

Y. C. Candidates For '48 Who's Who Revealed

Student Body To Choose Homecoming Queen Today

The Homecoming Queen of '48 will be elected by student vote this morning from the following candidates: Opal Anderson, junior, York; Carolynn Meeker, junior, Enid, Okla.; Ivalce Mizell, senior, Clayton, Kans.; Ruth Weston, senior, York.

These four women were chosen in a general student election recently. The final winner in today's balloting will reign as Homecoming Queen of the day. Her coronation will take place in the morning ceremony. She will continue to be honored in the parade and climax her day by reigning over the evening festivity, the Sterling-York football game.

POTENTIAL ROYALTY.....

REGIONAL DIRECTOR OF Y. W. C. A. VISITS CAMPUS

The regional director of the National Student Y. W. C. A., Miss Ruth Packard, visited the campus Wednesday.

During conferences with Dean W. J. Karraker, other members of the staff, and the Y. W. C. A. advisers and cabinet, Miss Packard expressed approval of the work being done by the campus Christian Associations. Her suggestions regarding the future activities of these organizations provided an added impetus to cabinet plans.

Miss Packard formerly was a Christian Association worker in China during the years of civil war and the Japanese invasion.

DR. C. V. ROOP TO SOLICIT FUNDS FOR MIDDLEBROOK HALL

Dr. C. V. Roop, of Westerville, Ohio, has been engaged by the college board of trustees to solicit for the Greater York College fund. His immediate task will be to solicit money for Middlebrook Hall, the women's dormitory which is now under construction on the campus. This new building, according to Dr. D. E. Weidler, president emeritus, will cost at least a hundred thousand dollars more than the original estimates because of increased construction costs.

Dr. Roop is a graduate of Otterbein College and Bonebrake Seminary. He retired from the active ministry after his church at Galion, Ohio, was destroyed by fire last December. During his active career as a minister and evangelist, he has held 383 revival meetings and served one of his pastorates for twelve successive years. He has also solicited funds for the Sandusky Camp, Lake St. Mary's, and Otterbein College.

"By his character, personality, and previous experience," said Dr. Weidler, "we feel that Dr. Roop is eminently fitted for his work here."

W. A. A. to Initiate New Members Tonight

Annual Slumber Party Tonight

Initiation of new members by means of slumber party will be held tonight by the Women's Athletic Association. The slumber party at the home of co-sponsor Miss Zelda Wakelin, of the department of modern languages, will introduce approximately 12 new members into the W. A. A.

Dorothy Burhoop, freshman, McCool Jet., and Elsie Walker, senior, Santa Cruz, N. Mex., were elected to fill the offices of vice-president and Student Council representative, respectively, at a recent business meeting of the group. Open meetings for all women on the campus are now being held each Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30, according to Ivalce Mizell, senior, Clayton, Kans., president of the W. A. A.

Drama Majors Conduct Course In Histrionics

The York College Players will be active this year with three dramatic majors as co-directors. The three seniors are Norma Jean Anderson, and Barbara Blauch, York, and Doris Jean Canon, Albany, Ore. Miss Irene Shipley of the Expression Department will act as critic.

Sixteen men and women have reported for dramatics, and are being given a course in the theory of play production. Two major productions are scheduled for this year, one to be a comedy and the other a drama.

During a recent trip to Lincoln, Dr. G. T. Savery, business administrator, and Miss Mary Lou Warner, general office manager, purchased new office furniture.

Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Kurtz, senior and junior respectively, went to Des Moines, last week-end to visit Mrs. Kurtz's parents.

Y. C. Graduate Appointed New College Pastor

The Rev. Vaughn Leaming, '41, director of public relations for the college for the past year, has been named pastor of the York Evangelical United Brethren Church to succeed the Rev. G. T. Savery, recently appointed business manager of York College.

Rev. Vaughn Leaming

Appointment of Mr. Leaming was made by Bishop V. O. Weidler of Kansas City, Mo., and the Rev. W. P. Watkins of York, Nebraska Conference Superintendent. The Rev. Mr. Leaming will fill the pulpit on Sunday, October 10.

Mr. Leaming was born near Rake, Ia. He was graduated from Bonebrake Theological Seminary, Dayton, O. in 1945 and received his first license to preach from the Iowa Conference in 1937.

