

Finnish and U. S. Students Similar Says Edna Coufal In Interview

Miss Edna Coufal, ex-'46, has recently returned to her York home after a year in Finland where she was employed by the U. S. State Department. Working in the American Legation at Helsingfors (Helsinki) Miss Coufal had an excellent opportunity to observe the country and its citizens and compare her observations with life as she knew it in the U. S.

Students Wear Formal Dress in Finland

"Despite differences in our countries, Finnish college students are intrinsically the same as the American young people," stated Miss Coufal. "Of course," she continued, "the Finnish students have much less than the American students, so they are less carefree, but basically there is little difference." Finland has excellent schools and a low percentage of illiteracy. Although the elementary school system is much like that of the U. S., our universities contrast greatly. To enter the university in Helsinki, one must take an extremely difficult entrance examination. For months beforehand, the prospective student studies for the tests. No skirts and sweaters, slacks and moccasins are to be found in the Finnish examination room. The student arrives before the board of examiners in formal dress—tulle white tie, and top hat! On this point Miss Coufal was obviously sympathetic with the oppressed student. If he passes the examination, he is then officially known as a "student" and allowed to wear the student cap of white velveteen with a black bill. The student is not compelled to attend classes, but studies by himself until he feels that he is sufficiently prepared to pass the examinations for the next degree.

Holidays Are All Night Celebrations

The students also help celebrate the holidays in Finland. May Day, at the beginning of summer, is one of the most important. The revelry lasts all night, and at day-break, every student and everyone who has ever been a student puts on his student cap and wears it until the fall term starts at the university. Then the caps come off until the next May Day.

Midsummers Day is also a time of national holiday. On this night, too, everyone stays up all night. By this time of year, June 24, it is light all night long. There is general feasting and merry-making, and at eleven o'clock in the evening, the "darkest" part of the long day, bonfires are lighted all over the country. These are especially beautiful in the lake country when the fires are lighted at the water's edge on the many small islands. Often, from one point, twenty or thirty fires may be seen.

Effects of War

Finland did not suffer from the war as much as some European countries, stated Miss Coufal, adding, "Since I have actually been abroad, world politics has become one of my chief interests." The poor Laps of Lapland, who knew nothing of world affairs, suffered the most, because the retreating Germans followed a scorched earth policy in that section of the country. However, the Red Cross and UNNRA worked tirelessly in that section for the relief of the natives. The cost of living has risen greatly for the average Finn since the war. Eggs are 30¢ apiece, and it is almost impossible to buy clothing. The few shoes on sale are made of paper. "Still," concluded Miss Coufal hopefully, "with the aid of the principal export, lumber, Finland expects to become once again a thriving nation."

A group of York students recently attended the play, "The Hasty Heart" put on by Hastings College. Those making the trip to Hastings were: Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Edgar, senior and sophomore respectively, Mrs. Oneta Brandenburg of Wichita, Kans., spent the week-end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Edgar, senior and sophomore respectively. Miss Brandenburg is the sister of Mrs. Edgar.

MISS EDNA COUFAL

Double Terminology in Finland

The Sandburr reporter was received in the Coufal home across the street from the campus. Leaving the sewing with which she was occupied, Miss Coufal settled herself in a large armchair and answered questions readily and concisely. "The most difficult thing about life in Finland," she declared, "is the fact that everything has two names because the country has two official languages." Every town, every street, etc., has both a Finnish and a Swedish name, and if one does not know both of them, he has a very difficult time following directions. The country is clean, due to the fact that there is little manufacturing. Miss Coufal stated that the largest manufacturing town in Finland is Tampere (Tammerfors), which is about the size of Lincoln, or Topeka, Kans.

Finnish Weather

Contrary to popular belief, the winter, which is long, does not usually get as cold as it does in Nebraska. There are about three months of warm weather in Finland during the summer. It never becomes hot, but there is no need of a jacket during the day. The sun appears to travel around the horizon, riding high in the sky during the day, and dipping downward during the "night." "During my stay in the country, I was constantly confused because I couldn't tell directions by the sun," laughed small, dark-haired Miss Coufal.

Mrs. Donald Hines (formerly Thelma Rockhold, ex-'46) spent some time recently visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mark Fahring, sophomore and ex-'49, respectively, Salina, Kans. Mrs. Hines is the sister of Mrs. Fahring.

