

Six Y. C. Alumni Among Ten New Staff Members

Five York College Alumni are among the ten new members of the college staff this year.

Two new members have entered the English department. Mrs. Lee Clarke, a graduate of Doane college and a resident of York, is now teaching two classes of freshman English. She will be familiar to many York Alumni as a former professor of the York College Music Conservatory.

Mr. Lee Huebert, '47, York, is teaching freshman English, news-writing, and types of English literature. He spent the past year at the University of Nebraska, where he was awarded a master's degree. Mr. Huebert will also be faculty advisor to the Sandburr.

Miss Mary Lue Warner, '41, Harvard, has assumed the duties of general office manager and secretary to the president. Miss Warner was for six years a teacher in the high school at the McCurdy Missions, Santa Cruz, N. M., and was a secretary in the E. U. B. church headquarters at Dayton, Ohio, for a year.

Mr. Denny Auchard, '48, Alexander, Kans., has also been added to the staff. Mr. Auchard is an instructor in the mathematics department, assistant to the coach, and supervisor in the men's hall. He spent the summer months doing graduate work at Greeley, Colo.

Miss Hope Howland, '48, Mission, Kans., and Louis Rachow, '48, Strang, have been added to the library staff. Miss Howland is also serving in the capacity of manager of the bookstore.

Dr. G. T. Savery, former pastor of the college church, has assumed the duties of business administrator for the college.

Mrs. Bertha Riggs Boone, '41, York, is voice teacher for the music conservatory. Mrs. Boone acted as assistant to the late Dean Amadon of the music department during the spring and summer term of '48.

Two other new staff members are the dietitian and assistant who are now in charge of the kitchen. Mrs. D. H. Sill of Wichita, Kans., will plan the meals and supervise their preparation. Her assistant will be Miss Jennie Miller of Burrton, Kans. Mrs. Sill is the hostess of the Annex and Miss Miller is assisting Mrs. Fannie Luper in her duties as hostess of Hulitt Hall.

Royce Hedrick, Robinson, Kans., was a visitor on the York College campus last week-end. Royce is a sophomore at Highland Junior college, Highland, Kans.

STUDENTS FROM MANY STATES PRESENT AT Y. C.

Students from nineteen states and one West African province comprise the student body of York College for the first semester of the 1948-49 college year. Nebraskans make up 56 per cent of this enrollment, and Kansas has six per cent. Iowa, Montana, Washington, California, Missouri, Colorado, New Mexico, and Oklahoma, are also represented in the student body. Other states supplying one or more students are North Carolina, Idaho, Oregon, Minnesota, Indiana, Wyoming, Maryland, Texas, and Arizona.

Men outnumber women by more than a third of the enrollment, and almost one-third of the men are married. Almost half the men are veterans of World War II. Freshmen have the largest class with 34 per cent of the enrollment, sophomores 30 per cent, juniors 20 per cent, seniors 14 per cent, and specials two per cent.

SNOW HEADS NEW Y. F.

Milton Snow is the president of the newly organized Youth Fellowship of the College Church, it was announced recently. Other officers are Harriet Thomas, vice-president; Mary Woelfe, secretary, and Eugene Weaver, treasurer.

Under the plan of the new organization, the Sunday school classes, which are a part of the Youth Fellowship, have been divided into three coed groups.

Opening Activities Include Receptions, Teas, Jolly-up

In activities sponsored by the college, the E. U. B. Church, and the York Chamber of Commerce, students were welcomed into the life of the college and community during the opening weeks of school.

Freshmen were introduced to their fellow students and members of the faculty at the freshman reception held in the college chapel. Dr. W. E. Bachman, president of York College, addressed the guests, presenting the eight beatitudes of college life. And a varied program of music and expression was presented.