Sent as a representative of the Life Work Recruits of the United Brethren Colleges, Leaming went to Freetown, British West Africa in 1938, remaining two years as missionary teacher in Albert Academy. Later he spent one year in the Dominican Republic in a mission sponsored by the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Evangelical United Brethren churches. He was pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Kansas City, Mo., before coming to York College.

Mrs. Leaming is the former Letha Robinson, '41. The Leamings have two children, Judith Anne, five, and David Vaughn, three.

PALS Elect Four Officers

At a special meeting recently Opal Anderson, junior, York, was elected program chairman of PALS Literary Society.

Other officers elected were secretary, Carol Mead, sophomore, Imperial; trustee, Betty Jean Riggs, junior, Merna; and chorister, Milton Snow, senior, Des Moines, Ia.

Tentative plans have also been made for re-decoration of PALS Hall.

Blauch, Miller, Thomas H. Walker Are Named

The names of four seniors will be listed in this year's edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities, according to announcement from the administration this week. Barbara Blauch, York, Wanda Miller, Russell, Kans., Harriet Thomas, Topeka, Kans., and Harold Walker, Santa Cruz, N. M., were elected by faculty members for inclusion in this annual publication. Character, scholarship, and leadership in extra-curricular activities, as well as future usefulness to business and society, were among the qualities considered. A notable variance of activities and interests is shown by the college records of this year's Who's Who foursome.

Barbara Blauch

Wanda Miller

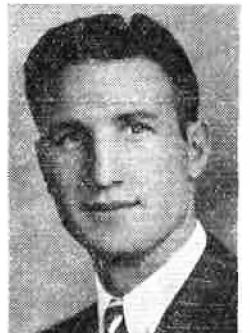

Versatile Barbara Blauch will be well prepared to enter almost any field she chooses. Three times a member of the Marathon staff, (once its editor in chief), Sandburr feature editor, a member of Mademoiselle's college board, she is rapidly becoming journalist. Dramatic and musical roles include the lead in "The Bohemian Girl," numerous solo and trio appearances, and the part of Beth in "Little Women." A member of the chapel choir, Miss Blauch also has sung solos in the annual Messiah presentations. Zetas, Y. W. C. A., Press Guild, Alpha Psi Omega, and the classes of which Miss Blauch has been a member have elected her to serve in official capacities. She is a drama major.

A music major, Wanda Miller has made numerous appearances as an accompanist, a piano and vocal soloist, and a member of a women's trio. She has filled a term as news-editor for the Sandburr. In drama onstage as Ellen in "Junior Miss," and backstage as costumer—she has contributed to college life. She has held offices in Zetas, Recruits, Y. W. C. A., Chapel Choir, and class organization, and membership in Panther Club, Press Guild, WAA, besides being one of the varsity cheerleaders.

Harriet Thomas

Harold Walker

As freshman editor of the Marathon, feature editor, and finally editor-in-chief of the Sandburr, Harriet Thomas has devoted much time to campus publications. Active also in drama, she has been student director, publicity worker, and actress. Chorus and band are her musical interests. She has held offices in Recruits, YWCA, Pantherettes, Press Guild Class organization, and Zetas, and is a member of WAA, Alpha Psi Omega, and IRC. A double major of English and expression will complete her A. B. requirements.

Student Council president, Harold Walker, interrupted his college career to serve as a B 29 service pilot in the Marianas. Since his return to campus, he has been responsible for breaking a conference record in the two mile, and has earned Y-club membership through participation in all three major sports fields. This year he presided as chief judge in freshman court, and continued his activities on the Sandburr staff and Press Guild. Positions he has held include offices in Zetas and IRC and class organization. As a result of a drama minor, he has read before many groups. His major is political science.

Y. C. JOURNALISTS PICNIC WITH GUESTS

A campfire, moonlight, singing and "yum-yum" food were the favorites at the first social event for this year's Press Guild. A picnic, held on the banks of the Blue river, was attended by members of the Sandburr and Marathon staffs and their guests.

Harriet Thomas, senior, Topeka, Kans., Sandburr editor, and Fred

Vorce, junior, Brookfield, Mo., Marathon editor, were named president and vice-president respectively, of Press Guild. The list of other officers includes the following: Anna Kamm, senior, Platte Center, secretary; Paul Deever, junior, Parsons, Kans., treasurer; Forrest Hergert, sophomore, Alexander, Kans., librarian; Francis Porter, sophomore, Aurora, social chairman; and Evelyn Thomas, freshman, Topeka, Kans., program chairman.