HOPE HOWLAND IS PRESENTED IN SENIOR RECITAL

Miss Hope Howland, senior, Mission, Kans., was presented in recital on January 25. She read a cutting of the play, "Outward Bound," a fantasy by Sutton Vane. Miss Jane Martin, senior, Concordia, Kans., assisted, singing "In the Luxembourg Gardens" by Manning; "I'm Wearin' Awa", by Foote, and an old Spanish song, "Rich Man, Poor Man". Miss Martin was accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Auchard, of the English department, who also played while guests were being seated.

THANKS FROM ANNEX

The Annex girls are greatly appreciative of a new Proctor Automatic Never-lift iron, a gift of Mrs. O. K. Webster of Salina, Kans. Mrs. Webster has many friends at the college and she can now add the girls at the Annex to her list.

California Alumni Meet In January

By Eleanor M. Allen

A number of alumni and former students of York College who reside in Southern California met at the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Whittier on Sunday, January 11, for a mid-winter get-together.

Following the church service, the group went to Penn Park for a picnic dinner. At the business meeting called by the president, J. Donald Fisher, Arthur Farnham was elected president for the ensuing year. Eleanor M. Allen was chosen secretary-treasurer to succeed Russell Lewis who, with J. Donald Fisher, has been instrumental in calling other meetings of the group.

Plans to contact all York College alumni and former students living in Southern California were announced by the new president, Mr. Farnham, who wants to see a York College alumni chapter established there.

A vote of thanks was given to the Rev. Q. E. Hendricks, a trustee of York College, and to Mrs. Hendricks, the hosts for the day.

Those present were J. Donald and Hazel Fisher, La Canada; Russell Lewis, Santa Monica; Mrs. Helen Lumbus Douglas, Long Beach; the Misses Arline Beason and Lois Miller, Pomona; Nathan and Marion Gutschow and their four children, Whittier; Arthur and Jennie Farnham, San Pedro; Roy and Margaret Waldron and their two children, Whittier; Albert and Bessie Hansen, Glendale; Cecil and Pearl Franz and their two children, Whittier; Eleanor M. Allen, Azusa; William C. White, York, who is on leave of absence from York College studying at the

Service Minor In Religion In Important to Curriculum According to Pres. Bachman

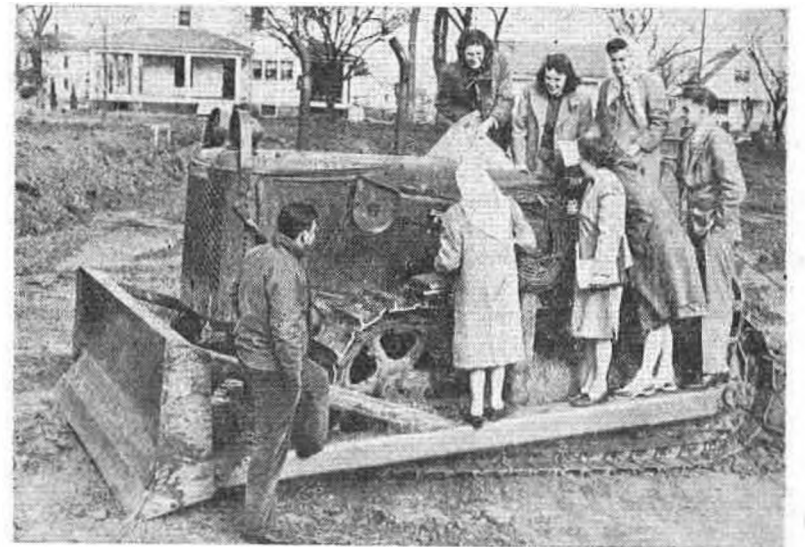

"The Service Minor in Religion for Christian lay workers is an integral part of the curriculum of York college," states Pres. W. E. Bachman. Attention must be focused on this phase of the college curriculum along with the construction of the new building with student union facilities and dormitory and dining hall accommodations.

The need for Christian lay workers in local churches and communities is imperative. In the Service Minor in Religion emphasis is placed upon Christian character, Christian living, and Christian citizenship. The general plan is that students who choose a major in one of the usual fields of a college curriculum, in line with their major interests of a life career, may select as one of their two minors, the Service Minor in Religion. This Service Minor promotes the interests of Christian homemaking and prepares the student for Christian lay service in local churches and communities.