As an aid to becoming oriented with the college church, Y. C. students were officially welcomed by the E. U. B. congregation at its annual reception. Mr. Nels Hammar, and Mrs. W. F. Wheeler greeted the students, and the Rev. G. T. Savery responded on behalf of the college. Solos were sung by Mrs. John Lindell and Miss Ruth Black. Miss Dorothy Schneider played a piano solo. After the program, light refreshments were served.

Demonstrating the spirit of cooperation and fellowship that exists between the York business men, and the York College faculty and student body, the local Chamber of Commerce reception for Y. C. was well attended. Mr. R. A. Freeman was master of ceremonies, Mr. Robert W. Siegel led group singing, and Dr. D. E. Weidler, head of the education department, Harold Walker, senior, Santa Cruz, N. Mex., president of the student council, and Cecil Walker, Santa Cruz, president of the freshman class responded to a welcome extended by Mr. F. C. Middlebrook. Ruth Weston read "Foolish Questions," and the Rev. John Shell of the Presbyterian church addressed the guests. Dean W. J. Karraker introduced the students of the college, and Mr. R. H. Kroll presented the business men to the students. Prof. R. E. Tonkin of the department of physical education outlined prospects for the athletic season, following which, contests of balloon blowing and bubble gum chewing were held for the freshmen.

These contests may have prepared the freshmen a little for the trials that awaited them at the semi-annual Jolly-Up which was held in the college gymnasium. Introducing freshman initiation, a mock election was held. President Truman was represented by Don Light, junior, York, Mr. Wallace by Charles Emerick, sophomore, Portland, Ore., Gov. Dewey by Alberto Martinez, junior, Vallecitos, N. Mex., and Madam "X" by Ruth Weston. Miss Weston, as victor, served refreshments following the signing of the college song by the freshman class.

A traditional welcome to the freshmen women was extended by the women of the Y. W. C. A. at a tea held in the college church parlor. "Bells," the theme of the program was carried out by Mary K. Jackson, junior, Adrian, Mo., in a short welcome. Carol Denton, freshman, York, responded and was followed by Rachel Langenberg, junior, Woodruff, singing a vocal solo. "The Selfish Giant," by Oscar Wilde, was read by Barbara Blauch, and Helen Embree, sophomore of York, played an arrangement of "The Bells of St. Mary's." Tea and cakes were served, with Miss Irene Shipley of the department of speech, and sponsor of the Y. W. C. A., pouring.

Interspersed with these more formal activities was the general rush of registering, convocation, skates, picnics, examinations, and all the other activities that mark the opening of the semester.

Recognition Given Miss Callender For Sandburr Service

Recognition was given Prof. Edith Callender, faculty advisor of the Sandburr for the past twenty years, in a special chapel program Monday morning.

Miss Callender, head of the English Department, has given up her Sandburr work in order to be able to offer Victorian Poetry, which previously had been alternated with other English courses.

Prof. Edith Callender

Representing the Press Guild, Dr. D. E. Weidler announced the presentation of a Press Guild pin for Miss Callender. The pin is distinguished from regular Press Guild awards by a special guard with the Roman numeral twenty on it.

On accepting the honor given her, Miss Callender said, "When I took charge of the Sandburr in 1928 there was neither a Press Guild nor a news-writing class. Many times volunteer writers made up the greater part of the staff." Miss Callender revealed that the origin of the Press Guild dates back to Oct. 1, 1937, when a group of students interested in writing met at her home. "We are proud of what the former members and editors of our Sandburr staff have done," concluded Miss Callender.

Mr. Huber, editor of the News-Times, spoke on the problems of a newspaper during the special chapel program.

BRIEFS

Francis L. Wagner, Culbertson, visited on the York College campus Monday, September 13, enroute to Naperville, Ill., where he will be a senior at North Central college.

Mrs. Gladys Whittacre, Wichita, Kans., was a guest of Mrs. Fanny Luper last week.

As the result of a recent election, four men will head the classes this semester. The presidents are: Milton Snow, senior, Des Moines, Iowa; Wayne Farrer, junior, Sioux City, Iowa; Doyle Gustafson, sophomore, Polk; and Cecil Walker, freshman, Santa Cruz, N. Mex.