Walkers: Harold, Cecil, Elsie; Kurtzes: Merwin, Leta, Dale; Kamms: Anna, Frank, Herbert.

A Family Affair

Everybody wants to get into the act, at least as far as the Kamms, Kurtzes and Walkers are concerned.

Each family has three members attending York College this fall.

"I'm going to give my brother some competition in the mile," says Cecil Walker, freshman class president, Santa Cruz, New Mexico. His brother, Harold, a senior, has lettered in track and football. Harold is the stern judge so many freshmen have faced in the last three weeks. Elsie, also a senior, runs true to the family athletic tradition, being the third woman in York College history to receive the blanket, W. A. A. award. Elsie is majoring in chemistry and Harold in political science. Besides his other talents Harold is co-chef at Misner's Manor. The two brothers got practical experience in batching during their stay in Alaska this summer.

A Kurtz in every class could be the slogan of the Kurtz family from Alton, Kansas. It includes Dale Kurtz, freshman, Leta Kurtz, sophomore, Jeanne B. Kurtz, junior, and Merwin Kurtz, senior. Dale and Leta can usually be found at the gym on skate nights. Their interests also runs parallel in education, as Leta is planning to be a missionary nurse and Dale is taking a pre-medical course. The junior member of the family used to be Jeanne Anderson until she married Merwin, a pre-ministerial student. Merwin has been president of Recruits, Y. M. C. A. and O.B.N. Smiling broadly, he informed your reporter that he liked having his brother and sister around.

At times this seems to be the Kammpus. According to Anna Kamm, senior, Platte Center, six of her brothers and sisters have attended or are attending York College, and there is a younger brother who is a prospective student. In addition to working on her mathematics major, Anna enjoys riding her bicycle around the campus and used to be a faithful dish washer at the Con. Frank Kamm spends much time in the laboratory working on his pre-medical course. Younger brother Herbert says his major is women. The consensus appears to be that brothers and sisters are nice to have around, even in college.

DEADLINE DATA

Twice monthly, amid the clank of typewriters, the scream of copy readers, and the thud of falling bodies, the Sandburr trust puts the college paper together. With startling irregularity, beginning reporters are dispatched after paste, scotch tape, and pencils. While these victims of the journalistic slave trade are out of the room, the sadists in the group prepare their copy for printing. The result of the neophytes' plasma, perspiration, and tears is henceforth unrecognizable as it is drawn and quartered by the various editors. But perhaps compensation in the form of a beloved by-line will sooth the beginner's breast in time for the next deadline.

The reader who sees only the finished product can have but a vague idea of the trials involved. For instance, once a band of black crepe was draped over the "Somber" staff room because one of the new reporters got lost in the cut file. He was never found. And ever since the paper has been printed in black ink.

Chapel Notes

The Useful Life

"Denying self is required daily in our school lives as well as our religious lives, if we desire to attain the highest goals in life," are the words of Dr. Weidler, President emeritus, York College, in a recent chapel talk. "Our lives are similar to the clay from which pottery is made. We need to place our lives in the hands of God that He may transform us into something more useful," were Dr. Weidler's closing words.

The Christian Offensive

"Christians need to rise in a Christian offensive, headed by a campaign for truth, against all anti-Christian forces of the world" said Rev. John Shell, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, York. He went on to say, "At times like these our faith is important. We must know, live, and preach our faith to bring light to a darkened world."

Christian Sportsmanship

"Fair play and good sportsmanship are the most important lessons we need to learn in college," said Rev. Vaughn Leaming, pastor of the E. U. B. church, York.

They Tramped These Halls

By J. C. Morgan

Wilbur Nachtigall, ex-'48, formerly of Henderson, was ordained to the ministry in the Mennonite church, Sunday, August 2, at Manson, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Nachtigall are under appointment as missionaries to Puerto Rico under the Mennonite Board of Missions. Mr. Nachtigall has an M. A. from the University of Nebraska, and Mrs. Nachtigall graduated as a registered nurse from the Mennonite Hospital School of Nursing at La Junta, Colorado.

Miss Eleanor Allen, '28, experienced an automobile accident this summer, but was able to return to her teaching duties at Azusa, California.