The college catalogue stresses the fact that York college seeks to serve local churches, local communities, and the nations of the world through the lives and activities of its graduates.

PRESS MEMBERS INTERVIEW BULLDOZERS

Earth moving machine is not too talkative but Sandburr reporters seem pleased at its few whispered promises of a beautiful new Women's Hall.

College Chorus and Ensembles Presented In First Public Concert

By Lee Huebert

Before an audience of several hundred, Professor James Koontz Sunday evening, January 18, presented the York College chorus in its first public concert. Not only were regular worshippers at the York church encouraged by a full choir loft, but music lovers sensed that here was an excellent musical organization, destined to become even better.

The girls' glee club opened the concert by singing "My Green Cathedral" by Hahn, and "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Noble Cain.

A men's glee club, although short some of its personnel, pleased the audience with a spiritual, "Good News, Chariot's Conin," by Burleigh.

An informal string group presented four selections, with the audience joining them in the singing of "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life."

The high spot of the program, without question, was the "Twenty-Third Psalm," arranged by Cain, as sung by the mixed chorus. Firm, unhesitating crescendos carried all before them, as the attack and phrasing left little to be desired.

Two numbers, "Salvation is Created," by Tschesnokoff, and "Lullaby of Life," by Leslie, preceded the climactic "Alleluiah," by Thompson. To the observer, this number appeared to be the favorite of the chorus. With but one exception, near the end of the piece, the chorus sang as a perfect unit at the will of its director.

The flawless accompaniment of Professor Bruce Herrick was no less a part of the success of the performance than were the efforts of the chorus and their director.

University of Southern California. Guests were J. M. Fisher, North Loup; Mrs. Maud Allen, York; and the Rev. Q. E. Hendricks and Mrs. Hendricks, Whittier, Calif.

"Road To Recovery" Theme of 1948 Drive

"Road To Recovery" is the theme of the 1948 W. S. S. F. drive which is to begin on York College campus early in February. The W. S. S. F. contributes to the needs of the surviving students and professors in Europe and Asia. They are in need of food, medicine, clothes, shelter and equipment.

The monetary goal for the United States is one million dollars. America has such a large goal because America is the largest country neither seriously impoverished nor physically damaged by the war. Students and professors of 18 other nations are contributing to "Wooseff" (colloquial expression for W. S. S. F.), including England, and France.

The immediate results of the current "Wooseff" drive are student relief—medically and intellectually. Material needs, such as emergency food, clothing, and housing, are also considered by "Wooseff." International projects concerning rest centers, student sanatoria, care of displaced persons and refugees, will be supported by the "Wooseff." The ultimate goals are student world solidarity, universal justice, and international cooperation and peace.

A BROADER LOYALTY . . . . .

In these times we are subject to many loyalties. We all feel a loyalty to our home town, to our families, and to our schools.

Probably the most talked of loyalty is patriotism. Poets write of the beauty and strength of their country. Essayists point out the virtues of their country which make her so much better than any other. Edward Everett Hale wrote that story "Man Without a Country" which purports to support love of country, but only demonstrates the stupidity and injustice of the military system; thus he did what so many others have done—exploited patriotism.

It is only natural that we should love this land of ours. It is one of the most beautiful of all loyalties. It is when patriotism becomes nationalism,—our country, in her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right, but our country right or wrong—this is the flagrant abuse of patriotism which must be carefully avoided.

Patriotism in this sense is too narrow a loyalty. We have a greater loyalty to the laws of justice, goodwill, and Christianity. Our loyalty to mankind should exceed any individual or national demands upon us.

—Warren Porter.

THE UNKNOWN QUANTITY . . . . .

Probably every student on the campus has some ideas regarding algebra, geometry, and possibly the higher fields of mathematics. Most students realize vaguely what is going on when the malodorous fumes emanate from the "chem lab." Most of them could at least vaguely tell a questioner what psychology is. But when the word "philosophy" is mentioned most of them "bat" their eyes, say, "Um, oh, well, yes," and disappear as silently as they came. Or maybe they edge away a bit and hastily inquire what is playing at the Sun tonight.