Sponsors elected for the four classes include Miss Irene Shipley of the speech department, seniors; Prof. Charles Bisset, department of social science and history, juniors; Miss Zelta Wakelin, department of modern languages, sophomores; and Prof. Myron Holm, department of education, freshman.

Other senior officers are: Ruth Weston, York, vice-president; Willa Roberts, Fairbury, secretary; Anna Kamm, Platte Center, treasurer; John Karutz, York, Nebr., student council representative; Doris Jean Canon, Albany, Ore., and Clifford Rhoades, York, Panther Club representatives; Norma Jean Anderson and Harold Walker, Santa Cruz, N. Mex., freshman court judges.

Lois Miller Heads Pantherettes; Miss Howland Is Sponsor

Lois Miller, sophomore, Dawson, was elected president of the Pantherettes, the girls' pep club, in a recent meeting and Miss Hope Howland, '48, charter member of the organization, has accepted the position of sponsor.

Other officers were filled by the following members: vice president,

Lois Miller

Lucille Keefe, senior, Telferner, Tex.; secretary, Catherine Walker, sophomore, Maize, Kans.; treasurer, Anna Kamm, senior, Platte Center; student council, Dorothy Burhoop, freshman.

Captains were also elected for special committees. They are as follows: pep chapels, Elsie Walker, senior, Santa Cruz, N. M.; drills, Carolyn Meeker, junior, Enid, Okla.; projects, Harriet Thomas, senior, Topeka, Kans.; membership, Ruth Weston, senior, York; sales, Iva Lee Mizell, senior, Dellvale, Kans.

Sample jackets were presented to the group, which has decided to incorporate them as a part of the Pantherette uniform. These jackets will be given as a first award.

MY TIME IS . . . MY TIME

Your college career is about over. Even if you are among those whose green attitude is hiding under a blue cap, your graduation is not far away. Four years go rapidly anyplace, but on campus, time is jet-propelled. The solution to the dilemma of time expenditure is an individual problem, and one of the fundamental ones of college life. Treasure your time, spend it wisely. It is easily destroyed and never regained.

REDISCOVERING CHRISTIANITY

Have you ever had some one come to you, eyes sparkling with the thrill of recent discovery? And when this newly discovered truth has been unveiled to you, you realize that it is not new to you at all? Then you have to wonder how such an obvious thing could have remained so long in obscurity for a friend who seemingly thought nearly as you did about everything. Yes, and you might have been on the other end of the story!

But no matter where such a situation has found you, you can well appreciate a talented young college graduate's recently saying to one of her friends, "You know, I've about come to the conclusion that I want to live not just by Christian social codes; I want to live a fully Christian life."

Bewilderedly the interested friend replies, "Yeah; certainly, of course . . . but just what do you mean?"

"I don't know exactly what I want to say, but there is a difference!"

What was she saying? It could be that the difference was in her attitude. Undoubtedly she had long wanted to serve as a Christian, but she had also wanted to lead an interesting life. According to her old concepts, that was impossible; the two wants were irreconcilable. The best that the world seemed to hold for her was the lot of the inert Christian who follows the Christian social order and abides by "letter law" in business dealings, and tries to sneak in as much worldly living as he can and still not strain his lax bounds. The other alternate seemed to be that of the equally impotent "Christian" all done up in his sanctimoniousness, living a cold, barren, sacrificial life.

And then suddenly a new world had opened for this young woman who wanted "to live fully a Christian life". She came to see that the same God who made the world and all its natural laws also gave Christianity to the world through the gift of His Son. The world and man were made for each other, and only through wrong usage of the natural is sin created.

To get to a point more quickly, we might do well to look at E. Stanley Jones' much read book, The Way. Agreement with every letter of it is not necessary to garner the paramount truth that Christianity is "The Way" . . . the natural way of life. If we do the right thing, we profit by it in our lifetime through health and richness of life—irrespective of any great reward that awaits us in eternity. Conversely, if we break these laws of God and nature, we pay for it long before the reckoning in any perdition.