Mrs. Lloyd Nichols (Leona Stafford, ex-'28) of Pueblo, Colo., visited in York recently. There came with her a new student for York College.

Waldo Dahlstedt, '40, will continue his studies this year at the University of Nebraska, and will be connected with the State Extension Department.

Carvel Holt, '48, will attend Kansas State College, Manhattan, Kansas, and will work for a master's degree in biological science.

Richard Foulk, '47, is employed in a chemical laboratory at Beacon, New York.

Mr. O. J. Anderson, husband of Mrs. Eileen Callahan Anderson, ex-'42, has been elected to a teaching position at the University of Nebraska.

The address of T/Sgt. R. G. Morgan, ex-'43, is Roswell, New Mexico. He returned this summer from Germany where he had spent two years with the armed forces there.

Thorton L. Miller, '29, has been appointed Regional Supervisor, Bureau of Federal Credit Unions, Federal Security Agency. He is located at Cleveland, Ohio.

Henry Kliever, '31, has been elected Principal of the high school at Hillsboro, Kansas. He had held a similar position for several years at Henderson.

Erratum: In the account of the Keil-Beyer wedding in the previous issue the latter name was misspelled. Apologies are due Shirley.

In Memoriam:

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Caldwell, widow of the late S. C. Caldwell. Mrs. Caldwell was a devoted member of the Evangelical United Brethren church and a loyal friend of the college. Two children are alumni: Earl Caldwell, '06, and Mrs. Nina Belle Graham, '18.

Dr. J. N. Piumb, a longtime physician in York. He was well known to former students of the college.

Weddings:

Miss Jewell Daniel, '46, to Mr. Ward S. Wood, Lockport, New York.

Miss Jasmine Ingraham, '48, and Mr. Leland Miller, '48, August 27, Sewal, Iowa.

Editorials . . .

Hardly ever does a young person leave home to embark upon the sea of higher education without the mindful word of worried parents to "Be good, dear." All of us have heard these words of sage advice at one time or another in our lives and most of us have stopped to give a word of thanks to a loving God for such blessings as Christian parents. Probably these words were never more aptly spoken than to a freshman beginning a college career. College opens many new doors to young people and consequently, many temptations.

Yes, temptations of all types open themselves readily to the 'babies' of loving mothers and fathers when they leave home, possibly for the first time, to attend a modern college. Drinking is a constant temptation to the student who desires to be a 'regular guy or gal.' The temptation of bad company is ever present when young people are forced to choose their own companions. These and many others beset the student attending the average college.

Although Y. C. has brought these temptations to a minimum, we would be the last to claim that Y. C. is without its temptations. However, we are concerned only with the major temptation of the campus. That temptation is one that can not be denied. It is always with the student, in the class room, in the dorm, on the campus at any place and even off the campus, although possibly not quite as strong. Some people call us weak for yielding to it (yes, all of us do yield to it), others say we must be strong to yield wholeheartedly to it, while still others maintain it is a complete waste of time and only a fool would indulge.

What is it that offers so great a temptation on a campus such as York College? It is the same temptation that Harry Emerson Fosdick maintains confronted Paul on the road to Damascus. Yes, it is the still, small voice of Jesus Christ that continues to call, "Follow me!" Surely, no one can ever say that the great temptation to be Christian has never faced him. Indeed, in this day of unrest there can be no doubt of the urgency of yielding.

Some may say "It is impractical." Look at the world about us. It has been following a non-Christian way of life. Is that at which we have now arrived practical? Others may say, "We have no time for such things." Have we time to live? If so, why not live fully and completely? Christianity is really the greatest time-saver the world has ever known, because it enables us to get complete service from our lives.

Just as we cannot deny the many temptations to sin, so we cannot deny the greatness of God's temptation, Jesus Christ. Today and everyday the Son of man is calling to you and me, "Follow Me!" Do we dare refuse so great a temptation?

Fred Vorce.

Attention music students: Please stop referring so loudly to "Clair de Lune." You're making Mr. Marvel self-conscious.

The next time someone tells you that a semester is 18 weeks you just say, "Oh, yeah?" You've read this feature and you know better.

A semester is — take a deep breath—378 meals minus the breakfasts that you couldn't quite make, three announced engagements, and one broken one, and eight editions of the Sandburr.