It is the unknown which has always held the terror for man. Give a man a copy of "Les Miserables" and he will casually glance through it. Explain to him that it was found clutched tightly in the hand of a murdered maharajah in a sealed room on the night before Ghandi's birthday and he is likely to remember an invitation to tea which is drawing near.

Philosophy is the unknown to college students. Few know that it is an attempt to group the findings of all science and from them to draw conclusions regarding life, its origin, its purpose; reality, its number, its origin; and any of the infinite number of things about which man has wondered.

Philosophy (the word means love of wisdom) can be divided into four parts. These are logic—the true, ethics—the good, aesthetics—the beautiful, and metaphysics—that which is not of this world.

It may come as a startling shock to find that some of the philosophers lived very ordinary lives. One of them is even reported to have been, at one time, in love.

They Tramped These Halls

By J. C. Morgan

Word is received of the death of Professor W. W. Stoner of Dayton, Ohio. Professor Stoner taught Greek at Y. C. 1894-1900, and became superintendent of the York public schools in 1900, a position he held until 1917 when he went to Dayton to serve as director of the educational department of the city Y. M. C. A. He was graduated from Otterbein college in 1893. Mrs. Stoner, two daughters, and a son, Leland, ex-'20, survive him. Dr. Wilbur Overmiller, ex-'39 is taking a surgical residency at Highland Hospital, Oakland, California. He will complete the course next summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tymczyszyn (Gwendolyn Hoofnagle, ex-'39) are living at 4473 Union Bay Lane, Seattle, Wash. Mr. Tymczyszyn will be graduated this year at the University of Washington in Aeronautical Engineering.

The address of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McFarland (Evelyn Gale, ex-'37) is 1238 C St. Haywood, Calif. Mr. McFarland teaches in the Berkeley high school.

The alumni of Southern California plan to organize a Y. C. Chapter. They would be glad to hear from any other such group.

Sympathy is expressed to Mrs. Alice Allen Wolstenholm, ex-'33 in the loss of her father, Arthur P. Allen. Mr. Allen was a warm friend of Y. C. and a generous contributor to its support.

Births:
 Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, '41 announce the birth of Jerry Lee, December 9, at Sandusky, Michigan. Mr. Carlson is principal of the Sandusky high school. Mrs. Carlson was formerly Margaret Bobbitt, ex-'44.

Chapel Talks

Returns of College

A practical discussion on the returns of a college education was offered by Dean W. J. Karraker in a recent chapel talk. Each department of the liberal arts college was compared to the parts of an automobile and the conclusion, backed by statistical findings, was that a college education offers tangible returns to young people, making them better able to support themselves.

New Mission Field

South America as a new mission field was pointed out to the chapel audience by the Rev. Vaughn Leaming, director of public relations. Tracing the development of Latin American civilization, he elaborated on the place of Christian missions in its progress, and mentioned the need of workers in that field.

Approved Unto God

Dr. D. E. Weidler, Education department head, was the formal chapel speaker recently. His subject was "Approved Unto God." Beginning with a personal illustration of how changing fads in time pieces effect the individual, he suggested that we should be just as receptive to the will of God in our lives.

From The Quill Nook

The Mac Weekly of Macalester College, Minn., quotes D. Turck, vice president of WSSF as follows: "All the learning in the world is of little value, unless the learners give themselves to great sacrificial efforts on behalf of others." Should Y. C. students do less?

Has Paul Clark been around Tarkio College in Mo., recently? We quote from the Torch: "Elvis Lee said, 'I have been driving a car for five years and never had a wreck.' One of his neighbors replied, 'I have been driving a wreck for five years and never had a car.'"

Parsons Junior College students can now weigh their handwriting on a piece of paper—in case anyone cherishes that unique desire. The chemistry lab has been equipped with a balance sensitive to 1/10,000 of a gram, states the Parsons School Reporter.

OL' MAN GROUNDHOG RESIGNS

By Gerald Bailey
 Ol' Man Groundhog sleepily opened one eye. "What do you want?" he inquired grumpily.

"I want a statement on you and the weather," the Sandburr reporter told him. "Are you going to see your shadow next Monday or not?"

"Why should I do either?" snapped Ol' Man Groundhog. "I never please anybody anyway. Your out-of-staters want warm weather. Your Nebraskans want cold weather so that Nebraska won't lose its reputation. What can an honest groundhog do?"

"But people want to know what you are going to do," protested the reporter.

