, Russell, Kans., and Gaylon Baker, sophomore, Merville, Ia.

The meeting was held at the home of the adviser, Miss Edith Callender, head of the English department, who served refreshments at the close of the program.

Lyle DeMoss of Omaha To Attend "Bohemian Girl"

Lyle DeMoss, program manager of radio station WOW at Omaha, is among those out of town who have expressed their intentions of attending the "Bohemian Girl", to be presented by the music department directed by Dean Charles H. Amadon.

To date, no reservations are being made for the performance, but early arrival will insure a good seat.

Life Work Recruits Pledge To African Project Campaign

More than $250 in cash and pledges has already been subscribed by the Life Work Recruits in the African Project campaign which was launched last week. Miss Phyllis Shepp of Shenandoah College, the African representative for the past two years, will be on the York college campus on March 8, 9 and 10.

The World Student Friendship Project, better known as the African Project, has been built up and supported by the United Brethren colleges and seminary for the past eighteen years. Every two years one of these institutions, with financial aid from the others, sends a student representative to Africa to teach either in the Harford School for Girls in Moyamba, or the Albert Academy for Boys in Freetown.

When Miss Shepp arrives on the campus the entire student body will be given a chance to share in this campaign. According to African Project chairman, Ethel Brooks, senior, Cedar Rapids, Ia., a puppet show will be staged by the Recruits, and proceeds to be turned over to the African Project.

Vaughn Leaming, '41, was chosen from the York college student body as a representative from 1938-40, serving as a teacher in the Albert Academy. The next representative will be chosen from Lebanon Valley College at Annsville, Pa.