It is 10 athletic events, nine athletic defeats, 54 hours in each three hour class, and 108 hours studying for it, (that's what the Profs. think).

It is two chapel addresses by Pres. Bachman, and 18 by Dr. Doty, three appearances of the girls trio, 18 letters from home (two with some money) and one bawling out in the library.

It is 18 choir practices (or else) one Jolly Up, (inevitable as death, and sometimes about as jolly), three recitals one of which is by Harold Holton, two fights per steady couple and one and one-half reconciliations, and one asinine story like this one.

PANTHER'S LAIR

EAGLES SOAR OVER PANTHERS

First Half Aerials Provide Victory Margin.

Scoring three touchdowns in the first half and converting after each, the Chadron Eagles set up a 21-0 victory over the Panthers. Making only fair gains on the ground, Chadron released its air offensive in the pitchers Calvert, Bruny, Butterfield, and Colerick to soar to that first half lead.

The last half of the ball game saw a determined York eleven stave off all drives and hold the final score to exactly its half-time level. The Chadron team still out-yarded and out-downed the home boys, but stubborn line play and moderately good kicking kept the White and Blue in the ball game. Speaking of kicking, a 68 yard quick kick by Crandall put emphasis on the foot part of the game, while Chadron's Butterfield continued to lengthen his record by making the three conversions.

The Chadron passing attack was an intriguingly smooth and dangerous machine. Pulling Colerick from his end position to wing the long ones with Calvert and Bruny alternating on the end range, the Eagles threw up a wall of defense affording ample protection and time for the passer.

Defensively the York line looked good. Especially noteworthy was the rugged play of tackle John Karutz and the knife-sharp tackling of veteran Mark Fahrng.

Y CLUBBERS PICNIC WITH Y. C. GRIDDERS

The annual fall picnic of Y Clubbers, football aspirants, and their dates was held Monday night under the strong-armed organization plan of the Y Club.

Chief Chef Cecil Rockhold and his assisting braves, Harold Walker, Wayne Farrer, and Stan Hedrick provided a barbecued ham for the highlight of the evening's festivities.

Mixed games were played while the meal was being prepared and group singing proved to be equally exerting after the serving of the immense feed. The committee for recreation was Eugene Weaver, Mark Fahrng and Milton Snow. The transportation problems were handled by Delmar Way, Aully Holst, and Les Herron.

Zetas Honor Retiring Sponsor

Miss Maybelle Taylor, retiring sponsor of the Zeta Literary Society, was honored by a special program at the regular meeting. Mrs. Edith Huebert, '48, was elected to fill the position of sponsor.

Spontaneity was emphasized in the program as each participant introduced his selection and explained its significance.

Mrs. Glenna Auchard Bott, sophomore, Alexander, Kansas, sang, "When You Grow Too Old To Dream", accompanied by Wanda Miller, senior, Russell, Kans. Harold Walker, senior, Santa Cruz, N. M., ex-president, gave a short talk followed by a poem read by Norma Jean Anderson, senior. Another talk was made by Warren Porter, junior, Aurora, who finished by requesting Miss Taylor to accompany the group in singing of the Zeta song which she composed and introduced two years ago.

As a conclusion, Wanda Miller, president, presented the retiring sponsor with twin vases filled with flowers.

In addition to the election of Mrs. Huebert as sponsor, Gwen Wade, sophomore, Enid, Okla., was chosen to fill the vice presidency.

Post Mortems . .

Chadron

One coach to another: "Yes, it will be better when all the veterans have graduated. Some of my veterans are so practical that they even budget their blocking and tackling."

Touchdown Marty has always prided himself on being able to submarine any opponent. When reproved for having plowed up the East Hill playing field, he protested: "How was I to know it was a mole?"

Doane

The Ed.: Like wringing humor out of a broken arm.

Cecil is having little trouble following in his brother's footsteps—at least in one respect. The Doane trip found him short one pair of thigh-pads.

A Tiger kicker made a kick-off before he had the referee's signal to do so. The referee had tried to stop the kick by waving his arms and blasting his whistle. As the referee carried the ball back for a legal kick, the Doane kicker said to "Rocky" "I couldn't hear his whistle." "Don't let it worry you," Rocky consoled, "One more boot in your kick-off practice won't make any difference tonight."