"A lot of people don't even believe in me any more!" snorted Ol' Man Groundhog. "I'm going to sleep till spring and let people see how they like it without me. The weather really ought to be something during February!"

Ol' Man Groundhog curled up and went back to sleep.

Gerald Bailey, freshman of York, and Duane Larkins, junior of Benedict, were among the many persons who aided in the battle against the spectacular fire which destroyed the establishments of Montgomery Ward & Co., and Dean & Co. of York last Monday. The fire which threatened the entire block of Seventh street and Lincoln avenue was brought under control after many hours of fighting by five or six fire departments. Bailey and Larkins helped remove furniture from nearby apartments which were threatened by the roaring inferno.

RECENT FIRE IS LOSS TO COLLEGE STUDENT

The fire which destroyed two business houses downtown and left thousands of dollars of damages also brought loss to a York College student.

As the last straw, Gordan didn't have unemployment insurance.

Tests and Stuff

Lives there a man with soul so dead that he never to himself hath said, "A little learning is a dangerous thing—about examination time?" "They shall not pass," is the motto of the professors, subtle enemies that know . . . where the shooe pincheth us most, and when they encounter the cowed students, the faculty members snarl collectively, "How long, ye simple ones, will ye love simplicity?"

As for the poor student, his not to wonder why, his but to do and die! As he enters the examination room the prospective examinee weeps that he was ever born, and he has reasons. But he is master of his fate, so with head bloody but unbowed, he emerges from the fray—victorious?

However, the student body has faith and hope, and prays that the instructors have charity. And if the faculty does have charity, will it please remember that charity suffereth long and is kind, kind meaning benevolent, well-disposed, gracious. For themselves, the students only sigh, to quote a great master, "And all I ask is . . . a quiet sleep . . . when the long trick's over." M. K. J.

PANTHER SPORTS

PLAINSMEN PUSH PAST PANTHERS

Denny Auchard's Dramatic Fling From Mid-Court Thrills Fans

Once again the Panthers of York College threw a scare into a highly-touted opponent when they dropped a 54-52 count to Nebraska Wesleyan after Denny Auchard's frantic last minute heave from mid-court was ruled too late to count.

The game was spasmodically played by both teams as each rallied when the occasion warranted it and kept the lead seeing-sawing back and forth from one team to the other. The Wesleyanites spurred to a 20-6 lead early in the game and then seemed to coast while the Panthers rallied to tie the score at 26-6 at half-time.

Early in the second half it was the "Bucketers" from York who took over the offensive and went on to lead by seven points before the Plainsmen found the range to whittle the lead of the Panthers into a seven-point deficit after ten minutes of play was completed. The Panthers, not to be outdone, rallied once again to knot the score at 51-51 with 45 seconds left to play. Ray Westover, game's high-scorer, then made good a free toss and Cliff Squires potted a two-pointer from the court. York's final score came on a charity flip by Jim Conway, after which Auchard cut loose with his new "Over-the-shoulder" shot which swished the net from mid-court but to no avail as the final bell had previously sounded.

Auchard paced the Panther scorers with 17 points falling one point under Wesleyan's Westover who bucketed 18. Don Robson and Glen Shaneyfelt had 10 and eight points respectively to supplement Auchard. Abe Dick, York's 6 ft. 7 in. center, was benched most of the game due to a back injury.

In the preliminary game, the Plainsmen B squad forced the Panther cubs into submission 52-47 in a game which was contested all the way.

Eagles Fly Past York

Chadron Teachers grabbed the Nebraska College Conference lead temporarily by flying past York by the tunes of 57-33 and 46-40 in two games played on the Chadron court.

York seemingly played two distinct games in both Friday and Saturday night's games. The half-time scores were 24-29 on Friday and 19-23 on Saturday, but it seemed that in the last half the Panthers could not keep up the pace as Chadron pulled ahead in spurts. York was handicapped by the loss of Abe Dick, who suffered an injury to his back and failed to make the trip, and Bob Gillespie was limited in his playing by an attack of the "flu" enroute to the Eagles' lair.

Groves, Chadron center, was high in both games with 22 and 17 points respectively in the two games. Auchard paced York with nine points the first night and 15 the second. James and Shaneyfelt each bucketed six the first night, and James registered eight the second night for second place honors again.