In the long past, when men were in great ignorance, at least in the light of our modern scientific discoveries, religious law held them in line. They did the right thing because it was a religious law, and not because they knew it was the natural way. But when medical scientists and social problematians attack our order of life with the aid of all the earthly knowledge at their disposal, they come up with the same rules and regulations that Hebrew fathers handed down in Biblical days. And yet, we live in a world so full of perversities of the natural . . . a world so long in the habit of eating green apples and then declaring through the pain of a traitored stomach that such is the way of a "full" life, that the unnatural appears to be the attractive way. Thus, the way of dual penalty is chosen in preference to "The Way" of double reward.

When will we become wise enough to enjoy life? Not as religious martyrs, persecuted by the laws of the natural, nor as children of perversity, but rather as Christians making intelligent use of the God-given "Natural" that is conducive to long, abundant, rigorous, and fruitful living?

—A Senior.

They Tramped These Halls

Culinary Magic

Miss Jennie Miller and Mrs. D. H. Sill

As the succulent peas, the sizzling steaks, and the clouds of mashed potatoes passed under the student's nose, he was heard to remark, "Doggone this food! There's not a thing to gripe about." He owes his lack of grounds for complaint to Mrs. D. H. Sill, Wichita, Kans., dietician in the York College dining room, and her assistants, Mrs. Grace Medsker, York, and Miss Jennie Miller, Burrton, Kans.

Emotions ranging all the way from sheer joy to apprehension at the impending poundage can be noted on the faces of the dining room patrons. "We've not had the same salad twice!" said one, "And I've heard the promise that there are recipes enough to last half a semester."

"I've gained seven pounds!" said another, with a beautiful smile on his face. "Yep! This holds the promise of a great year."

Heard Around . . .

Bugle calls . . . alarm clocks . . . sound of gnashing teeth . . . pencils scratching freshmen doom . . . crinkling fenders . . . "guilty" . . . I warn you! Anything you say may be held against you" . . . at football game "O. K. boys let's knock their teeth out." Coach's comment, "Mind your manners." "O. K. put 'em back!" . . . noise of tramping feet . . .

Cupid's Caper

That youngster Cupid must be suffering from an overactive thyroid! His campus conduct this season makes it look as though the bow and arrow has been switched for an A-bomb. Whatever his motive or means, a blinding barrage of tragically placed diamonds shows the results of an effective campaign. These are the names that the symbolic ring has linked: Doris Canon, senior, Albany, Ore., and Richard Bason, junior, Des Moines, Ia.; Hope Howland, '48, Mission, Kans., now manager of the book store, and Wayne Farrer, senior, Sioux City, Ia.; Maude Ruth Polson, sophomore, Dacoma, Okla., and Donald Watson, junior, York; Ernestine Garcia, junior, Santa Fe, N. M., and Merl Riggs, senior, Merna; and Norma Jean Anderson, senior, York, and Fred Vorce, junior, Brookfield, Mo.

Perhaps these couples are good examples of the bit of philosophy quoted by Dr. Weidler. "The moon exerts a profound influence on both the tide and the untied."

Freshman Faces

THE FRESHMAN (PREJUDICED) VERSION

The lowest thing on earth is a freshman, and I am a Freshman. I am learning when to remove my hat and when to leave it on. I'm wearing a necktie for the first time in my life. I'm wearing dunce caps, Indian suits, and football togs. Saturday I sell the Sears Roebuck catalog on downtown corners, and fish in a bucket, Simple Simon style. I've learned to say "Your Honor" when addressing Harold Walker, the most honorable freshman court judge.