Assistant coach Auchard after Doane touchdowns four, five, six, seven, and eight: "Oh goody! Now we get the ball!"

DOANE SLAUGHTERS YORK

Tigers Capitalize on Long Runs And Panther Fumbles to Route Yorksters.

Sportraits

By Wicky

John Karutz . . . senior . . . Californian (and proud of it!) . . . curly, light brown hair . . . blue eyes . . . six feet tall . . . and 218 pounds in weight!!

John, better known as "Preach" and "Big John" on the football field, is student pastor of a church at Grafton this year.

John Karutz

John insists that left tackle is his favorite position, but he will play right tackle if necessary. He was game captain against Doane Friday night.

John belongs to Y Club, O. B. N., Y. M. C. A., Student Council, and Mrs. Karutz. His best rooters are the little "Karooters," Hugh and Alice.

Starting late, and finishing in like manner, the York Panthers were systematically slaughtered by an inspired Doane College eleven, by a 52-0 tally.

Receiving the opening kick-off the Doane Tigers persistently punched their way to a touchdown after which there was no heading the "Cretures." As the Panthers took control of the ball, an alert Tiger intercepted a second-down pass and galloped 55 yards to Doane's second score. Two other runs, each for 5 yards and six points, and two York fumbles contributed to the rout of the Tiger-meet from York.

Sloppy secondary defense combined with an overall lack of tackling added to York's ignominious defeat, while poor ballhandling and lack of blocking accounted for the goose egg representative of Y. C. games to date.

The split "T" formation as employed by Doane College provided consistent gains around end and through the air as Doane rolled to 15 first downs while holding the Panthers in complete check during the first half of play. The York first downs were provided mainly by the reserves as they rolled to three of a total four in the last half.

The play of reserve quarterback Claude "Buddy" Crandall was perhaps the highlight to York fans, while the Panther line from tackle to tackle proved themselves to be difficult customers to handle when it came to moving them from their positions.

Hi-lair-ities

By the Sports Editor

Hilairities? There must be some! Let's see . . . Could it be the beautiful runs of the Y. C. backs? Nooo. Possibly one beautiful run? Nooo. Maybe there was one spectacular play? Nooo. Perhaps the play of Panther linemen was outstanding? Nope, can't think when it was. Well, let's see. Ah! I have it! The York reserves!

Yes, the Panther reserves looked good in the last two games. Going into a game after it is conceded lost is a fate which always faces reserve squads, especially early in the season; and everyone that has ever been in this category will tell you that it is pretty tough to give your all when those conditions exist. However, in the Doane-York rout there was no room for doubt that the York reserves gave ground more grudgingly than the Panther regulars had previously done. This is encouraging to York fans after the loss of so many regulars by injury.

No matter how bleak the day, a bright silver lining is always available for those good-hearted people that will look for it. This year's silver lining thus far has been the York College spirit among members of the student body. The strong attendance at Doane was really encouraging even though it failed to show in the Panther playing that night. It is the first time since the resumption of 11 man football after the war that student support has been so unified and complete.

This spirit must stem from something and since the Y. C. football season has by no means been successful this far, the secret must lie outside the grid squad. Therefore, let us give credit where credit is due. The York College cheerleaders still rate as the best in the state for your writer's choice. In three years, I have seen nothing that even near rivaled the life, ability and eagerness of these five collegiates. The fact that their spirit is spreading throughout campus life is just testimony of the superiority they exercise in this field.

KROYVILLE KAPSULES

By Helen Embree

Ed. Note: Kroyville is the official name given to the veterans' housing unit.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Noll announce the arrival of a daughter, Donna Jean, on September 24. Mrs. Noll's mother, Mrs. Hobart Schoonover, Des Moines, is visiting the Nolls.

Kroyville residents enjoyed a "get-acquainted" picnic supper recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Kilpatrick entertained several couples at a wiener roast and watermelon supper on September 23. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Kilpatrick's birthday.

Most of the Kroyville huts look like new again. Paint brushes and spray guns have been working over-time.

Chuck and Donna Bean were week-end visitors in Des Moines, Ia., recently. Mal and Trudy Brown spent a week-end in Omaha.

George and Norma Harris visited relatives at Nelson October 2 and 3.