Hastings Broncos Override Panthers

Panthers Unable To Erase Early Deficit As Hastings Books 41-39 Victory

Once again the York Panthers failed to play 40 minutes of basketball as Hastings nosed them by a score of 41-39 in an NCC game at Hastings last Saturday night. The Yorksters spotted Hastings an 11-4 lead at the end of 10 minutes of play and were never quite capable of overcoming the Broncos as they loped along sometimes only two or three points ahead of the hard-charging Panthers.

The first half statistics found York with only two fielders but their unerring accuracy at the free throw line gave them a 15-26 half-time score.

Shortly after the second half Denny Auchard began to find the range to score 11 of his 13 points for top scoring honors and to pull the spark from the Panthers which enabled them to threaten seriously in the closing minutes of the game. Harry Moore, Hastings forward, kept the Broncos in front by scoring 11 points and always seeming to find the basket when a two-pointer was needed.

The game was hard fought all the way as the 39 fouls called by the officials indicates. McIllece, Sieckmann, and Goodwin, three starting Broncos were expelled before the contest ended with five fouls each.

In the preliminary game the Hastings colts downed the Panther cubs by the same margin of two points winning by a score of 40-38.

Sports Dope

By Denny

Some one has certainly shuffled the cards—but good. The Nebraska College Conference has developed into so many upsets during the last two weeks that an upset is not an upset any more. Peru and Kearney, the two top ceded teams have both seen their share of hard knocks. Chadron is the only team which has seemingly kept up with the pace. They have won four conference games, two from Midland and two from York. Both series were played at Chadron. They may find difficulties when they hit the road this week where they will play Kearney a double-header at Kearney. Hastings, last year's conference champs, have been unable to break loose yet this year. Midland, Wesleyan, Wayne, and Doane seem to be holding their own while York has lost seven in a row in conference play.

It seems that York has had the blunt of the hard knocks. They lost heartbreakers to Peru, 56-55, and Wesleyan, 54-52. Wayne squeezed by York in the opening game of conference play at Wayne by a 38-34 score. Of the six games thus far played, five of them have been on the road for York and on much smaller courts than the Panthers are used to playing on. For the rest of the season the Panthers appear to have an even break on the playing conditions with seven of their remaining ten games to be played at York.

If you are beginning to wonder if York is ever going to win a game, you may not have to wonder long. The fellows still think we can win and we will.

STUDENT COUNCIL BULLETIN BOARD

GEORGE HARRIS ELECTED TO HEAD RECRUITS

George Harris, freshman, Nelson, was elected president of Life Work Recruits for the second semester at the meeting of this organization Jan. 19. Other new officers include: Frank Medsker, sophomore, Columbus, Kans., and Joyce Holst, special, York, vice-president; Leta Kurtz, freshman, Alton, Kans., secretary; Helen Sanchez, freshman, Holman, New Mex., treasurer; Frances Porter, freshman, Aurora, chorister; Faith Megill, sophomore, Arkansas City, Kans., pianist; Merwin Kurtz, junior, Alton, Kans., African project chairman; Richard Miller, sophomore, Ventura, Ia., student council; Dean Strong, Garfield, Wash., and Gene Weaver, Tulsa, Okla., freshmen, custodians; Bessie McMinn, sophomore, Salina, Kans., gospel team chairman; and Dr. J. C. Morgan of the department of classical languages and Bible, adviser.

GOSPEL TEAM VISITS

A gospel team composed of Aloys Holst, Faith Megill, Jim Bergland, Frank Medsker, Carol Mead, and Oren Reger traveled to Dawson and DuBois, Jan. 25. The team presented the morning service at Dawson where Rev. Ralph R. Miller is the pastor and both morning and evening services at DuBois, where Rev. Paul Dick is pastor.

Y. W. C. A. DISCUSSES WORK IN CHINA

The church and the Y. W. C. A. at work in China was the theme of a recent Y. W. C. A. meeting. The program was arranged by Betty Riggs and talks were given by Rosella Carpenter and Mary K. Jackson. Helen Holbrook sang "My Task."

"CHRISTIAN ANSWERS" AND "WINDOWS" TOPICS OF RECRUITS

"Christian Answers" and "Windows" were the topics discussed at two recent meetings of the Life Work Recruits. Frank Medsker, Aloys Holst, Maude Ruth Polson, and Mary K. Jackson gave talks on Christian Answers to God and man. Prayer, scripture, and a vocal solo were given by Elaine Banks, Dr. J. C. Morgan, Leta Kurtz, and Oren Reger.