The clerk swears in the trembling freshman. "Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help you upper classmen?" "I do." The charges read, "Cap on, leaning, cap off." "Boy, that's bad; how do you plead this case?" We freshmen answer "guilty," or sometimes "not guilty," whereupon Art Speece, the valiant defender of freshman rights, takes the stand. "Your honor, I would like to call your attention to a passage from this book." The solemn old judge bangs for order and replies, "Was he a Y. C. graduate?" "Not to my knowledge." "Aha! Then anything it contains is irrelevant incompetent, and immaterial. The verdict is guilty!" And a freshman assumes the position. One thing you can't say about us freshmen, We don't take this sitting down.

EIGHT BEATITUDES FOR STUDENTS

Dr. W. E. Bachman

- Blessed are you students, for you have found a plan to prepare for the richest kind of a life.
- Blessed are you students, for you are freed from the temptation to put your entire trust in material things.
- Blessed are you students, for yours is the kingdom of eternal values.
- Blessed are you students, for your associates are among the world's best.
- Blessed are you students, for you can be constantly realizing your better selfhood.
- Blessed are you students, for you may live in the bright worlds of truth and life, and walk in the way of the highest values.
- Blessed are you students, for you have kinship with teachers of classes and writers of books who are the great shining souls of all mankind.
- Blessed are you students, for "you have an Elder Brother who is the Great Teacher, even of the whole world."

PANTHER'S LAIR

Hi-lair-ities

By the Sports Editor

Hilairties of the opening week of athletic competition for the York College Panthers were contained in the 600 mile round trip to Storm Lake, Iowa. Although the Panthers were defeated 26-0, there were many high points of the opening game.

Most notable in the Panthers' season opener was the high spirit of companionship and sportsmanship among the players. This spirit was encouraging to the veterans of past seasons when dissent was eminent among the squad members themselves. Each player came from the game with a sense of his own guilt and shortcomings rather than a criticism of fellow players.

The lack of serious injuries to any member of the squad indicated another high point hitherto neglected. That point was one of training and conditioning. When men can go through sixty minutes of gruelling bodily contact, as is demonstrated in college football today, the only alternative is that those men are in good physical condition and that they are well schooled in the know-how of the fundamentals of the game.

When a team is rich in both spirit and conditioning there can be but one promise for the future, and that is a promise of sixty minutes of fighting effort that brings glory to any school.

Y. C. Host to Chadron State Tonight

The opening college football classic on East Hill will find Y. C. playing host to Chadron State Teachers college. The Eagles, N. C. C. 1947 football co-champions, hope to return to their nest with a conference victory. Past records bolster that hope.

Last week the Panthers, victims of their own invasion into Storm Lake territory, were washed back by a 26 to 0 blue-gold breaker. In the eyes of witnesses to that contest, the inexperienced Y-C gridders strengthened their defense and showed increasing color of potential offensive right up through the last minute of play.

The following night Chadron grudgingly gave up a 17 to 14 decision to Wayne State Teachers college. With sharpened claws, these boys of the Nebraska northwest should give Coach Tonkin's squad a real work-out. The game last year was fast and clean, with Chdaron decidedly topping York with a 19 to 6 score.

Still, it's bound to be troubled turf on East Hill with each team gunning for its first conference laurels. Fur and feathers will surely fly as 1947's cellar and penthouse squads match tooth and talon.

Members of the squad that made the Buena Vista trip were granted a preview of their November fifth opponent when the entire squad paused on the way home to watch the Omaha U.-Nebraska Wesleyan game at Omaha last Saturday night.

The highly-touted powerhouse of Wesleyan failed to materialize as the Indians of Omaha played heads-up ball to cop a 12-0 victory. Although the Omahans were out-gained, they proved the value of hard fighting in the clutches as they capitalized on a bad center by Wesleyan's Cliff Squires to recover the ball in the end zone for their first tally early in the first quarter. Their alertness on pass defense paid off in their final tally as an intercepted pass in the final period of the game set up their second score.

Wesleyan previewed what might develop into a very potent aerial attack as Mercer and White flipped the pigskin to almost every corner of the field, both deep and short.