Kroyville ministers include Mr. and Mrs. Aully Holst at Greenleaf, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Riley at Scandia and Norway, Kans., Mr. and Mrs. Don Light at Panama, and Mr. and Mrs. John Karutz at Grafton. Frank Medsker occupied the pulpit at Benedict on October 3.

Freshman Talent Featured In Y.W.

A freshman talent hour was featured at the October 7 Y. W. C. A. meeting. Evelyn Thomas, Topka, Kans., Roberta Fishel, Seattle, Wash., and Barbara Benfer, Robinson, Kans., sang a special trio number. "The Freckled Face Girl" was read by Betty Ulm, Aurora. Rebecca Romero, El Valle, N. Mex., and Lucy Maestas, Alcalde, N. Mex., presented a specialty in Spanish.

Over Seventy Present At Recruits Meeting

A testimony and song service, with over seventy young people present, highlighted a recent meeting of the Life Work Recruits. A meditation, using as a guide the song "My Task," was presented by Donald Light, junior, Salina, Kan. The testimony and song service was led by Oren Reger, senior, York; scripture was read by Clair Marvel, sophomore, Valeda, Kan.; and the song "My Task" sung by Milton Snow, senior, Des Moines, Ia.

Harvest Festival Held

The eighth annual Harvest Festival was observed at the Evangelical United Brethren Church on Sept. 26. Decorated by Sunday School Class No. 6, the front of the main auditorium was clothed with a variety of fruits, grains, vegetables, and flowers.

This annual pre-Thanksgiving service, under the direction of the Rev. G. T. Savery, has gained the appreciation of the congregation, the college students, and many of the townspeople.

ior, Aurora, vice-president; Harry Owens, junior, Okmulgee, Oklahoma, secretary; Elvin Eastman, sophomore, Twin Falls, Idaho, treasurer, and Barbara Blauch, senior, York, student representative.

The program was in charge of Elvin Eastman who divided the group into two teams to whom a quiz, made up of questions concerning people, places and quotations in current affairs was presented.

The group discussed some interesting possibilities for speakers and programs to be presented during the year.

"Con--versation"

Nothing tastes quite as good as the "spreads" that take place in the Con after hours. Maybe someone's birthday cake furnishes the excuse, or perhaps the New Mexico group serves green chili, soda crackers, and water to burn Anglo throats. Sometimes the Con staff gives a party in celebration of a holiday. About this time of year, the impulse to short-sheet a bed, or tie knots in pajamas, or put salt in shoes becomes as irresistible as Halloween.

If one's roommate will stand for no more practical jokes, it is a fertile imagination that will produce amusements like the following: Wandering into a Con room one evening, we saw a pretty blonde sitting at her desk, planning her honeymoon. The fact that she had at least two months of travel crammed into one month of time bothered her not at all. "We'll buy a helicopter," she said.

Of course, study plays a minute part in Con life, too. One girl in particular finds that guests are handy things to have around when the time comes to study English Composition. She just lures upper-classmen into her room and puts them to work.

And if things get too dull, there are always incidents like the time the flustered Freshman dashed down the hall mourning the fact that someone had called her and then hung up before she could answer. The last we saw of her, she was trying to trace the call. Ah well. Perhaps he was worth it.

Would You Have Printed This Story?

ED. NOTE—This is an authentic reprint of an eager reporter's copy.

"The OBN held an unannounced, unauthorized, unexpected, and virtually unattended (also by the reporter) meeting on the fifth Thursday of last month. Regular meeting nights are second and fourth Thursdays.

(Wouldn't advise printing of this article)."

Dr. Savery Addresses Christian Associations

"The foundation for a Christian home is laid many years before marriage" said Dr. G. T. Savery, college business manager, to a recent combined meeting of the YMCA and YWCA. "Every boy and girl should realize this fact and conduct himself accordingly. Right living before marriage is essential to a happy married life," Savery concluded.

What's In Your Name?

The Reporter has found:
 That David means "An object of love." And Dave Tafoya was the one who dated two upperclass women in one night!

That Denzel means "from the Sun" and Helen means "a bright light." Together they shine, huh?

That Milton means "from a mill-farm" and Wanda means "a shepherdess." Sounds sort of rural, doesn't it?

That Rebecca means "a snare" and Cecil means "blind." It seems she caught him when he wasn't looking.

That Evelyn means "pleasant" and Anabel means "beautiful Ann." I believe it!