The class in principles of religious education made and presented the Life Work Recruits a beautiful stained glass window to be used for worship services. Those in the class who gave the evening program and presented the window are, Bessie McMinn, Norman Crouse, Mary Alice Riggs, and Hope Howland.

OBN HAS HEATED DISCUSSION ON PACIFISM

At a recent meeting of the OBN the members got started on the subject of church problems. But suddenly, what started as a nice quiet discussion developed into a warm discussion on pacifism. The hairs were split as only theologians can split them, and even the strongest pacifists came close to losing their tempers. However, the discussion ended with peace and good will among the members and with everyone feeling that some new slants had been given to this difficult problem.

ALPHA PSI PLANS INITIATION

The Alpha Psi Omega dramatic fraternity is making plans for an initiation ceremony in the conservatory reception room on March 5. It will be followed by a dinner, to be served in the dining room. Fred Koontz, sophomore, Des Moines, Ia., is the new initiate.

Valentine Varieties To Be Sponsored by Pantherettes

Committee heads have been appointed from the Pantherettes for Valentine Varieties which takes place on Feb. 14. They are as follows: floorshow, Gwen Wade; snackbar, Jean Schneider; tickets, Betty Jean Riggs; hall of horrors, Rachel Langenberg; telegrams, Barbara Blauch; election, Jane Martin; fortune-teller, Barbara Dick; caricatures, Doris Jean Cannon; relics, Kay Van Buren; baby pictures, Ivalee Mizell; movie, Lucille Keefe.

The five candidates for the title, "King of Hearts" are: Kendall Martin, Donald Erfourth, Merl Riggs, Jim James, and Carvel Holt.

"CON" MEETING HAS SURPRISE FEATURE ADDED

Did you ever hear of Santa Claus in January? Ask any of the girls living at Hulitt Hall for verification.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul Riggs, '23, of Merna, made a surprise appearance — with food — which climaxed a recent "Con" meeting. Betty Jean Riggs, sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riggs, helped her mother serve fruit jello with whipped cream, devil's food cake, and sandwiches. Mrs. Fanny Luper, matron, and all of the "Con" girls wish to express their thanks to Mrs. Riggs and invite her to come again—that way.

Y. M. C. A. Themes Center About "Sharing" and W. S. S. F.

Richard Miller, sophomore, Ventura, Ia., addressed the Jan. 13 Y. M. C. A. meeting on the subject of "Sharing". "The Sea of Galilee and the Dead Sea both receive the Jordan River," he pointed out. "The Sea of Galilee waters the surrounding country and makes it prosperous; the other gives nothing and is dead. Thus people who share good things surpass those who are self-centered."

The Y. M. C. A. joined with the Y. W. C. A. on Jan. 20 for small-group meetings to discuss the W. S. S. F. drive, which aims to provide foreign students with medical aid, emergency relief, and intellectual relief. "Our purpose will be education more than collection," the members were told.

New Editor, Officers Elected At Press Guild Meeting

A new organizations section, "The Student Council Bulletin Board," was discussed for the back page and Marie Harris was named as organizations editor at a buffet luncheon which was held by the Press Guild recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Edgar. This was the first social function the organization has had this year.

The business for the morning included the election of officers for the second semester. Those elected are: vice-president, Louis Rachow; secretary, Irene Edgar; treasurer, Pauline Smeltzer; social chairman, Bernice Dvorak, and librarian, Gerald Edgar.

Charlotte Baker, Bradshaw, was a recent week-end guest of Mary Jackson, sophomore, Adrian, Mo.

Don Dicus Wins "Back to Boogie" Record Contest

Donald Dicus, freshman, Merville, Ia., was the winner of a record recognition contest held recently as one of the series of record hours being held in the "Con" reception room. Contestants were asked to identify composers, selections, and artists, and the winner was given a purchase slip for records of his own choosing.

This activity made its debut on the campus this year, and is rapidly becoming more popular. Students act as "disc jockies" and take turns presenting one of the hour long weekly programs. The atmosphere is informal, but quiet, and students may bring studies if they wish to work as well as listen.