Although the Plainsmen failed to look impressive in their opener they should develop into a worthy contender for the conference championship. However, the Panthers have had a first hand display of the fact that even favorites can be beaten. This fact will remain in the minds of the Y. C. gridders until they meet the Knight-men of Lincoln, but, in the meantime, other teams demand first call in Panther minds. Therefore, we say, "Clip the Eagle's Wings."

ON COACHING STAFF

Denny Auchard

Denny Auchard, '48, returned after a summer at Colorado State Teachers College in Greeley to take up the reins of assistant coach at York College.

Working with Coach R. E. Tonkin is no innovation to Denny, as during his stay at Y. C. he excelled in football, basketball, and track, won the Adam Hat outstanding athlete award in his junior year, and last year received the first "Y" blanket ever to be awarded under the new point award system.

Bishop Ira D. Warner, Puente, Calif., Bishop of the Pacific Area, visited the campus.

Post Mortems . . . "THE BUENA VISTA TRIP"

The Panthers unveiled a potent secret defensive weapon against the Beavers as Max Garcia joined the veteran Marty Martinez at the guard posts. Marty, wiser in football lore, thought Max was playing too near the center of the line and to avoid tipping the opposition linemen to the play, Marty spied rapid instructions in Spanish for Max to move out.

As the opposing linemen, bewildered at the exchange of Spanish, pondered its possible meaning, the ball was snapped and Marty streaked through to nail the play for a LOSS!

Hope and Wayne decided that no freshman girl should send him merrily on his way. Score at mid-fourth quarter: Howland sixty-eleven; Farrer, nothing.

A Veteran: Those guys had one of the fastest backfields I ever hope to see. Their plays developed rather slowly, about like a 500 pound general-purpose bomb.

Marty, the touchdown guard, says that sixty minutes is too long for an hour.

"A-ah, we had everything except tacklers." (With apologies to Chuck.)*

After seeing the Omaha U. and Nebraska Wesleyan game, one Panther cub confided to his buddy, "I know someone else that's gonna get a workout Monday."

* Ed's Note.

PANTHERS SMOTHERED BY BUENA VISTA

Mark Fahrning Jerry Witham

Sportraits

By Wicky

Mark Fahrning . . . junior from Salina, Kans. . . six feet tall . . . brown hair . . . green eyes . . . 174 and 1/2 pounds . . . 24 years old . . . and one perpetually skinned nose!

Mark plays fullback this year . . . a shift from his position as guard last year. He is vice-president of the Y-Club and also a judge on the freshman court. All the freshman boys think he gets his daily workouts by swinging the freshman court paddle.

As Mark says, "I plan to be a coach, if I can ever get out of school." His wife Rowena is his fan in all fields.

Gerald Witham . . . junior from Agra, Kans. . . five feet ten and one-half inches in height . . . blue eyes . . . light brown hair (in spots) . . . a wife and daughter . . . and a newly acquired habit of eating his meals through straws!

Gerald has a long history as far as York college football teams are concerned; therefore he has picked up the nick-name of "Grandpa" from the team. He's playing guard on the team this year.

"Jerry" has had rather a prolonged vacation from the football field this fall. He made the mistake of letting his jaw connect with the knee of one of his team mates recently. However, he hopes to get a cover for his jaw in the near future.

Scoring in every period except the first, a fast hard-fighting Buena Vista College team smothered the Panthers with a 26-0 shut-out victory. Although outplayed in all categories, the Panthers showed more spirit and fight than in years past.

The first touchdown of the game was set up by a Castle forty-five yard run just before the gun in the first quarter. A fifteen-yard pass from Saggau to Castle tallied for six points in the beginning of the second quarter. Thulen's attempt for the extra point was good, thus leaving the Panthers behind 7-0.

A few minutes later, after recovering one of their own fumbles, the Beavers again scored on a pass from McKinstry to Oatman. Thulen's attempted kick was no good. The score at half time was in the Beavers favor 13-0.

Runs accounted for all the scoring in the second half as Tommy Gaines raced to a T. D. on a 65 yard sprint in the third period, and Bobby Willardson plunged off tackle for 38 yards and six points in the fourth. Thulen's kick in the third quarter was good, but his final try was wide.

The Eager Beavers showed skill in all phases of the game. Gaines and Castle, Beaver backs, showed their worthiness as backfield men by turning in the two longest runs of the evening. Saggau's and McKinstry's ability to spot and hit pass receivers also proved a great asset to the victors. Buena Vista's tackling and down field blocking was better executed than Y. C.'s, but both teams showed great variation and well-covered plays from the T formation.

College Choir to Make Debut Homecoming Day

The first scheduled appearance of the college choir this year will be on Homecoming day, according to Mr. James E. Koontz, of the music department, director of the choir. Plans for the semester will include the traditional performance of the Messiah in December, and an informal presentation of the choir and the men's and women's glee clubs in January.

Mr. Koontz outlined briefly the schedule for the rest of the year. The performance of "The Seven Last Words," so well accepted by the community last season, will be repeated. The climax of the work in choral music will come when the selected traveling choir will tour the west. The exact itinerary is undecided.

In addition to the music theory courses already available, a course called "Introduction to Music" is being offered. It includes the study of music appreciation and continues into the second semester as music history.

Y. W. C. A. Begins Year With Varied Programs

The YWCA has opened the fall season with meetings designed to create interest in campus activities. Mary Katherine Jackson, junior, Adrian, Missouri, as president, greeted prospective and returning members at the first session. The theme of another program was "College Activities and How to Dress for Them." New members were received at a candlelight service conducted by Norma Harris, sophomore, Nelson.

Programs have included group singing led by Opal Anderson, junior, York, and devotional readings by Bessie McMinn, special student, Salina, Kans.; Anna Kamm, senior, Platte Center, and Carol Mead, sophomore, Imperial. Elsie Walker closed one service by singing, "Calvary," and Carol Mead chose "I'm a Pilgrim" for another special number. One meeting featured campus coeds modeling styles for the big events of the year. Wanda Miller, senior, Russell, Kans.; Ivalee Mizell, senior, Dellvale, Kans.; Mary Woelfle, sophomore, Loveland, Colo.; Leta Kurtz, sophomore, Alton, Kans., and Carolynn Meeker, junior, Enid, Okla., respectively, told the purpose of the literary societies, WAA, Youth Fellowship, Life Work Recruits, and Pantherettes.

Milton Snow, senior, Des Moines, Ia., Wanda Miller, senior, Russell, Kans., Norma Jean Anderson, senior, York, and Opal Anderson, junior, York, complete the squad. The group plans to continue using the tumbling routines which have made them outstanding in the state.

Merwin Kurtz To Head Y.M.C.A.

Merwin Kurtz, senior, Alton, Kans., as president, heads the list of new officers elected at the first meeting of the Y. M. C. A. He also heads the OBN and has been a Y. M. financial chairman, president of the Life Work Recruits, secretary of the OBN, and chairman of the Recruits' African Project.

Merwin Kurtz

Paul Woelfle, freshman, Loveland, Colo., was elected vice president. Charles Bean, freshman, York, was named financial committee chairman.

O.B.N. Is Host At Recent Picnic

Campus pre-theo students enjoyed the park scenery, hot dogs, and the hospitality of the O. B. N. at a recent picnic to which wives and girl friends were invited. Abundant food and healthy appetites waged a short struggle with the result very near a tie.

Following the meal, Frank Medsker, junior, York, led the group in the singing of both secular and sacred songs.

The Rev. Vaughn Leaming, director of Public Relations, presented a short inspirational talk using the five letters of Jesus' name as the springboard for his ideas.

Merwin Kurtz, junior, Alton, Kansas, president, issued an invitation to all pre-ministerial students to join the fellowship of the O. B. N.
